LEBANON VALLEY DEFEATED

"John's" Men Prove a Cinch For the Strong 'Varsity Eleven.

Last Saturday's game displayed to Bucknell supporters the chances her 'varsity team has for prominent success the coming season. While it is of course much too early to decide once and for all the football outlook, it may be remarked that the playing of the team was of number one order, and the game from Bucknell's point of view was peculiarly free from those mistakes which so dishearten both team and student body and displease the spectators.

The game was a straight ahead one from start to finish. There were no fumbles and there was little seesawing up and down the field, for Bucknell once in possession of the ball always started to gain and kept the ball while making large gains until the eventful touch-down and goal occurred.

The Lebanon Valley representatives were clearly not in it. Only after Bucknell kicks did she ever come into possession of the ball, but once on a fumble, and never were they able to gain the required distance more than once or twice in succession.

The individual work of the players does not need to be commented upon. The score speaks for the strength of the whole team.

For Bucknell, Capt. Johnson, for kicking ex-capt. Cockill of last year's team for advancing the pigskin, Smith for running the team so cleverly probably deserve especial mention, although it is not fair to give to them too much credit because there are others to whom many creditable plays can be accounted. Maxwell for Leb. Valley tackled like a fiend and was probably their best player.

Three old Bucknell men played on the oppposing side. They are Gillis, right tackle and coach of the Lebanon Valley team; J. Stanton, left tackle; and Jones, centre.

On the first kick-off Johnson sent the oval spinning far into the opponents territory. Holler ran the kick back 15 yards before being downed. Then after one first down Lebanon Valley was forced to kick, which she did, Smith catching Holler's punt and advancing Bucknell a few yards. He was tackled and on the first line-up gave the pig-skin to Cockill who ran 35 yards for the first touchdown of the contest and of the year, it having been scored in less than three minutes play. Capt. Johnson kicked the goal.

The captain of the opposing team chose to have Capt. Johnson make the next kick-off and he did, booting the oval over Lebanon Valley's goal line for a touchback. Following this when the ball was kicked from the opponents 25 yard-line Smith was again under it and carried it forward to the 20 yard-line from about which point Cockill on a closely following rush escorted it safely between the goal-posts for his second touch-down. Capt. Johnson again added another point to the score and it stod Bucknell—12, Lebanon Valley—0.

In the course of the remainder of this half, Capt. Johnson kicked off from the centre three more times and every time compelled a touchback, kicking the leather so far that

JOHN V. LESHER.

John V. Lesher, Sc. B. '97, after graduation three years was admitted to practice before the Northumberland Co. bar. He was Quartermaster of the 12th Regt. N. G. P., with rank of Captain until 1900 when he resigned and was succeeded by Registrar W. C. Gretzinger. Mr. Lesher was a founder of the Orange and Blue. He is now a Democratic candidate for State Senatorship from the district comprising Union, Snyder and Northumberland Co's. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

College Y. M. C. A. Reception.

If the Y. M. C. A. reception given to the new students on Saturday is an indication of the good feelings that are waiting for us, we may be sure that our lot is one for both enjoyment and profit. After a satisfactory introduction all 'round and a half hour's conversation between acquaintances old and new, an excellent address was delivered by our able Prof. Llewelyn Phillips. Pres. Hylbert of the Y. M. C. A. made a brief speech of welcome and then refreshments, best is always last, were distributed.

The evening air was filled with the cheering and songs which all gave with a heartiness that augers well for our football success. When the evening was over even the freshmen must have felt that there is a spirit of good fun and fellowship among some few college men.

Way of Life Meeting.

The attendance at the Way of Life meeting in Bucknell Hall Sunday was encouraging. Dr. Harris outlined the scope and procedure of the work, after which Prof. Phillips gave a brief address to the company, urging a systematic organization for the work and impressing the value of individual example in every day life. The meetings will be held regularly each Sunday at 3.00 p. m. in Bucknell Hall.

Sophomore and Freshman Class Rush.

Immediately after morning chapel-services Friday the Sophomore class attempted to rush the Freshmen down the path leading from Bucknell Hall to West College. In this they were unsuccessful. At the first clash both sides were armed with paper bags of flour and for a moment the rush resembled a snow storm. The preparations to throw these, although the flour blinded their respective opponents, served to decrease the force of the impact of the two classes so that in this respect the scrap was not so vicious as in former years.

At the first rush the Freshmen who outnumbered the Soph's 3 to 1, broke through and gained the top of the hill where the rushing continued. The Freshmen secured the Sophomore president and carried him from West College to the Academy before the Soph's. came to his rescue. When they did, a mix-up occurred in which Pres. Cober, '07, was trampeled severely. Numerous amateurs secured pictures of the contest.

Prize Contest $5.00.

The prize contest for $5.00 for a suitable design for front cover offered last term by the Mirror is still open to all. Hand designs to H. Sheppard within one week from date.

Summer Improvements.

The college authorities have taken advantage of the summer vacation to vastly improve and beautify the institution. There is not space for more than brief mention of any additions here.

The Carnegie Library building when completed, will be the gift of Andrew Carnegie the steel magnate. It is in process of construction and is directly south 150 feet from the central Main College. The new building will be 64x90 feet, built of pressed brick, trimmed with brown-stone and will accommodate about 150,000 volumes. In its spacious stack rooms will be found books from the most ancient and cob-webbed classic to the latest city newspaper. The reading rooms will afford ample accommodation for all who desire.

The electric lighting plant has been installed and the following university buildings wired: Main College, West College, Academy, Institute, Chemical Laboratory, Physical Laboratory, and President's house. There will be no more blowing out of the gas. The plant is already in operation.

Not only have large additions like these been made, but also many of lesser importance. A new steam laundry has been instituted in the Seminary beneath the most easterly part of that large building. The floor of central main college has received some new coats of paint and the Taylor Gymnasium has been much improved in interior appearance.

Doubtless many other little touches of improvement have escaped notice, but these will suffice to denote prosperity.

'04 Graduates.

Among the '04, graduates who secured positions not otherwhere mentioned in these columns are: Miss Olive Schillinger, who will teach at Bellair, Ohio, Haldy Christ, who is now an instructor in South Jersey Academy. Roger Edwards, who has been engineering upon the Wabash road, Harold Perrine, who is with T. P. McCutcheon and Bro. at 621 Market St., Phila., and Miss Rachel Eldleman, who is teaching English and German at the Red Oak school in Iowa. Another alumnus who recently secured a desirable position is Tom Morris, '00, who is engaged to teach in the Shattuck School at Faribault, Minn.

This is a very short and most incomplete list of positions secured by alumni, but it will serve to show that Bucknell graduates receive deserving notice and credit in many lines of work.

EVERYBODY OUT ! ! !

An enthusiastic football mass-meeting will be held in Commencement Hall at 9 p. m., Friday. The first of the year. All out! Speeches by old and new players! Bucknell yells and songs. Bring a megaphone and develope your lungs. 9.00 o'clock Friday evening, Commencement Hall.

L. F. McCAULEY,
Pres. of B. A. A.

EVERYBODY OUT ! ! !

The "Journal" tells of a Clearfield Italian who was fined $88.00 for catching a single trout. We are glad to note there are others.

DR. LEMUEL MOSS

The Deceased's Connection With Our Institution.

The public prints have acquainted our students with the death of our distinguished lecturer on Social Ethics, Dr. Lemuel Moss, and have paid their tribute to his eminent services to his generation. In 1865 he came to the chair of Systematic Theology in our institution, retaining it until 1868 when the department was merged in the Crozer Theological Seminary. Dr. Moss was highly esteemed as a teacher and a preacher in those days of his prime. At Lewisburg he published the "Annals of the Christian Commission," that masterly chronicle of a great movement in the greatest war.

As editor of the "National Baptist" and as Professor of New Testament Interpretation at Crozer he continued to render important service to the cause of higher education in Pennsylvania.

In recent years, it was our privilege to listen to the garnered wisdom of this strong thinker, who kept pace with the intellectual leadership of his age and gave to us the fundamental principles of all progress in the light of that Eternity in which the masters of thought already live, and into which they would lead us to live. His services were rendered to us with a vigor of thought age could not impair, and despite constant pain which he bore unmutteringly.

Academy Y. M. C. A. Reception.

The academy Y. M. C. A. prepared a reception and refreshments on Saturday night for the new preparatory students. The evening was socially spent with profit to all. Acquaintanceships are always hard to make for a new student and this occasion provided for their easy formation.

Fred Blazer managed a very good phonograph successfully and his entertainment was assisted by J. W. Granfield who recited "Ole Mistus" a recitation with which he won the last "Third Form Contest" and by the production of several extempore musical numbers.

Refreshments were served and the gathering broke up at a dark hour.

Recent Matrimonies.

Marriage announcements appeared during the summer for the weddings of Pauline Griggs to V. N. Robbins, '05, on June 23rd, Evelyn Judith Stanton to Dr. C. A. Gundy, '93, on July 18ht; Grace Newton Winters to Prof. F. G. Ballentine, '99, on Aug. 31st; Lucretia Snyder, ex-'06, to Sam. J. Black, ex-'06, in August; Maud E. Hanna, '97, to David A. Pitt, ex-'02, and Caroline Kelly to O. S. V. Maritz, 02, on Sept. 1st. Although in a majority of cases a trifle late, hearty congratulations are extended to all the couples.

Two Deaths.

During the summer months two of our school instructors were bereaved by death of their wives. The death of Mrs. Davis, wife of Prof. N. F. Davis, occurred, and not long afterwards the death of Mrs. Drum, wife of Prof. M. L. Drum. While no one can feel the loss so much as these much respected professors, the entire school join in sympathy with them.

Business Manager,
ALBERT O. VORSE, '05.
Assistant,
CHAS. D. COOPER, '05.

In accordance with the custom of previous years, the first issue of the "Orange and Blue," has been sent to every student in the University. Everyone is considered a subscriber and the paper will be mailed weekly unless the Business Manager receives personal notification to the contrary.

A series of mass meetings for the purpose of learning the college yells and songs preparatory to the Indian game at Williamsport will be held at intervals next week in Commencement Hall. The first will be held on Friday at 9.00 p. m.

All new men should manifest enough zeal and loyalty to attend in force in order to learn the college yells, copies of which will be printed for distribution at the mass meetings. Bucknell has a representative collection of good college songs and yells and every Freshman should learn them at the earliest opportunity.

The success of the college depends largely upon the students and nothing assists more in winning games than systematic rooting and singing at all the games. We must win the Indian game and you can assist by your presence at every mass meeting. Notices additional to the one published in these columns, will be posted later. Look for them. Let every new man show enough college spirit to learn the college songs and yells.

In this first issue of the weekly Orange and Blue there is found much news of a retrospective nature. The student body as a unit has not been able to keep abreast with the times in regard to Bucknell doings. Many changes in the university and it's instruction corps have occured since the student was within its classic walls the last time. Mention has been made in these columns of changes in the instruction corps and the external appearance of the school, of positions secured and occupied during the summer, by the school's alumni and of marriages and deaths. It is only right that these changes should be mentioned here, for little of the whole body of this nature of news has come to the ears of any individual student since the close of school last year.

Report has it that in different sections of the country chestnuts are beginning to be ripe.

On account of overcrowded space it was necessary for the officials to turn away a great many applicants for rooms in all departments of the university.

Lebanon Valley Defeated.

there was no chance to rush it out from behind the opposing team's goal line. On the kick-outs resulting from these touch-backs Bucknell always secured the ball and two more touch-downs by Smith and Baldwin, the new tackle, resulted. Johnson kicked the goals.

A quarter-back kick in this half failed, Lebanon Valley securing the ball thereby. Time was called with the ball in Bucknell's possession on her opponents 25 yard-line. Score at end of first half; Bucknell—24, Leb. Valley—0.

At the beginning of the second half, Holler, for Leb. Valley kicked off. Lenhard dropped the kick and recovered without gain. Morris was sent around end, then Cooper through centre. On the next line-up occured the only Bucknell fumble of the game and by it Leb. Valley secured possession of the ball on Bucknell's 45 yard-line. She started toward Bucknell's goal line. A rush through the opposing line netted her 2 yards, a gain around the end 2 more, three rushes through the line added 1 yard each, when a foul was claimed on a Leb. Valley player by the referee and his team was penalized 20 yards. This stopped the onward march for upon the next down Holler was forced to kick. Smith obtaining possession of the ball. He was thrown hard in his tracks by Gillis and pulled back several yards.

Then started a checkered course for the Orange and Blue wearers. Morris cleverly made 10 yards, Sheppard, '05, Morris 3 yards more, Baldwin 15, Cooper 4 whereupon Morris lost 6 and was penalized 5 more. Baldwin was unable to cover the required distance and Capt. Johnson punted. Lichty dropped the oval and Smith securing it hustled across the goal-line, and scored the final touchdown. Capt. Johnson kicked fifth goal, making final score 30 to 0 in favor of Bucknell.

Upon the next kick-off Morris returned with the ball 60 yards into the enemy's territory. No more brilliant plays were made and the game was finally over with the ball near the centre of the checker-board in Bucknell's hands.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		LEB. VALLEY
Cockill	l. end	Barnhard
Frank
Baldwin	l. tackle	Stanton
Beins
Cooper	l. guard	S. Snyder
Lesher
Smiley	centre	Jones

Lenhart	r. tackle	Gillis
Wheeler	r. end	Maxwell
Smith	quarter back	Arnd
R. Sheppard	l. h. back	Beddow
Morris	r. h. back	Lichty
Johnson (capt.)	full back	Holler

Touchdowns: Cockill 2, Smith 2 and Baldwin 1. Goals: Johnson 5. Referee: Wilcox. Umpire: Hoskins. Linesmen: Gyer and Lesher. Timer's; Plumbers and B. White. Time of halves: 20 minutes.

ALL SCRUBS OUT.

The Manager and Captain of the football 'Varsity suggest that more students turn out at the Gymnasium in the evenings at 4.00 o'clock to play on the scrubs and try for the team. Football uniforms for practice may be obtained by application to the manager or his assistant.

Quite a number of scrubs will be taken along as substitutes with the 'Varsity to the Carlisle game at Williamsport and all expenses will be paid. You may be fortunate enough to be among this number.

A narrow guage road is to be built soon from Winfield to New Berlin, the location of Union Seminary. A trolley line will before long connect Sunbury with Selinsgrove.

"Orange and Blue" Subscribers.

The "Orange and Blue" will be mailed weekly to every undergraduate student at Bucknell. It is expected by the authorities of the university that the paper will be worth the subscription price of $1.00 to all and that all will pay subscriptions as soon as possible into the hands of the manager or his assistant.

The "Orange and Blue" will contain all the news obtainable about the school and important announcements. It is the only Bucknell weekly and has obtained the unhesitating support of the student body since the beginning of its publication in 1897.

LEWISBURG FAIR

Every student in the university should attend the Lewisburg fair on Thursday and Friday afternoon.

Liberal purses have been offered in premiums for exhibits, and the buildings will surely be crowded with articles of both home and foreign production that will afford a great attraction to the visiors. The association has appropriated a handsome sum for this purpose, and the exhibits will be beyond the ordinary. Special attractions have been secured for entertainment in front of the grand stand during the races. The races will be very interesting. The association has offered several purses for running races on the track, which is a variation from and an addition to the ordinary speed trials. Many horses with fast records have been entered for the races, and some lively heats can be expected on the tracks.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1904. No. 2

BUCKNELL 26, VILLANOVA 0

Our 'Varsity Eleven Improved Since Last Saturday.

The victory of Saturday only goes the further to indicate the superior strength of our 'varsity eleven. The development of the strength, speed and wit of the players both collectively and individually on the Bucknell team is easily illustrated. One week ago from Saturday Lebanon Valley, which college was represented by a football eleven not to be compared with our late opponents, was defeated 30-0. In one week's time the same players who had made this score so much improved their playing abilities that they scored only one touchdown less upon the strong Villanova eleven, and from the ability Villanova displayed in holding Bucknell's men, it cannot be doubted that she has a team at least 20 points stronger than Lebanon Valley.

Bucknell has not been scored upon this year. There is no reason why the Carlyle Indians should cross our goal-line. The material is in our football squad to prevent this, there are good coaches, the students promise a large delegation to be present to root at Williamsport, and above all that, the Indians, in spite of the advantage of a months' additional training have a weaker team than any that has defeated Bucknell in previous years. Capt. Johnson is gone, and so is Coach Warner. On Saturday it was shown that with a few more mass meetings, the freshmen will have learned to root like veterans and as well as the rest.

On the first kick-off, the ball was out of bounds. Next time Capt. Johnson secured the pig-skin and ran it back 30 yards before being downed. Cockill made 5, and then occured a small loss. Capt. Johnson decided to kick and he booted the oval 65 yards into the opponents territory. Cockill missed tackle, but Smith brought the Villanova player with the ball to the ground after a short gain had been made. Villanova then made 2 yards then a small gain and Bucknell was penalized 5 yards for off-side play. Bucknell held firm on the next attack but the following two netted Villanova 5 and 2 yards respectively. Again Bucknell was penalized by the officials and a moment afterwards a third penalty of 5 yards was imposed upon her. Here luck changed. Villanova fumbled and Wheeler showed good judgement by falling upon the ball for Bucknell, instead of attempting to gather it up for a run. Cockill made a spectacular gain of 30 yards around end. Then 5 yards were gained, 3 yards and 5 yards more, when Capt. Johnson carried the pigskin for 3 yards over the goal-line. He kicked the goal.

Capt. Johnson kicked off the second time the ball was put into play, and Villanova ran the kick back 25 yards. Here she was held and forced to kick. Bucknell gained 10 yards, no gain, 5, 10 yards more. She was on a strenuous march up the field only to be disappointed when it came to the goal-line. No gain was made on the next rush, 15 yards followed through the opposing centre, 5, 1 more and a medium long run which carried the ball between the goal posts where it was fumbled and possession obtained by a Villanova player. This was the first safety that has occured upon home grounds in many moons. Score: Bucknell 8, Villanova, 0. Upon the kick-out Smith made a hair-raising run of 40 yards and a little later on a fake-kick play gained 12 yards. Time was called with the ball in Bucknell's hands, seven yards to go for another score.

At the beginning of the next half Villanova ran back one kick with a short gain. They pushed their line forward 6 and 12 yards and were then held for a kick. Smith ran it back 15 yards and Cockill advanced 10. Another fair gain was made, and there was almost a free-for-all fight between the opposing sides on account of the rough usage of one of our players. A quarter-back kick was attempted and Sheppard on it gained 25 yards. Baldwin scored, and Johnson kicked goal.

The feature of this half was Smith's run of 40 yards on a fake pass for the next touchdown. Capt. Johnson kicks goal.

A little later a punt by Johnson across the wind went 56 yards. Almost immediately time was called. It was Villanova's ball on her own 5-yard line. Final score B. U., 26, Villanova, 0.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		VILLANOVA
Smiley	center	Smith
Lesher	right guard	Moore
Lenhart	right tackle	Kennedy
Wheeler	right end	Neary
Smith	quarter-back	Walsh
Sheppard	right half-back	Torpey
Hart	left half-back	O'Connor
Johnson	full-back	McGehan

Touchdowns, Johnson, Baldwin 2. Smith. Safety, Bucknell. Goals from touchdowns, Johnson 4. Referee, Prof. Joseph Wolfe. Umpire, Mr. Wilcox, Bucknell. Head linesman, Mr. Sautters, of Williamsport. Timekeepers. Messers. Hoskins, Bucknell, and Barret, Villanova. Time of halves, 20 minutes each. Linesmen, Guldsmith, Bucknell, and Scully, Villanova.

Baseball Reserves.

Probably Bucknell has more than her share of major league base-ball men reserved. Five old B. U. Players have been chosen for different teams of next year's National League and one at least, that comes to notice, in the Eastern League. It is hardly to be expected that any other college or university proportionately has so many representatives reserved. The reserved players are:

Christy Matthewson, pitcher, New York, Nat. League.

Geo. O. Barclay, rt. field, Boston, Nat. League.

James Sebring, rt. field, Cincinatti, Nat. League.

Harry E. McCormick, rt. field, Pittsburg, Nat. League.

"Micky" Doolin, second base and short-stop, Phila. Nat. League.

Yencer Weidensaul, second base and centre field, Toronto East. League.

Juniors Elect.

ALUMNI OFFICERS FOR 1905

John B. Cooke, '73, Elected President of the Alumni.

At a meeting of the Bucknell Alumni Association held during Commencement week in June, 1904, the following officers were elected:

J. B. Cooke, Pres.
H. C. Hall, 1st V. Pres.
A. J. Irey, 2nd V. Pres.
W. G. Owens, Sec.
L. F. Butler, Treas.
Orator for 1905, S. L. Batten, Alternate, J. H. Haslam.
Poet, James Stewart.
Alt., E. R. Powell.

During the summer, Pres J. B. Cooke, of Denver, Col., has published with the officers of the A. A., the oration and poem delivered by the respective orator and poet for 1904. The thanks of the alumni are due to Mr. Cooke who has emailed them to each graduate gratis.

C E. Reception.

On Saturday evening, Oct. 1st occurred the annual reception given by the Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church to new and old students. The Sunday school room was over-filled with stalwart youths and maidens fair. The number present was 338.

With the alm of promoting the formation of acquaintanceships, autograph souvenirs were passed out, and at an hour's end the prize, a box of Huyl.'s, was presented to Ruth Shorkley for having secured the most autographs.

The first part of the evening was given to shaking hands with friends and acquaintances old and new. New students helped the old in making the evening pass without unpleasantries.

After conversation and pleasure had been indulged for a great while, the assembly was called to order by Pres. Horace Sheppard, '06, of the society.

Miss Schillinger, the institute instructress was presented and recited "A Tlephone Romance" in a delightful manner. She responded to an encore with "A Yale Lock." Miss Blackmer, the vocal instructress at the same place, gratified the listeners by singing "Three Ships." Her song was enthusiastically received and likewise encored.

Tom Powell, '06, received applause after reciting the "Football Game" from Mr. Dooley. Mr. Powell is evidently of Irish extraction for the brogue cropped out.

Refreshments were enjoyed and appreciated it is hoped. After a half hour of satisfying conversation, the crowd departed.

The evening was a great success and the jolly C. E. reception has become "Ancient History."

Football Schedule Uncompleted.

The uncomplete football schedule is presented to readers of the "Orange and Blue" beneath. Negotiations now being carried on will soon fill open dates with collegiate games.

Sept. 22. Leb. Valley 0, Bucknell 30.
Oct. 1. Villanova 0, Bucknell 26.
Oct. 8. Carlisle Indians, Williamsport.
Oct. 15. Cornell, Ithaca, N. Y.
Oct. 22. Colgate, Lewisburg.
Nov. 12. Georgetown, Washington, D. C.

The good balance of elevens played in regard to superiority will be noted to be a great improvement over the balance of former years.

Freshmen Elect.

On Thursday, 22nd Donald A. Steele, an academy graduate, was elected president of the freshman class. At a following meeting the remaining officers were elected.

Dave Hawk, V. Pres.
Miss Wolfgang, Sec.
Miss E. Owens, Treas.
W. C. Sprout, Manager class football team.

SOCIETY PRESIDENTS CONFER

Departure From Custom on the Part of Literary Societies.

A departure in the selection of eligible men for ther espective literary societies will be instituted this year. The presidents of Euepia and Theta Alpha societies will confer with Pres. Harris this week for the purpose of selecting the members for each society from new men, including freshmen and first year specials as well as new additions to the other classes Elections to membership will be posted on the student's Bulletin board.

Each society this year will receive a large increase of membership, owing to the unusually large attendance in those departments of the college from which their membership is derived.

It is confidentially expected that each elected member will actively identfy himself with his chosen society. Both societies will receive new men after the conference spoken of above.

Changes in Football Rules.

The following in brief are the most noticeable of the changes in football rules this year. They may prove of interest.

Instead of seven men in line of scrimmage between the twenty-five yard lines, there must be six men in the line in every part of the field.

When there are six men in the scrimmage line between the twenty-five yard lines, the additional men in the back field must be stationed outside of either extremity of the line.

Goals from field, no matter how made shall count four instead of five points.

The quarter-back or the man receiving the ball from the centre may run with it in any part of the field instead of only between the twenty-five yard lines, provided he goes five yards to one side of centre.

The umpire, referee and linesman shall have different kinds of signal horns.

When the umpire signals for a penalty the play may continue until the ball is dead, when the referee may inflict the penalty from the ground gained by the play.

When one side kicks out of bounds twice in succession on a touch-back or safety, the ball shall go to the opposing side on the thirty-five instead of the twenty-five yard line.

Football Scores.

Bucknell 26, Villanova 0.
Carlisle 41, Gettysburg 0.
Cornell 29, Rochester 6.
Princeton 10, Georgetown 0.
Leb. Valley 6, Susquehanna 0.
Maine 6, Brown 0.
Lafayette 12, Ursinus 0.
Columbia 16, Wesleyan 0.

Inter Class Contest.

The time for the Freshman-Sophomore football game is drawing nigh. It would be a good thing to get the players and candidates for these elevens on the field. The captains should make a call for material and the candidates get out and get into trim by practice on the scrubs.

In accordance with the custom of previous years, the first issue of the "Orange and Blue," has been sent to every student in the University. Everyone is considered a subscriber and the paper will be mailed weekly unless the Business Manager receives personal notification to the contrary.

The authorities of the school are to be congratulated upon the policy which led them to institute a central electric lighting plant. At least one incandescent illuminates every room. Formerly the halls only were always lit up at night, now not only the unbroken bulbs in the halls welcome the student as he reaches the foot of the college hill, but a beacon shines out from the very great majority of study-rooms. Students will be careless and let their lights turned on, and it is a good thing, for the homelikeness, comfort and warmth that the completely lighted buildings indicate is a great help toward keeping them at work in the evenings.

A few suggestions at the opening of the college year may not be inopportune. College life is unique in every sense; while it is the world in miniature, many conditions and conventionalities exist which are peculiar to it alone. The so-called temptations of college life, we are glad to say, are grossly exaggerated. The standard of morality is higher among college men, as a rule, and the social status and cultural tone more pronounced than among men without the precincts of college walls. A young man, therefore, is subjected largely to influences which tend to make him more manly and self-reliant than ordinary circumstances permit.

It must be admitted, however, that entrance upon college activity is an important period in any young man's life. He must face many conditions which are new and strange. First of all, the traditions and customs of college confront him with their seeming absurdities, but he soon learns to adapt himself to his environment. Upon this point, we would add that it is the duty of every new man to enter at once upon college life and activity. Freshmen should attend every meeting of their class, support athletics and show themselves enthusiastically loyal to their class and college. Furthermore, the college Y. M. C. A. and other religious spheres of activity in college should demand attention. Above all, a spirit of fellowship and fraternal feeling should be fostered, not only among members of the same class but also among members of different classes as well. A college education is not derived solely from books.

Each student should employ for the best interests of the college whatever talent he possesses in a certain line. If he has literary propensities, he should identify himself with the college publications, if he possesses athletic ability, the college teams afford a splendid opportunity for physical development and distinction.

To recapitulate the subsequent injunctions, if rightly followed, will be effective in producing healthy college spirit in all departments:

1. Join the Literary societies.
2. Identify yourself with the Y. M. C. A.
3. Don't be a cad or a grind; be studious, however.
4. Try for the 'varsity teams if you have ability.
5. Pay your class dues promptly without the solicitation of the treasurer.
6. Attend all the social functions and duties of your class, banquets included.
7. Buy a ticket and root at every game.
8. Last but not least, subscribe for the college publications.

H.

Notice.

All those students possessing Journalistic talent or ambition, or those in the journalism course will prepare copy upon any subject of interest to any student at Bucknell and hand to the Editor of the "Orange and Blue." We do not guarantee publication. After a while you may get a chance to fill a vacancy occuring on the staff. Don't forget. Put yourself in line.

INSTITUTE ITEMS

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1904. No. 3

BUCKNELL MEETS DEFEAT

Carlisle Team the First This Year to Cross Our Goal Line.

Our Bucknell 'Varsity eleven met it's first defeat of the year at the hands of the Indians. The contesting teams were evenly matched and a struggle lasted throughout the game. The weather started fair, and only two mild drips disturbed the monotonous clarity. The crowd that looked on the contest was the largest that ever watched this great annual game, or the games in former years with State. Everything favored victory but luck, and luck had its' way.

Bucknell's team excelled on offense and individual play; Carlisle excelled in team work and some of the fine points of the game of which one was blocking tackles.

The officials of the contest were Harris, of Harrisburg, Referee; Dunbar, of Phoenixville, Umpire; Thompson, m'g'r. of Indian team and Hoskins, coach of Bucknell team, time-keepers; Exendine, guard on last year's Indian eleven and Sauders, of Williamsport, Linesmen.

Bucknell's was the first team on the checker-board. Capt. Johnson led his men out from their dressing-rooms amid the cheers of orange and blue loyalists ten minutes before the time for first kick-off. A portion of this period was exhausted in practice line-ups and punting. An exhibition of fine kicking was given by Capt. Johnson who drove exasperating spirals and long placement kicks down the field. One of the latter from the 35 yd. line struck an advertisement sign 20 ft. behind the goal-line on a tree 10 ft. high. A little later cheers from across the ball ground announced that the red and yellow eleven had been discovered trotting onto the field. In a minute play began at 2.30 p. m.

Bucknell's line was much weakened by the absence of Lenhard the veteran heavy tackle. His absence was caused at the last minute by th unfortunate death of his sick sister. The back-field was weakened by Hart's absence at half-back. Hart had learned to play with the rest of the eleven in a surprisingly satisfactory manner and the sudden call west where business demanded his presence was regretted by all. The substitutes played in the positions thus made vacant, were not equal to the occasion and perhaps the loss of the game might to a great extent be accredited to the changes necessitated.

Capt. Sheldon booted the leather into the hands of Smith on the first kick-off, who ran back 20 yards and was downed. Cockill made 3, and the Indians refused to give way one inch. Johnson was forced to kick. Catching Johnson's not over-long punt, Sheldon advanced the ball 12 yards. Bowen made 8 and a series of runs followed that Bucknell could not check. Sheldon made 3 yards, Gardner 1, Libby 55. Our stock was dropping. Sheldon gained 6 yards. Lubo 6, Lubo 3 and Hendricks made 6 yards for the first touchdown in four minutes of play. Libby the new Carlisle quarter, missed goal. Score 5-0, Indians' favor.

Shortly after next kick-off, Bucknell started an advance that looked prosperous. Smith ran Sheldon's kick-off back 25 yards. Johnson made 1, Johnson 3, Cockill 1, Baldwin 3 and 1, Smith on a clever run dodged every tackler but Bradley and made 15. Bradley was severely hurt and Fremont was substituted. Johnson made 1, Cockill 4, McKeever, 0, Smith 9, and Johnson once more brought his toe into action.

Libby caught the ball 55 yards off but gained not an inch. A little later Sheldon gained 35 yards for the Indians but the referee claimed a forward pass and returned the ball 50 yards from its final resting position. They were forced to kick. Following this punt, Bucknell should have scored but didn't. McKeever mad 8 yards, Baldwin 6, Johnson 4,Baldwin 2, Cockill 5, Baldwin 2, McKeever failed to gain Johnson 2 and a third down was made. Baldwin, 30 yards from the goal-line failed by one foot to make the distance necessary to keep the ball and it was Indians turn to score. By short gains they carried the pig-skin down the checker-board. One line after another was put behind. It took twenty rushes to carry the ball between the goal-posts and near the end our team attempted a last ditch stand that was unsuccessful. Sheldon made the touchdown and Libby as before failed at goal.

After the next kick-off time was called before a score could be made, with the ball in Carlisle's possession on their own 50 yard line.

After the beginning of the second half, for a time the favor of fortune see-sawed up and down the ball field. Finally from his own 25 yard line, Sheldon was compelled to kick after repeated short losses. Capt. Johnson caught the falling leather and aided by Smith's timely interference advanced 20 yards for a spectacular run. Johnson added 1 yard through centre, McKeever 3, Johnson 8, Baldwin 6 over the heads of both teams, Johnson 3, Baldwin 3, Johnson 1, Johnson 3, Baldwin 2. At a critical stage a bad pass from centre happened and afraid to risk loss of ball, a trial place kick for goal was the only escape. From the 20 yard line Capt. Johnson's true foot sent our only score of the game across the bar for 4 points. No more scoring was done.

In this last half two regretable fights occured. In the first half opposing teams by deliberately slapping Whites' face. It was heard and seen all over the field. After that the Indians in a stealthy manner "laid" for Cooper and put him "out" six times. Near the start of the second half, Cockill and Floris mixed matters up for a little while and it was necessary for Williamsport uniformed policemen to break up the scrap that followed between supporters of respective teams. Both principals were sent out of the game and Frank was substituted for Cockill and Charles for Floris. Not long from the close the Carlisle centre, jumped on McKeever and Caruthers rushed to the rescue from the side-lines. Another mix up came off and again the police attempted to put themselves in evidence without much success. After that the crowd never was pushed back behind the side ropes, but maintained it's position upon the field of play. Final score, Bucknell 4, Carlisle 10. It may be of

JOHN B. COOKE.

John B. Cooke was born in Ohio but at an early age came to Pennsylvania. He enlisted in a Philadelphia regiment and in the Army of the Potomac from '61 to '65 was four times seriously wounded. After the civil war for two years he was connected with the Union Nat. Bank of Phila. His degrees are A. B. Bucknell, '73, and D.D. Crozer Theological Seminary, '77. His church charges were Lima, Ohio, 5 years, and Greeley, Colo., 4 years. This was ended with a serious outbreak of one of his old war injuries, and after his partial recovery he was elected superintendent of schools in a large Colorado county. Here he was engaged two years and was appointed Clerk of the 8th District Court of Colo. For the past nine years he has been clerk of the Supreme Court of that state. In addition he has been extensively interested in several large irrigation reservoirs and is the owner of one of the largest Colorado cattle ranches.

Book Review.

A new "Arithmetic for Business" edited by Jacob H. Minick, M. E. Penna. State Normal, and Ph. M. Bucknell Univ. '91, is making its appearance. Every arithmetical process is said to be presented with such brevity, clearness and simplicity that even those with a poor preparation may master the subject without a teacher. It is principally designed for use in business colleges and by business men and private students.

The contents of this book are arranged in a logical order of sequence; the simpler and more practical subjects first.

Roger Williams Ordained.

Roger Williams, '03, was ordained into the Baptist ministry at the Susquehanna church on Sept. 28 at 7:30 p. m. Dr. H. J. Whalen, of Carbondale, who last year delivered the annual sermon in Lewisburg before Y. M. C. A., took part in the ordination services. Rev. Williams is now in attendance at Crozer Theological Seminary.

OTHER COLLEGES' STATUS

Committee Appointed To Investigate Their Standing.

At a meeting of the "College and University Council" of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg on Oct. 4, a committee was appointed to inquire into the status of several colleges in the state, the names of which were not made public. If the standards are not what they should be for conferring degrees, it is likely action will be taken.

"Who's Who in Pennsylvania."

In a recently (1901) published volume, "Who's Who in Pennsylvania," the names and facts in the lives of Penna. men prominent in the development of their state, appear. The book contains about 5000 individuals. From this number 10 belong to the faculty and ohetr officers of Bucknell Univ. They are:

Pres. John Howard Harris,
Prof. George G. Groff,
Prof. Wm. Cyrus Bartol,
Prof. Frank Ernest Rockwood
Prof. Enoch Perrine,
Prof. Lincoln Hulley,
Judge Harold M. McClure.
Rev. Benlah L. Whitman.
Rev. Wayland Hoyt.
Registrar Wm. C. Gretzinger.

Pi Beta Phi Entertains.

The Pi Beta Phi fraternity entertained its patronesses, town alumnae and the Freshman girls, at the Institute parlors, Friday evening. The evening was very pleasantly spent in making acquaintances, conversation and a "cat" guessing contest. Miss Dana Bower, '08, proved by her card to be the brightest young lady and was presented with a burnt leather address book. After refreshments were served and music indulged in the guests departed with pleasant memories of the evening.

Notice.

All those students possessing Journalistic talent or ambition, or those in the journalism course will prepare copy upon any subject of interest to any student at Bucknell and hand to the Editor of the "Orange and Blue." We do not guarantee publication. After a while you may get a chance to fill a vacancy occuring on the staff. Don't forget. Put yourself in line.

S. A. E. Reception.

At their home on St. George St., Thursday night, the S. A. E. fraternity, held a smoker. To this the active chapter invited alumni and gentlemen friends.

Wilcox, '04, Carrier, '04, Browning, '04, and Heidenreich, '04, were present. Refreshments were served and the guests departed near twelve o'clock.

Alumnae Club Meeting.

The Bucknell Alumnae Club will meet in the seminary parlors on Tuesday evening, October 11, at half past seven o'clock.

CHAS. D. COOPER, '05.

In accordance with the custom of previous years, the first issue of the "Orange and Blue," has been sent to every student in the University. Everyone is considered a subscriber and the paper will be mailed weekly unless the Business Manager receives personal notification to the contrary.

The action of both Sophomore and Freshman classes in posting "procs" upon the private property of Lewisburg residents is not to be commended. Underclassmen should remember the town is not theirs. Exhibitions of poor judgement such as these are likely to result disastrously for all parties concerned. Beware! Posting sophomore and freshman "procs" is only a tradition, ever-increasing in it's disagreeableness. It is well that it should not become more disagreeable than it now is.

The college will soon have outgrown Bucknell Hall. At one time chapel exercises for college, academy and institute students were held there all at once, and at the same time. Ten years ago the institute was compelled to find new quarters. Five years later the academy was forced to get out, and pretty soon the faculty or choir will have to pack their trunks and take to the back woods. A gallery might be built above the entrance, cloak and faculty rooms, the partition back of the president might be removed to make space for one or two additional chapel rows, but these changes cannot be recommended. Both would probably no more than provide seating capacity for one year's increase, and at the end of that time the present conditions would again obtain.

What must be done? A new building must be erected, the Commencement Hall must be pressed into service or insufficient accommodations for all college students will remain. It is useless to attempt compulsory attendance upon chapel when there are not enough seats to go around.

The date is rapidly approaching upon which one of the most interesting and enthusiastic football contests of the year will be played upon the home grounds; the Sophomore-Freshman struggle. Now this is the case, so it is "up" to both classes to show sigs of activity. In preparation for the expected contest, the student body expect that the class captains will see to it a game deserving of the interest it has always attracted is provided for the spectators. In order that this kind of game may be presented, it is necessary that class eleven candidates should be out practising on the scrubs. What Bucknell needs is a "Hustling Committee" to get men who can play to playing, but she hasn't got it. There is much material in the freshman class that should be on the checker-board every afternoon from 4.00 to 6.00. The freshman class is one of the best physically and one of the largest in individual stature that ever entered the college. It ought to have a winning team. But what have the Sophomores to say to this? They surely have some class spirit left

Let the captain of each of the two class teams post on the bulletins a call for men. Then let the material show up or the scrubs every evening. Bucknell has before her three hard heavy games, with Cornell, with Colgate and with Georgetown, and it will take a deal of practice to develope the team that is to meet these formidable opponents successfully.

interest to know that in all contests between the two colleges represented in this football game, including this game, the victories have been decided as follofs:
Football:—
Bucknell won 3, lost 3.
Base-ball:—
Bucknell won 5, lost 1.
Field and Track Sports:—
Bucknell won 2, lost 1, tied 1.

Carlisle Indian school never had a basket-ball team.

Bucknell's individual playnig has been remarked upon before. With Capt. Johnson, the best playing of the day was done by Smith, who downed several times a runner that was past the whole team but him thus preventing possible scores.

Bradley and Gardner of the Indians were hurt. Bradley when tackling Smith dislocated his left elbow joint while later. Gardner renewed an old injury to his shoulder.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		CARLISLE
Frank		Freemont
Baldwin	left tackle	Bowen
Smiley	centre	Shochuck
Adams	right guard	White
Lesher	right tackle	Lubo
Wheeler	right end	Floris, Charles
Smith	quarter back	Libby
Sheppard	r. h. back	Sheldon (capt)
McKeever	l. h. back	Hendricks
Johnson (capt)	full back	Gardner
		Nephew

Touchdowns: Hendricks, Sheldon: Goal from placement, Johnson: Referee, Harris: Umpire, Dunbar: Linesmen, Sauders, B. U., Exendine, Car: Timers, Hoskins, B. U., Thompson Car: Time of Halves, 25 minutes.

COLLEGE NOTES

No college man should allow his studies to interfere with his education.—Ex.

W. D. Hinman, '07, while wrestling in his room a few day ago, broke his leg.

The cheer-leaders at the Indian game were McCain, '05, Royer, '05, and Smithgall, '06.

Frank Stoughton spent Sunday with his parents and Sigma Chi brothers at Bucknell.

"Jim" Chappel, well known to all older students is "able to be out" after a two year's serious illness.

John Franklin Hennessy, '06, was initiated into Phi Kappa Psi on Monday. The initiation was conducted without horse-play.

"Bill" Kieffer, ex-'04, son of the Milton Presbyterian minister occassionally turns up to visit his Phi Gamma Delta brothers. He was down this week.

Light football teams in this part of Penna. seem to be the general run. This complaint comes from F. & M., State and is likewise unjustly heard about Bucknell.

The "Orange and Blue" is in receipt of No. 1, Vol. 1, of the "State Collegian." It is published on Thursday of each week in the Interests of State College by undergraduates. It succeeds the "Free Lance."

Mr. Harry S. Hopper, chairman of our college Board of Trustees, and wife invited the Baptist Social Union to hold their fall reception at their spacious and beautiful home "Pennhurst" at Narbeth, Penna. 150 guests enjoyed themselves about the house and grounds. Coaches conveyed guests to and from the railroad and a caterer served supper at 6.00 p. m.

INSTITUTE ITEMS

Dr. and rMs. Gundy were guests at dinner Friday evening.

Miss Margaret Love, '08, went to her home in Muncy over Sunday.

Miss Laura Sharp has entered school as a Senior Seminary girl.

The Misses Galbraith, '07, spent Sunday at their home in Williamsport.

Mrs. Clarence Prout (Mildred Haverstick, graduate '03,) died at her home in Northumberland on Oct. 3.

Mrs. Edwards chaperoned the Senior college girls at the Bucknell-Indian game at Williamsport, Saturday.

Misses Sifford and Blackmer chaperoned a chestnut party to White Deer, Saturday. Although chestnuts were not abundant the party proved very delightful.

Misses Parsons and Innes, ex-'06, accompanied by their guest Miss Seaman, ex-'06, arrived in Lewisburg Wednesday and are spending a few days with their numerous friends.

Miss Harriet A. Nichols, a graduate of University of Nebraska, both instructers in the modern languages at State College were the guests of their Pi Beta Phi fraternity sisters, Friday evening.

The mother of former principal of the Institute, Mrs. Larrison, Mrs. Brown, died on Sept. 19th. It is anticipated by her friends in Lewisburg that Mrs. Larrison will come to town to reside.

Dr. Aviragnet would like to meet all those who are interested in music in Bucknell Hall, Tuesday afternoon at four fifteen. He intends forming sight reading classes so that soon glee clubs may become prominent features here and that the students may take part more rapidly in the Chapel music.

ACADEMY ARRESTS

The new principal, B. Z. Thomas and his wife had a son born to them on Sept. 17th.

"Ikey" Rothrock, formerly of the Academy, has returned to Medico-Chi, after spending his summer vacation at Mt. Pleasant Mills, his home.

Cloyd Hazlett, of Huntingdon an academy student here about two years ago, has just successfully undergone an operation upon the success of which his eyesight depended. While riding in the cars to Hamilton College, New York, a cinder lodged in his right eye with these results.

Bucknell has the largest attendance in her history, between 700 and 800 students. Her property and endowment exceed $1,000,000. One hundred students had to be turned away this year from lack of facilities and accommodations.

Earrel Dunbar while in the act of playing the leading part "Sherlock Holmes" at the Lewisburg opera house, Wednesday evening was discovered by his fraternity brothers to be a Phi Kappa Psi. Afterwards he was tendered an informal reception.

Wm. J. McMahon, football captain-elect for 1902, will be given a trial on Yale's 'varsity eleven as end. He is likely to keep that position. "Bill" is one of the "married men" on Yale's squad. Further note has it that McMahon was badly kicked in the head in a practice line-up. He dare not participate in further scrimmages this year or concussion of the brain will ensue. "Bill" has left college to recuperate.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1904. No. 4

BUCKNELL SCORES TWICE

Cornell Eleven Blocks Field Goals and Defeats Our Team.

On a fair day unexcelled for pretty football Cornell won by two touchdowns and two goals from our eleven. The game was contested upon Percy field Ithaca, N. Y., and it's foreignness to Bucknell's players accounts in great measure for Bucknell's defeat. A similar game upon home grounds might readily have reversed the score in our favor.

Bucknell's team seemed to be fully as consistent ground gainers as their opponents but our gains were made through the centre and since their's were around the ends ours were necessarily the shorter.

Cornell seemed to excell in team work and in advancing the pigskin around the ends of our team. Bucknell on the other hand seldom failed to advance through the centre and was woefully lacking when the time came to tackle. Numberless times almost, a Cornell runner would run untackled for twenty or twenty-five yards. That was discouraging. Of course the runner was aided by splendid interference and that was part to blame.

After Cornell's first kickoff Lenhard advanced 15 yards. From this point to the centre of the field, Bucknell by short steady line plunges carried the ball. Here it was lost on downs and in two end rushes one for 15 yards, the other for about 40 the ball was over our goal line for the first touchdown. Birmingham kicked goal.

The next touchdown was scored in the same rapid manner. Both occurred within ten minutes from start of game.

Then it was Bucknell's turn. After Cornell received the next kick-off she fumbled three times in succession each time regaining the ball but failing to gain. In this manner on her own 20 yard line the ball came into Bucknell's possession. From here continual hammering on the opposite line on alternate sides of centre soon carried the ball over for Bucknell's first score on Percy field in eight years. Baldwin was the lucky man. Johnson kicked goal. Score Bucknell 6, Cornell 12.

At the beginning of the following half Cornell chose to receivé the ball. On end runs and wing-shifts twenty yards were netted. Occasionally Bucknell would hold or throw back runners for a down or two but the required distance was always made up and a touchdown and goal by Birmingham resulted.

On a surprising play of fortune Bucknell secured her next touchdown. Bucknell chose to kick off and Cornell receiving the ball carefully advanced to the centre of the checkerboard where Davis on a line plunge fumbled the leather right into the hands of Cockill who immediately sped down the field without asking questions. He was a quarter of the way to the goal before discovered and over the line before caught. Johnson kicked goal.

Five minutes before time was called, Bucknell had the ball on a march down toward the goal line that looked like the tieing score to Bucknell's small bunch of supporters in one corner of the stand. Short, steady line plunges were rapidly covering the coveted distance when a fumble happened. Cornell got the ball and twice as fast as Bucknell had gone retraced the path of our advance. Twenty-five seconds before time Dewey carried the fourth touchdown against Bucknell over the goal line and Halliday kicked the goal. Final score, Bucknell 12, Cornell 24.

A remarkable play was made by the Cornell players after one of Bucknell's kickoffs. Johnson sent the ball spinning at least 15 or 20 yards behind Cornell's goal line. A Cornell player caught it and with dragging and pulling by his team-mates advanced the ball to his own 40 yard line before being finally downed.

The Cornell students had their first "march" to Percy field to the game. A number of trials at goal from field were blocked by Cornell players.

In the second half Morris and Capt. Johnson with Rice of Cornell were injured. Capt. Johnson probably cannot appear in another football line-up for three or four weeks.

The line-up:

CORNELL		BUCKNELL
Middledach
Cook	left tackle	Baldwin
Sheldon
Wilder	centre	Smily
Furman	right guard	Adams
		Lesher
Halliday	right tacsle	Lesher
		Lenhart
VanOrman	right end	Wheeler
Lynah (capt.)	quar-back	Frank Hird
Rice	l. half-back	McKeever
Gibson
Birmingham	r. half-back	Morris
Dewey		Shepard
Cox	full-back	(capt.) Johnson
Davis		Lenhard

Final score, Bucknell, 12; Cornell 24. Touchdowns, Rice 2, Baldwin, Birmingham, Cockill, Dewey. Goals from touchdowns, Birmingham 3, Johnson 2. Halliday. Umpire, Case, of Hobart. Referee, Sauter, of Williamsport. Head linesman, Wright, of Columbia. Time of halves, 25 minutes. Attendance, 2500.

Schedule for Reserves.

Assistant football manager A. S. Kech, '06, has secured a number of pretty good games for the reserve football eleven which will be played out of town. Negotiations are being carried on with a number of normal, high school and academy elevens.

The expected games will be played with a view to developing out of the scrubs good material for next years' 'varsity, and attracting deserving credit to this institution. The assistant manager suggests that all students athletically inclined or of good weight try for positions on the reserves by practice on the scrubs.

The complete schedule of reserve games will be announced later. At present it stands:

Oct. 15, Lock Haven Normal at Lock Haven.

Nov. 5, Mercersburg Academy at Mercersburg.

It might be stated Lock Haven Normal team is the eleven Baldwin, '03, played in last year.

Columbia University has issued 20,000 invitations for attendance at the 150th anniversary of their founding. Columbia has 14,000 alumni living.

RHODE'S SCHOLARSHIPS

Pres. Harris Appointed Upon Pennsylvania Committee.

Permanent chairman of Cecil Rhodes' foreign scholarship committee in Pennsylvania Provost C. Harrison of U. of Penna. appointed Pres. Harris on the committee for 1905. The standard of examinations for Oxford scholarships is to be the same as the standard for admission to that university. Information in detail or of any nature in regard to this matter can be obtained from any member of the scholarship committee.

M. E. and Presbyterian Receptions.

On Friday evening beginning at 7:30 p. m., the Epworth League of Beaver Memorial M. E. church gave a pleasant reception to students of the university. The student body was welcomed by Pastor Albritton and the Response made by Loomis, '07. Miller's orchestra played appropriate music all evening and to this program there was only one slight variation, a mandolin solo with piano accompaniment. The occasion will be long remembered.

At the Presbyertian church on East Market St., the same evening a similar reception was in progress. Chairs had been removed from the Sunday-school room and palms introduced until it looked like a parlor. Hung about the walls were various pictures that represented the titles of works of fiction. After a guessing period of about an hour guests entered an adjoining room and enjoyed delightful refreshments.

Freshmen ! Look ! !

Freshmen will observe that on the upper-class "proc's," which made their appearance at the time of school's commencement, the upper-classmen at the solicitation of basket-ball and base-ball managers have decided to omit from Rule III the clause forbidding freshmen to accompany ladies to athletic contests. The change goes into effect immediately as an Xmas present. The rest of the Rules remain intact.

Paul G. Smith.

Paul G. Smith, '05, who has played in every 'varsity football game as quarter-back since entering school, with the exception of the first game of his college career and those from which injuries kept him has retired from active participation in this sport. Family influence was brought to bear in order that his injuries might not become serious by continuance of play. Several times his head and ankle have been hurt. It is with regret the loss of Smith at quarter is noted.

Registration for Master's Degree.

Candidates for masters' degree at Bucknell in either Arts or Science course must register for their course of study before Nov. 15. Work may be followed in any university or professional school of standing in one or two years and will equal one year's work at Bucknell of nine courses of study, six of which must be in some individual line. These courses of study will only be open to Bucknell graduates.

Registration of Candidates for Master's Degree.

if they wish to receive the degree

Candidates must register before November 15th of the present year (1904), at the next Commencement.

Chemical and Physical Society Meet.

The Chemical and Physical society held it's first meeting in the laboratory lecture room on Thursday, Oct. 6, at 4.00 p. m. Interest was large and a great many new members were taken in, so the society is now starting upon a prosperous year. Prof. Owens outlined the plans and purpose of the society and the following officers were elected:

Prof. Owens, pres.
Phillips, '05,, vice-pres.
Hulley, '07, sec.
Sauders, '05, treas.
Prof. Owens, Hall, '07, and Lawrence, spec., executive com.

Prof. Owens gave a short talk on Alchemy. The Alchemists ran as far back as Tubal Cain, dabbled slightly in chemistry in a practical way and made road for theoretical chemistry. While engaged in attempting to change baser metals into gold, they made many important chemical discoveries. Ignorance greatly opposed these investigations.

Since the discovery of radium, however, the best thinkers admit the possibility of the conversion of baser metals into gold.

If you attend the next meeting to be held Thursday, Oct. 20, you may observe some liquid air experiments.

Delta Delta Delta Reception.

On Friday evening the Delta Delta Delta fraternity entertained its patronesses and the new college girls in the Institute parlors. The evening was pleasantly passed with a game called the "Hidden Faculty" in which Miss Ruth Jones, of Milton, showing herself best acquainted with our faculty received the prize. After music and the serving of refreshments the guests departed with most pleasant memories of the occasion.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS.

A copy of the first four issues of "The Orange and Blue," has been sent to every student in the University gratituously, with the understanding that in case the student did not care to subscribe thereto, the management should be notified to that effect.

All those who have received the paper this week have been placed on the regular list of subscribers and may expect a call from the solicitor at an early date.

INSTRUCTION CORPS

Additions and Deductions from Universities Teaching Force.

Many changes worthy of account have occurred in the instruction force of our institution since the close of school last year. Many familiar teachers have sought new fields for their work to benefit and more of others have come to take their places.

Among those who have changed are: Prof. Lincoln Hulley, '88, former occupant of the chair of History, who has gone to become president of John B. Stetson Univ., Fla., Miss Evelyn Judith Stanton, '99, who resigned the office of "Dean of the College Women" and in the summer months became Mrs. Dr. C. A. Gundy, of Lewisburg, M. F. Forbell, '03, former instructor in Oratory, Rev. Lemuel Moss, D. D., LL. D., lecturer on Social Science, deceased, Principal of the Academy, T. A. Edwards, who resigned to become "Dean of the College and Seminary Women," Instructor Frank E. Burpee, '01, who at present is "Superintendent of Construction," for the Carnegie library, Ernest Talor, '03, former academy instructor in mathematics, Miss Maud Elizabeth Hanna, '97, institute instructor in Latin and German, who became Mrs. David Pitt after her departure, Miss Candace Wood, who is home on leave of absence caused by family sickness, Miss Ester Davenport, who taught instrumental music and is now a pianist in Baltimore, Miss Von Lee Goodnough, teacher in vocal, and Miss Harriet Tracy teacher of piano playing.

A short sketch of each of the ones who now occupies vacated positions and other additions, follows:

Prof. Harry T. Colestock, '96, comes to occupy the chair of History. He was a "fellow" at the Univ. of Chicago and took his degree Ph. D. there in '01. Since then he was professor of History at Mansfield State Normal, at which place he resided.

Bromley Smith, '95, after graduation at Bucknell taught in the Keystone Academy until last year when he taught in the Courtland Normal school at Courtland, N. Y. He is Instructor in Rhetoric.

W. C. Kenough from Holyoke, Mass., graduated from Harvard, '01, after a four year course in the Modern languages. He is instructor in Modern languages.

George S. Tilley, '99, with rank of cadet was in uncle Sam's revenue cutter service '00-'01. From '01, to '02 he was assistant in chemistry at Bridgewater, Mass., Normal school. In '02, he took an additional degree A. B., from Harvard and in '04, and additional A. M.

Principal T. A. Edwards of the Academy, resigned to take up new duties as "Dean of the College and Seminary women." Dean Edwards obtained his degrees A. B. and A. M. from Allegheny college and from '81-'90, he taught in the public schools of Union City. He was principal of Hall Institute, at Sharon from '90-'93. The next year he attended school at Chicago university, classical course, and from '94-'04 he was successfully principal of Bucknell Academy.

Prof. B. F. Thomas, A. B. '98, A. M., '02, taught Latin at Keystone academy from '99-'03. Before this Doubtless everyone has noticed the incandescent red lights in various halls throughout the college buildings but perhaps all do not know what they signify. These coloured lights appear as signals to denote the location of fire-escape entrances. For this reason if for no other it is particularly desirable that no one molest them. In time of fire at night, their utility would be immense. They serve as a guide to safety outside the burning building.

Has it ever been appreciated how the need of a new enclosed athletic field is felt? Has it ever been noticed how on Bucknell's schedule of football games for past years the average number of home games is three? Where do all the extra games of small colleges go to? Many other small colleges are in Bucknell's boat. They go to the universities and larger colleges that support a revenue-deriving athletic field. On Princeton's schedule last season were ten home games and one, that with Yale, foreign. The same truth holds with the other large universities. They can afford this because ground facilities enable their management to collect all the money that is coming to them. In the meanwhile at smaller schools football as well as other out-door sports, is discouraged because there are few home games for the student body to witness.

Instruction Corps.

he taught one year in Scranton public schools. He was instructor in Latin and English and assistant football coach at Peddie institute, '03-'04. He becomes Principal of the Academy.

Additional Academy instructors are Walter S. Wilcox, '04, and Louis Wm. Robey, '04. Mr. Wilcox is instructor English, History and Freshman mathmatics; Mr. Robey in Latin and Greek.

Miss Emma L. Bush, a Vassar graduate, after varied experiences with Mt. Carrol institute (now affiliated with U. of Chicago,) while abroad in Germany, and as Dean of Stetson Univ. women comes to take inside charge at the Seminary as "preceptress." It is necessary to obtain excuses from class, etc., from Miss Bush at her office.

Miss Maud C. Blackmar is the new vocalist teacher.

Mrs. Pearl Leigh Carleton and Miss Edith Metcalf are additional piano and instrumental instructors. Mrs. Carleton obtained her musical education from Ida Zielinski, the Music college of Cincinatti, from an instructor in New York city and from J. B. Lang, of Boston. She then taught four years in the Music college of Cincinatti.

Miss Wilhelmina Darlington Bucknell's first art graduate, will occupy Miss Candace Wood's former position as Art Instructor until that ladie's return which will not be until after the commencement of school next term.

This completes the list.

Bucknell Reserves Defeated.

In the game with Lock Haven Normal at Lock Haven on Saturday, Oct. 15, the college reserves met defeat. The reserves carried the ball four times as far as their opponents but some poor individual playing on the scrubs part was responsible for their downfall.

In the first half by running ends successfully Goldsmith finally carried the ball over Lock Haven's goal line where it was fumbled and a touch-back made.

Not long after this Lock Haven then about three quarters of the way down the checker-board was compelled to kick for field goal. The ball went almost to our goal line where it was touched and fumbled a Normal school player falling upon it six inches from the goal line. Upon the next rush the ball was pushed over.

In the second half Capt. Claypool of the reserves after scrimmaging by both sides made the touchdown for reserves.

A kick for goal at a very difficult angle failed. Final score: Reserves 5, Lock Haven Normal 6. Officials McCormick, '06, umpire, Bender, of Syracuse, referee.

Saturday's Football Results.

A number of football surprises were sprung on different elevens Saturday. Bucknell's success in twice scoring, Princetons' defeat by a team that was twice in the last two years badly beaten by Bucknell, Amherst's toying with the heavier Columbia eleven and Syracuse's scores upon Yale were among the principal unlooked for events. Last Saturday before this Bucknell's was the only defeated major team that scored against opponents, this week it was different.

Some Saturday scores are:
Bucknell 12, Cornell 24.
Indians 109, Albright 0.
Amherst 12, Columbia 0.
Yale 17, Syracuse 0.
Annapolis 10, Princeton 9.
Harvard 4, West Point 0.
Georgetown 17, Villa Nova 0.
State 34, West Virginia 0.
U. of P. 6, Brown 0.
Haverford 6, Lehigh 0.
Swarthmore 40, Delaware 0.
Lafayette 32, Bloomsburg 0.

The fact, that on their home grounds the Georgetown team won by only 17 points from Villa Nova gives great hopes by comparison with Bucknell's score over the same opponents 26-0.

Republican Club to Organize.

At 2:00 p. m. on Tuesday, Oct. 18, a Bucknell Republican club will be organized, place of meeting to be posted upon bulletin board. This club will belong to the League of College Republican Clubs.

All those who desire to join and become members are requested to be present.

ALUMNI NOTES

Frank Ammon, ex-'05 is teaching school this year.

Frank Stoughton, ex-'02, is now employed by the P. R. R. at Coatesville.

Homer Henderson, ex-'07, is Principal of public schools at Clarington, Penna.

Dr. W. L. Gerhart, '86, and wife, of South 3d street, returned Monday from St. Louis.

Rev. T. Heysham, ex-'94, Ph. D., has been called to the Minneapolis, Minn., Baptist church. It is likely he will accept the pastorate.

Elizabeth Reed, '04, was elected by the school board Friday to fill the vacancy in the Lewisburg public schools caused by the resignation of Florence Brewer.

Last week the Orange and Blue made mention in its columns that Mrs. Orlando Spratt, Inst., '78, was visiting friends in town. It gives us pleasure to correct this mistaken information. Mrs. Spratt is a town resident.

Judge Martin Bell, '69, of Hollidaysburg, at the opening of the Blair Co. Quarter Sessions court Oct. 3, commended an editorial from the Philadelphia "Press" concerning the "Courts and County Roads." It is the duty of every constable to report bad roads in his section.

INSTITUTE ITEMS

Miss Carrie Geist spent Sunday in Mifflinburg.

Miss Louise Brown was at her home, Canton, over Sunday.

Margaret Stoughton, of the seminary, was initiated into Delta Phi on Oct. 12.

The Institute was well represented at both the Methodist and Presbyterian receptions, Friday night.

Miss Seaman, ex-'06, went home Wednesday after spending several weeks here with her fraternity sisters.

The Chapel exercises Friday evening were varied by some pretty guitar and vocal solos by Senor Casseres.

ACADEMY NOTES

Carl Robbins has unexpectedly returned to the Academy.

There are three Cubans and two Mexicans in the Academy this fall.

Ralph Savage, academy, ex-'00, was married at Riddleburg last month.

Pres. Harris conducted chapel service in the Academy chapel Thursday evening.

Sitler, who was called home because of family sickness, has returned to school.

"The Academy News" edited once a month and read before the Calliopean Literary Society on every first Friday of the month, is being received with great enthusiasm by the society members. Verner is editor for October.

The Y. M. C. A., looks forward to a successful year. Seven new members have joined. It is to be regretted that the Academy Y. M. C. A. reception which proved such a success last year is not to be repeated. It would make a good annual custom.

Harvard University has more students in this her 269th year than ever before.

Asst. Wyman in the Harvard Chemical laboratory was killed by an undergraduate automobilist.

State College has a small freshman class. In the class scrap one freshman broke his collar bone.

Only four colleges, of which number one is Cornell, have as nice university grounds as Bucknell.

Attractive Values in Seasonable Goods.

Fine Black Dress Goods

Black is the most serviceable color and almost everybody's favorite. We use our utmost effort to provide all the novelties in Black Goods as well as showing every new weave in colored Dress Goods. All that is fashionable can be found here. Fine Broadcloths at $1.00 to $2.50.

Elegant Granites, Sharkskin, Panamas, Cheviots, Serges, Canadensis, from 50 cents to $1.50 a yard.

The favorite Mohairs in plain dot, stripe or fancy weaves, from 39c to $1.50 a yard.

Voiles, Crepe-de-Chines, Albatross, Crepe-de-Ecrulas, Henriettas and Lansdowns from 50c to $1.50 a yard, suitable for the "Dressy dress." No other store carries such a varied and extensive line of Black Goods we pride ourselves in displaying such a beautiful line.

Ladies' Tourist Coats

The cloths are of such colorings and material that will never betray a sign of wear. The loose back effect, belt attachment seem to be the favorite; also double-breasted with rows of buttons. The new model sleeve is a novelty. Come price them as we know you can be suited here.

Furs—Furs

The first showing of Furs this week. We have had our furs quite a while but on account of space have not had time to show them. You can find from a long Boa or extra large double Fox to a short scarf either in round or flat effects. We are headquarters for fine furs and can save you from ten to twenty-five per cent. by buying your furs here. We deal with the most reliable furriers and bought them early when furs were the lowest. We priced them in real Isabella Fox $10.00 to $50.00, no imitation, to an imitation at less money. Would be pleased to have the ladies call and look over our extensive line before purchasing your winter Fur.

More New Trimmings

Many more new Dress Trimmings received this week in the new "Pull Braids" in all shades, for tailored gowns. Also the latest Applique effects in Persian, cream and black.

All the latest shades in Panne and Silk Velvets.

Many styles of band effects and All-over Laces.

An elegant line of Laces, Insertions and Medallions.

Gloves of Best Grade

We carry perfect fitting Gloves, as well as best shades. A wide range of white, black and colors to select from, and all the different qualities. We make special effort to select shades to harmonize with the new cloths for gowns, in fact we have the gloves of fashion for women and men.

Men's gloves in all the correct shades for general wear.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1904. No. 5

'VARSITY 24, RESERVES 0

Regular Eleven Wins Easily Without Great Expenditure of Energy.

Because no game between Bucknell and Colgate elevens occurred on Saturday, Oct. 22, as had been expected, Manager Marsh prepared a game between 'Varsity and Reserves. The play was not characterized by that spirit which animates a team playing against opponents from another school, and individual play was more than ever in prominence. The best carrying of the ball for the 'varsity was done by Cockill, Caruthers, and Morris if the latter's loss of a few yards on one occasion is overlooked

Both teams excelled in advancing the ball around the ends. Neither side could do well through the centre. With Capt. Johnson out of the backfield the 'varsity eleven seemed to be lacking the necessary energy to buck successfully.

For the reserves, Blair, Hayes and Darlington excelled in advancing the leather. Blair though light has the promise for a successful halfback in him and next year when all the team is to be lighter than usual on accout of the expected loss of our heavy players should if he displays his form of to-day stand a fair show for a 'varsity position.

For the first time this year fumbles characterized the play of the 'varsity, but lack of stimulation to do their best can be readily blamed for these actions.

Catching the first kick-off by Darlington Binns ran 45 yards before being tackled. On the second line-up a fumble happened and possession of the pig-skin passed to the scrubs. Immediately they repeated the trick of the 'varsity and Cockill securing the ball ran 75 yards for the first touch-down. Baldwin kicked goal.

An innovation was the kicking of Cockill from centre of the checkerboard after trial at goal from 'varsity touchdowns. The full back usually has been called upon to perform this act. Cockill kicked off, the ball going low and striking the reserve centre from whom it bounded and was secured by the kicker who carried it forward 25 yds. half way from the centre line to the reserves goal line. After a great deal of scrimmaging by both sides, Morris ran 15 yards for the second score. Baldwin kicked goal.

Caruthers a number of times made a success of carrying the leather from quarter-back position. A quarter back kick by the reserves failed the 'varsity securing possession of the oval thereby.

Before the close of the first half once more Cockill obtained the ball on a fumble near the middle of the checker-board and made a touchdown just as time was called. Goal failed.

In the second half two points were lost for the reserves on a safety by Goldsmith. A touchdown was scored by Lesher. The kick-out for trial at goal failed.

Capt. Johnson, Lenhart, McKeever and Frank were out of the game, the first two on account of injuries received in last Saturday's Cornell game at Ithaca, N. Y.

Final score: 'Varsity 24, Reserves 0.

The line up:

Chemical and Physical Society.

The college chemical and physical society held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 20 at 4:00. The matter of securing liquid air for experimentation and exhibition on Thursday, Nov. 3, two weeks hence was discussed. It is likely the student body as well as the society's members and others will upon this date have an opportunity to witness the performance of this oddity in the laboratory lecture room. Admission ten cents. Prof. Owens, president of the chemical and physical society will conduct the experimentation and discussion.

After this and other business was disposed of the method of producing sulphuric acid in shipping quantities now used at one of the General Chemical Co's. 26 works, this one located at Camden, New Jersey, was ably explained by Elkanah Hulley, '07. Mr. Hulley said the method was discovered some three or four centuries ago by Dr. Roabock, an Englishman. He also talked upon the concentration of sulphuric acid into vitriol. The explanations were made more clear by the aid of the diagrams prepared by the speaker. The next meeting will occur upon Thursday, Nov. 3, in the Laboratory lecture room at 4:00 p. m.

BUCKNELL SURROUNDINGS

Lewisburg, the College's Location, Delightfully Situated.

A good idea of the surrounding advantages about Bucknell and the location of the college in general may be gained by reading further into this article. The Examiner says:

Bucknell is situated in Central Pennsylvania at Lewisburg on the Susquehanna river; near the place where Joseph Priestly spent the later years of his life, and where he is buried; near the place also where Coleridge and Southey in their youthful enthusiasm intended to establish their Pantisocracy, judging they aver chiefly, from its mellifluous name, that the Susquehanna was the best place in the world for an earthly paradise. So also think all students at Bucknell. Only four colleges in America can claim to have as fine natural scenery as Bucknell, and none any better. With its river, its valleys and mountains and islands, with all the pomp of cultivated nature, there is nothing lacking to its beauty in a sweep of forty miles in one direction, and twenty in the other.

While among the mountains, Bucknell is not on the mountains. It has a winter climate about like that of Philadelphia. Sanitarians pronounce the place unsurpassed in healthfulness by any place in the country. The town of Lewisburg is in close railroad connections with all principal points. The Pennsylvania one of whose main lines, that form Philadelphia to Buffalo, with branches to Canandaingua and Erie runs in sight of the college buildings; the Philadelphia and Reading, the Lackawanna system, the Baltimore and Ohio, and a branch of the New York Central gives fine connections with Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York on the east, and Wheeling, Pittsburg, Franklin, Erie and Buffalo on the West. These roads have brought the college in close touch with the agricultural regions of the State, as also with the anthracite and iron regions of the east and with the bituminous, oil, iron and lumber regions of the west. While Bucknell the past year drew students from twenty-one States and foreign countries, yet the great majority of her students come from her immediate field where for a distance of 200 miles by rail westward, and 100 miles eastward, she has no rival in her line of work.

Upon the top and around the base of a plateau, which rises by a great slope from the river to the height of one hundred feet, are placed the buildings of the Institution twelve in number. Another is to be erected the coming year, a library, the gift of Andrew Carnegie. All the buildings are supplied with the best of water brought from the White Deer mountain sixteen miles distant. They are all warmed by steam from a central heating plant and will be lighted by electricity the coming year from a plant now being installed. On account of the largely increasing attendance the board has in contemplation the erection of two new buildings for their residence, one for young men, and another for young women.

Athletic Field Committee Meets.

Thompson, '04, Chairman of the Athletic Field Committee was in town on the business of the Committee last Saturday. A meeting was held, at which were discussed certain activities of which an announcement will be made in a week or two. The active committee now consists of Goodman, '05, Royer, '05, Morton, '05, and Rostwick, '05. On the sub-committee are Keeh., '06, Wise, '06, Drake, '06, Sheppard, '06, Schoch, '06, and P. Stolz, '07.

It might be stated to the freshmen and other new students that this committee was appointed to secure a new, enclosed athletic field and acts with authority from the Athletic Association.

Track Candidates Report

On Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 19, candidates for field and track first reported for the coming season's practice. A favourable number of men reported and since this date was so early in the school year it is to be expected that this number will be largely increased. Light running practice was indulged to loosen joints and this exercise will be repeated under the direction of Capt. Chas. S. Marsh, '05 at frequent intervals until daily training begins in the spring term. The relay team for entrance in Univ. of Penna. races for gold watches and pennant will be largely made up from the material that reports early.

Mandolin and Guitar Club.

At a meeting called by Prof. Aviragnet at the Seminary on Tuesday the Bucknell Mandolin and Guitar club was organized. About twenty candidates were present, a good attendance. It is Professor Aviragnet's policy to separate the club in two parts. Only the most successful players will be placed in the club that fills engagements on the road. A double quartet of male voices will be organized to go along with the Mandolin and Guitar club. Candidates who read either vocal music or music for mandolin and guitar will report at the next club meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 25. The meeting will be held in the Bucknell Hall at 4:00 p. m.

Pi Phi Reception.

Pi Phi entertained the students of the seminary in the Institute parlors on Friday evening, Oct. 21. After progressive games of "violets" had been played and a bunch of violets presented to the most successful players, Misses Elizabeth Bates and Daisy Hastings, some delightful vocal solos were given by members of the fraternity and songs sung by all. Every one had a pleasant evening and after the program's completion refreshments were served.

Johnson-Brewer.

Rev. Henry J. Johnson, '01 pastor of the Ridley Park Baptist church near Philadelphia and Miss Florence Rachel Brewer, music graduate, '02, of Lewisburg, were married on Oct. 18, in the bridegroom's church. The ceremony was performed by the brother of the bride-groom, Rev. George Johnson, of Providence, Rhode Island.

Y. P. S. C. E topic cards have been distributed to the Christian Endeavor goers at the Baptist church.

LIBRARY CORNER STONE LAID

New Carnegie Building Rapidly Rising Above Ground.

The corner stone of the new Carnegie Library of Bucknell University was laid Thursday. In the stone were placed catalogues of the University and other literature of the town, and copies of the various papers of that issue.

The basement story of the building is completed, and the main story is finished to the windows.

The proposed building will be sixty-four feet by ninety, built of pressed brick, and trimmed with brownstone. The center, thirty feet by ninety, will be used as a reading room, and will be open to the roof and lighted by skylights. At the height of sixteen feet there will be a gallery extending around the room. The sides, each fifteen feet by ninety will, on the first floor, be divided into rooms for special collections and for offices. The second and third floors will be used for stack rooms. The building will accommodate about 150,000 volumes.

National League Batting Averages.

By the table of batting averages of the National League prepared by Pres. Pulliam it is found that Bucknell's representatives stand very well. Harry McCormick, ex-'04, of the New York and Pittsburg clubs leads off with an average of .279, standing twenty-fifth in the whole league. This is very good for it is about four fifths of the way up to the top. James Sebring, academy, ex-'03, of the Pittsburg and Cincinatti clubs follows with 250 per cent. not far behind. His standing is well above the middle. Christopher Matthewson, ex-'02, of the New York club about leads the pitchers for batting with an average of 226. George Barclay, ex-'96, of the St. Louis and Boston clubs comes after with a percentage of 205. The percentage tables follow;

	G.	A.B.	R.	H.	T.B.
McCormick	120	444	53	123	173
Sebring	126	527	50	132	170
Matthewson	48	137	15	30	41
Barclay	127	468	46	96	119
(Con.)	2-B	3-B	HR.	P.C.	SH. SB.
McC.	19	11	3	279	7 19
Seb.	20	9	0	250	1 16
Mat.	5	3	0	226	9 3
Barc.	10	5	1	205	13 17

For pitching winning games Matthewson stands a close second to McGinnity of the New York Club. McGinnity's record was 32 won, 9 lost, and 2 tied; Matthewson's was 31 won, 11 lost and 1 tied. The difference in percentage between these two pitchers must be very small.

It is strange to note that the final average batting of clubs was the same as that of these clubs, individual representatives mentioned in this article. If pitchers whose nerve for batting is spoiled, be excepted. After New York, Pittsburg, Cincinatti, and St. Louis stand in order with respective averages of 265, 258, 255 and 253, for the four clubs.

Sons of Temperance Reception.

The Sons of Temperance organization will hold an open meeting and reception in their halls on corner Market and Sixth Sts., to members, guests and to all who may be interested in the organization or its purpose.

All college, academy and institute organizations no matter what their nature or purpose and all outside organizations in which there are a large number of students or alumni interested are encouraged to appoint or elect Orange and Blue correspondents. Among the organizations included particularly are Literary societies, religious societies and similar societies for the benefitof members and students like the Chemical and Physical society and T-Square club in the college. Much news is kept from the ears of the student body because of this neglect of societies. On the other hand the societies do not take advantage of this privilege open to them by which they may acquaint their friends and others with the organizations' doings and matters particularly of interest to them. In other words they miss a good chance to advertise; not to advertise however in the worldly sense of the word, but in its more sober, ernest and explanatory sense.

Each week in the columns of the college newspapers there should appear upon the tables of the weekly "calendar," notices for the meeting of clubs and other organizations that will be held the following week as well as reports, short though they are, upon the meetings of the past week.

If a sufficient amount of news items of this nature is provided before Sunday noon of each week, a new "column" will make its appearance in the Orange and Blue entitled "Society Notes."

Basketball is now the topic for discussion about the gymnasium. Everyone wants to get revenge next term to pay for the five defeats of last year. Every day one or more prospective men appear at the "gym" and enquire about the starting of practice. The blood is in their veins to practice their best at this time of year. There are a husky lot of candidates and if practice begins early enough there is no doubt that a good team will refuse to permit the popularity of this sport to wane.

Zeta Literary Society will meet Thursday night at six-thirty in the institute parlors to elect officers for the ensuing year.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters. It is not necessary that the opinions of the writer coincide with those of the Orange and Blue, but communications must be free from offensive personalities. The Writer's name must be signed to letters, but will not be published if so desired.

Comment of a Freshman.

Editor Orange and Blue:—

It is, perhaps not in accordance with the customs and traditions of any University for a member of the undergraduate body to criticise the college curriculum or any part thereof. But from the abundance of the heart the pen writteth, and if these impressions do not meet with the entire approbation of the progressive and practical portion of the student body then the writer is willing to recede his position.

Several of America's most prominent educators have recently startled the college world by declaring that our Universities are laying altogether too much stress on the classical, and not sufficient time to the most important of all our English language.

When the college doors are finally closed to the graduate and he enters upon the important activities of real life, his associates do not judge his intellectual prowess by his ability to dissect the intricate formation of a Greek noun, or to conjugate any or every Latin verb, however beneficial this acquirement may be in itself. But he is judged and on many occasions his opportunities for success depend on his ability to correctly and fluently use his own language.

Now to arrive at a definite point, the English department of Bucknell College is lamentably weak. Members of the Freshman class are informed that they must devote ten hours each week to the all-important dead languages of the Ancients, and one hour to the insignificant study of English.

The rhetoric work done by the Sophomore class, should and could be accomplished by the Freshman, and the work of each class advanced accordingly, in that way, students who expect to take but one or two years of college work, would be enabled to secure a more practical knowledge of English.

Other colleges have begun this crusade for the "revival of learning" in the English department, and if Bucknell adopts the same course, we will soon be able to cope with other universities with efficient debating teams, and our school publications, too, will not lack contestants striving for a position on the staff.

May those in charge of the English course adopt the following illustrious Latin motto, and see that it is put in practice.

"Soc et Tunm."

S. G. Williams, ex-'99, is teaching in the Greensburg Penna. Seminary.

Ernest Taylor, '03, a teacher in Bucknell Academy last year, is principal of Blossburg public schools, Penna.

Hiram Purdy, '98, has left the engineering department of the P. R. R. at Sunbury to enter partnership in a burial supply company located at the same place.

Miss Minnie G. Eckels, '01 who has been Preceptress for the past three years at Edinboro will enter the University of Pennsylvania this fall to take up a course in English.

Elbert Huff, '01, Crozer Theological Seminary, '04, and at present pastor of the Baptist church at Greenwich, N. J., was married on the evening of September 2, to Miss Grace Viola Lyons, of Mt. Morris, in the Baptist church of that place.

At 8:00 p. m. Tuesday night, Oct. 18, the marriage of Henry Wellington Savidge, ex-'99, to Miss Eva Brightbill Fisher occured. The ceremony was performed by Pres. George E. Reed, of Dickinson college. Last week the announcement was made of Ralph's, brother Henry Savidge's marriage.

Harry McCormick, ex-'04, who played on the New York and Pittsburg Nationals during the past baseball season spent a few days visiting friends and Phi Gamma Delta brothers in Lewisburg. He has been playing fullback on one of the nearby foot-ball teams and will play basket-ball with a Philadelphia team next term.

Dr. Harvey E. Smith, '94, at one time quarter-back and captain of Bucknell's foot-ball team and a pitcher on the 'varsity nine will be a candidate for president of the Harrisburg Athletic club at the next election in January. The club will build a new base-ball stand on their grounds before next season opens. At present Dr. Smith is vice-president of the Club.

ACADEMY NOTES

Sitler and Smith went home Friday to spend a few days.

Johnson, academy, plays a cornet in the Baptist Sunday school.

Little, academy, a brother of Harry Little, ex-'03, was home on a few days' visit.

Prof. Lindeman addressed the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday about "Systematic Bible Study."

The academy football eleven practiced all week under the direction of Principal B. F. Thomas and Instructor W. S. Wilcox. By tieing the freshman team 0-0 on Saturday morning who outweighed the academy players ,man for man, the academy eleven showed that it was developing into fine form for the Williamsport High School game on Nov. 5. Principal Thomas is an ex-'varsity half-back and Instructor Wilcox an ex-centre and ex-captain of the 'varsity.

Kappa Sigma Dance.

On Tuesday evening the Kappa Sigma fraternity held a dance in the Lewisburg armory. All the men's national fraternities with chapters at Bucknell were represented there. The dance will be mentioned at greater length in next weeks issue.

Glee Club Class.

About twenty boys reported to Prof. Aviragnet in Bucknell Hall at 4:00 Tuesday for entrance to Prof. Aviragnet's free class in vocal instruction preparatory to the formation of the glee club.

INSTITUTE ITEMS

Miss Jean Hopwood spent Sunday at her home in Plymouth.

The Pi Beta Phi's were delightfully entertained Friday evening by Miss Slifer.

Friday evening last the Tri Deltas gave a very enjoyable gymnasium party.

Miss Bacon, '06, spent the last of the week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. Evan Davis, Institute, '71, with her mother, Mrs. Moore, are visiting Mrs. Calvin Hare, Institute, '72.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Maud Schubert a former student here, and Mr. Earl Walters, of Bradford, Pa.

In connection with the chapel exercises Thursday evening Misses Katharine Beckley and Katharine Halfpenny gave two very pleasing recitations.

Invitations have been issued by the Beta Delta Pi Sorority for a reception to be given in the Institute parlors, Friday, October the twenty-eighth. The The L. G. C's have also issued invitations for a party in the gymnasium the same evening.

At the meeting of the Alumnae Association, held in the Institute parlors, October the eleventh, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President, Miss Bess Bates.
Vice-President, Miss Emma Eeg.
Secretary, Mrs. Wm. C. Gretzinger.
Treasurer, Mrs. Weber Gearhart.

Miss Mary Unger visited relatives over Sunday.

Dr. Avfragnet wishes to announce that the sight-reading class has begun its work and now meets regularly Saturday morning at nine fifteen in Bucknell Hall. All those who wish to join will please hand in their names immediately so that the class will not be kept back by the late comers. A prize of ten dollars, which equals the prize given in the Music Department will be given to the person passing the best examination at the close of the year. This class and prize are open to the young women as well as to the college men.

COLLEGE NOTES

Andrew Gregg Loomis, '95, is visiting his mother and Sigma Alpha Epsilon brothers.

Walter Bertolette, '03, spent a few days in Lewisburg with his Phi Kappa Psi brothers.

Quite a number of students have formed hunting parties to the mountains since game season's opening on Saturday, Oct. 15. Their success is another matter.

Wagner, '08, of Watsontown, had his shoulder bone broken in a football contest at Sunbury between the Watsontown high-school and the Sunbury Buffaloe's team on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 15.

Harvard is completing some new rules in regard to athletics. Players are not to be kept from 'varsity football games because of money received for playing a long time before entrance to Harvard and players are permitted to take part in only one branch of sport each year.

Freshmen, 0. Academy, 0.

On Saturday morning, Oct. 22 the 1908 football team captained by Hindman, '08, and the academy eleven, captained by Libby played each other to a stand-still on the Bucknell Athletic field. In the first half the freshman team permitted the academy team to approach within 30 yards of the freshmen's line, the closest they ever got, while in the second half as time was called the leather was in the freshmen's possession within 3 yards from a score. Fynal score: 1908, 0—Academy, 0.

Attractive Values in Seasonable Goods.

Fine Black Dress Goods

Black is the most serviceable color and almost everybody's favorite. We use our utmost effort to provide all the novelties in Black Goods as well as showing every new weave in colored Dress Goods. All that is fashionable can be found here. Fine Broadcloths at $1.00 to $2.50. Elegant Granites, Sharkskin, Panamas, Cheviots, Serges, Canadensis, from 50 cents to $1.50 a yard.

The favorite Mohairs in plain dot, stripe or fancy weaves, from 39c to $1.50 a yard.

Voiles, Crepe-de-Chines, Albatross, Crepe-de-Esculas, Henriettas and Lansdowns from 50c to $1.50 a yard, suitable for the "Dressy dress." No other store carries such a varied and extensive line of Black Goods we pride ourselves in displaying such a beautiful line.

Ladies' Tourist Coats

The cloths are of such colorings and material that will never betray a sign of wear. The loose back effect, belt attachment seem to be the favorite; also double-breasted with rows of buttons. The new model sleeve is a novelty. Come price them as we know you can be suited here.

Furs—Furs

The first showing of Furs this week. We have had our furs quite a while but on account of space have not had time to show them. You can find from a long Boa or extra large double Fox to a short scarf either in round or flat effects. We are headquarters for fine furs and can save you from ten to twenty-five per cent. by buying your furs here. We deal with the most reliable furriers and bought them early when furs were the lowest. We price them in real Isacbla Fox $10.00 to $50.00, no imitation, to an imitation at less money. Would be pleased to have the ladies call and look over our extensive line before purchasing your winter Fur.

More New Trimmings

Many more new Dress Trimmings received this week in the new "Pull Braids" in all shades, for tailored gowns. Also the latest Applique effects in Persian, cream and black.

All the latest shades in Panne and Silk Velvets.

Many styles of band effects and All-over Laces.

An elegant line of Laces, Insertions and Medallions.

Gloves of Best Grade

We carry perfect fitting Gloves, as well as best shades. A wide range of white, black and colors to select from, and all the different qualities. We make special effort to select shades to harmonize with the new cloths for gowns, in fact we have the gloves of fashion for women and men.

Men's gloves in all the correct shades for general wear.

BUCKNELL ADDS A VICTORY

Maryland Athletic Club Defeated. Score No True Criterion.

The Maryland Athletic club was defeated at Baltimore, Maryland, on Saturday in a desperate contest. All weather conditions favored the game and put spirit and life into the contestants.

For the most part the ball was advanced with short gains by both sides. Lenhard and Baldwin at times plunged through centre for ten or fifteen yards. Then at times the Maryland team would brace up and stop our advance with a hold for downs. Although, Bucknell gained much more ground than their opponents and the score is by no means a fair criterion of its strength.

Once in the first half within fifteen yards of a score did Bucknell lose possession of the leather on a fumble by Lenhard and once again in the second half before the only score of the game had been made the ball was lost inside the first 5 yard line on downs.

Cooper and Lesher deserve mention for their superb defense at left and right guard respectively. Lesher's opponent outweighed him considerably he weighed about two hundred and fifty pounds, and no little skill was required to prevent this big fellow's interference with Bucknell's quarterback as the plays were put in motion.

The closest the Athletic Club team approached to Bucknell's goal line was to the twenty yard line. Early in the first half while yet fresh and strong the southern eleven carried the pigskin to this point only to lose it because the Bucknell line braced and held for downs before a score could be pushed over.

Bucknell's only score occurred within a very few minutes of the end of the second half. Once within striking distance of the opponents goal line the advancing team had been held. Upon the recovery of the ball after a kick from danger by the Maryland full-back, it was surely and steadily brought back to the 5 yard line and from there carried over for a score by Baldwin by so close a margin that it was necessary for the officials to measure the ball in order to find if it's middle point really was across the goal line or not. A trial for goal by Capt. Johnson missed, the ball striking one of the goal uprights above the cross-bar and bounding outside the goal-post.

Final score: Bucknell 5, Maryland A. C. 0.

This contest marked the return to the game of those players hurt against Cornell, Capt. Johnson at full-back and Lenhard at left tackle, necessitating the change of Baldwin to tackle and Lesher to guard.

The line-up:

Mrs. Harriet T. Bailey.

Mrs. Harriet Tillinghast Bailey, who died at the residence of her son-in-law, President Harris, was born in Windham, Connetical, July 21, 1828. She was a lineal descendant of Rev. Parker Tillinghast, sixth pastor of the First Baptist church, Providence, R. I., who in 1700 built with his own means and subsequently presented the church a meeting-house. In childhood she came with her parents to Abington, Lackawanna county, where her life was spent till 1890, when she came to Lewisburg, where she has since resided. Her name appears in the first subscription list of Bucknell University of which she was always a firm friend, as also of Keystone Academy in the founding and maintaining of which she and her family were an important factor.

Mrs. H. T. Bailey died at the home of her son-in-law Pres. Harris on the evening of Oct. 29, after weakness resulting from old age had continued for a number of months. Funeral services will be held at the President's house at 11:15 a. m. Monday and at La Plume, Penna., on Tuesday morning at 10:00. Interment will follow these last services.

Death of Mrs. D. B. Miller.

Mrs. D. B. Miller, Institute, '61, was killed on the morning of Oct. 30 in a rear end rail road collision at Tipton, Missouri. Mrs. Miller was riding in the Pullman car at the end of the train division No. 1 when division No. 2 crashed into it, splitting the car and killing three of its occupants. Mrs. Miller was a most estimable lady and her loss will be deeply felt. She was on her way to Taos, New Mexico where her son George Phillips Miller, '81, resides. Her husband, Mr. D. B. Miller, '62, is a member of the Board of Trustees and president of the Lewisburg First National Bank.

The wreck occurred within two hundred and fifty miles of St. Louis, where the dead woman had attended the Exposition.

Liquid Air Exhibit

The Chemical and Physical society through the valuable aid of Prof. Owens has completed arrangements for the liquid air exhibition at their meeting on Thursday, Nov. 3. Prof. Owens who has had some experience in the matter will conduct the experimentation. The Chemical Lab. lecture room accomodating one to two hundred people is the place of exhibition. In order to defray the expenses necessitated to secure this scarce oddity, an admission of ten cents will be charged to all who are not members of the society. Everybody is welcome.

Perhaps the only other opportunity to watch the performance of this wonderful substance that students and people of Lewisburg ever possessed was last year in the Lewisburg Opera House where popular prices were charged for admission.

Freshman Meeting Fails.

At a freshman class meeting in Bucknell Hall on Monday, Oct. 24 at 4:00 p. m. a quorum of members failed to apppear. A future meeting will be scheduled.

BIBLE AND MISSION STUDY

Institute For Bible and Mission Study Held to Awaken Interest.

The Institute for study of the Bible and Missions is held annually for the awakening of interest in this work among college students. This year Bucknell was the chosen place for the Institute. Sec. Wm. Miller, Jr., of State of Penna. Y. M. C. A., was present at the meetings and twice addressed them.

The program with speakers follows:

S. G. C. Reception.

On Friday evening, Oct. 28, the S. G. C's entertained their patronesses and friends in the Institute gymnasium. The "gym" had been prettily decorated with yellow and white the colors of the club. A magazine guessing contest and peanut hunt proved a delightful method of entertainment to all and gifts to the most successful persons in these two events were respectfully one dozen white and yellow roses and a box of Huyler's peanuts.

Organization of the Halls.

1 The students residing in the East Wing, those in the West Wing, and those residing in West College shall each form an Association for their improvement and better regulation.

2. The President of each of these Associations shall be a Professor of the College designated by the President of the University, who shall preside at all meetings and appoint all committees.

3. Each Association may form its own Constitution and By-laws and elect a secretary and treasurer and such other officers as may be thought necessary.

4. All new students assigned to rooms in a hall will be regarded and classed as "guests" of the hall for the period of two months, when upon recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall, they may by a majority vote of the members of the hall be elected "residents" of the hall.

5. Residents of the Hall may after a period of four months be elected members of the Hall by a majority vote after recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall.

5. Residents of the Hall may after a period of four months be elected members of the Hall by a majority vote after recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall.

6. Any "guest" failing of election to residence and any "resident" failing of election to membership shall withdraw from the Hall.

7. No student shall change from one Hall to another except by consent both of the President of the hall from which he withdraws and of the President of the Hall which he enters; in which case, he shall retain his status as resident or guest, but for membership, election must be held.

8. If a student withdraws from a hall to room in town, he will, if readmitted by the President of the Hall, have the same status as a new student; but the association may upon the recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall, admit him to membership by a two-thirds vote of the Association.

9. The Association may by a majority vote upon recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall withdraw the rights of a student as guest, resident or member, and in such case the student must withdraw from the Hall.

10. Residents shall have the privilege of attendance at the business meetings of the Association except those for the electioin of candidates to residence or membership and of participating in discussion, but shall not have the right to vote.

11. Those students who at the opening of the scholastic year September 1903, shall have roomed in any of the buildings for two terms shall be considered members of the Association of the Hall in which they at that time room.

12. All meetings shall be held upon call of the President of the Hall.

Adopted by the Faculty of Bucknell University, June, 1903.

University of Michigan is spending over $13,000 for the improvement of its athletic field.

CHARLES W. HARVEY

Charles W. Harvey, '00 Is In The Y. M. C. A. Work in China.

A letter dated July 17 from Charles W. Harvey, '00, who left this country in 1902 to become a missionary in China, states that he had been confined to his bed for eleven weeks with appendicitis, and that he expected to be operated upon soon.

Mr. Harvey has had to pass through some hard experiences since he went to Tientsin. Shortly after his arrival he was in the hospital for several weeks with ophthalmia. Later he suffered from Chinese fever.

Experiences like these would shatter the determination of many, but Harvey has borne it all. Reports from his fellow laborers in Y. M. C. A. work speak of him in the highest terms saying that a great future is before him when his health has returned.

Beta Delta Pi Reception.

Beta Delta Pi entertained their friends in the Institute parlors on Friday evening, Oct. 28. Cards in the shape of the Beta Delta Pi pin were given to each person as favors.

A guessing contest furnished entertainment part of the evening. As a prize a very pretty hat pin was given to Miss Elsie Seller, of Philadelphia.

Refreshments were served in which the sorority colors, pink and green, were predominant.

The remainder of this delightful evening was spent in the school room where all heartily enjoyed the music and dancing.

Kappa Sigma Dance.

Tuesday evening the Alpha Phi Chapter of Kappa Sigma held a dance in the Lewisburg armory.

Miller's town orchestra discoursed sweet music while dancers and guests lightly tripped around the floor. Other chapters at Bucknell were represented as follows: Phi Kappa Psi, Andrew A. Leiser, '98, Donald R. McCain, '05; Sigma Chi, Peter Ginter, William W. Portser, '06; Phi Gamma Delta, Merle M. Edwards, '03, Harry E. McCormick, ex-'04, Earl A. Morton, '05; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, LeRoy T. Butler, '97, Lynn S. Goodman, '05; Delta Tau Delta, William F. Caruthers, '05.

The patronesses were Mrs. William Forster, Mrs. A. A. Leiser, Mrs. A. R. Trexler, Mrs. Thomas C. Thornton and Mrs. Robert Halfpenny.

Institute At Home.

The first of the usual "At Homes" for the year 1904-05 will be given in the Institute parlors on Monday afternoon, Nov. 7 from 4:00 to 6:00.

A cordial invitation is extended to members of the faculty and students of the university to be present.

Republican Club Organizes.

At the organization of the Bucknell Republican club in Commencement hall at 9:00 p. m. last Tuesday, Oct. 25, the following officers were elected:

Pres; Clay M. McCormick, '06.
Sec; B. Earl Phillips, '06.

A basket-ball has made its appearance upon the gymnasium floor and during the week past a number of basket-ball candidates have been taking advantage of this opportunity to practice.

The three-quarter hour period adopted in the Academy and Institute for class recitations is working very satisfactorily. Instead of recitations lasting one full hour as those in the college do, they last but forty-five minutes.

This scheme was adopted by the authorities because the one hour recitation period taxes the mental and physical resources of boys and girls in preparatory schools too much. One of our college professors used to say, that freshmen went to school to learn to focus their attention upon a class recitation for fifteen minutes, when students become sophomores they should learn control of their mind for thirty minutes, when juniors forty-five minutes of close attention was expected of them and when juniors become seniors, they should be able to keep from wandering in their intellect for one full hour recitation period. Certainly the three-quarter hour period should meet approval of both teachers and students.

The required time, three hours daily is completed in the following manner. Instead of three full hour recitations, the student has four three-quarter hour recitations. Each method requires the expenditure in class of the same amount of time. Beginning at 8:15 in the morning recitations follow one another every forty-five minutes until 12:00 noon. Then from 1:45 to 4:00 these periods continue in the afternoon. In this manner every school day is divided into eight recitation periods.

Phi Delta Sigma Elections.

Phi Delta Sigma elections to membership resulted as follows: Phi Kappa Psi, Silas H. Schoch, '06, Phi Gamma Delta, Edwin A. Beaver, '06, Charles M. Howell, '06; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, John D. P. Smithgall, '06; Kappa Sigma, Roy W. Hoon, '06, Augustus S. Keen, '06.

On Thursday evening, Oct. 27, a banquet was held at the Broadway Hotel, Milton.

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course.

Through the efforts of the Bucknell Y. M. C. A. and the co-operation of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau of Philadelphia arrangements for the lecture course offered yearly to students of Bucknell and residents of Lewisburg for attendance have been completed. The program contains one impersonator the first attraction, two musical numbers the second and last, and two lecturers the third and fourth attractions. Individual tickets will cost 35 cents for admission. Course tickets will be sold, five for $1.50. The attraction's and dates follow:

Leland Powers, Nov. 18, 1904.
Katherine Ridgeway Concert Co., Dec. 14, 1904.
Col. G. W. Bain. Jan. 13, 1905.
Newell Dwight Hillis, Feb. 21, 1905.
Chicago Lady Entertainer's March 2, 1905.

Those expecting to attend the series will be pleased to know that Miss Katherine Ridgeway who so much pleased her audience with display of elocutionary talent last year will again be with the company of that name.

Course tickets may be secured from Wm. Hulley, spec., L. C. Hylbert, '05, A. E. Barton, '06, F. L. McCauley, '05, A. Steinhilber, '05, and others. The town will be canvassed by ticket-sellers.

Georgetown Prospects.

It is interesting to compare the scores made by the two football elevens that will meet in contest on Saturday two weeks ahead. The Georgetown game is the last of this year for Bucknell and of course everyone wants to have the season end with a victory. This will be a difficult task to accomplish but is certainly not an impossibility. The Georgetown team is heavy probably as heavy as any Bucknell has yet met this season. Her scores show that combined with weight there is a certain amount of speed for a number of them have been comparatively large.

Maryland A. C., was defeated by our southern rivals 22-0. Villanova lost to them 17-0. Fort Meyer went down 41-0, Washington and Lee University permitted a score against them of 17-0, while last Saturday Holy Cross was beaten on neutral grounds by the score 17-4. Thus far Georgetown has permitted only one defeat, that by Princeton 10-0 and a total of 14 points against them for the season only is to Georgetown's discredit. This makes a sum total of 144-14. Two of these games will show by actual comparison of results the strength of Georgetown with that of Bucknell. The first game of their football season Georgetown defeated the Maryland Athletic Club elevens, four touchdowns to none. Bucknell had trouble to secure one lone touchdown from the same opponents. This appears discouraging but the Villa Nova games show results that differ in their favor. This game, with Villanova, was Bucknell's second and was won by our eleven by four touchdowns and one safety. Georgetown in their third game defeated Villanova by one touchdown less that Bucknell, so that between the two comparisons, with M. A. C. and Villanova, there seems to lie a neutrality. More than this, in spite of Georgetowns overburdening weight, the Bucknell eleven has shown a capability of playing a game little short of the marvelous at unexpected crises. Consequently it may be safely said, Bucknell's chances for victory at Washington, where even in their home town favor is adverse to the Georgetown athletes, are certainly not at all disparaging.

At Dartmouth only four of last year's champion football team are still in college.

ALUMNI NOTES

W. W. Fetzer, '04, is to be seen about Lewisburg every Monday evening Company A, N. G. P. drills. He is first lieutenant in the company. At present he is teaching in Milton.

Rev. Frank Anderson, '01, who recently began his pastorate in the First Baptist church of Millville, was tendered a reception in the church by members of his new congregation and other Millville citizens.

Rev. J. H. Haslam, '90, pastor of the Gethsemane Baptist church has inaugurated a Bible Institute which meets every Wednesday evening. Members must do religious reading and at public exercises next June certificates will be given. Howard K. Williams, '03, is an instructor in the Institute.

The new First Baptist church of Merchantville upon the building of which while he was still alive Rev. B. B. Ware, '96, deceased, expended so much necessary energy by raising funds, etc., had the corner stone laid on Monday, Oct. 24. Addresses were made by ministers representing all the religious denominations in that city. The new church will be one of the largest and handsomest in New Jersey state.

Rev. A. Lincoln Moore, A. B. '91, D. D., celebrated the 10th anniversary of his ordination to the Baptist ministry Sept. 14, 1902, by publishing a unique story concerning the miraculous recovery of his mother from a physical disease very soon after her conversion and baptism called the "Triumph of Faith." Rev. Moore is pastor of the Riverside Baptist church, New York City.

At the opening of the Baptist state convention in McKeesport on Tuesday, Oct. 18, Pres. J. H. Harris delivered an address upon "The Beneficent Influences of College Life." At the 2:00 meeting Rev. C. A. Soars, '88, presented the report for the Board of Managers of the Baptist State Mission Society. This report was discussed by Rev. T. C. Hanna, '95, of Jenkintown.

Academy Eleven Defeated.

On Saturday, Oct. 29, at Watsontown, the Academy football team met defeat at the hands of the High School eleven from that place. The academy players made gain after gain through the opposing line and all in all had more yards to their credit than the victors. In spite of this clever work, however, in which Bateman excelled, inattention to the game and misjudged decisions were charged against the referee. Watsontown's most successful gains were made upon original plays.

The first score came for the Academy after only eight minutes of play when Bateman was pushed over the High School players' goal-line. A goal was kicked after this touchdown.

Before the end of the first half Watsontown likewise scored a touchdown and goal, making at the end of the first fifteen minutes play a tie score.

In the next half, Watsontown led off with another touchdown and goal, adding six more points to their credit and giving them a winning lead. The academy team at the close of the game was treated to a dose of the bitter medicine they administered to the freshman eleven on home grounds the week before when the High School held firm one yard from their own goal line until the whistle blew and the academy was thus prevented from making what would possibly have been a tieing score in the last moment of play.

Final score: Academy 6, Watsontown 12.

INSTITUTE ITEMS

Misses Johnson, Sanner and Love were home over Sunday.

Miss Moll, of the Institute, with her parents visited relatives in Williamsport on Sunday, Oct. 23.

Miss Groover, who had entered the music department, has left school with the intention of returning next year.

The Senior Seminary Chapel work was continued this week with recitations by Misses Mary Brown, Dorothy Walls, Laura Sharp and Margaret Stoughton.

Mrs. Thurston, who represents the Y. W. C. A. visited Bucknell's branch of the College Settlement Association last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. She gave some very helpful talks and in many ways renewed interest in the work here.

The Pi Beta Phis serenaded their patronesses and town alumnae, Friday evening last.

The girls residing in the Institute are preparing to celebrate Hallow E'en with a party in the gymnasium. Every one is anxious to try the old-time "stunts" and by them learn what Fate has in store for them. May no one be disappointed.

Mrs. T. A. Edwards was a guest at dinner Tuesday evening.

A very pleasing and enjoyable elocution recital was given in the school room Friday evening. The numbers without exception were very well rendered and much credit is to be given to Miss Schillinger who so carefully trained the participants. The program was as follows:

"The Black Horse and its Rider," Miss Julia Brown.

"The Pride of Battery B.", Miss Helen Overholt.

"The Irish Girl and the Telephone," Miss Vila Houck.

"The Mouse Trap."—A Farce by Wm. Dean Howells. Misses McCaskie, Bowman, Stein, Braddock, Houck, Derr, Findley and Cobb.

"Black Randal." Miss Catherine Snyder.

"The Station Agent's Story," Miss Fannie Derr.

The Quarrel Scene from the "School of Scandal," Misses Vera Duncan and Ethyl Overholt.

"Lady de Winter," Miss Elizabeth Baker.

Sons of Temperance Reception.

In the pleasant halls on corner of Market and Sixth Sts., the Sons of Temperance held an open meeting on Thursday evening, Oct. 27, and tendered a reception to guests, friends and members.

After a program consisting of recitations, funny readings and musical productions by Misses Nellie Goddard, '05, Baer, '08 and Messrs. McCauley, '05, Robbins, '05, Drake, '06, and Rumsey, '06, had been heartily received a magazine guessing contest was enjoyed in which Frank Smigelsky, '07, carried off first honors. Refreshments were served and the well entertained guests departed.

Academy Football Schedule.

Manager Ferrell of the Academy football team announces that two games remain to be played before the season's close. It is possible arrangements for other games will be concluded before long. The games are:

Saturday, Nov. 5, Williamsport High School.

Thursday, Nov. 24, Thanksgiving Day game with Shamokin.

Both games are on foreign grounds.

The "Strollers" in the Lewisburg Opera House was attended by a large delegation of students on Monday evening, Oct. 24.

Subscriptions are now due.

LIQUID AIR EXHIBIT

Liquid Air on Exhibition in Bucknell Hall on Thursday.

Through the efforts of the Chemical and Physical society aided materially by Prof. Owens, the student body and townspeople in general were given an opportunity to watch the effects of liquid air upon different objects. The exhibition and performances of this nineteenth century wonder occurred in Bucknell Hall at 4:00 Thursday afternoon. Prof. Frank Simpson assistde by Prof. W. G. Owens conducted the experiments and in some remarks before beginning the performance outlined the manufacture and effects of liquid air and described a few of its most prominent characteristics in preparation for what followed.

In order to liquify a gas it is necessary to bring its constituent molecules so close together that cohesion may lay hold of them. Ordinarily all gases are without cohesion. Therefore great pressure is needed to gain the desired end.

The air in manufacturies for liquefaction is drawn through a stack 100 feet high, in order that the air which comes through it may be as pure as possible.

The ordinary air is forced by pumps through a series of cylinders, the first leading into the following cylinder and so on. In the first cylinder a pressure of from 180-200 pounds is exerted; in the second 750 pounds. In the third a pressure of 1500 pounds compels added cohesion while in the fourth or last cylinder a force of 2700-3000 pounds to the square inch is pressed upon the enclosed air. Each cylinder is smaller than that preceeding it, and flowing water continually passes through them to attract heat which in sufficient quantities would prevent liquefaction.

From the fourth or last air cylinder, the gas passes through a tube encased in packed ice into the condenser. The condenser is a pipe coil through great lengths of which the gas passes until it reaches the temperature—125 degrees Centigrade, the critical temperature is reached and oxygen liquefies at that point.

In the condenser described air already condensed helps condense the air which is liquefied after.

The liquid air is transported in bell-shaped vessels of glass one of which is within another and a vacuum between. The vacuum prevents the passage of all heat necessary to evaporation in that position, except radiant heat, and to prevent the passage of this radiant heat a coating of mercury upon the outside vessel reflects it all.

Some characteristics of liquid air are its color steel gray or green, no oror, impossible to taste, and denser than water, temperature—180 degrees Centigrade at which temperature it boils. At the ordinary temperature and pressure it boils continually and evaporates so rapidly that an explosion follows its tight enclosure.

Many of the experiments were interesting as well as instructive. When an attempt was made to enclose a very small amount in an half-inch rubber tube, at the ordinary temperature, the rubber tube swelled to possibly six or seven times its original diameter for a length of one foot.

Liquid air can be handled with impunity if it be let go of very soon; after that evaporation freezes the palm and gives the sensation of burning. Liquid air unlike every other liquid is not wet. It may be distributed over clothing without any other evil effect than the collection of moisture upon the garment, caused by rapid evaporation in the atmosphere.

The difference between air at ordinary temperature and liquid air is 200 degrees Centigrade, consequently liquid air when exposed to ordinary atmospheric temperature rapidly evaporates.

An experiment was performed exposing a red uncooked beefsteak to the action of liquid air. The air so rapidly took out heat from the beefsteak upon evaporation that quite the reverse effect from cooking was illustrated. The meat became hard, brittle and breakable, changing color as well.

Liquid air has a peculiar effect upon live growing flowers When exposed to the action of liquid air they are affected much the same as the beefsteak was affected but retain their original color, and when after a time the influence of this liqid dissapears the flower returns absolutely to its former normality and would grow as readily as before in spite of its temporary condition. The explanation for this phenomenon is that liquid air is not wet.

Cranberries exposed like the flowers and beefsteak, when dropped in a pan were hard and fell like leaden pellets.

In some cases liquid air will change the color of objects operated upon, in other cases it will not.

Even the metal zinc when acted upon by liqid air becomes "frozen" and brittle, being readily broken with no trouble.

A rubber tube hardened and broke when hammered, and a rubber ball was cracked like a hickory-nut.

To illustrate the principle that extraction of heat from a body increases cohesion between the particles of that body a common electric fuse was immersed in liquid air and subjected to its evaporation a few minutes whereupon it was suspended with weights at the lower end. As the heat which was lost owing to the evaporation process gradually returned to the fuse, it stretched until it had doubled its length, successfully illustrating the desired principle.

A watch-spring, once ignited burned with a brilliant purple glare in the fumes escaping from liquid air.

When charcoal had been subjected to the action of liquid air, it ignited, something impossible as is well known under ordinary conditions, and flashed suddenly like fireworks. Liquid air had the same effect upon wool.

Fluorin burns instantly upon contact with water but after subjection to the evaporation process, took time in water to acquire its normal heat before burning.

Liquid air readily froze a quantity of mercury in proper shape into a solid hammer. Even alcohol was affected and became almost hard.

An egg changed to a hard mass by pouring liquid air over it and when it was then excited by a magnesium ribbon flame, glowed purple in the dark.

A strange experiment was the freezing of ordinary illuminating gas. The gas was conducted through rub-

LIBRARY PROGRESSES

Work Upon the New Building Being Rapidly Carried On.

Work upon the new Carnegie Library building has been pushed in order that it may be under roof well before the setting of winter.

The first floor is down and the interior walls extend as high as the second story. Three sides of the exterior walls and a great part of the fourth now have window frames in them and are built to the second floor.

The second floor is in progress of laying. The building if of pressed brick and the stone of which there is a great deal for exterior adornment has already been conveyed to the locality of the new building.

Funeral of Mrs. D. B. Miller.

The funeral of Mrs. D. B. Miller, Institute, '61, who was killed in a railroad catastrophe at Tipton, Missouri, from her late residence on University avenue occured on Friday afternoon at 3:15. The ceremonies at the house were conducted by the Rev. John T. Judd in conjunction with Pres. John H. Harris, of the University. Many friends of the departed attended the funeral and the gifts of flowers were both large and beautiful. The body of Mrs. Miller was laid to rest in the Miller plot at the Lewisburg cemetery.

Pall bearers from the University were Professors Wm. Owens, Wm. Martin, and Wm. Bartol and Registrar Wm. Gretzinger, and from the town Messrs. Robert Lawshe and A. E. Bower.

Among out of town relatives present are: George Morris Phillips, '71, principal of West Chester Normal School, Thomas J. Phillips, '67, Mrs. Hannam, Institute, '71, and Mrs. Boyd, Institute, '74, brothers and sisters of the deceased, and Dallas Phillips, ex-'07, a cousin. Numerous other relatives and friends from other localities were present.

Funeral of Mrs. H. T. Bailey.

The first services over the body of the lately deceased Mrs. Harriet Tillinghast Bailey were held on Monday, Oct. 31, at 11:15 a. m. in the home of her son-in-law, Pres. Harris on the corner of University avenue and Loomis street. From Lewisburg the remains were carried by railway to La Plume, Mrs. Bailey's former place of residence, where further services were held and interment made.

The pall bearers were Professors Enoch Perrine and Nelson Davis, Registrar Wm. Gretzinger, Principal Edwards, Mr. Frank E. Burpee, '01, and Mr. Robert Lawshe.

Freshmen Class Elections.

On Monday, Oct. 31, at 4:00 p. m., the class of 1908 met in Bucknell Hall to elect additional officers. The elections follow:

Richard Mackey, historian.

Ethel May Flanagan, poet.

Victor B. Luchsinger, basket ball m'g'r.

James Lose, basket-ball capt. pro tem.

Brown and white were chosen for class colors.

Academy Eleven Defeated.

On Saturday afternoon the football team from the Academy went to Williamsport and were there badly defeated by the home high school eleven with a score 35-0.

In the first half the Academy players seemed more or less demoralized and permitted run after run around their ends. Bateman was good in tackling these runners, preventing many large gains. In this half five of the total number of touchdowns six were scored.

The Academy were able to advance the ball through the opposing centre by straightforward line bucks and tackles-back formation, but seldom obtained possession of the leather to do so. This half was five minutes longer than the following.

Only one touch-down was scored in the second half, the Academy team having taken a brace during the intermission between halves. Before time was called Liddy, Capt. and half-back on the Academy team had his ankle turned severely, and earlier in the contest Bateman the other Academy half-back had an old injury to his head renewed.

Final score: Academy 0, Williamsport H. S. 35.

The line up:

Mandolin and Guitar Club Elections

At the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the institute school room the Mandolin and Guitar club elected the following officers:

L. M. Hainer, '05, pres.

Miss Helena Olds, '05, v. pres.

C. E. Long, '07, v. pres.

Miss Wheeler, '08, sec.

The next meeting will be held at the Institute on Tuesday, Nov. 8, at 4:00 p. m.

Reception to New Institute Teachers.

Mrs. T. A. Edwards, wife of Principal Edwards, on Saturday, Nov. 5, at 4:00 p. m., gave a reception for the new members of the Institute faculty. The alumnae and lady friends of the school were invited to the institute parlors. Over three hundred were present. Mrs. Edwards, Miss Bush, Mrs. Carleton, Miss Blackmer and Miss Metcalf received the guests. After the serving of delightful refreshments all departed.

Georgetown.

The Georgetown football contest comes off in Washington on Saturday, Nov. 12. By that date the new president will have been elected.

L'AGENDA DEDICATION

The College Annual Dedicated to John B. Cooke.

L'Agenda the college annual to be published this school year by the class of 1906, has been dedicated to the Hon. John B. Cooke, class of 1873, chief clerk of the Supreme Court of Colorado, and president of the General Alumni Association of Bucknell university.

Swarthmore Placed Upon the Schedule

Swarthmore college has been given a place on the football schedule This interesting game will be played upon neutral grounds at Harrisburg on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24. Consequently instead of the game with Georgetown being the concluding one of the present football season, as was announced last week, the Swarthmore game will be the last. Admission to the game will be 50 cents, the same as admission to the Carlisle game at Williamsport. An attempt, will be made to secure excursion rates on the Pennsylvania railroad to Harrisburg upon this occasion.

Swarthmore has a good team, perhaps the strongest in her football history. Her scores with other colleges indicate a great deal. They follow:

Swarthmore 4, Univ. of Penna. 6.
Swarthmore 20, Lehigh 0.
Swarthmore 0, Columbia 12.
Swarthmore 40, Delaware 0.
Swarthmore 0, Lafayette 4.
Swarthmore 9, Navy 0.
Swarthmore 69, F. & M. 0.

The Harrisburg Athletic Club grounds have been secured for the contest.

It has been suggested that certain members of the class of 1906 have been tardy in paying the necessary attention to blanks to be filled and returned, individual pictures, etc., for their Junior Annual "L'Agenda." This is a source of worry for the editors and retards the circulation of this publication a great deal.

Another college building has been wired for electric lighting. Six conducting wires have been lowered from the ceiling at intervals and attached to each wire are six incandescents beneath a light reflector.

They were used for the first time at the Liquid Air Exhibition on Thursday, Nov. 3.

Basket-ball in the college and town has not been without its share of popularity as an athletic diversion at Bucknell. In late years her team has been good indeed. Perhaps the standard of this athletic sport in previous years would convince many to secure season basket-ball tickets if there were such.

ber and glass tubing. Liquid air was placed about the glass portion and the gas lighted. Surely the flame grew dimmer and went out. Upon removal of the freezing influence the frozen gas after separation from the jet, as it returned to its normal condition burned steadily for a minute or so from out of a short tube. This concluded the experiments.

Good Books by an Alumnus.

Longamus, Green & Co., announces that "The Teaching of Mathematics," by Professor J. W. A. Young, of Chicago University, will be ready in June.

This is the third book in Professor Young's series. His "Differential and Integral Calculus" is regarded as one of the very best American texts on the subject, published in 1900.

His "Teaching of Mathematics in the Schools of Prussia," is also a book of the highest merit.

Prof. Young is a graduate of Bucknell class of '87.

Carlisle has scored 232 points against foot-ball opponents this year and the 4 scored by Capt. Johnson for Bucknell were, up to two weeks ago all the points on the other side of the column.

COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Alff Stephens, '04, spent a few days at her home in Lewisburg.

James Elliot, Jr., '07, was called home by the serious illness of his father.

Ralph Jacob Hess, ex-'05, visited his friends and Phi Kappa Psi fraternity brothers over Sunday.

L. C. Drake, '06, and J. L. Challis, '06, were initiated into Alpha Tau Delta on Thursday, Oct. 27.

Bartlett, '06, Irey, '08, and Hilton, '07, attended a social at Montandon on Saturday evening, Oct 29.

Mr. Willard Bunnell, '97, and wife have returned to their Scranton home after a stay of several weeks in Lewisburg.

Prof. Boehn, professor of music at Temple college Philadelphia visited James Elliot, Jr., '07, on Saturday, Oct. 29.

Ed. M. Green, ex-'95, has been visiting school friends and Phi Kappa Psi fraternity brothers during the past week.

A cover design drawn by Malcom Davis, '07, has been adopted by the "Mirror" officials and now appears on the regular issue.

Rev. Wayland Hoyt Bucknell lecturer on social ethics will preach before the Baptist minister's conference in Philadelphia on Monday.

Miss Elsie Seiler, Institute, '01, and brother Carlino, a former Bucknell student, of Philadelphia have been the guests of Miss Emma Nesbit for the past week.

Stolz, R. F., '07, Perez, '07, Wm. Hulley, spec., and Rumsey, '06, had a very pleasant drive Sunday, Oct. 30 to Ebenezer church some distance from here in the country.

On Nov. 17 Clarence Weymouth, '00, will officiate as usher at a prominent society marriage in New York city, that of Mr. John Greene, a wealthy Yale graduate to Miss Deronda Mayo.

"Christy" Mathewson, ex-'02, and wife are visiting at the home of Mrs. Mathewson in Lewisburg. "Carlsty" will leave soon for a hunt in Wisconsin with Frank Bowerman, New York's base-ball catcher.

Christopher Mathewson, ex-'02, pitcher for the New York base-ball club with whom an attempt was made by the Los Angeles Pacific Coast team to secure his past season services at a good salary has decided not to go to California.

Horace Sheppard, '06, had the misfortune to lose his father Wm. M. Sheppard of Cedarville by death on Oct. 24. The son was called home by his father's illness two weeks ago. Everyone offers sympathy to the bereaved family.

The Williamsport public schools were awarded a gold medal for their exhibit in the Educational department of the world's fair at St. Louis. Prof. Wm. W. Kelchner, '86, is principal of the schools. The announcement was made to the city by Miss Alicia M. Zierden, '00, an assistant director at the World's Fair Educational exhibit.

Harry E. McCormick, ex-'04, the Pittsburg centre-fielder of the National League base-ball club got special mention in the Philadelphia dailies for his clever playing as left half back for the Steelton Y. M. C. A. football eleven in Saturday's game, Oct. 30, against the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. team at Philadelphia. He outclassed his opponents in every exchange of punts. One of his end runs netted 40 yards and he kicked the only goal of the contest.

Michigan established a new record for herself by defeating Univ. of W. Virginia 130 points to 0 at Ann Arbor on Saturday, Oct. 22. Four weeks ago this W. Virginia team was defeated by State College only 33-0.

The following are the football scores against the big teams of the country: Harvard 11, Pennsylvania 4, Yale 20, Princeton 22, Columbia 62, Cornell 49. 12 of the 49 points against Cornell were scored two weeks ago.

Teachers' College has finished raising a fund of $180,000. Of this sum $100,000 has been devoted to endowment, $80,000 to the floating debt of the college. By raising an additional $110,000 the college would come into possession of $350,000 a gift of John D. R. Rockefeller.

At Princeton when the students desire to celebrate an athletic victory they ransack the town for combustible material. It makes little or no difference from whence it comes, fences, door-steps and everything are gathered into one pile until it reaches a heighth of 40 feet. Afterwards to pay the bills that come sailing in for damage done to properties, the hat is passed among the students, and in this way from $400 to $1000 is collected to pay for every bonfire.

Bucknell Orchestra.

The Bucknell Orchestra will be organized shortly. All those candidates who play 1st or 2nd Violin, 1st or 2nd Cornet, Clarionet, Bass Horn, Viola, Chello, Double Bass, Viola, Flute or Trombone will watch the bulletin board for announcement. The orchestra selected will find numerous opportunities to exhibit during the year at local productions of theatricals, etc.

INSTITUTE NOTES

The first "At Home" of the year was held this afternoon in the Institute parlors and proved to be a decided success. The school-room was very prettily decorated and the girls in their light dresses added greatly to the scene. Light refreshments were served after which the guests enjoyed popular music played by the different girls.

The Hallow E'en Party which was scheduled for last Monday evening came off and was a decided success. The gymnasium was very prettily decorated with a number of jack-o'-lanterns, leaves, pumpkins and corn stalks, the entire decoration proving a fine background for the fantastic costumes of some of the guests. All the old fashioned stunts were tried and many were the disclosures of Fate. All left with the wish that Hallow E'en would come more than once a year.

Miss Bottorf has gone home for a week's stay. Her place will be filled by Miss Morgan, '04.

Miss Downing spent Sunday at her home in Muncy.

ACADEMY NOTES

Baker was home on a visit for a few days.

Liddy had his ankle sprained in the Williamsport game.

Principal Thomas returned Monday evening with his wife and baby.

Verner who was called home suddenly returned after a weeks absence.

Instructor Maneval acted principal in the absence of Prin. Thomas.

Ridenour had his nose broken in a practice game with the Sophomore foot ball team.

Max Wiant is recovering from nervous prostration caused by an abcess on one of his teeth.

We are glad to not the change in chapel exercises. Each professor takes his turn in offering prayer. Hitherto the principal conducted the whole exercise.

A Few Words About Tailored Suits

There are many points of superiority that has given this great Department its acknowledged leadership. We have the cleanest, largest and most correct styles in Milton. Every Suit is made of the most stylish mannish fabrics. Our trade in Tailored Suits is growing from year to year, and from season to season, showing that our marvelous growth is attributed to the above facts.

We also carry a line of intermediate suits for young girls that wear short skirts or the same as Misses Suits with short skirt.

We also endeavor to suit the needs of the person that wants a suit ranging in price from $15.00 to $18.00, as well as the lady that wishes a $30.00 or $35.00 one.

In regular sizes, we carry a line from 32 to 44—and stouts from 35 to 45. We cater to the wants of the large lady, who is hard to fit, by carrying a line of extra sizes suitable to her needs.

The Woman or Girl who comes for outfitting this week will be served with the care and attention that expert sales people can give them.

The majority of ladies in this section have acquired the habit of coming to Seidel & Spanglers' for their Ready-made goods. Of course they will tell you that we carry the largest assortment, newest styles and that the fabrics are better tailored.

College Flags and Cushion Tops in Cloth

FOOTBALL SEASON CLOSES

Bucknell Defeated in Washington by the Heavy Georgetown Eleven.

Bucknell's football season closed on Saturday, Nov. 12, when her 'varsity eleven was decisively beaten by the heavy home eleven upon Georgetown's athletic grounds. Considerably outweighed, the visiting players were already tired with a long travel before the game commenced.

The game was mixed with long runs, clever stands, fumbles and ball-kicking. Cockill made two long gains for Bucknell, one of them 70 yards, the other 40 yards. Hart, for Georgetown had fair success while carrying the leather. He was fortunate enough to secure all the touchdowns for the home team, upon long runs, one of them following a poor trial at quarter-back kicked by her opponents.

Georgetown's centre was strong, Given at centre playing a game noticeable for its firmness. Bucknell's usually successful tackle-back plays were often stopped and at times Georgetown's centre would brace with a hold for downs.

Bucknell fumbled frequently, but these misplays usually happened in the centre of the field where while to retain the ball might have meant much, to lose it did not cause any particularly disastrous effects other than possession of the leather for Georgetown. Upon some of the fumbles possession of the elusive leather was regained by the visitors but the loss of ground occasioned thereby often necessitated a punt. Quarter-back kicks, as a rule failed Bucknell's players although one of them proved beneficial.

Twice captain Johnson tried for a goal from field but was only doomed to dissapointment, neither trial resulting in a score. The course of the contestants up and down the checker-board follows.

Bucknell kicked off. Georgetown carried the ball back to their opponents 40 yard line. Here it was lost on a fumble and captain Johnson booted the leather away from its dangerous position. Georgetown was shortly held for downs and Bucknell returned the oval to the 40 yard line of the home team. Georgetown held for downs and, after obtaining a number of yards by clever playing sent Hart over the goal line with a run of thirty yards and the first touch-down. Mahoney kicked the goal.

Georgetown was chosen to kick off next. McKeever got the ball and aided by good interference brought his possession out to his own team's 40 yard line. Cockill then made his first sensational run for 70 yards. At this point the ball was not more than twenty-five yards from a touchdown for wearers of the Orange and Blue. Georgetown held for downs and was soon thereafter penalized 15 yards. Her full-back kicked to the 30 yard line where Bucknell lost their chance to advance by a fumble. This half ended with the ball in possession of the home team on their own 30 yard line.

After the intermission Georgetown kicked off to Johnson. The ball was advanced to Georgetown's 35 yard line. A field-goal from this point from placement failed by a narrow margin. Georgetown ran the kick back to the 50 yard line. In the middle of the field she fumbled but straightway regained it upon the failure of Bucknell's quarter-back kick. Hart secured the oval and on a following play around Bucknell's right end ran 55 yards for the second touchdown. Mahoney kicked the goal.

Georgetown kicked to Johnson. In a short time Cockill made his second long run around right end for 40 yards, hurdling over would be tacklers. From the centre of the field the leather was carried to the 45 yard line of the opposing team. An attempt for field-goal from this position failed. Georgetown running the kick back to their 30 yard line. In the three minutes of play remaining Georgetown advanced about 15 yards additional when time was called. Final score, Bucknell 0, Georgetown 12.

The line-up:

Bucknell	positions	Georgetown
Cockill	l. end	Fitzpatrick
Baldwin	l. tackle	Orne
Cooper	l. guard	Neill
Smiley	centre	Given
Losher	r. guard	Caroll
Leonard	r. tackle	Mahoney
Hines	r. end	McCarty
McNinch
Frank	q. back	McGettigan
McKeever	l. h. back	Larkin
Morris	r. h. back	Hart
Johnson	f. back	Martell
Capt.

Touchdowns, Hart 2; Goals from touchdowns; Mahoney 2; Referee, Gass, Lehigh; Umpire, Woodruff, Pennsylvania; Linesmen, F. Caruthers, Bucknell, Cogan, Georgetown; Timers, Hoskins, Bucknell, Doyle, Georgetown. Time of halves, 25 and 20 minutes.

The scores for the entire season follow:

Bucknell 30, Lebanon Valley 0.
Bucknell 26, Villanova 0.
Bucknell 4, Indians 10.
Bucknell 12, Cornell 24.
Bucknell 24, Reserves 0.
Bucknell 5, Maryland A. C. 0.
Bucknell 0, Georgetown 12.

Captain Johnson anticipates leaving school soon to engage in engineering in Arkansas having received a communication calling him west. Lesher, the 'varsity right guard left Washington direct for the World's Fair at St. Louis.

John V. Lesher Defeated.

In a race for the election to state senatorship from the Northumberland-Snyder-Union county district John V. Lesher, '97, of Sunbury, the Democratic nominee was decisively defeated on Election Day. His republican opponent carried all three counties in the district with a large majority. Lewisburg, where Mr. Lesher had many enthusiastic supporters went Republican with a majority of five votes.

It was at first thought that Mr. Lesher's home county would give him a large majority, but at the last moment those in Northumberland county upon whom he had counted most swung the pendulum of favor toward his opponent.

Thomas E. Halfpenny, '75, was elected to Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts.

Sprague and Lovell.

The Rev. Thomas H. Sprague, '97, Baptist missionary to Cuba was married on Nov. 10 to Miss Jessie B. Lovell, ex-'02, of Huntingdon, Penna. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's sister at 124 South Twenty-second Street, Philadelphia. The Rev. Wayland Hoyt, D. D. officiated. The matron of honor was Mrs. Gustav A. Van Lennep, cousin of the bride and daughter of the Rev. David Porter Leas, member of the Board of Trustees and Treasurer of the University. A reception followed the completion of the ceremony. The newly married couple will go to New York City and from thence to Gibara, Cuba. Until November last the groom was pastor of the Chester Avenue Baptist church, Philadelphia.

Library Building Progresses.

The Carnegie Library building is rapidly being prepared for the roof that must go over it before winter sets in. The second story has been floored and the stone mechanics have chiselled and placed in position over each window in the first story stones with the name of different philosophers of renown upon them. The brick work upon the second floor is rapidly progressing.

MATRICULATION

Matriculation Day Comes This Year Upon Nov. 21.

Matriculation day this year comes on Monday, Nov. 21. On that day all new students will be matriculated. The catalogue says:

"Matriculation gives membership in the College and is a condition precedent to all degrees and honors as well as to honorable dismission. No student is admitted to matriculation until he has shown by his classwork during at least ten weeks and by his deportment that he is worthy of membership in the College."

Merry Banquet in Historic Mansion.

The reception of Rev. Caleb B. Ayars, Jr. '01, upon the occasion of his return to the Baptist pastorate at Somer's Point, N. J., after his marriage to Miss Lillian Grove, Institute, '03, upon Oct. 25th, was followed by a banquet in the historic Somer's mansion where the reception occured. The Somer's mansion was at one time the home of Lieutenant Richard Somers who perished with Decatur at Tripoli, and the banquet on Nov. 5 was the first time guests had gathered around the merry table in this mansion for 150 years.

Obituary.

Whereas, it has behooved Almigthy God, in his all wise providence to remove from this world the beloved father of our esteemed friend and fellow students, Alfred M. Verner, and,

Whereas, he is now passing through the deepest grief and bereavement, occasioned by this loss, be it

Resolved, That we the students of Bucknell Academy, extend our deepest and most sincere sympathy to our sorrowing fellow student.

Recitation rooms Numbers 1 and 2 in Main college have been wired for incandescent electric lights.

Theta Alpha and Eucpia Literary Societies will hold no meeting on Friday, Nov. 18, in order, to permit all members who desire to attend the first Y. M. C. A. lecture course attraction, Leland Powers. Their next meeting will be held after Thanksgiving vacation upon Dec. 2.

The Sophomore-Freshman football contest with its usual accompaniment of paint-decorated goal posts will soon be on. Last year the present Sophomore class, then Freshmen were defeated by their opponents the present Juniors with a single touchdown the final score being 1906-6; 1907-0.

This year they thirst for natural revenge. The coming game will decide the temporal fate of both Sophomore and Freshman classes.

The first test of new material in the incoming class is each year regarded with interest. This is as true of athletic material as of any other. Consequently in this inter-class contest a partial judgment will be formed by all in this regard,the nature of the judgement resting more or less upon final results.

Fallen leaves are quickly disapearing from off the campus grounds and with their disapearance begins a new division of college athletics at Bucknell. Football is rapidly failing in health and the heartiness and vigor of strength are now beginning to display themselves with the new sport basket-ball.

Bucknell's basket-ball record for the past four seasons is published below for the comment of those who read. A record of only three games lost in three consecutive years, 1901, 1902 and 1903 is a boast that few basket-ball fives can deservedly make.

Season of 1901; Bucknell won 12 games, lost 1. Totals; Bucknell 342 points, opponents 185.

Season of 1902; Bucknell won 12 games, lost 2. Totals; Bucknell 479 points, opponents 185.

Season of 1903; Bucknell won 10 games, lost 0. Totals; Bucknell 373, opponents 135.

Season of 1904; Bucknell won 7 games, lost 5. Totals; Bucknell 289, opponents 170.

Two of the defeats of last season came during a post season series and only one of the total number was administered by a college team.

Theta Alpha.

At the regular meeting of Theta Alpha Friday evening, Nov. 11, Bailey, '06, was elected Curator.

The first topic discussed in the literary program was "Life of the Lower Classes in Cuba." This subject was dealt with by Riggs, '07, who has personally brought himself into contact with the conditions illustrated. McCall '07, discussed the election returns after a research into history, affirming the proposition that they expressed the will of the people.

Debate: Resolved that the powers should interfere to stop King Leopold's atrocities in the Congo Free State. Affirmative, Griffith, '07, and Higlby, '08. Negative, Hilton, '07, and Noll, '08. The judges were: Eisenhaurer, '05, Bailey, '06 and Cober, '07.

It is likely the society group picture for the 1906 L'Agenda will be taken sometime within a week or so. Further announcements will be made by the society later.

The next meeting will be held three weeks from the date of this meeting on December 2.

FOOTBALL REVIEW

A General Glance Over Statistics for the Season of 1904.

The football season has closed and its review is not out of the proper place here. There were seven fulfilled games upon the 'varsity schedule of which number Bucknell won 4 and lost 3. The total number of points rolled up by the eleven is, Bucknell 101, Opponents 46. This last number of points was scored entirely by teams who were victorious over the 'varsity; in other words all of Bucknell's victories were shutouts for their opponents while she herself was shut out but once, scoring in other cases a certain respectable figure although defeat came in the end. All of the home contests were captured while away on "foreign" grounds there came one victory and three defeats.

Something about the individual personnel of the team may prove of interest to readers. Players who occupied 'varsity positions for the length of three full halves, or longer follow. The halves of the 'varsity-Reserves game upon October 22 are included.

Captain John C. Johnson, '04, John B. Smiley, '05, George W. Cockill, '05, Charles D. Cooper, '05, special Harold V. Lesher, '05, Robert F. Sheppard, '05, Paul G. Smith, '05, Courtney A. Wheeler, '06, Homer H. Adams, '07, Charles D. Baldwin, '08, Girton K. Lenhart, '08, Wilbur H. Morris, '08, James E. McKeever, '08, Holmes A. Frank, '08, and David H. Binns, '08. Other players who participated in 'varsity contests for a shorter period are, William F. Carruthers, '05, two full halves, Arthur B. McNinch, '07, part of one half, and Cornelius A. Hart, '08, two full halves. Further individual statistics of the team are printed below.

John C. Johnson, Captain, Class of 1904, of Lewisburg, has had five years experience in footbal including Preparatory school, has played basket ball and base ball, has also had experience on track. Full back, height, 5 feet, 11 inches, weight, 175.

John Beisel Smiley, class of 1905, of Titusville, has had five years experience in football, three years at Titusville High School, centre, height, 5 feet, 9 inches, weight, 199.

George Washington Cockill, class of 1905, of Pottsville, has had five years experience in football; two years at Kutztown Normal School and three years at Bucknell, is Captain of basket ball and base ball teams and ex-captain of the foot ball team, runs 220 yards, low hurdles. End, height, 5 feet, 10½ inches, weight, 173.

Charles David Cooper, class of 1905, of Adamstown, has had three years experience in football, one at Lafayette, in which he played in every game but two, and two years at Bucknell, has played basket ball and base ball, Guard, height, 6 feet, weight, 194.

Harold Vonelda Lesher, class of 1905, of Northumberland, has had one year experience in foot ball, and has been on field and track. Guard, height, 5 feet, 10½ inches, weight, 165.

Robert Francis Sheppard, class of 1905, of Cedarville, New Jersey, has had two years experience in foot ball, Half back, height, 5 feet, 7 inches, weight, 150.

Paul Garfield Smith, class of 1905, of Harrisburg, has had three years experience in foot ball and several years in basket ball and base ball. Quarter back, height, 5 feet, 8 inches, weight, 140.

Courtney A. Wheeler, class of 1906, of Titusville, has had three years experience in foot ball. End, height, 5 feet, 10½ inches, weight, 154.

Homer H. Adams, class of 1907, of Grange, has had two years experience in football. Substitute guard, height, 6 feet, 1 inch, weight, 177.

Charles Baldwin, class of 1908, has had three years experience in foot ball, two years at Lock Haven Normal School, and one year at Keystone Academy and has also played basket ball. Tackle, height, 6 feet, 2 inches, weight, 181.

BIBLE DAY OBSERVED

Bucknell Student Address Baptists Upon Bible Work Progress.

Bible Day in the Baptist church occured on Sunday, November 20. Instead of the usual morning services conducted by the pastor, addresses were made by four college undergraduates. They were made by Amos E. Barton, '06, James R. Bailey, '06, George A. Riggs, '07 and Vernon N. Robbins, '05.

Bible Day is celebrated in order to emphasize the study of the Bible. The program was so arranged that the "farthest call should be made first."

Amos E. Barton, '06, addressed the congregation upon the subject "Bible Work in Foreign Fields." He maintained the printing-press was a successful instrument of evangelization in the hands of the Baptist Publication Society. This society possesses a printing equipment in Philadelphia second to only one in the United States, the government press at Washington. In Calcutta, India, it has another good printing outfit.

In 1883 Bible work was entrusted to the hands of the Baptist Publication Society. Since that time by the employment of excellent translators the society has placed before foreign peoples Bibles in Swoedish, Chinese and also other foreign languages.

James R. Bailey, '06, chose his topic to be "Bible Work in the Phillipines." Mr. Bailey has had personal experience in these islands serving with United States Infantry there during the late Spanish War.

Not much knowledge of the Phillipine Islands was held by Americans until a very few years ago. The old Spanish friars were in the conversion business for what could be made from it. They taught the people to wear crucifixes and after a while the natives came to worship this symbol of Christ's sufferings for the world instead of the true Object of worship. The speaker exhibited a specimen crucifix, a fetich to protect native wearers from every harm and a meditation book printed in the Spanish language.

Those natives who believed the teachings of the friars were treated well, those who did not were compelled by the soldiery to listen. About 50 years ago one friar dissentde from the class teachings and until he was thrown into the Manilla prison, went about prophesying of new teachers who would come to the island. Twenty years ago a native boy 12 years old was asked to board a ship from a civilized nation. On board he secured a Book which he was cautioned to hide in order that his home priest would not confiscate it. It was a Bible and in a few days was discovered and sent to the priest; but the boy had read and remembered a few principles it contained and in 1900 a minister converted him and with his aid started to evangelize the Phillipinos.

George A. Riggs, '07, talked about "Bible Study in Cuba." Mr. Riggs has recently been engaged with a phase of this work in the lands he describes.

Much encouragement has been given to Bible workers in Cuba and Porto Rico. The natives are eager and persevering. In Cuba, 16 Bible workers

Senior Officers.

The class of 1905 elected Senior Officers in Bucknell Hall on Thursday November 17, at 4.00 p. m. President Williamson called the meeting to order and the election was proceeded with. Lynn S. Goodman was chosen president for the present school year with a small majority. The voting was as follows: 1st Ballot, Goodman 33, Morton 33.

2nd Ballot, Goodman 34 Morton 32.

The only other contested election was that for class basket-ball managership. Blaine W. Scott defeated Norman E. Henry. The remainder of officers who were elected are:

Clarence Phillips, Vice President.
Miss Claire Conway, Secretary.
Harold Tiffany, Treasurer.
Miss Nellie Thomas, Poet.
Miss Cottie Albright, Historian.
Francis McCauley and Norman Henry, Orange and Blue Representatives.

Matriculation a Success.

At the Matriculation of new college students in Bucknell Hall upon Monday afternoon, November 21, at 3:00 p. m. Professor Llewelyn Phillips delivered the address to students. The number who matriculated is 142, the largest matriculation record since the beginning of the University. Less than 10 per cent of the students who attempted to secure matriculation failed in the attempt. This is also an improvement.

Roos and Drinkwater.

Miss Sarah Jane Roos, institute, '00, and Mr. Charles Henry Drinkwater, of Williamsport, were married Thursday evening, November 17 at 870 High Street, Williamsport, the home of the bride. The brides sister Miss Gertrude Roos, Sc. B. '00, was bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by Miss Catherine Trainer, ex-'03.

From Williamsport the newly married couple went to Philadelphia.

Leap Year Hop.

On Friday night, November 18, a Leap Year Hop was tendered by ladies to their gentleman friends in the Lewisburg Armory Hall. The usual leap-year program was filled. Music was provided by Professor Miller's Imperial Orchestra of 10 pieces. The dancing floor was generously waxed for the occasion and delightful refreshments were served.

Philadelphia Alumnae Club.

The Philadelphia Bucknell Alumnae Club held a meeting last Monday afternoon at 2005 Arch Street. The members participated in a literary program after the end of which luncheon was served.

Thanksgiving Recess.

Owing to the thoughtfulness of the college faculty, the college Thanksgiving recess will begin Wednesday, November 23 at noon and will close Monday, November 28 likewise at noon.

Orchestra.

After many postponements for meeting the Orchestra will finally organize at the first practice to be held in Room B, Institute, Wednesday after Thanksgiving at 4.00 p. m. New music has been secured and more ordered.

Class of '08, Defeated by '07, in the Annual Football Contest.

Saturday, November 19, witnessed the conclusion of class spirit that has been rife between the classes of 1907 and 1908 during the past week, and decision of the annual Sophomore-Freshman football contest. The contest was one in which fair playing and straight football abounded. The Sophomores won because they carried the ball many times farther than their opponents and had possession of it very often. The Freshman team had the leather occasionally, but when they had the chance they gained a few first downs, and then punted. After capturing a Sophomore fumble following one kick-off the Freshmen players were not more than 35 yards from a touchdown when they were forced to give up the ball on downs.

While the spectators were gathering and the preliminary practice of the two elevens was being indulged, underclassmen were flinging yells, songs, and belligerent motions across the checker-board in an effort to prevent too high pressure, after which an explosion must have come. The song of the Freshmen, "Bye Bye Naughty Seven Bye Bye," was answered with, "How green you are," and, "Where O Where are the Green, Green Freshmen."

The class captain of 1908 won the toss up for positions and his team chose to receive the first kick-off and to defend the western goal. Burroughes, '07 booted the oval into the arms of Hawk, '08, who fumbled, the ball being recovered by Weber and advanced 12 yards. Cure gained 1 yard, Royer 0, Ridenour 4, and then after failing in three attempts to break 1907's line the Freshman full back had to kick. A poor pass from centre never got to the fullback in time to successfully punt the ball, and a fumble by Cure lost the leather to Hall who ran with it 10 yards. This point was 6 yards from the goal-line and after a short rush by Feymire, Hawk, '07, was shoved over the line for the first score, not long after the commencement of play. Winbigler kicked the goal. Score 1907-6, 1908-0.

Burroughes kicked to Hawk who jumped over a mass of would-be tacklers only to fumble the ball after advancing 35 yards. Sigfried gained 15 yards and was stopped by Ridenour. Winbigler made another 5, and the temporary shock the unexpected turn of affairs had created along the sidelines having lost its power, cries of "Hold 'Em Freshmen," arose. From its position the ball moved in the hands of players upon both elevens over that portion of the field of play between centre and '08's goal-line, at one time resting one foot therefrom in possession of the team defending it. No other scoring was done until time was called with the Sophomores trying to advance the ball from their opponents 25 yard line.

After the intermission Cure kicked to Hall who fumbled and lost the ball to an '08 player only 35 yards away from his goal-point.

The Sophomores braced and gained hold of the ball without once giving way for so much as 5 yards, the necessary distance to permit a

The Thanksgiving Recess will soon be here. Upon Thursday morning, November 24, the Recess commences and will last three days, over Friday and Saturday, with Sunday the 25, 26 and 27. During this period college activities will for the most part be suspended. Classes will not recite, there will be no study periods, no society and organization gatherings, no college hill to climb, for those who reside in nearby towns, no nothing except recreation.

Many students will leave Lewisburg to spend their leisure time with their friends and relatives. Others may not. About Lewisburg there are enough methods of entertainment to continue. Last year upon Thanksgiving Day a turkey dinner could be economically enjoyed at the Armory, afternoon and evening, there was plenty of hunting for wild-game-animals and wild game birds, there were a number of receptions prepared by members of different local organizations and opened to the student for enjoyment. Entrance to all the pleasures about Lewisburg may be secured, only the working-periods of the school term shall be closed. Last year the library and gymnasium doors were unlocked for ready entrance.

In the meanwhile about the college, machinery will not stop. The new Carnegie building will continue to grow as before, necessary class arrangements will be completed and when a visiting student returns after his vacation, the expected appearance will be visible about the college.

were ready with the Spanish language to begin the conversion of the island. In Porto Rico there were 14 workers likewise prepared. This work has been progressing for 5 years. In Cuba there are 22 regular stations or schools for Bible study and others not so regular. In Porto Rico there are 19 churches and more than 20 regular stations. The missionaries receive no direct pay from the natives for certain of their services. One missionary performed 100 marriage ceremonies and received donations amounting to "four dollars and seventy-five cents and two pineapples."

The corruption of the priesthood has prepared the two countries for evangelization. An image was exhibited representing the Virgin Mary holding the Christ child. It is the belief of the natives, religion that when the child falls, the earth will cease.

Conditions are now favorable, with an "open door" for the spread of Bible work and religion.

Vernon N. Robbins, '05, described "Chapel-car Work in the Western United States." Mr. Robbins' home is in St. Paul, Minnesota. He said, the western Bible work was principally conducted through the instrumentality of the chapel-cars. There are many churchless, Sunday-schoolless towns in the Northwest which numbers from 50 to 100 inhabitants and are separted from each other by a distance of 15 or 20 miles along railroad lines.

In 1891 the existing conditions were first appreciated and the chapel-car "Emmanuel" built. Since then more car buildings have followed. The cars are scattered through the West, particularly the Northwest. Each car is 80 feet long, has a 70 foot body and a chapel-room in length 50 feet. The aisle, differing from its location in ordinary passenger railway coaches is partly to one side of the middle, permitting one listener to be comfortably seated upon one side and two with equal comfort on the other. The chapel will accommodate 100 people. The car's living department is a space 20x10 feet, and four divisions of this space are made to form a parlor, sitting-room, dining-room and kitchen. These accommodations suffice for two teachers.

The rail-roads require conductors to carry any chapel-car anywhere anytime and to sidetrack them at any place opportunity sympathizes with the directions of the chapel-car leader. Chapel-cars visit the small towns mentioned and at the request of railroad officials have entered large cities. Austin W. Smith is superintendent of this chapel-car Bible work.

All Football Teams.

Some of the big metropolitan dailies contained on Tuesday, November 15, selected football teams following in interest after the "All-American" eleven. Four Bucknell players were credited with positions on the various teams, All-Smith, All-Trades, Mixed, All—? ? ? ?, All-Animal, All-Colored and All-Inanimate.

George Cockill, '05, (Cock-ill) was chosen by the artist for left end position on the "Mixed" team with Coon-ey of Princeton to play beside and Hogan of Yale, Colt-er of Brown and Dear-born and Good-man of Wesleyan for team-mates.

Paul Smith, '05, was placed at quarter-back upon the All-Smith eleven with a team to play with that must have been in great confusion without signals. Other Smiths upon this eleven are those from Pennsylvania, Cornell, West Point, Annapolis, Yale and other colleges.

Charles Cooper, '05, and Robert Sheppard, '05, 'varsity players upon their home team became substitutes for the All-Trades team. With these two players were selected among others, Mason, Harvard; Fisher, Columbia; Miller and King, Princeton; and Gardner, Carlysle.

The All-? ? ? ? team employed players with unpronouncable names from which are selected Butkiewicz, Piekarski, Algelthinger, Gingrich, and Machinski.

Alpha Kappa Alpha.

first down. They carried the ball by short plunges 26 yards where after three attempts there still remained 4 yards to go. On a fake kick Winbigler provided the necessary distance with a run of 20 yards. Leach, '07, was substituted in Evan's position at left end and shortly Hindman relieved Waldron as centre for the Freshman eleven. During the progression of this steady march toward the goal line Cure, '05, three times tackled advancing runners who had dodged end and half-back. This progress continued until at length Sigfried escorted the oval safely over the last chalk-mark for another score. The goal was missed. Score 1907-11, 1908-0.

Cure kicked over the heads of expectant catchers behind the goal where Fasset secured the escaping leather and brought it to the 30 yard line. On 15 attmepts to advance, the Sophomores pushed their opponents back as far as the Freshman 50 yard line where time was called just as the probability for a touchdown seemed imminent. Final Score, 1907-11, 1908-0.

Touchdowns, Hawk, W., Sigfried; Goal from Touchdown, Winbigler. Referee, Cockill, '05; Umpire, Principal Thomas; Linesmen, Portser, '05, and Hennessey, '06; Timers, Morton, '05, and Morris, '08. Length of Halves, 20 minutes each.

After the completion of the game and retirement of the players from field of play, the Freshmen class members who had secretly brought with them a large flag of their class colors, brown and white, opened their banner and marched untroubled about the Athletic Field. The flag was carried up to the college hill and again the defeated class-men collected about the brown-stone entrance to Main College with their flag spread. From thence it was carried to the top of Main College and waved from the roof while others rang the recitation bell.

In an endeavor to create enthusiasm the two-upper classes indulged in something unusual, an upper-class scrap. Seniors and Juniors jostled each other about the terrace before the college and rendered their respective class yells with energy. In this jostling Challis, '06, received the misfortune of a broken jaw bone.

Finally the Frsehman banner was escorted to the home of the class treasurer and placed in her hands.

COLLEGE NOTES

Fuller Hayes, '08, spent Sunday, November 13 at his home in Montoursville.

A picture of the 1906 L'Agenda Board for insertion in their Annual was taken on Saturday, November 19. Many other group photo's have been taken for the same publication.

Captain John C. Johnson, '04, of the 1904 football eleven left Lewisburg Wednesday for Arkansas. He goes to assume a position upon a railroad engineering corps, the same corps with William Slifer, ex-'04.

Invitations were issued Monday, November 14 by the bride's parents for the coming marriage of Miss Jessie Thelka Steiner, graduate in music, '99, to Mr. Laurence Russell Hursh, of Steelton, on Wednesday, November 30, 12 o'clock noon at the home of the bride in Lewisburg.

Professor Nelson F. Davis, '95, of zoology, is the compiler of a pamphlet upon chestnut culture containing information and illustrations of the Paragon chestnut and methods of growth and culture upon the C. K. Sober chestnut farm in Irish Valley covering 100 pages. This work is issued by the department of agriculture and includes treatises upon grafting and the chestnut weevil.

At the Twelfth Annual convention of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union at West Milton on Nov. 11, 12, and 13 Miss Jene Himmelreich, a Bucknell Institute graduate, was chosen Corresponding Secretary and Miss Lillian Shields, a former student Treasurer for the Convention. Vernon Robbins, '05, delivered an address Sunday afternoon, entitled "Personal Element in Our Work." The number of C. E. members in Union County is 1281.

Sarah J. Watkins, whose father, Morgan J. Watkins, deceased, was a Bucknell graduate with the class of 1883 and succeeded to the Principalship of Keystone Academy at Factoryville, Penna., when President Harris relinquished that place for Bucknell, and who at one time expected to connect herself with one of this college's departments was employed by the Lutheran church to present an Entertainment upon Thursday night, November 17.

ACADEMY NOTES

On Thanksgiving evening, Thursday, November 24, the Academy basket-ball five will play its opening game with the Milton High School in the Milton Armory Hall.

William Ship, an Academy student, who played left tackle upon the football 'varsity for three years closing in 1903, holds the same position upon the Dennison University eleven. Captain Frank Stanton of the '00 and '01, 'varsities is coach of this team.

It is expected by the attending physician that John Kerr from Pottsgrove, a former Academy student who was crushed between the engine and tank of a threshing machine near Montandon last week and who was previously announced as fatally injured, will recover.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES

The Syracuse University Dramatic Club will produce Shakespeare's play "Julius Caesar" this year upon the stage.

Columbia University is building two large dormitory buildings for men. Each will be 9 stories high, exclusive of cellar and attic, contains 303 rooms and 242 beds. Accomodations will thus be provided for 484 students at $3.00 per week. These dormitories help solve the dormitory problem in urban universities.

Attractive Offerings at Seidel & Spangler's.

Men's and Boys' Warm Underwear and Hosiery

Milton's largest Underwear business seems to gravitate to this store. The constant keeping of fullest assortments and the best values for the least money has gained the success of this department. You will notice in visiting this counter a line of Men's Fleece-lined Shirts and Drawers, all sizes, at 50c each.

Men's Natural Wool Underwear at 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.75 each.

BASKET-BALL PROSPECTS

The First Call for Old and New Players Answered.

Basket-ball practice for the present winter season began Monday evening, November 28, Two teams of players who for the gain to be gotten from play lined up against each other were Captain George W. Cocklli, '05, Grier, '05, Taggart, '05, and Lenhard, '08, and Steinhilper, '05, Claypool, '06, Morris, '08, and Hindman, '08. Play continued for 35 minutes.

On Wednesday the first regular practice was indulged. Coach Hoskins instructed the thirty team candidates present with a talk upon changes in Rules of the game. One of the important Rules is quoted from Spalding's Official Guide, Rule XI, Sec. 17, "When the ball is caused to go out of bounds in any manner intentionally or unintentionally and remains there, the Referee shall give it to the opposite side." Formerly a ball out of bounds was in the possession of the player who secured it there. One team composed of players as follows, held the floor and were made opponents to four or more different teams in the course of 50 minutes. Cocklli, '05, captain, and Taggart, '05, centres, Cocklli, '05, Cheesman, '05, ex-captain; and Smith, '05, Taggart, '05, guards. Opposing players in the course of this evening were Lesher, '05, Lose, '08, and Plummer, 08, centres; Sheppard, '05, Steinhilper, '05, Robbins, '05, and McNinch, '07, forwards; Williamson, '05, Claypool, '06, Wagner, '08, and Morris, '08, guards. Goals were scored on Wednesday evening by Cheesman 4, Smith 5, Grier 2, Taggart 2 and by the reserves, Wagner 2, Williamson 1 and Bartol 1.

Fouls were committed by Cheesman, 1, Taggart, 1, Smith, 2, Cocklli, and Wagner 1.

Goals from fouls resulted, Grier 1, Lose 1, Claypool 1.

The final score was 25-10.

It is to be noted that only two players were lost to the 'varsity for this season, Roberts, ex-'07, deceased, and Johnson, '04, who has gone west. The players who participated in 'varsity contests last season (1903) and who remain in college are Geo. W. Cocklli, '05, captain 1904, Geo. W. Cheesman, '05, captain 1903, Paul G. Smith, '05, Amos W. Grier, '05, James Taggart, '05, Anthony Steinhilper, '05, and Gerton K. Lenhart, '08. Thus a good nucleus is present around which to build a winning team.

Chemical and Physical Society.

At the last meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society, Professor George Tilley spoke at some length upon the Manufacture of Alcohol. He said, in different countries the method of manufacture varied with an abundance of raw materials. In America most of the alcohol is manufactured from corn, while in European countries it is produced from materials more abundant. The raw material is fermented and the alcohol thus produced is distilled off from it. After the distillation had proceeded to a certain stage, the alcohol passed from under the manufacturers control and was handled by government officials.

R. B. Leighou, '06, spoke concerning the many various uses of this product. He showed that in this country alcohol is not used in so many ways as in Europe, on account of excessive taxes placed upon its manufacture by the government.

Die Deutsche Gesellschaft.

A new organization of students in German, called Die Deutsche Gesellschaft was formed upon Thursday evening, December 1, 1904. The purpose for this organization is to promote fluent German speech among members. The officers celcted at this meeting are:

President, R. F. Stoltz, '07.
Vice-president, P. G. Hess, 05.
Gsheimschreiber, A. P. Waltz, '06.
Schatzmeister, P. G. Cober, '07.
Literarischer Anfscher, C. R. Hoechst, '07.

The remainder of the members are A. G. Hess, '07, D. R. Weber, '08, and A. B. Haller, '08.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.

The Delta Theta Upsilon fraternity members and friends enjoyed a game dinner Wednesday noon, Nov. 30, as the proof of the prowess of several members during the Thanksgiving vacation. Ausherman, '05, and Cheesman, '05, returned from their Pike county hunt with a goodly string of rabbits, squirrels, pheasants and quail. Williamson, '05, returned with the trophies of two deer, one a six pronged 200 pound buck, the other a 96 pound doe.

Sophomores Elect Officers.

On Monday, November 21, the class of 1907 elected the following officers:

George W. Hawk, Class Basket-ball Manager.
F. L. Heinze, Class Basket-ball Captain (pro tempore).
S. H. Smith Class Historian.
Mary Stanton, Class Poet.

Football Subscriptions

Those who have not as yet paid their football subscriptions for the 1904 season, of whom there are a large numberwill be requested to pay them to the managmeent of the football team or into the treasury of the Athletic Association as soon as possible.

Relay Candidates.

All relay team candidates are expected by Physical Director Hoskins to report for physical training 3 times every week beginning upon Dec. 2.

FIELD TO BE IMPROVED

Improvements Begun on Track and Baseball Diamond.

During the Thanksgiving Recess a squad of 14 or 15 laborers was placed by the Athletic Association at work upon Athletic Field to improve the running track and baseball diamond. Fires were built with heaps of leaves gathered upon the cinder track and the weeds and grass were burnt off in an endeavor to destroy their roots. Ashes have been sifted and mixed with sand preparatory to placing an additional layer upon the uneven surface of the track. This spreading of ashes has been done before the winter snows and frosts set in in order that next spring the surface of th space covered on both track and diamond may be free from unequalness of surface.

The base-ball diamond was harrowed then filled with dirt to an increased depth of six inches, and finally rolled flat. This improvement is still in progress of construction. Next year the diamond will present a smooth surface for base-balls to bound upon.

Cooper '05, Football Captain.

At a meeting of football players who have participated in three or more 'varsity contests during the past season, Charels D. Cooper, class of 1905, was elected without any opposition to captain the 1905 team. Captain Cooper will return to Bucknell next year to take a post graduate course in the college. He has played at left guard upon the home team for three years and has also played at Lafayette where he attended college before entering Bucknell. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. His weight in football condition is 195 pounds, his height 6 feet.

Basketball Contests.

City dailies mention contests for Bucknell's basket-ball team with the University of Wisconsin at Lewisburg on uncertain date and with Swarthmore college presumably at Lewisburg upon January 17, 1905.

Eddie Lee, Bucknell's former base-ball coach for the successful season of 1903 is to manage the DuBois team next season and will attempt the organization of an amateur league embracing the following towns: DuBois, Clearfield, Phillipsburg, Hollidaysburg, Punxsutawney, Osceola and Tyrone.

Interpretative Reading.

An addition to the courses in the department of Rhetoric and Oratory will be presented for election by Seniors and Juniors during the second term. Professor Bromley Smith will offer a course entitled, Interpretative Reading. It will be valuable to those who intend to teach in public and private schools, to those whose professions may bring them before the public, and to those who may wish to enjoy the best literature interpreted by the voice. Attention will be given to the pedagogical and psychological aspects of reading. Students who may wish to take the subject may arrange as usual with the professor in charge.

Y. M. C. A. Football Social.

The College Y. M. C. A. will give a social in honor of the football team, in Y. M. C. A. Hall at 4.00 p. m., Monday, Dec. 12. All other college and seminary students and the faculty are invited. The members of the social Committee are Sheppard, '06, Scheick, '05, Hess, '05, Hilton, '07, Bartlette, '06, Bailey, '06, and Gardner, '06.

Hayes, 04, who has been filling Prof. Strock's position as teacher of Chemistry at Perkiomen Seminary during the latter's illness due to an explosion, paid a visit to his Alma Mater on Thursday.

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course.

The first number of the Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course for the year 1904-1905 was given at the Lewisburg Opera House Friday, November 18th, 1904.

Before a large and enthusiastic audience Leland Powers, president of the Power's School of Expression of Boston, Mass., presented a dramatization of Dicken's masterpiece, "David Copperfield." Mr. Powers possessed a pleasing appearance and the ability to relate properly to each other the characters in the play, and to present the meaning and the purpose of the author clearly to the mind of the auditor.

The interpretation of every character was realistic but the presentation of the characters, Micawber and Uriah Heep, won greatest applause. The program follows:

DAVID COPPERFIELD.

Dramatized from Dicken's great story. Mr. Powers is doubtless more widely known in this program than in any other except David Garrick.

DRAMATIS PERSONAE.

Fisherman Peggotty, Ham, his nephew, David Copperfield, Steerforth, Uriah Heep, Mr. Micawber, Lawyer Wickfield, Agnes Wickfield, Little Em'ly, Betsy Trotwood, Mrs. Micawber, Martha Endell.

Act 1— a. The old ark on the sands. b. At Mr. and Mrs. Micawber's.

Act 2.—a. Law office of Wickfield and Heep. b. Little Em'ly's flight.

Act 3—a. A winter's night in Canterbury. b. Mr. Micawber aroused.

Act 4.—a. Mr. Micawber assists at an explosion. b. Em'ly's return—The shipwreck.)

Orchestra Practice.

Instead of on weekly Thursdays as formerly, orchestra practice will hereafter occur upon Wednesday of every week at 4.00 p. m. in Room B. Institute.

A boy died in Northumberland from injuries to his brain received during the progress of a football game.

COLLEGE CENSUS

Statistics Reveal the Numerical Standing of Fifteen Colleges.

Official statistics exhibit the college enrollment in some of the larger universities, taking in order the fifteen universities that head the list in point of mere numbers.

Harvard, 6,013; Columbia, 4,557; Chicago, 4,147; Northwestern, 4,007; Michigan, 3,726; California, 3,690; Illinois, 3,661; Minnesota, 3,550; Cornell, 3,438; Wisconsin, 3,221; Yale, 2,990; Pennsylvania, 2,664; Syracuse, 2,207; Princeton, 1,383; Leland Stanford Jr., 1,370.

That prestige and importance are not determined by size alone is shown by the fact that Yale ranks eleventh, while Princeton stands fourteenth, smaller than Syracuse, and with only Leland Stanford Jr., below her. However, a definition of "prestige" seems needful. Prestige must be seen to exist largely in numerical excess, but not all.

Physical Measurements.

Physical Measurements of Freshmen and Academy students will be made by the Physical Director in the gymnasium from 10.30 a. m., to 12.00 m. and from 2.00 to 4.00 p. m. daily.

The remainder of the schedule is presented.

From 4.00 to 5.00 p. m. physical exercise upon main floor.

From 5.00 to 5.45 p. m., basket-ball.

Above schedule is for balance of fall term only.

All students must wear shoes with rubber soles while exercising upon the main floor.

Eucpia and Theta Alpha Pictures.

By a joint resolution passed by Eucpia and Theta Alpha literary societies it was decided to exclude from pictures of these society groups for Junior Annual L'Agenda members and others who have not paid their dues.

Mandolin and Guitar Club.

About 30 members of the Mandolin and Guitar Club registered with the vice-president at the meeting upon Tuesday, November 22. This is an increased membership over last year.

The centennial of the birth of Dr. William Shadrach, who raised thousands of dollars for Bucknell University, was celebrated yesterday at Altoona.

According to custom no issue of the college weekly "Orange and Blue" was edited upon the Monday following Thanksgiving Recess.

Inter-club tennis and inter-fraternity baseball have both been adopted with benefit by Bucknell organizations who put on the field of play representative athletic teams. Why not have inter-club basket-ball? There are perhaps more enthusiasts who partake of active interest for this game at Bucknell than for any other sport, and basket-ball requires a smaller number, only five players to complete each team. This scheme would have to compete with interest in the annual inter-class basket-ball series, but it does that without pronounced discouragment in other branches of athletics.

Basket-ball is the one game that it seems to be necessary to play with teams not collegiate ones, for opponents. Y. M. C. A's and Athletic Clubs are admitted upon the schedule. It is undesirable but nearly unavoidable. This point is of itself one that is favorable to the development and growth of inter-club basket ball.

"Jimmy" Sebring and "Bucky" Veil.

Several days ago "Jimmy" Sebring ex-'05, and "Bucky" Veil, ex'07, were talking about hunting. "Bucky" remarked that he had been out hunting once or twice this season, and then related the following: "It was immediately after the opening of the season for squirrels that I hied myself off to the woods for a gray squirrel or two, and having seen one on a tree I lay down to wait until the welcome squirrel put in an appearance. While I was thus resting, with my gun on my arm, my dog started up a rabbit. The season for rabbits had not yet opened, and the only thing that I could do was to watch the race. I remained quiet, and finally the little cotton tail came running toward me, and when within striking distance the animal stopped. It did not see me, and after looking at the rabbit for a moment I pushed it away with the muzzle of my gun. You should have seen that rabbit go. I bet it hasn't stopped yet." "Jimmy" Sebring laughed, and said that it would not be policy to tell the story to a lot of people who are not thoroughly acquainted with the little picher.—Ex.

James Sebring was centre fielder a portion of last base-ball season for the Pittsburg National League Club and the remainder of the year for the Cincinnatti Nationals. Fred Veil pitched for the Altoona Monnarchs during the 1904 base-ball season, was formerly a Pittsburg National League pitcher and also a player on a former Bucknell nine.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES

Michigan University has seven cases of smallpox among the undergraduate body.

At State in connection with the annual observation of Pennsylvania Day, a new library, the gift of Hon. Andrew Carnegie will be dedicated on Nov. 18. The presence of the donor is expected.

Princeton university appointed Grover Cleveland, ex-president of the United States, chairman of the committee on the graduate school. A gift of $2,500 from Mrs. M. Taylor Pyne to establish a memorial scholarship was announced.

The University of Pennsylvania has been enriched with a gift of rare Indian relics for the Free Museum of Science and Art. This collection of relics is one of the best ethonological ones in existence and was presented by Mr. John Wanamaker.

Syracuse university has forbidden dancing. Clubs for this purpose, balls, etc., must all cease. Chancellor Day delivered an address on this topic before college chapel one morning to that effect. Many of the university students seem inclined to rebel.

Dickinson is the recipient of a $50,000 gift from Andrew Carnegie to build a new collegiate preparatory building to be called Conway Hall in memory of a Dickinson graduate who was Mr. Carnegie's friend. The new Denny Hall will soon be completed; cost $50,000.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Royal Knapp, '04, is teaching mathematics in school at Ridgway, Penna.

Dr. Mary Wolfe, '96, is Superintendent of the State Asylum at Norristown, Penna.

Luther Reimensnyder, ex-'03, has a position with the American Car and Foundry company of Milton.

Fred Jaekel, '03, ex-captain of the college base-ball nine and a former L'Agenda artist is pursuing the study of Agriculture in a New York office.

John B. Cook, '73, clerk of the Supreme Court of Colorado will go south for his health on a visit to President R. W. Perkins, '72, Ph. D. of Leland University, New Orleans.

R. F. Trainer, '96, M. D., of Williamsport, has been promoted from hospital steward to assist surgeon of the Twelfth Regiment, N. G. P., with the rank of First lieutenant.

Professor Edwin Maxey, '93, of the University of West Virginia, has the leading article in the Michigan Law Review for November on "Russian Raids on Neutral Commerce." The Review is published by the Law Department of the University of Michigan.

Rev. Howard L. Guss, ex'97, of Oxford, Penna., has accepted the assistant pastorate of Gaston church and will take up his duties at the end of this month. He comes from a family of ministers, received a degree from graduation at Princeton and obtained his theological training at the McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago. He was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry upon commencing his last pastorate with the Oxford Presbyterian church.

Professor Edwin James Maxey, '93, M. Dip. LL. D., of the University of West Virginia, is the author of a 1,600 word discussion upon the subject "The Russo-Japanese War and International Law." This article makes its appearance in the Delta Chi Law fraternity "Quarterly," dated October, 1904. At another place in the same magazine is printed this statement; "Dr. Edwin Maxey is considered a very strong writer upon subjects in International Law and Politics." His articles are much sought for by the best magazines in the country.

ACADEMY NOTES

There is a "Calliopean" Literary Society at Dennison University, Granville, Ohio.

Tuesday, Nov. 22, Prof. Burpee gave an interesting talk to the Y. M. C. A. His theme was "Making use of opportunities."

A Thanksgiving service was held in the Academy at 6.45 a. m. on Thursday, November 24. The service was well attended.

Alfred Verner has been compelled to leave school owing to the death of his father. He expects to tutor this year and enter college as freshman next fall.

It is desired to correct an error made in the columns of the last issue of the Orange and Blue. No game was played by the Academy basket-ball five at Milton although previous to the publication of that notice here, several newspapers had erroneously made mention of the contest as a coming event. The Orange and Blue is, along with the other misinformed newspapers, pleased to retract the wrong statement.

INSTITUTE NOTES

The Misses McCleggan were guests at dinner Friday evening.

Miss Nellie Bowman was called home Tuesday because of the serious illness of her mother.

Lockers.

Gymnasium Locker keys can be secured at the office of the university Registrar. Charge for occupation for one school term, 50 cents. Key edposit 25 cents additional.

Professor Wm. E. Martin was at the dedication of the State College Carnegie Library on Friday, November 18th. Addresses were delivered in the morning by Governor Pennypacker and Charles M. Schwab. The presentation of the building was made in the afternoon by Andrew Carnegie who after an address delivered the library key to ex-Governor Beaver, president of the Board of State College trustees.

Ship, ex-Academy and former 'varsity player who has in past years received recognition by some football critics upon the 2nd "All American" teams at tackle is credited with that position as a member of the "All-Ohio" eleven by H. A. Miller in the Columbus "Dispatch." Ship is a player at Denison University and the only one from that college who thus obtains recognition. He is a heavy player weighing over 220 when in trim.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1904 No. 11

MINSTRELS AGAIN

College to Have a Representative Minstrel Troupe.

In accordance with a notice that has lately made its appearance on the Bulletin Board of the college a Minstrel Troupe will be formed soon to provide the university with a representative organization of this nature. Bucknell in former years, has organized some most successful minstrels and this was perhaps especially true during the school years of 1901-1902 and 1902-1903 under the able stage leadership of Tom McCabe, ex-'04, and excellent business managership of Edgar Stevenson, '04, last year's editor of the Orange and Blue, and Norman Sturges, ex-'04.

Many of the chorus songsters and Ollo performers of these two seasons mentioned are still at college here. They are Hainer, '05, Hoon, '05, Grimminger, '07, Smiley, '05, Cheesman, '05, Hennessy, '05, Williamson, '05, Royer, '05, Gardner, '05, and Bartol, '05, and a call bearing the signature of Robert Royer, '05, has made its appearance for the above members and in addition new candidates to unite next term (January, 1905) for the earliest practice. Grimminger and Royer are the two remaining "end men" yet in school and Hoon, Royer and Bartol, Ollo artists. All but one Hoon, cornetist have sung parts in a minstrel chorus and Hoon, Grimminger, Hennessy, Royer and Gardner have been minstrel soloists.

Special Mention For Ship.

An article clipped from a leading Ohio periodical contains a brief review of the Denison University football players during the present season just completed and shows that Ship, the former Bucknell tackle player was Denison's star actor on the football stage and has been prominently mentioned for some position on the All-American team. Further than this Ship, with others of his team mates has maintained a scholarly standing, obtaining an average grade of 9.2 per cent. perfect.

Coach Frank W. Stanton, '02, and captain of the home 'varsity for two successful seasons is now employed as Athletic Instructor and will begin duties in the new Denison gymnasium as soon as this building is prepared for entrance.

Y M. C. A. Football Social.

The Y. M. C. A. social and reception tendered in honor of the football players to the members of the university occured this afternoon, Monday, December 12, in the Christian Association's spacious Hall in West College and in adjoining rooms from 4.00 p. m. to 6.00. L. C. Hylbert, '05, president of the Y. M. C. A. Association acted as reception committee with the foot ball players. Faculty and undergraduates attended in a force that was fitting to the dignity of the occasion. Refreshments were distributed after social intercourse had been indulged for over an hour. The reception parlors had been tastefully beautified and other events gave the affair an appearance of success at least.

Football "B's" Awarded.

The following names represent home football players who have regularly been awarded a "B" for participating in the required number of contests by the Athletic Association. Certificates awarding the football "B's" must be signed by Coach Hoskins, by members of the Advisory Committee and by the manager of the eelven, four signatures in all. The football "B" is a square block "B" 9 inches from top to bottom. Charles S. Marsh, '05, was awarded a "B", as manager of the eleven. This is the rule of the Athletic Association.

The fortunate players and the years they have participated in 'varsity football games follow:

Captain John C. Johnson, '04, three years on team; ex-Captain George W. Cockill, '05, four years; Captain-elect Charles D. Cooper, '05, three years; Paul G. Smith, '05, four years; Harold Y. Lesher, '05, one year; Robert F. Sheppard, '05, two years; Courtney A. Wheeler, '06, one year; Homer H. Adams, '07, one year; Gerton K. Lenhart, '08, two years; J. A. McKeever, '08, one year; Wilbur Morris, '08, one year; Holmes A. Frank, '08, one year; Charles Baldwin, '08, one year.

The departing players who played through as many as half of the games this year are only four in number and one of these H. Y. Lesher has played but one year as a 'varsity veteran. The three others are Captain John C. Johnson, John B. Smiley, and George W. Cockill. Next year with prospects for an increased squad, providing every student does his or her duty the meanwhile, chances for victory and success do not seem unfavorable, in fact they certainly do seem the best for many years.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Timbers Placed on Third Floor and Building Otherwise Advancing.

The new $50,000 Carnegie Library, the gift of Andrew Carnegie of philanthropic and financial fame, is still nearing the degree of completion that should be attained before winter snows set in with vigor. The second floor has been laid and the walls raised up to the story above, where timbers are being placed in position to receive the third floor boards.

Above the entrances to this building and windows appear the names of men of distinguished prominence along lines of endeavor literary, national and philosophical, and the name of the library's donor. Above the main entrance fronting the road behind Main College is the name Andrew Carnegie, above the rear entrance appear the names Homer, Shakespeare, Goethe in the order named from left to right upon the direction of entrance. Over the eastern set of high windows Charlemagne, Alfred, Washington, Lincoln and McKinley are written in the same order as above and the western windows are capped with the names of the philosophers Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Kant and Hegel, likewise in order named. All of these inscriptions are cut in brown-stone and the central figure of each group is emphasized with a slight elevation and increased size of letters above the remaining names of the same group. The cornerstone which contains copies of certain pertinent periodicals and literature current at the time of its dedication on Thursday, October 20 is carved with the singel inscription "Carnegie 1904."

Phi Kappa Psi Dance.

On Saturday night, December 10, Phi Kappa Psi held an informal dance and reception in their Market Street Hall. Members and certain friends of this fraternity enjoyed the privileges extended to them upon the delightful new dance floor of the fraternity from 8.00 until late in the evening, but before Sunday appeared the music from the orchestra was stilled and the guests were escorted to their homes. At about 10.00 o'clock light refreshments, provided by the fraternity were distributed among the dancing couples through the kindness of friends of Phi Psi from the class of 1908.

Delta Theta Upsilon Dance.

On the evening of Friday, December 9, the Delta Theta Upsilon local men's fraternity provided a dance for their friends and themselves in their fraternity hall on Market street. Preparations for the success of this affair had been progressing for a number of weeks past. Dancing was enjoyed from 8.00 until 11.00 when after a punch bowl had been drained of its sweets, the company were delightfully refreshed under the supervision of Madame Huth at her parlors on Market street.

Rumor has it there is a home basket-ball game in the Gymnasium on Friday evening. Manager Bittenbender, '05, may confirm or deny the report.

Steiner and Hursh.

A very pretty marriage ceremony that uniting Miss Jessie Thelka Steiner, music graduate, '01, and Mr. Lawrence Russell Hursh, of Harrisburg, was permformed at the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday, November 30, 1904. The bride was with the bridal party tastefully gowned and carried a white prayer-book. Gifts to the couple were both costly and useful. After the wedding, the newly married couple was driven through the Lewisburg main street on the way to catch a train at Montandon in a cab that had been decorated with placards. "We are Married." "We are Happy" and other ones of similar intent. They will reside in Harrisburg.

"Big Nine" Ruling.

Representatives of the "Big Nine" Western colleges met in Chicago last week and adopted a rule by which Freshman athletes will be barred from taking part in athletics until they have been bona fide students for four and one-half months. The colleges comprising the so-called "Big Nine" are Chicago, Minnesota, Indiana, Michigan, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Purdue, Illinois and Iowa. The rule is as follows:

"No student shall participate in any inter-collegiate contest who shall not have been in residence a semester, and a full credit for a semester's work previous to the term or semester in which the sport is held."

Wm. McLellan Reber's Death.

Dr. William McLellan Reber, ex-'62, and father of Miss Edith Reber, a former Institute student of Bloomsburg died at Wilkesbarre, where he had undergone an operation for strangulation of the bowels. Deceased was born in Lewisburg on March 4, 1842, and was educated at Bucknell university. He entered the United States navy as assistant surgeon, being stationed at Norfolk, Va., and subsequently in the naval hospital at Brooklyn. He had been a member of the board of health of Bloomsburg since its organization.

Tri-Delta Entertainment.

The Delta Delta Delta fraternity was delightfully entertained on Thursday evening, December 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wolfe. Among the amusements was the unraveling of a spider's web made of different colored twines. Miss Weddle, '07, proved to be the speediest worker and as a reward of merit received a Tridelta banner. One of the various surprisees of the evening was a Christmas pie served as a last course with the refreshments, from which a dainty gift was drawn by each guest.

A New Institution.

Professor James H. Hyslop, of Columbia University, Ph. D. and instructor in Psychology and ethics at Bucknell from 1888 to 1889 is the author of a one column article published by the New York "Sun" on November 11. The topic he discusses is "A New Institution." It has to do with the purposes, intentions and methods of work, for which work the American Institute for Scientific Research has been incorporated in New York City. Abnormal and supernormal Psychology will be studied scientifically.

BUCKNELL AND MICHIGAN

CHARLES DALE WOLFE, '04.

It may be of interest to readers of the Orange and Blue to learn something of the Bucknell colony in the University of Michigan. There are now seven former Bucknell students in different department of this university. Their names, class and the college they attend follow:

Charles Dale Wolfe, '04, junior law; Carroll Caruthers, '04, junior law; William Nogel Marsh, '03, senior law; Charles Henry Brown, ex-'03, senior medical; Jay Follmer Bond, ex-'03, forestry department; Maurice Caldwell McGiffen, ex-'04, junior law; and John Jenkins Owens, Jr., ex-'06, junior law.

Bucknell has undoubtedly an excellent standing among American colleges, for Michigan University which ranks high among our best universities, has in no instance, at least not for many years and very probably never rejected Bucknell scholarship credentials. She has always pronounced full credit upon certified studies with entering students from Bucknell.

It is well that another particular in addition to the high standard maintained at Bucknell college should be spoken of, and that is its undergraduates ought to remember the enjoyment of advantages which are marker and admirable characteristics of Bucknell and colleges not so extensive as the university at Ann Arbor. One such an advantage is the close touch and inter-course such an undergraduate may choose to enter with the faculty and instructors of his college. Another is the same in regard to the entire student body, with whom an acquaintanceship approaching the knowledge of friendship with college connections is possible. This knowledge is not possible at large universities. Still one more local advantage is the elegant situation and fine natural surroundings Bucknell provides.

Strange Coincidences.

Strange coincidences of names often happen in football as, no doubt they do elsewhere. In the recent Colgate-Cornell game in which Cornell defeated Colgate 17-0, there were two quarter-back players for Colgate, the one relieving the other during the progress of the contest. The name of the first was Stowell, that of the second Crowell. The left half-back upon the same team is named McDowell. Upon the 1904 Columbia squad were two players, both candidates for half-back position who are named Buell and Duell. Upon the St. Lawrence, N. Y. eleven Black and Gray played tackle and guard side by side. It is not so very unusual to find a team with players prevailing who have the same initial letter for their last name. The Dickinson College football line players, with one exception and their quarter-back all are named with a capital "S."

Edwin Wingert Gundy, special, '06, was initiated into Phi Kappa Psi on the night of Friday, December 2. The initiation was conducted in the fraternity Hall.

Examinations will soon be here with their accompanying vexations. Fairness in examinations is one essential while making an attempt to pass through them successfully. Those teachers who watch the examinations progress, and afterwards grade the papers written upon, will be sure never to fail to discredit unfairness as it deserves. Many failures in past years are due to cheating, and many extra examinations and much additional study and worry can be traced to infidelity.

It is easy to cheat and still easier to aid another to pass examinations unfairly but both are college crimes, nothing diminished in deserving severity because of their seeming partial toleration, which really is not toleration at all, but thoughtfulness on the part of the proper authoritise. In this connection the Columbia incident might be reviewed in mind and thought about, where extreme measures were adopted toward the prevention of the passing of examinations by other persons than the examined individuals.

Lehigh University has adopted the game of hand-ball in which great activity is required as a muscle and thought developing exercise. At present there is a schedule, awaiting commencement with 24 entries. About Bucknell there are many men who enjoy the refreshment this activity excites and in the Tustin Gymnasium may be found courts that with the proper floor markings may be readily pressed into hand-ball service.

A New Law Firm.

A new law firm Gettig, Bower and Zerby (W. D. Zerby, '02,) has been established to succeed the firm of Orvis, Bower and Orvis in the Eagle Block, Bellefonte, Penna. Consultation in English and German and particular attention is devoted to the trial of suits, collection of claims and the Orphan's court.

Concert Postponed.

Owing to a conflict of dates in securing the opera house, the Katherine Ridgeway Concert Co., entertainment previously scheduled for the night of December 14 will be postponed until January 5. The change is regretted by the Course Management, but unavoidable.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Samuel Black, ex-president of the class of 1906, is located at Sandusky, Ohio, where he is superintendent of the city water works.

The Rev. W. C. Stinson, D. D., '86, on Tuesday, December 6, delivered the eulogy at the burial services of the aged actress, Mrs. G. H. Gilbert, last week in the Reformed church, Bloomingdale, New York.

G. M. Phillips, '71, Ph. D. Principal of the West Chester Normal School and President of the Chester County Historical Society presented to the West Chester post G. A. R. a magnificent collection of relics to be preserved with the war collection of that post.

Rev. John Elmer Saul, '98, has announced his resignation as pastor of the Olivet Baptist church at Norristown and also the excuse for refusing to reconsider his determination to resign. He says congregational support is lacking and the resignation takes effect upon January 1, 1905.

Ray F. Wendle, of Muncy, formerly of Lewisburg and for several years a Bucknell music pupil under the tuition of Professor Aviragnet is making great strides as a musician and has lately signed with Hi Henry's Minstreis, whose exhibition has been seen in the home Opera House, and he has gone to join the troupe at Sandusky, Ohio.

Dr. R. F. Trainer, '96, of Philadelphia, has recently been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of former Assistant Surgeon F. E. Drumheller to Major Surgeon on the staff of the Twelfth Regiment, N. G. P. Dr. Trainer it is said has long been a member of this Regiment and is deserving of this promotion and position.

COLLEGE NOTES

Slif Walls, '03, is home with a broken wrist the result of an accidental occurence.

Mabel Browning, a music graduate of a few years ago is being entertained at the home of Mrs. Fred Kurtz.

Coach Hoskins is already keeping the weather eye open for new football material. He attended one of the Williamsport High School games in Williamsport a few weeks ago, on the lookout for new men.

Prof. George G. Groff delivered a lecture on Thursday evening, December 1, on the subject Tropical Medicine. The lecture was delivered before students of the Medico Chirugical college in Philadelphia.

Joseph L. Challis, '06, who had the misfortune to receive a fractured jaw bone in the upper-class scrimmage on Saturday, November 19, following the class football game between the lower classes is getting along finely. The broken fragments are mending.

The basket-ball Independents from this college defeated Danville in the second game of the series, 35-24. Three games all on "foreign" floors have now been contested. The scores of these three contests are Danville 18, 24 and 37; Independents 11, 35 and 18. Bucknell's representatives have thus won one out of three.

A team of Bucknell students, strictly of their own formation, was defeated at Milton, by the successful team from that place which defeated Williamsport, with a score, against the first mentioned players of 1,905 to 2,271. By a strange happening the score of the Lewisburg players characterizes the college class of which the players of the visiting bowling team are members—1905.

Frederick Veil, spec. '02, a former pitcher for the Pittsburg Nationals and Altoona "Monarchs" has signed a contract to pitch next season with the Columbus team, Ohio, in the American Association. When Veil was dropped from Pittsburg's pitching staff, no doubt it was for the single reason that the same year Pittsburg had the finest pitchers in her history and also that year in the league, winning the pennant championship by a score of more than 100 victories.

Harry E. McCormick, ex-'04, of basket-ball, base-ball, and foot-ball renown as an aggressive athlete, is situated at Steelton, where he played with the Y. M. C. A. football eleven during the past term. In a conversation Harry revealed his determination to give up base-ball with the Pittsburg Nationals, with whom he is reserved for the next season and all other base-ball for the present because he is occupying a position at Steelton where every condition, that is not an improvement over his former occupation is satisfactory. He says that he prefers foot-ball anyway and he can play that game with the clever Steelton Y. M. C. A. eleven while a resident there.

City dailies contain the following interesting items in regard to two former Bucknell baseball stars:

Harry McCormick, (ex-'04), is in the habit of indulging in such stupors of thought that he forgets to go, and sometimes gets lost. McGraw has, therefore, had made for him a check bearing the legend, "McCormick, New York Baseball Team. Treat him kindly." McCormick wears it for a watch charm.

Christy Mathewson, (ex-'02,) is the Sherlock Holmes of the diamond. When there is a close decision at the plate Matty tries to hold up the umpire to his way of thinking by tracing out the tracks of the runner in the sand.

ACADEMY NOTES

The basket-ball team has before them a real good schedule. King, who is basket-ball manager has scheduled contests with "fives" at Milton, Danville, Selinsgrove and Scranton.

On Friday evening, December 2, the Calopean Literary Society was again entertained by Miss Schillinger's elocution class. The following selections were rendered:

How Uncle Podges Hung a Picture. Gatehouse, Gerome K. Gerome.
Incidents of the French Camp. Klerx, Browning.
Adams and Jefferson. Liddy, Webster.
Close of Battle of Waterloo. King, Victor Hugo.

After the conclusion of the program, the Academy Weekly "News" was read by Foote, and the society resolved into a parliament for 10 minutes drill.

An interesting episode occurred at this point whereby a committee was sent to bring Principal Thomas to trial for having issued a statement contrary to the wearing of sweaters at Academy meals. The boys maintained that army jerseys were as bad if not worse than sweaters. Everything was settled amicably.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES

Chicago University will receive a set of chime bells the gift of Coach A. A. Stagg and his wife. They will cost about $1,000.

The University of Pennsylvania awarded 21 football "P's" this year and 13 for 'varsity members of the crew.

After the completion of President Roosevelt's present term of office he will accept the presidency of Harvard University.

Beloit College, Wisconsin, has a new Carnegie Library. There is also one other Carnegie Library in the same town. The value of both is $75,000.

University of Pennsylvania students will receive the pleasure of an address by President Roosevelt on Washington's birthday.

Lehigh University is endeavoring to find a suitable person to fill the college presidency made vacant by the death on November 16 of Dr. T. M. Drown. Mr. Schwab the well known financier has been suggested as a candidate to fill the vacancy that occurs in Lehigh's Board of Trustees.

Chauncey Forward Black, former Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania and an editorial writer on the "Sun" died on December 1, at his residence, "Brockie," Penna. He was defeated in 1886 by ex-Governor Beaver for the governorship of Pennsylvania owing to the former's loss of a portion of the Democratic votes cast.

FIRST BASKETBALL GAME

'Varsity Regulars Picked Temporarily and Reserves Defeated 37-10.

The first basketball game of the season was played on Friday evening, December 16, 1904, between the 'varsity and scrubs. The game was won by the 'varsity. Score 37-10. Notwithstanding the one sided score the game was interesting. The game was fast and at times very rough, especially on the side of the 'varsity which committed numerous fouls. These were responsible for the majority of points scored by the scrubs, since only two goals from field were scored by them.

The large score was due almost entirely to individual work. Smith especially deserves mention for his clever playing. However the work of the entire team was worthy of praise and promised great things for a successful season.

The score follows:

Cheesman	forward	Robbins
Smith	forward	Goldsmith Steinhilper
Cockill	centre	Claypoole
Lenhart	guard	Taggart
Taggart	guard	Sheppard
Grier	guard	Wagner Morris.

Goals, Smith 11, Cockill 2, Lenhart 2, Grier 1, Cheesman 1, Taggart 1, Robbins 1, Claypoole 1. Goals from fouls. Grier 1, Claypoole 6. Score, first half, 'varsity 16, scrub, 8, Second half, 'Varsity 37, scrub 10. Time of halves 20 minutes. Official Hoskins.

Praise for "Cappy" Stanton.

The "Denisonian" writers of Denison University in their football number on December 17, pay "Cappy" Stanton, '02, the unsurpassable compliment that follows here. For the concluding statement of a 200 word congratulatory article in this periodical it is said "in three years Stanton has brought Denison from the bottom to the top in Ohio intercollegiate football." The compliment could not be surpassed and facts uphold the truth of this statement.

In addition to this remarkable sentiment this article also declares that with Stanton's success as Denison coach, when a position upon the faculty of that college was created to provide a Director of Athletics, "Stanton's training at Bucknell (where he captained two successive successful teams) with his two years of successful work directing Denison's teams made him the only logical selection for the position." It also says along the same favorable strain, which it does not lose throughout the whole article, "Denison shares with Case the reputation of ending the season in the finest form of any Ohio eleven. To keep a team in good condition, to so manage practice as to keep every man from going stale, requires rare judgment, and this is what Stanton succeeded in doing."

In regard to Ship, who has acquired the familiar name of "Barney"; in regard to Barney the "Denisonlan" says, "There has been no tackle in the history of Denison athletics who could better the work done by Ship this season. In carrying the ball he has no equal for line plunging. His defensive work is fine and he is easily the man on the home team most feared by opponents." The articles are encouraging throughout.

An Interesting Advertisement.

In the Christian Chronicle, Wednesday, March 17, 1847, found in Mr. Sheppard's room, No. 2 E. Wing, there is an advertisement of the Lewisburg "High School," the Academy, and the Seminary, preparatory to the University at Lewisburg. The Principal was Stephen Taylor, A. M., and the assistant Alfred Taylor, A. B. The year was then divided into two terms of 21 weeks each. Tuition in the Primary Department was $6.00 per session, in the Academic Department of English studies, $8.00 and in the Academic Department of Classical Studies $11.00 Good boarding could be obtained for from $1.25 to $1.50 a week. A part of the advertisement reads as follows:—"The founders of this Seminary wish it to be understood that the object of this Institution is not merely to aid the Student, in the acquisition of the names and knowledge of things, but also and especially to teach him how to learn and how to discipline his mind; to invigorate his intellect and to chasten his imagination; to accustom him to a proper regard for his physical health; to cherish in him a living desire to improve his manners and his morals, and, constantly to aim at a good character.

"On the 5th day of October next, this Seminary will be opened at Lewisburg, Union county, Pa."

Some extracts from the original copy follow:

ATHLETIC MEETING

Business of Importance Transacted at Semi-Annual Meeting.

The first Semi-annual business meeting this school year, for the transaction of business and the election of officers occurred upon Saturday, December 19, at 10.30 a. m. The business was transacted in the Tustin Gymnasium before the presence of sixty-two members. For the last few years the size of Association membership has been failing.

The meeting was called to order by retiring president F. L. McCauley, '05, at 10.30 a. m. The first thing was an address by Mr. Bostwick, '05, who presented the Association two petitions for approval. The petitions were with regard to season admission to athletic contests upon home grounds. Coach Hoskins was then called upon and made an inspiring address upon subjects in relationship to Physical training for the betterment of individuals and Bucknell athletic teams. He explained the forces of the smoke and drink habit which destroy the vital qualities of good physical form. One intended thought was omitted from the lecture. it is improper to enter into the open air immediately after taking a bath and while the skin pores remain unclosed from the effects thereof. Sickness, cold, and perchance pneumonia may follow; it is always injurious. One case might be cited when a man took sick with penumonia and died.

The articles proposed in the last paragraph were then adopted by the Association as Amendments and it was therein decided to petition the college faculty that an additional charge of $5.00 should be made to all entering male students yearly and that the payment of this sum should entitle all such students to membership including voting privileges in the Athletic Association and to a season athletic contest ticket for admission to all intercollegiate, inter-class and all other college games upon home grounds, and that this sum shoulud thereupon be turned over to the treasury of the Association and divided among the respective managers of the various athletic departments of the Association as this Association should hereafter see fit to do so. In case the petition is denied recognition by the faculty and the plan contained by it thus falls of adoption, the second resolution provided for an attempt at the collection of the fee $5.00 from the entering students directly by the Athletic Association.

It is anticipated that this could soon be established as a prevalent annual custom, the disposal of season athletic tickets to incoming male members of the school. The tickets shall be non-transferable and saleable only to those whose connection with this institution has been or at the time is close and direct, as graduates, students and faculty.

The resignation of Professor Bartol from basketball and football advisory committees was accepted and acting upon his suggestions Professors Lindeman and Wolfe were elected to occupy those positions in order named. Professor Smith was chosen to take the position made vacant by the change of Professor Wolfe from track to football Advisory Committee.

The following were elected by acclamation officers of the Association:

Horace J. Sheppard, '06, Pres.
Ardis Clair Thompson, '06, V. Pres.
Norman E. McCall, '07, Sec.
Benajah J. Gardner, '06, Treas.
Abraham P. Waltz, '06, and John L. Minor, '07, Finance Committee.
Ellison M. Fassett, '07, Assistant Football Manager.
Blaine W. Scott, '05, Tennis Manager.
William E. DeMelt, '06, Assistant Tennis Manager.

The report of football manager Charles S. Marsh, '05, was listened to attentively and accepted.

The report of Anthony Steinhilper, '05, retiring Treasurer of the Athletic Association follows. It was accepted.

Basket-ball Receipts $589.55; Expenses $545.81; Gain $44.74.

Base-ball Receipts $839.97; Expenses $1290.32; Loss $450.35.

Track Receipts $102.00; Expenses $265.85; Loss $163.85.

Football Receipts $1271.35; Expenses $1339.92; Loss $68.57.

Total Gain $43.74; Loss $682.77.

Balance from Treasurer Karge $1041.56; Cash Gain $43.74; By Membership Certificates (1904) $62.00. Total $1147.30.

Cash Loss $682.77; General Bills $370.24; Total Expenditures uncovered by Gains $1053.01.

Balance in Treasury $94.29. These statistics show a decrease of Balance in Treasury from last year of almost $1000.00, by actual computation a decrease of $947.27.

At this meeting for the first time through joint action taken last year by the two Associations the Bucknell Lawn Tennis Association transferred its privileges and control to the possession of the Athletic Association, and respective manager and assistant manager were chosen as per above for next year. Hereafter the strength and reliability of the latter Association will back the deals and contests arranged by the tennis manager.

Michigan's Eating Capacity.

Some surprising figures are out about how much the Michigan football team ate during the seven weeks which the team trained in Ann Arbor. The cost for food for 27 men was approximately $1,030. This amount would not perhaps be extraordinary, even as the plainest of food, in a large city, but conditions in Ann Arbor are different. The finest board which the students eat costs but $3 a week. This includes the profit of the boarding house keeper, who has all the money-making propensities that proverbs ascribe to him. Some Ann Arbor boarding houses charge $4 a week, but this is for a piano or an orchestra to furnish music, and other social advantages.

Michigan's football players each cost $6 a week, and there were no profits included in the thousand odd dollars' worth which they consumed. This price, half of which the athletic association paid, was merely the market value of food. In a city the same foodstuffs would have cost at least $1,500.—Ex.

Baseball Awards.

Baseball "Bs" for the season of 1904 were awarded as follows: P. G. Smith, '05, captain, G. W. Cockill, '05, captain elect 1905, G. M. Deats, '04, C. M. Teufel, '04, W. W. Portser, '06, Charles Grimminger, '07, F. L. Heinze, '07, and Carroll Carruthers, '04, manager.

Y. M. C. A. FOOTBALL SOCIAL

Faculty and College and Institute Students Entertained.

The reception given by the Y. M. C. A. in honor of the foot-ball team on Dec. 12 in Y. M. C. A. Hall, is such a new feature in the social life of our institution that we feel special mention should be made of it in this weeks issue. Here the religious, athletic and social side of the school were invited in a most practical way. The need of bringing these aspects of student life into a closer unity has long been felt, and the policy of making this an annual affair should receive hearty support. How could the Young Men's Christian Association do itself more credit than to transform its auditorium into a parlor and invite faculty and students in for a social good time? and they came—nearly two hundred in number.

Cushions, cozy corners, curtains, couches, rugs, pennants and pictures, carried from the young men's rooms, made the hall a very home-like place.

And the reception committee—a football line up! Something new for Coach Hoskins and his men to play a game like this! But with proper dignity and grace they played the game of hand-shaking.

And what about the "semites"? Well, I guess, they set an object lesson for the boys on the hill. Up the hill they come, lead by the Dean of the Institute, a goodly number. Turn about is fair play, they say, and it is hope has been expressed that the young men will be more in evidence at the next "at home" at the sem.

In the course of these pleasant hours Miss Margaret Barry, who was present entertained the auditors with several elocutionary recitations.

The rapidity with which for some years past the number of Athletic Association membership registrations has been falling off is deserving of remark. Formerly, only three or four years ago great interest was manifested in the Association meetings and membership registrations numbered in the neighborhood of three hundred. This year these registrations numbered only sixty-two. The total sum of registrations means a difference of 4 hundred or more dollars to the treasurer of the Athletic Association but to every member who should give support to his college's athletics it costs only a small fraction of this sum, one dollar. Because largely of payments for Athletic Association memberships in previous years, each year has usually found that it could hold its head above the water, but with increased financial discouragements owing in part to the adoption of a more conservative policy in the matter of securing contests and owing in part also to the decreased number of payments for Association membership the tide is gradually rising and it commences to seem only of importance how soon the tide-governing moon of registration neglect will reach its position in an ultimate direction away from the sum of everybody registered and prosperity will be drowned in the resultant wave of discontinuance.

The question of how we should treat visiting college athletic teams should receive consideration by every college man. The impressions at one college concerning another are created largely from the stories brought back by the teams. Every student should have the fair name of his college at heart. One of the surest ways of establishing and maintaining such a name is by showing courtesy to visiting teams. A team playing at Bucknell is in relatively the same position as a guest at one of our homes. We should always be strong partisans, but at the same time fair sportsmen and college gentlemen. There is more glory in an honorable defeat than a shady victory. One man can do more by a hasty action to spoil the reputation of his college than a dozen to build it up.

INSTITUTE NOTES

A number of the Institute students have already gone home for vacation.

Miss Jones, '08, was called to her home in Franklin, by the death of her grandfather.

Misses Nancy Finley and Helen Overholt were initiated into Delta Phi, Saturday, December 17.

Miss Taylor, of Williamsport, a former music pupil, is the guest of her sorority sister, Miss Elizabeth Baker.

The Alumnae Association held its regular meeting in the Institute parlors, Tuesday evening last. The meeting opened with a short business session during which Mrs. C. A. Gundy read a paper with reference to Revising the Constitution. The regular program of the evening was then taken up, the subject under discussion being the Flemish and Dutch Schools of Art. The program was as follows:

Paper—"Rubens" ....Miss Darlington
Paper—"Van Dyck" .... Miss Evans
Vocal Solo ....Miss Blackmer,
Violin obligat played by Miss Louise Lawshe.
Paper—"Rembrandt" .... Mrs. Frank Simpson

ACADEMY NOTES

Charles Nyberg has gone home early for the holiday season.

Wallace McLaughlin went home on Thursday to attend to some business matters.

Indications point to a more successful term during the winter for the Y. M. C. A. than even the past term has been.

On Tuesday evening the Caliopean Literary Society elected the following officers:

President, Mr. H. Brown.
Vice-Pres., Mr. H. Boyd.
Treasurer, Mr. F. Liddy.
Secretary, Mr. M. Wiant.
1st Critic, Mr. W. McLaughlin.
2nd Critic, Mr. F. Liddy.
Marshal at Arms, Mr. H. Garrison.

The election of Chaplain was deferred until the next meeting.

History Class Entertained.

Professor and Mrs. Colestock pleasantly and socially entertained at their Market street home members of the English History class of the professor's who under different conditions gather every week day morning in the recitation rooms except Saturday's. Permission from Principal Edwards had been readily obtained to allow Institute members of this class to be there. This was upon Thursday evening from 8:00 until 10:00 o'clock. While the present term has been passing Professor Colestock has made occassion to entertain in much the same delightful manner members of all his History classes.

Norman Mattoon Thomas, ex-'05 of Princeton, was one of the three candidates who took part for debating honors against a similar Yale team at New Haven, Conn., on December 9. Princeton was defeated.

Services were held during the week beginning with December 4 to commemorate the Fiftieth Anniversary of the First Baptist church of Williamsport. Two of the ten ministers who for different periods occupied the pulpit of this church were Bucknell graduates, the Rev. T. E. Clapp, class of 1855 D. D., from 1869-1880 and the Rev. J. H. Haslam, class of 1890, from 1897-1903. Rev. Clapp occupied the pulpit longer than any of the ten occupants, for eleven years.

During the Wednsday evening services Professor Wm. E. Martin presided. Thursday evening Rev. J. H. Haslam delivered the address before the women's society and on Friday night an interdenominational service the last of the evening series, was presided over by president John Howard Harris, LL. D.

Japs Want to Play Ball.

Stanford University has received a letter from Iso Abe superintenednt of the athelitic department of Waseda University, Japan, expressing a desire to arrange an inter-national baseball match between Stanford nad the Japanese university. Waseda University won the intercollegiate championship of Japan and is represented by a strong team. The Japanese prefer to have the game take place in San Francisco. There is a strong probability that the match will be arranged.—Ex.

Phi Kappa Psi Dance.

Phi Kappa Psi held an informm dance in their fraternity Hall upon the dance floor for some Lewisburg friends. Added pennants and more new cozy-corners with ordinary pleasures made the evening pass very enjoyably. AMONG OTHER COLLEGES

Yale has a very large schedule of 39 basket-ball games.

From present appearances Syracuse University has an excellent basket-ball team.

In th seecond baseball game of the faculty-freshmen series at Stanford, played December 3, the faculty won by a score of 13 to 12.

Wooster University has just organized a literary club known as the Quadrangle. It anticipates a study of certain phases of English literature.

Yale's football receipts during the football season just ended amount to $75,000. Harvard brought $32,000, Princeton $22,000, and Columbia, $11,000.

New York University expends annually $140.00 for the instruction of each undergraduate, Columbia, and Harvard about $300.00 and Yale more than $200.00.

The mass meeting which Wisconsin held before the Michigan game is said to be the largest ever held in the west. Over 3,000 supporters of the cardinals cheered and sang for the team.—Ex.

Yale University during 1904 received as gifts $100,000 for a mining laboratory, $50,000 for the medical school, $40,000 added to library funds and a bequest of $250,000 for the construction and maintenance of a memorial building to Dr. Jared Linsly.

Drake University has a new Athletic field that contains a foot-ball checkerboard ,a base-ball diamond, tennis courts and the "finest quarter mile relay track in the west." The bleachers afford accommodations for 40,000.

In the annual gun tournament in which Princeton, Harvard, Yale and Pennsylvania representatives participated the final scores were in the order of colleges named, 201, 200, 171 and 170. It is curious to note the closeness of scorees between Princeton and Harvard, and Yale and Pennsylvania, one point in each instance determining the superiority between these two groups of contestants, although 30 points separated the two groups.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JANUARY 9, 1905 No. 13

WARD R. BLISS

Leading Member of State Legislature From Delaware County.

The funeral services of the late Ward R. Bliss were held at his former residence in Chester last evening and the body brought to Lewisburg this morning for interment. The burial took place in the family lot in Lewisburg cemetery, the committal services being read by President Harris.

The pall-bearers were: Dr. W. L. Gerhart, Hon. H. M. McClure, R. M. Lawshe, D. P Higgins, Prof. W. G. Owens and W. O. Shaffer.

Mr. Bliss was born in Lewisburg, Union county, and was educated in Bucknell University, graduating in 1874. After teaching school one year, he was admitted to the Delaware county bar in 1878. Three years later he began the publication of the Weekly Reporter, the official legal paper of the county, which he edited up to the time of his death. From 1882 to 1893 he owned and edited the Delaware county Republican, the oldest newspaper in the county. He published a "Digest of Special Laws Relating to Delaware County," and eight volumes of "Delaware County Reports."

Ward R. Bliss had been a most conspicuous figure in the Pennsylvania Legislature for more than a decade. He had been a recognized leader in the House almost since he became a member in 1889. He had been with the organization and against it, and when he returned to the fold he was received with open arms and was accorded the highest honors within the gift of the party in the Legislature.

He was elected to the Legislature in 1889 and has been re-elected a member of every biennial session since. From the beginning of his legislative career Mr. Bliss took an active part in the debates, and displayed an ability in discussion that made him a leader. He was made a member of important committees, after his qualities were recognized, and since 1895, he had been assigned to a chairmanship at each session, even though he was not in harmony with the organization.

The deceased was a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity and was toastmaster at their symposium in 1904.

With his demise the University loses one of its most loyal friends and earnest supporters.

Death of Mrs. J. C. Bucher.

Last evening, while on her way home from a visit with friends, Mary E. Walis Bucher was stricken with heart failure. Near the corner of Third and Market she was seized with weakness and asked two young men to escort her to her residence and, shortly after entering, expired.

Mrs. Bucher was a member of the Seminary class of '58, and her sudden death will be a blow to a large circle of friends.

She is survived by her husband, Hon. J. C. Bucher, three sons and one daughter.

The funeral services will be held at 10.30 Thursday morning from the Bucher residence. Interment in the local cemetery.

Be ready with the coin as the manager is after you.

College Improvements.

During the past few weeks several additions and improvements have been made to the college property. A commodious dark room has been constructed in the basement of East Wing, for the more advantageous study of Optics, and is now at the disposal of the class. A new wing has added space to the Observatory sufficient for class work in Astronomy and Engineering, and the laundry facilities of the Seminary have been enlarged and improved until we now have a thoroughly equipped and modern plant. In the Physical Labratory the experimental-gas engine and dynamo are being placed in position for practical demonstrations and will soon be ready for use. Work on the Library still progresses and the building is now about under roof.

All Collegians.

During the Christmas vacation a team composed of Cockill, Lenhart, and Taggart, of Bucknell, and Kremer and Laudefeld of Lehigh made a tour of the basketball towns of the coal regions. Pottsville, Mahanoy Plane and Frackville were visited but the team failed to win. The scores, however, were close and the remuneration sufficient to justify calling the trip a success.

Keller's Business College, a local institution well known to the students and alumni has been closed by the sheriff. The proprietor was far in arrears for rent and unable to meet the demands of the creditors. The dozen typewriters which were the property of the school were seized by students having paid scholarship in advance.

There will be a meeting of the West College Association Monday evening, Jan. 16, at 9 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. room for the election of new members.

Prof. Aviragnet has awarded prizes for excellence in Spanish during the fall term to Miss Margaret Forgeus, '05 and Gardner, '05.

Prof. T. F. Hamblin is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter at his home.

PERRINE-ROBERTS WEDDING

Married in Philadelphia on December 24th, 1904.

Miss Grace Browning Roberts, of No. 182 North Franklin street, and Dr. Enoch Perrine, professor of English literature at Bucknell University, were married yesterday afternoon at the Roosevelt. The bride was given away by her father, Rev. William Dayton Roberts, pastor of the Temple Presbyterian church, Franklin and Thompson streets. The ceremony was performed by the bride's grandfather, Rev. B. L. Agnew, secretary of the Presbyterian Ministerial Board of Relief, assisted by Dr. John H. Harris, president of Bucknell University. The bride wore a gown of white silk Brussels net over white silk, carried white cranations, and in her hair wore a white rose. Her going away gown was black broadcloth. With this she wore a gray velvet hat and gray furs. A small wedding breakfast immediately followed the ceremony. The parlors and breakfast room were beautifully decorated with red carnations and palms, and trimmings in keeping with the festival of the season. Dr. and Mrs. Perrine will reside in Lewisburg, Pa.—Philadelphia Record, Sunday, December 25th.

The "Orange and Blue," on behalf of the students, offers Dr. Perrine and wife the most sincere congratulations.

New Faculty Ruling.

At a recent meeting of the Faculty the scope of required work for the first year was enlarged. Heretofore satisfactory grades in nine major studies constituted the requirements for the year, the student being permitted to carry conditions in rhetoric, composition and oratory. Beginning with this term all Freshmen must make the required averages in the minor subjects before certificates are granted and Sophomore work given. This is a radical change from the custom of former years and it would be well for the under-classmen, especially those having club or fraternity aspirations, to bear it in mind.

After a thorough investigation, it is the belief of the trustees of Lebanon Valley college, at Annville, that the burning of the administration building on Christmas Eve was the work of a fire bug.

Freshman Banquet.

This morning at 9.05 the Freshman class departed for their annual banquet at the Wyoming Valley Hotel in Wilkesbarre. The class marched from the Hill in a body—meeting with no opposition from the sophomores, and safely boarded the two special cars awaiting them. Several Juniors accompanied the party as guests of the class.

Sophomore Banquet.

Now that the Freshmen are out of town, it may perhaps be of interest to the students to know that the Sophomores depart as a class at 9.45 this evening for Williamsport. Their banquet will occur Tuesday evening, at the Park Hotel.

Following the usual custom Goodman, '05 and McCauley, '05, will be entertained as Senior representatives.

Y. M. C. A. Address by Gov. Beaver.

The annual missionary sermon of the Y. M. C. A., was conducted in Bucknell Hall yesterday afternoon before a large audience. The speaker was ex-Gov. Beaver and his talk was much appreciated by both students and town-people. The Governor is a very plain but forceful talker and possessing a strong, enthusiastic manner his every word carried conviction. Being a college man himself and in sympathy with college life he at once endeared himself to the fellows. The discourse had especially to do with Harvey, '00, who is Pennsylvania's Y. M. C. A., representative in China, and of his difficulties in dealing with college missions in that country. Gov. Beaver is personally acquainted with Harvey, who was his son's successor as State Secretary, and his words of admiration for the Bucknell man's character, were very hearty. The talk was sincere, earnest and hit the point, and the student-body would be glad for another opportunity to welcome Gov. Beaver. The missionary collection taken at the close of the meeting amounted to $75 and it is hoped by the officers that this will be increased to double the amount when the canvass of the buildings is completed.

College Bible Class Meetings.

By this time the majority of students shall have received cards inviting them to attend the weekly Bible classes conducted by President Harris. These meetings are informal and are held weekly throughout the college year at 9:15 a. m., in the Baptist church. All persons not a member of some other class are cordially asked to join. The lessons for the Winter Term of 1905 are as follows:

1. God in History. Luke 1:5-80.
2. The Incarnation. John 1:1-18.
3. The Discipline of Life. Luke 2:21-52.
4. Repentance. Luke 3:1-18.
5. Consecration and Trial. Matt 3 and 4.
6. The Lamb of God. John 1:29-51.
7. The New Birth. John 3:1-18.
8. Spiritual Worship. John 4:4-42.
9. Messianic Prophecy. Luke 4:16-30.
10. The Power to Heal. Mark 1:16-45.
11. The Forgiveness of Sins. Mark 2:1-12.
12. Sabbath Observance. Matt 12:1-13.

Minstrel Performance.

Work for the Minstrel will begin in a few days. The first practice will be held in Bucknell Hall, at 7 p. m., Friday. By that time the chorus numbers will have been selected and from that date rehersals will be frequent since it is the purpose of the management to have the performance about the middle of February. All who take part in the Minstrel are urged to attend every rehearsal, and put their whole spirit into the work since these things are essential to bring the Minstrel up to the standard of the former ones. College talent has suffered somewhat with the loss of men like Senn, Campbell, Frampton and McCabe but there should still be a good deal of harmless insanity in Bucknell which if unbridled at the proper time would serve to provoke universal laughter.

The manager earnestly invites all possessing the aspiration and ability to attend.

BASKET BALL.

Schedule and Prospects for the Coming Season.

The beginning of the winter term marked a period of increased activity in basketball circles and now the interest of the student body is centered in the development of a winning team. Manager Bittenbender has completed the schedule for the coming season and it contains some of the best teams in the collegiate world. We are fortunate this season in having a game with the University of Wisconsin. This is their first appearance in the East and they present a very strong aggregation. Allegheny, Colgate, and Dartmouth are also very strong teams and on order to win Bucknell will have to put forth every effort. This year the "Varsity" compares favorably with the teams of former years and their record promises to be a good one. Of last seasons team the following men are in line:—Capt. Cockill, Smith and Cheesman. Cockill at centre is a very fast and aggressive player and one quick to take advantages. His ability as a captain has already been demonstrated, and under his leadership the team should give good account of itself. Smith has been moved from guard to forward which gives him more opportunity to use his ability as a goal thrower. Last year he was picked by experts as the best guard in this section and there is no reason why he should not retain this reputation.

Cheesman has been on the team since entering college and has ever been a consistent player. He is playing his usual good game in practice and can be relied upon to give good account of himself. Grier and Lenhart are the new men on the team and are showing up well in practice. Taggart, Claypool and Goldsmith are good substitutes in case of accident to the regulars. With the good schedule and the prospects for a similar team it only remains for the students and their friends to lend their support and aid in order to make the season of 1905 the most successful in our basketball annals.

The following is the schedule:—

Jan. 17, Swarthmore at Lewisburg.
Jan. 18, Univ. of Wisconsin at Lewisburg.
Jan. 20, Susquehanna Univ. at Lewisburg.
Jan. 27, Gettysburg at Lewisburg.
Feb. 2, Allegheny at Lewisburg.
Feb. 9, Dickinson at Lewisburg.
Feb. 17, Lebanon Valley at Lewisburg.
Feb. 24, Williamsport at Lewisburg.
Feb. 27, Dartmouth at Lewisburg.
Mar. 3, Gettysburg at Gettysburg.
Mar. 4, Lebanon Valley at Annville.
Mar. 16, Williamsport at Williamsport.

The management of the basketball team wishes to call special attention to the admission price of the Wisconsin game. The tickets are somewhat higher in price than is usual but the visitors come here with an extra large guarantee, hence the necessity for the advance.

The game, however, will be well worth the money for the Badgers are a very fast, aggressive team and a victory over them will justify all extra expense.

As it is announced that the annual game with the Indians will not be played next fall, the management should give us a good championship game with one of the colleges in this section of the state. There is nothing like a big college game of football to stir up spirit. A game upon neutral grounds with Swathmore, Dickinson or Lehigh would be more satisfactory in every way than the Indian game ever was. Both colleges could send large contingents of students, a feature which was always absent in the Indian game. The rowdy element of Williamsport was always on hand in large numbers to back the Indians. As a result of their strenuous efforts to support the poor Redmen, frequent encounters between this element and the students occurred. The Williamsport newspaper men always represented the Bucknell followers as the aggresive party in these affairs, a thing which is entirely false. Give us a game with college men for opponents and in a city where we will have fair treatment.

With the opening of the new year and with this the first issue of our college paper in 1905 a new staff greets you. Conforming to the usual custom we will take advantage of this column to deliver our oath of office. Our aim is to make this sheet all that a college weekly should be; we hope to have it bright, crisp, and newsy, in fact representative of every phase of student life. Our method is to be one of co-operation with every member of the institution. No paper can depict college activity without the aid of the entire student body and such aid we earnestly solicit. If you know of any item concerning an undergraduate or an alumnus do not hide the fact under a bushel but speak to one of the staff so that the "elect" may rejoice in Bucknell's good cause. Whether we succeed in our aim is for you to judge. We know that we shall be criticised and are glad of it for it is only by continued buffetings that we attain things worth while. Ergo, when you have good cause rub it in and we promise to profit by your advice. In conclusion we will remind you that this is your paper so that your help is imperative to its success. We sincerely wish that the most pleasant days of the past vacation be only the fore-runners of your entire 1905.

Well, Freshmen, how did your report suit you? Are you satisfied with your past work or did the array of "defs and mods" call forth criticism from your parents? In many instances there was dissatisfaction and it is to those unfortunates that we offer a word of warning and advice, hoping that 1905 will mark a new epoch in your career and in your determination to get the most out of the course. From personal observation one finds that a great deal depends upon how a Freshman starts out on his college course. If a young man is to get the most out of his college life, it is absolutely imperative that he start out RIGHT. "Start right" should be the motto of every man during his first year in college. If a fellow does good, consistent, conscientious work during his Freshman year, then, and then only, will he feel like beginning his Sophomore year. If he follows his first year's work with an equally honest effort as a Sophomore, he will, in all probability, continue his course and be graduated with his class.

But, on the other hand, if he loafs or slights his first year he will repeat the offense next year. Then the most probable result will be that he will never graduate. He will give up in despair and disgust at the end of his Sophomore year, if indeed he does not give up at the end of his first year of college life. Now that the grades are in we want to impress upon the minds of every delinquent Freshman the great importance of starting right. The sole ambition of the Freshman should be to work hard and with great earnestness. If his Freshman year is not a success, his college life will not be a success.

We want every Freshman to be graduated in 1908. The beginning of a new term is not by any means too late to take a brace and determine to be a credit to your father's name. Don't get down in the dumps and leave college for it will always be a source of regret to you. Now is the time to prepare for your success in after life so dig down in those books and get enough ambition to stick it out the entire four years. It is now or never. So resolve to start right, carry out that resolution, and then the remainder of your student life will be filled with pleasure, profit, and satisfaction.

We are pleased to announce to our readers and advertisers that in a short time the "Orange and Blue" will be printed upon heavier and whiter paper. This change will make the type stand out bolder and the appearanee of our paper will then be in keeping with the progressing tone of the institution.

The next number of the Y. M. C. A. course will be the lecture of Col. Geo. W. Bain in the Opera House, Friday, Jan. 13. Col. Bain is well known in the literary world and comes to us well recommended as an interesting entertainer.

INSTITUTE NOTES

Mary Stanton was initiated into Pi Beta Phi, December 22.

Mary Weddle was recently initiated into Delta Delta Delta.

Edna Downing, Seminary, spent Sunday at her home in Muncy.

Miss Edith Kelly, '05, was a Huntingdon visitor during vacation.

Miss Helen Overholt, Seminary, will spent the winter with her parents in California.

Louise Brown, Seminary, is to spend the winter with friends in Atlanta, Georgia.

Irene Humphreys, of Curwensville, Pa., has entered the Institute to study music and art.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany, of Mount Pleasant, Pa., spent Sunday with their daughter, Helen Tiffany, '08.

Margaret Forgens, '05, will not return to college for the winter term owing to the illness of her mother.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES

The Underclass debating team is a recent development of class rivalry at Syracuse and U. of P.

Stevenson, the sensational quarter of Pennsylvania, attended Cornell last year but played no football on account of practice hours conflicting with engineering work.

The last issue of the "State Collegian" contains the treasurer's report for the past season in athletics. Football netted the association a credit balance of $1350, and other sports swelled the total to $2200. Rather nice nest-egg for 1905.

During the recent athletic elections at Wand J., a deadlock tied up the vote for football manager. Six ballots were taken in two days but the tally remained the same. As a compromise, the committee in charge appointed a man in no wise connected with the ticket.

The trustees of Lawrence University have refused a bequest of $100,000, from W. A. Cooper who met his death in the Iriquois Theatre Fire. The ground for their action is that the doctrines of the M. E. church do not countenance theatres, nor theatregoing, hence, money bequested under such conditions could not be accepted.

ALUMNI NOTES.

William Marsh, '04, and C. Dale Wolfe, '04, have returned to Michigan Law School.

Blanche A. Bane, '04, has had several of her literary articles accepted by Lippincotts.

Arthur J. Jones, formerly a student at Bucknell is manager of basketball at Lebanon Valley.

Roger Edwards, '04, at present employed with the Wabash R. R. in the vicinity of Pittsburg, is with us for a few days.

O. S. V. Maris, '02, former financial secretary of South Jersey Institute, has resigned to engage in insurance business at Camden, N. J.

Mid-Winter Clearance Sale.

Reduction in Coats

A clearance in Ladies' and Misses' coats is now progressing. When we tell you that it's a clearance of the very latest garments and that prices have been toned down so there is hardly any price left; we have told the whole story and told it truly. This is no "Fake" sale, but, reduced prices from the regular selling price.

We are clearing decks for our incoming spring stocks and every garment in stock to-day is just as advertised, many only one of a kind and others a line of sizes.

In broken sizes or only one of a kind you will find the greatest reduction.

If interested in any of these winter wraps come and let us show the line whether you buy or not.

Our Coats consist of a large variety of styles, different lengths and made of many different fabrics. The following is a partial list of the stock we are offering this week at these clearance prices:

First lot consists of 27 inch length coats with fitted or loose backs as follows:

A lot of Kerseys, in black, castor and tan, lined throughout, were $5.95 to $6.95 clearance price $5.00.

A lot of black zibillines regularly $5.95, clearance price $3.98.

A single lot of black montenacs $15.00 values to clear at $11.00.

Another lot of black montenacs $18.00 values to clear at $13.50.

A lot of kerseys, special values at $12.50 clearance price $8.98.

A special price on a lot of coats of which there is only one of a kind any one being a great bargain.

In three quarter length coats in loose back or regular tourist, semi-fitted and tight fitted at prices that we know will be satisfactory if you can be fitted.

A small lot of fitted backs in castor and tan $18.50 values clearance price $9.95.

A lot of semi-fitted in castor and black, $12.50 values for $9.95.

A lot of semi-fitted in castor and tan, $15.50 values for $11.0..

A small lot of Misses' coats in blue and brown, trimmed in new effects, sizes from 14 to 16 years, $12.50 values for $8.95.

One lot of odd garments only one of a style, $8.50 to $12.50 values at $5.00. Another lot of $12.00, $12.50 to $15.00 values at $7.50.

A lot of short fitted jackets, last season's goods, placed on a table and to be sold at $1.50 each mercerized and silk lined.

Clearance in Lamps.

A few handsome Decorated Lamps left from the holiday trade which will be closed out at a sacrifice and offer a small lot that were good sellers at $2.50 for $1.98.

CLASS BANQUETS.

Freshman and Sophomore Functions Very Enjoyable.

The season for class banquets has come and gone but without any of the excitement and rivalry which is usually so plentiful. The Freshmen held their celebration in Wilkesbarre on Monday; the Sophomores assembled in Williamsport on Tuesday. The banquets transpired with scarcely a ripple in college life. As class functions, both were very enjoyable and the committees in charge acquitted themselves with credit.

The Freshmen, by going to Wilkesbarre, set a new long distance record for future classes. To the newspapers in that section the advent of an entire college class was something new and all came out with lengthy articles. The version of the Scranton Times is interesting:—

"About one hundred students of the Freshmen class of Bucknell University of Lewisburg, Pa., arrived in town yesterday over the Pennsylvania Railroad at 1 o'clock and repaired to the Wyoming Valley Hotel, where the class banquet was held in the evening.

The toastmaster was the president of the class, Donald A. Steele, of Washington, Pa., who introduced the speakers. The following were the toasts:

The Round Table ..Adaline Wheeler
The Wise Guys .....Rockwell Cole
Friends in Need .... David H. Bluns
Reply ....Thomas B. Powell, '06
To Have and to Hold .....
.... Louis N. Rhinour
Sturdy and Strong ....Dana Bower
Warriors Bold .... Holmes A. Frank
A Ladder of Swords..... .....
.... Harry C. Gardiner
Children of the Frost..H. M. Walter
Hail Alma Mater....Stephen Duncan
Veiled in Shadows ..... May Jones
Class Poem .... Ethel May Flanagan

The total number of this class is 158, but of this number only 100 were able to be present. There were only a few students present from this locality, the majority being from other sections of the State and neighboring States.

The class came to Wilkesbarre to hold its banquet because of the novelty of the trip, but the principal reason was that they feared the banquet would be interrupted by the other class men of the university if they were to hold it nearer home.

The Sophomores, as it was, did hear of the preparations to come to this city and an effort was made to kidnap the president, Donald A. Steele, but the members of the class sent him to Scranton on Sunday, where he remained over night, coming to Wilkesbarre yesterday.

When the Sophomores learned that their "bird had flown" they did the next best thing and succeeded in kidnaping the chairman of the banquet committee. He was taken back in the country and was not liberated until the Freshmen succeeded in kidnaping three members of the Sophomore class, including the president. The Sophomores agreed to liberate the chairman provided their president and fellow students were released, which was done."

Banquet committee: Victor B. Luchsinger, West Pittston; Harly L. Dunbar, Gloversville, N. Y.; Louis N. Ridenour, Scranton; John W. Cure, Scranton; Daniel R. Weber, Philadelphia; H. W. Walter, Harrisburg; Harry C. Gardner, McKeesport, Pa."

The Junior class was represented by Wynn, Wheeler, Powell, Hoon, Thompson, Claypool and Hennessy.

The second annual banquet of the class of 1907 occurred in Williamsport, Tuesday evening, Jan. 10th. The Park Hotel of that place was in preparation for the event and the corridors decorated in the class colors presented quite a pleasing appearance. Throughout the day the hotel was thronged with the members of the class who enjoyed the novelty of the occasion and the freedom from work. At six o'clock the "vessels" of the class, accompanied by Miss Slifer, arrived, and their presence added quite a gay tone to the assembly. Shortly before nine o'clock the promonade began in the ball room and after the usual figures were completed the class marched to the banquet tables. The room itself was tastefully draped with red and blue bunting. The lower end was exceptionally attractive, being arranged with banked palms from behind which the orchestra of Stopper and Fisk discoursed music during the several courses of the menu. The cuisine of the hotel was without a flaw and the service in keeping with the general appointments. After a flash light had been taken P. G. Cober, acting as toastmaster, introduced, in the most pleasant manner, the speakers of the evening who responded with humor and sentiments to the delight of their hearers.

The toasts of the evening were:

The Professors ..... Jonathan Wolfe
The Seniors ..... .W. W. Raker
Edwards, Bush & Co ..Ruth Jones
The Freshies .... Gordon Evans
The Hill ....E. M Fassett
The Creeds ..... .C. A. Lemmon
The Past ..... Harvard Griffith
Oratory ..... .P. C. Andrews
The Gentlemen ..... .Vera E. Duncan
The Future..... .....C. E. Brockway
"Lest We Forget" ... ..S. H. Smith

Each speaker deserves praise for the success of the toasts as their work showed especial preparation. A noteworthy feature of the evening was the distribution of pieces of the Freshmen class flag.

Committee: McCall, Leach, Miner, Hall, Martin, Cober, and Baker.

College Day of Prayer

Announcement has been made that the date of College Day of Prayer has been changed from January 19, to Thursday, January 26. As usual there will be appropriate exercises this year, under the leadership of A. S. Hobart, of Crozier Theological Seminary. In the morning service will be conducted in the Baptist Church with general meetings in the afternoon and evening in Bucknell Hall. As class room work is suspended for the day attendance at one of these meetings is expected.

End Men Chosen.

At the meeting of candidates for the Minstrels, Friday evening, the work of practice was outlined and definite plans made for rehearsals. The music committee has about completed the selection of chorus numbers and the times are bright and snappy. The end-men chosen are: Cooper, Fry, Caruthers, McCain, Godshall, Evans, Grimminger, Hennessy, and Bayer.

NEW BUILDING FOR BUCKNELL

To Be 128 x 40 Feet and Three Stories Above Basement.

The Board of Trustees of Bucknell University, in view of the fact that about one hundred students were turned away last year for lack of accommodations, decided at their recent meeting to erect in time for the opening of the school year, Sept. 22, 1905, an additional building for women. The new structure will be built opposite the Van Gundy residence and will have a front of one hundred and twenty-eight feet, and a depth of forty feet. It will be three stories above basement, and offer accommodations for sixty students. Work will be started at once.

New Manager for Shamokin.

After a trial season demonstrating that inter-town base ball is well supported in Shamokin, the boyers of the sport have decided to put a strong team in the field for 1905. To that end, the Shamokin Traction Co., which is backing the enterprise has selected a well known Bucknell man to take charge G. W. Cockill, '05, is the new captain-manager. No comments need be made concerning Cockill's abilities for the position. The record of his achievements in our college sports is sufficient; well known as an athlete world to afford him an easy introduction to the office and justify the management in their selection. During the college with the class of 1905 Cockill has ever been a potent factor in our sports. Four years of football, three years of baseball, an equal period of basketball, with minor honors on the track is an enviable record. In his new field Cockill should meet with success. A captain manager with native business ability supplemented with good records both in the field and at the bat prophesies well for the coming season at Edgewood Park.

GEORGE W. COCKILL.

Junior Promenade.

Chairman C. M. McCormick, of the Junior Prom. Committee, has about completed arrangements for the annual class dance and announces Friday, Feb. 3, as the date. From the present outlook, the affair promises to be a success in every way as the members of the class are taking decided interest in the preparations. The musical numbers will be rendered by 10 pieces of the Germania Orchestra of Lock Haven, an organization virtually unknown in Lewisburg, but it comes to us highly recommended in the northern sections. As there has been a dearth of formal functions so far this season the coming dance will undoubtedly eclipse those of former years.

Inter-Class Games.

The season of Varsity basketball being now near at hand, class spirit is showing itself in a marked activity in the same line. Interest is being manifested in the coming interclass contests and the respective teams are practicing every evening. Daily several men from each class take a turn as the "Scrub" so that by the time that the first games are scheduled the teams will be in the best of shape. Last year the games were all hotly contested and likely this year a similar condition will prevail. At present the class of 1905 holds the championship having defeated all other teams in the games of last season. The class of 1907 finished second; 1904 finished third and 1906 stood at the bottom of the list. This year 1905 will again present a strong team having four and possibly five Varsity men in the line up. The Juniors will have practically the same team as last year. The Sophs will be much strengthened by Wagner, who entered college last fall, and who is now making a good fight for Varsity. The Freshman contingent is an unknown quantity but with Morris and Baldwin as a nucleus they should develope a fast, aggressive team. Freshman class spirit runs high, consequently the under-class game will be full of snap and ginger from start to finish.

Jan. 24, Senior-Sophomore, afternoon.
Jan. 31 Junior-Freshmen, afternoon.
Feb. 6, Senior-Freshman, afternoon.
Feb 13, Junior-Sophomore, afternoon.
Mar. 8 Senior-Junior, night.
Mar. 12, Sophomore-Freshman, night.

Recent Alumni Success

Blanche Alice Bane, '01, has just accepted a very promising position. She is to be assistant editor to Dr. Bluckall, the chief editor for the Young People's Publication of Baptist Publication Society.

A book of vocal music, published by a Chicago firm, is the recent composition of Mary E. Harris, '91. The book includes three numbers. "Madrigal," "Birds Voices" and "If Only Dreams Abide." They are simple little lyrics of exquisite tone and harmony and reflect much credit on the composer.

Dr. Harvey F. Smith, '91, was elected president of the Harrisburg Athletic Club last Monday evening after the sharpest fight in the history of the club. Dr. Smith received 152 votes and his opponent 110. The campaign, which brought out the largest attendance on record, was waged with all the activity of a political struggle. Carriages and automobiles were pressed into service to get the vote out, but the best of good spirit prevailed. The Harrisburg Republican Club burned red lights from their windows when the election of Pres. Smith was announced.

Harvey Fund Grows.

The subscriptions to the Harvey fund already amount to $116. The students are earnestly requested to give their support to this fund in order that $200 may be sent to Harvey this year.

HENRY IRIC BUDD

Prominent Alumnus of the University Passes Away.

Nearing the close of a ten years' term of service of his State as Commissioner of Roads, Henry Iric Budd died Saturday morning at his home in Mt. Holly, N. J., after a lingering illness. To him New Jersey owes much of her reputation for highways that are unsurpassed in the country.

Henry I. Budd was born March 21, 1850, on the Budd homestead farm in Southampton township. His ancestor was one of the original locators of lands in the province of West New Jersey, obtaining proprietary rights from William Penn.

Aside from agricultural, he manifested his taste for and took an active interests in educational and other pursuits, and for a number of years acted as president of the Burlington County Agricultural Society, president of the Mt. Holly, Lumberton and Medford Railroad, vice-president, trustee and curator of the Burlington County Lyceum of History and Natural Sciences, secretary of the Burlington County Board of Agricultural and secretary of the State Horticultural Society. He was also a member of other literary and agricultural organizations.

During the last decade Mr. Budd had devoted his exclusive attention to securing better roads for the state, having been appointed State Road Commissioner in May, 1895, by Governor Wert. He was an enthusiast on this subject, and during his administration, under the State aid law, there were constructed 1000 miles of stone roads. His term of office would have expired this year. He had been reappointed by Governors Griggs, Voorhees and Murphy.

Henry Iric Budd received his B. S. from Bucknell, graduating with the class of '57.

Games Canceled

There will be no basketball at Bucknell this week.

The dance scheduled for Wednesday evening has been canceled. The Westerners give as their reason the late arrival of the male contingent of their number.

This morning at Allentown was received from Swarthmore calling off the game booked for tomorrow evening on account of injuries received in the Princeton & Yale ball game on Saturday.

The game with Susquehanna has been postponed by the management.

Faculty Promotions.

At the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees, Joseph Meixell Wolfe, A. M., Floyd George Ballentine, A. M., Charles Arthur Lindemann, A. M., Ph. D., Frank Morton Simpson, A. M., and Paul Emil Wolfhaause, A. M., instructors, were appointed assistant professors in their several lines of work.

1906 L'Agenda.

The editor of the 1906 L'Agenda requests that all groups, individual cuts, class histories and poems, especially those of the Senior and Junior classes be handed in not later than Jan. 23, as the first 150 pages go to press shortly after that date.

The announcement of a new building for College Women, coming as it does when the Library is still under course of construction, suggests two very important considerations. To other colleges and to the world at large it betokens that we are growing; that our numbers are so increasing that we must expand. To the students and the friends of the University it again offers evidence of what manner of administrators we have at our head. There was a time, some fifteen years ago, when our buildings were but five in number and our collegiate student body could be enumerated with two figures; a time when we were regarded as a struggling institution back in the wilds of Central Pennsylvania. All that is history now and in the face of our remarkable progress we are proud of our inauspicious inception. The last fifteen years have been brilliant ones for Bucknell. The student body has grown from less than one hundred until now it is over seven hundred; the courses have trebled and the instructors doubled; Four buildings have been erected and two will be thrown open during the coming year. Compare the activity and growth at Bucknell with the efforts the other Pennsylvania colleges are making to stay in our class and you will readily see where we stand in the collegiate world. We are alive and the people at large are recognizing the patent fact. Slow, untiring efforts have told and will continue to tell for we are as yet in the transitional stage. The future holds much, that is good, in store for Bucknell. An institution located in Central Pennsylvania must and will not be ignored. The colleges, that ten years ago regarded us as an upstart, are beginning to open their eyes and hustle lest their one-time prestige be lost. We wish them success. Meanwhile we will press silently onward, striking out the old; assimilitating the new, ever adding to the magnificent structure of which we are permitted to be a part. Be thankful that on your diploma will be the "Sigillum Universitatis Bucknellensis."

Have you got the grouch habit? Come out of it. Think not of the manner of your coming, but come quickly. This good, old world has no place for such a warped nature, nor has our student body room for the man ever ready to ply the hammer. If ever a fellow deserves the commiseration of his associates, its the grouch. We all meet him whether it be on a stroll over the campus or while enjoying the peace pipe in our study. He exists and flourishes right in our midst. He is the fellow who wears blue glasses lest the bright side of life injure his vision. Originally he was a good sort to have around but he seems to have developed a bond-holder's digestion, or become a slave to the "blues." No matter what the course of his evolution, he came in edgewise and in the scuffle has got completely turned around. Were you ever in a room when the grouch entered? Like putting ice down your back. Whether you are talking of the good days of the past, or are enthusiastically discussing plans for the future the face of that fellow looms up larger and larger until his cynical grin fills the entire room. Kind of rubs against the fur. This, however, is not the worst phase. The habit injures the grouch but he cannot see it. What pleasure can there be in life when everything seems topsy-turvy?

What incentive is there for a fellow to work when the days are all black and the future in a haze? Verily Pandora did not even leave Hope for that fellow's portion in life. His good days are all in the past and just so is his life on the homeward stretch. He is in the elevator that is always going down. Come out of it,—stick your head in a cold shower bath; eat baled breakfast food; or try the Swoboda System, in fact, do anything, but for your own sake shake off that crabid, unnatural state of mind before it becomes a part of your nature. Enjoy the beauties of this life while you may. Turn yourself around and see the good that your fellow men are doing. Be thankful that you are alive and have good sound limbs and a healthy body. The time will then speedily come when your gaze will be fixed upon the stars and the eternal harmony of creation dawn upon you. The incongruities of life will dwindle away and finally become merely the background that reveals the possibilities in your existence. Be positive instead of negative for consciousness of victory wins battles before they are fought. Don't be a grouch.

This week we present to you the Orange and Blue in it's new dress. We think in appearance it is somewhat better than in former years and hope that our ideas of beauty coincide with yours. In material it is much the same as usual but we hope to improve. We thank the students and advertisers, whose support has made the change possible.

One good feature of the Freshman banquet this year is the free advertising that our University received in the vicinity of Scranton. We should draw more students from that region and the recent notoriety attained may do much toward accomplishing that end.

Institute Gossip

Helen Tiffany, '08, has left college owing to a protracted illness.

Sadie Burgess, of Kentucky, has has re-entered the Seminary for the remainder of the year.

Mrs. Llewllyn Phillips, '01, and her guest Lila Long, '03, of Williamsport, took dinner with their frate ity sisters Saturday night.

Mrs. Larrison's many friends are glad to welcome her again to her old Seminary home. She expects to spend several weeks with Lewisburg friends.

Academy Notes

Prof. Thomas entertained his sister during the past week.

The hour of the Academy chapel exercises has been changed from 8 a. m. to 9 a. m.

A movement has been started to arrange for the annual reception at the Academy.

Klerx, a former day student from Sunbury, has taken up his residence in East Hall.

A challenge for a debate was received from the Philogy Literary Society from Bloomsburg Normal School.

Wiant delivered an address at a banquet given by Knights of Pythias, in Northumberland, on Friday evening.

Manager King of the basketball team was compelled to cancel all the scheduled games, owing to lack of interest among the boys and also lack of room in the Gymnasium for practice.

The Caliopean Literary Society had its first meeting on Friday evening, but owing to the Y. M. C. A. lecture, the program was necessarily short. Mr. Gatehouse had an excellent essay on Demosthenes.

Scissors

After a lapse of two years, Central Pennsylvania College, at New Berlin, has been revived as Union Seminary.

William J. Bryan, Jr., has been suspended from his class in Lincoln Academy. The boy had some trouble with an instructor and refused to apologize.

The captain of Dickinson's football squad for 1905 is Paul J. Davis. It will be remembered by those who witnessed the State-Dickinson that the playing of Davis, at tackle was one of the sensational features. The new captain is 6-1 in height and tips the scales at 204 pounds.

CURE'S CONDITION

What They Are Doing in the College Infirmary.

John W. Cure, '08, was exposed to a case of smallpox in its primary stage during the Christmas vacation, and on Jan. 15th, developed symptoms of the same disease. Cure was in the best of health up until Thursday when he began to complain and on Sunday his condition was such as to require the attendance of a physician. Dr. Gundy was called and at once had consultation with Dr. G. G. Groff who pronounced the case as a mild attack of varioloid. The proper authorities were at once notified and as soon as the town hospital could be made ready Cure was taken from his room in East Wing and quarantined under a strict guard. Dr. T. C. Thornton of the Borough Board of Health and Dr. Groff of the State Board of Health immediately began the work of disinfection and all rooms and clothing of persons in any manner exposed were thoroughly fumigated with formaldehyde. As a further precaution, notices were posted that all students should be vaccinated and that work has been going on all week. Some outside newspapers have been making much of the excitement that attended the announcement of the malady but any such reports are for the most part false. The entire student body has maintained the best of order and dicipline. Five men who were in contact with Cure on Friday have refrained from intimate association with the rest of the students and Coon, '08, the afflicted man's room-mate has been quarantined the past week and will remain under surveillance until Jan. 29th. No regular students have left college and the three or four day scholars who have been absent the past week are apparently making the most of opportunities for a vacation. On Saturday a visit was made to the municipal hospital. This building is the property of the town and is located at the extreme end of the street running at right angles from University Avenue at the railroad. It is a two story frame structure, formerly used as a dwelling house but in its new capacity it has fallen into decay. On the day when it was first put into commission there were no windows nor doors and it required the services of four men working until late that night to make it available for use. Cure occupies the double room which constitutes the upper story and is under the care of Drumheiser, the janitor of West College. Drumheiser makes an excellent nurse, having been employed by the government in the late war for a similar purpose. From a distance a conversation was held with Cure and aside from the confinement he reports that he does not suffer much. On Saturday the disease was in its critical stage and the sufferer was able to come to the window so that probably all serious danger is past. Cure expressed that he was extremely sorry for the trouble he has caused and feels somewhat humiliated. He eats anything except pork and is very grateful to the students and ladies of the town who have been daily sending him many delicacies. At present the occupants are out of reading matter and any surplus of this material will be much appreciated. The general conditions point toward a speedy recovery.

Senior Class Meeting

The Senior class, after numerous attempts, held a meeting in Chapel this morning and President Goodman outlined the work of the year.

The deficiency of Manager Cheeseman in the L'Agenda accounts was discussed and it is understood that all outstanding bills against the manager shall be liquidated by the class. No definite action was taken in the matter but all members owing back dues are requested to settle with Treasurer Tiffany in order to pay for this year's inserts.

A motion was carried to hold a Senior sleigh ride and a committee will be appointed later.

Lesher moved that the class present a memorial to the college and the motion carried.

The choice of suitable designs was delegated to a committee which will report at the next meeting.

The class play committee was appointed and consists of Morton, Smiley, Cooper, Bittenbender, McCauley, Goodman, Miss Goddard and Miss Braddock.

Notable Addition to the Library.

Among the recent additions to the Library, is a sketch of the life of late Col. Henry Martyn Boies, of Scranton, Col. Boies was a public spirited citizen, an author and a student of penology. The sketch, which is a compilation of the memories of some twenty different men, is well worth reading and was sent here at the request of Gen. James A. Beaver. Another addition comes from the University of Chicago in the form of the first series of The Decennial Publications. These books are ten in number and contain all research work carried on at the University in the past decade. The second volume of the second series is the work of a Bucknell graduate, Ralph C. H. Caterall, '91, and is an exhaustive history of the Second National Bank.

Concert in the Opera House.

The Catherine Ridgeway Company is booked as the next entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. course. As will doubtless be remembered this was one of the most enjoyable and highly praised numbers in last year's course, consequently a large attendance is expected. Miss Ridgeway and her company will appear in the opera house next Wednesday night and the pleasant memories of her previous visit should be sufficient advertisement to the student body and townspeople. Tickets will be for sale at nine o'clock on Tuesday morning at Baker's Drug Store.

Bucknell Man With Lebanon.

Karl C. Prichard, a former well-known athlete of Bucknell, has been signed for the coming season by the Lebanon Tri-State Team. After leaving Bucknell, Prichard played on the football and baseball teams of Lafayette and the University of Virginia. Two years ago he was selected by Casper Whitney in "Outing" for the pitching staff of the All American baseball team.

CHAPEL PORTRAITS

History of Howard Malcom, D. D., LL. D.

The portrait on the right in the Chapel is that of Howard Malcom, D. D., LL. D., the first president of Bucknell. He was born in Philadelphia, Jan. 19th, 1799, and was of Scotch decent in his father's and of Welsh on his mother's side. He was educated at Dickinson College and Princeton Theological Seminary. He expected to devote his life to business and part of his early life was spent in such pursuits. In 1816, he was converted and in 1818, was licensed to preach by the Sansom street Church. In 1820, he was ordained and became pastor of the church in Hudson, N. Y. In 1826, he became first general agent of the American Sunday School Union, a society which was formed by the various denominations to establish Sunday Schools in the United States, and which has gathered into organized Sunday Schools more than five millions of scholars. He was one of the founders of the American Tract Society, which has disposed of its publications more than thirty million volumes and more than two thousand million pages of tracts. In 1827, Dr. Malcom became pastor of the Federal Street Church, Boston, when his success was very great. At this time he published his "Bible Dictionary," of which more than a quarter million copies were sold. He also published at this time a work on the "Extent of the Atonement," and another on the "Christian Rule of Marriage." In 1835, his health failed and he was compelled to give up his pastorate. He spent two years in visiting the various mission fields, unifying labors of the missionaries in their various fields, and published upon his return a volume of six hundred pages containing the results of his observations which immediately became a standard both in this country and Great Britain.

In 1840, Dr. Malcom became president Georgetown College, Kentucky, and in 1851, of the new University at Lewisburg. Here he served six years, when he resigned and spent the remaining years of his life in literary labors. The most important work was the "Index to Theological Literature" issued in 1869, embracing references by subject to the vast body of English and European Literature showing a range of reading that has few parallels.

Dr. Malcom died in Philadelphia in 1879, a man of whom it was fittingly said, "It would be difficult to name any good cause to which his heart had not been given."

Kappa Sigma Entertains.

On Saturday the members of Kappa Sigma entertained their friends at a chicken and waffle supper. In the afternoon the party, numbering thirty-two drove to Mifflinburg and stopped at the Young House where extensive preparations had been made for their reception. After a very enjoyable repast, the members and their friends spent the remainder of the evening at cards and dancing, returning late that night. Socially the affair was a marked success.

Subjects for Junior and Senior Theses are now due.

Ten Largest Universities

The ten Universities in the United States having the largest attendance are: Harvard, 5393; Columbia, 4833; Chicago, 4580; Northwestern, 4007; Michigan, 4000; Cornell, 3482; Wisconsin, 3151. In number of instructors they rank as follows; Harvard, 552; Columbia, 551; Cornell, 435; Illinois, 402; Chicago, 361; Yale, 330; Pennsylvania, 316; Northwestern, 302; Michigan, 292; Minnesota, 290. In endowment the first ten are: Leland Stanford, $20,000,000; Harvard, $16,755,000; Columbia, $15,247,000; Chicago $9,794,000; Cornell, $8,020,000; Yale $7,225,000; Northwestern, $5,595,000; Washington, (St. Louis,) $5,000,000; Johns Hopkins, $4,500,000; Pennsylvania, $4,360,000.

Game with Gettysburg Canceled.

The basketball management has been compelled to cancel the game with Gettysburg scheduled for Friday evening. This action was made necessary by recent developments, and while much regretted is cheerfully acquiesed in as being a reasonable precaution. The inter-class game to have been played this afternoon has been called off.

A Letter from Harvey.

The friends of Charles W. Harvey, Y. M. C. A. secretary to China, will be pleased to hear that he has almost completely recovered from a severe attack of appendicitis. He reports excellent progress in his language study, despite the fact that the work was carried on in bed for fourteen weeks, and was much broken into by his duties.

Junior Promenade Postponed.

On account of unavoidable conflicts in dates the committee in charge of the Junior Prom has been compelled to postpone the dance from Feb. 3 until Mar. 3. This change of date is much regretted by those in charge as arrangements were about completed for the former day.

DETAILS OF NEW BUILDING

To be Ready for Occupancy at the Opening of Next College Year.

The new cottage for women, at Bucknell upon which work has been begun, is intended to meet a pressing emergency and not to take the place of the larger building for women to be constructed facing on Sixth Street and in a line with Bucknell Cottage. This building will be the chief architectural feature of the block of buildings on Sixth and St. George Streets. The proposed structure, which has just been authorized, is in a line with South Hall, erected in 1869, and will form one side of the quadrangle. The building will have a front of one hundred and twenty-eight feet, and a depth of forty feet, rising three stories above the basement, which will be entirely above ground. The three stories will contain seventy-four rooms, and will accommodate sixty students. In arrangement the rooms will differ radically from the present system. There will be no suites, nor will there be any connections other than a door opening into the central hall. Each floor will be provided with a bath room. The building will be of a style of architecture similar to West College, and the material is pressed brick with trimmings of either blue or grey stone, the whole presenting a handsome and imposing exterior. The interior will be finished in hard wood, and will be warmed and lighted from the central plant on the campus. A. E. Burpee, '01, who is superintending the construction of the Library, will have charge of the work. The building will be ready for use by the opening of the school year September 21, 1905.

Dr. Harris the Guest of Honor.

The Bucknell Alumni Association of Scranton and vicinity, W. M. Bunnell, Esq., President, will hold a banquet on Friday evening, Feb.

W. M. BUNNELL.

10th, at the Hotel Jermyn, Scranton. President Harris will be the guest of honor. Prof. John E. Williams, of Oliphant, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The January Mirror.

The "Bucknell Mirror" for January comes out today and the issue is very complete. It is for the most part of the work of undergraduates and the articles are worth while. A history of the members of '93, '94, and '99 forms the Alumni notes.

Editorial

Nothing is more valuable in fostering a true college spirit than an assemblage of some kind in which every student may take part. At such meetings enthusiasm seems to be contagious, and even the most staid and sober among us become infected with it. Class meetings, club meetings, and the like, are more beneficial to the spirit of the organizations in proportion as they are frequent and the same may be said to apply to college gatherings. Here at Bucknell there is a lamentable lack of this communion of spirit, and we are led to ask the reason. In the first place we think the percentage of fraternity men in college is entirely too small to successfully foster this spirit. As conditions are to-day only one man in every eight or nine belongs to a Greek Letter organization, and the natural and logical outcome is that they are very exclusive in interests. Not that this can be cited as a criticism to the existing fraternities, for common sense fixes a limit to their membership, but it shows that on account of numbers they cannot have wide enough a range of acquaintances to be interested in the student body as a whole.

Not until this existing proportion rises can we hope to have a proper amount of enthusiasm displayed. A second reason is that too many of our students have their hobbies, instead of attempting to realize that ideal of the college man, a well rounded character. One fellow thinks that it is his sole duty to uphold literary work; another, athletics; a third, our social life, and each is zealous for his own department. As a result the different classes have no interest in common which would lead them to co-operate. This over-development of one side of a man is bad in itself, in that it is likely to cause him to disregard the value of every other phase of activity; but its worst result is that it divides the students into groups, every one deriding the worth of the others. It might be said that athletic contests, in which there is strong rivalry, will remedy this neglected side of our college life, but in our opinion this assertion is superficial. In our most heated games, we all know that every wave of general enthusiasm has for its undertow the work of cliques. This bunch of fellows will not cheer because an antagonist is leading; another crowd fails to rise in response to the call because the meritorious player belongs to a rival organization. This is a fact and we all see it in our every day life, therefore should we strive the more to eradicate the conditions which bring this about. The real seat of trouble is not in lack of rivalry but in existing conditions.

A noticable feature connected with the late banquet of the Freshman and Sophomore classes, was the interest taken by the upper-classmen. It is an open question to what extent Juniors and Seniors should meddle in these affairs. It is a matter of college tradition that the Seniors are to be partial to the Sophomores and the Juniors to the Freshmen, also that the older classes should endeavor to set examples of dignity and gentlemanliness to the younger students. The Juniors at the opening of each year should see to it that the new class is organizd and "put wise" to the part they are expected to take in class affairs. But is it consistent with the freedom and deference of an upper-classman to lead hazing parties; to escort the Freshmen about the town to tear down posters; and to take up the management of strictly class business when the regular committees are unable to meet with the difficulties? All these things have happened this Fall at Bucknell and apparently excited no comment. Every upper-classman should always be ready to give advice to the new men, but to appear openly is certainly degrading to the dignity and impartiality that the older men should possess in college life. An upper-classman should always conduct himself in such a manner as to command respect.

We have been sorely tempted this week. When the basketball games were canceled the front page looked as large as a Sunday edition and the staff had to shuffle out on the highways.

Friday night was prolific with doings of a "yaller" class: a street car riot; the Clover Club Dance; the bout betwen Academy and Lochiel and a Freshman pursued by a desperate man with two knives.

We have suppressed all this in the interests of those concerned but we are open for "hush money."

Communicated.

For same years past our institution nas suffered a loss in not having inter-collegiate debates. All the benefits of college athletic contests to the student body and to the University, we believe would obtain from debates, in fact there would be additional benefits from the contests in the intellectual sphere as above the physical. We have ample material in college for such contests, and if it be said that the material is undeveloped, we maintain that any deficiency is largely due to the absence of the inter-collegiate debate. A victory on the rostrum is surely as great as one on the campus, and a merited defeat is no disgrace at all. We believe there is an urgent need for resuming inter-collegiate debates at Bucknell. V. Sem Gossip

Claire Baillie, Seminary, will not return for the winter term.

Margaret Love and Edna Downing spent Sunday at their homes in Muncy.

Mrs. Charles A. Gundy was a guest for dinner at the Senior table, on Tuesday night.

Mrs. John H. Harris had dinner with Mrs. Larrison at the Seminary on Friday night.

President and Mrs. John H. Harris were at the Seminary chapel on Thursday evening.

Carolyn Ossler, of Picture Rocks, spent a short time with Seminary friends on Friday.

Thursday night, many of the girls enjoyed the "cod-fish supper" at the home of Mrs. Wendel.

On Thursday, Florence L. Bacon, '06, was called to her home in Canton, Pa., on account of the death of her grandmother.

Mr. Tiffany spent Sunday with his daughter Helen Tiffany, '08. She is just recovering from an attack of appendicitis, and will leave college for the rest of the term, as soon as her condition permits.

Wednesday afternoon and evening, the Senior Sems enjoyed a sleigh ride to several of the small adjoining towns. Before returning to the Seminary, they had a delicious supper at Mrs. Huth's.

The Senior Seminary class has organized with the following officers: President, Jeanette Wolfe, Vice President, Margaret Stoughton; Treasurer, Elizabeth Baker; Secretary, Julia Brown; Historian, Laura Sharp; Poet, Mary Brown. The class will probably consist of about sixteen members. The class colors are red and green; the flower is the red rose.

The New York Tribune has offered a prize of $25 for the best essay not exceeding eight hundred words in length, setting forth the benefits which result to colleges and to the student body from college fraternities, and another prize of $25 for the best similar essay against college fraternities.

It is likely that the Western University of Pennsylvania will soon be moved from the suburbs of Allegheny to Pittsburg, adjacent to the new Carnegie Technical School, which is now in course of construction. For this purpose, fifty acres of ground are being secured at a cost of several million dollars.

Of the Yale freshmen class of three hundred and thirty-one, the report of the medical examiner shows that a hundred and forty-one smoke, a hundred and two wear glasses and twelve have been ordered to wear them, a hundred and thirty-four have never had gymnastic training, forty-six cannot swim, and a hundred and ninety-six have been in athletics. The average weight is a hundred and thirty-six pounds.

President Atherton announces that Mr. Andrew Carnegie has donated to The Pennsylvania State College the sum of $25,000 as the endowment of a Beneficiary fund, the annual interest on which at five per cent. is to be used for the aid of deserving and promising students, in such manner as the Board of Trustees may direct; and that Mrs. Carnegie has donated the like sum of $25,000 the annual interest on which at five per cent. is to be expended for the maintenance of scholarships to be awarded as the Trustees may direct.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JANUARY 30, 1905 No. 16

BASEBALL PROSPECTS

Men Who Will Compose The Team the Coming Season.

With the spring term a short two months off the call for baseball and track candidates will soon be issued.

Manager Goodman has completed the baseball schedule and submitted it to the advisory board for approval.

So far as can be learned it is made up of teams that have in the past either defeated or given Bucknell a hard run for victory, hence the season of 1905 should be an interesting one.

Last year spring practice was greatly interfered with by the condition of the weather which caused the team to be slow in rounding into shape. It was not until late in the season that the able coaching of "Pete" Agthat the able coaching of "Pete" Agnew began to manifest itself and the team struck its best gait.

A succession of victories over Lehigh, Lebanon Valley, Williamsport, Carlisle Indians, and Bloomsburg Normal gave Bucknell a standing among the leading college teams.

The shutting out of Lehigh and the defeat of Williamsport were perhaps the most notable performances as both teams were confident of victory but were unable to solve Weaver's masterly pitching.

The fielding in these games was also gilt edge.

Of last year's team Teufel, Deats, Blair, Drake and Weaver will be missing. The two former having graduated and the three latter are attending school elsewhere.

The loss of "Ginger" Teufel will be greatly felt as he has been a member of the 'Varsity team for several years, and had gained the confidence of his team mates to such an extent that his presence alone added strength.

Blair and Deats both played brilliantly in the field and both were especially strong at the bat. Their loss is much to be regretted.

Drake and Weaver were the main stays of the pitching department and their absence will require the development of a new corp of pitchers.

Of the 1905 team little will be known until all the candidates who are out for the team have reported.

The infield with the exception of catcher will be the same as in 1904.

Capt. Cockill will cover first base, Smith, second, Grimminger third, and Heinz short stop.

He has had considerable experience in that line having caught one year for Kiskiminetas and two years for the All-Scholastics of Pittsburg, a team composed of the best Prep school players in that vicinity.

He posesses an arm which few base runners take liberties with.

The out field positions are all to be filled with new men and Capt. Cockill expects to find no difficulty in obtaining good material from the nucleus at hand.

The bulk of the pitching will fall on Parsons, who made such an enviable record during the latter part of last season.

He will be assisted by August, '07, of last year's scrub team.

Some others who will try for the position of pitcher are Whittaker, '06 and Ball, '08.

The late improvements to the athletic field have placed it among the best and the loss of games either by the visitors or Bucknell can not be attributed to an inferior diamond.

Allegheny Game Canceled.

The opening basketball game of the season is still an uncertainty. Allegheny, which was scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 2, has been unconditionally canceled and Manager Bittenbender has been endeavoring for the past few days to fill the vacant date. An effort is being made to have Susquehanna here for Friday or Saturday night but in case no contest can be arranged with these people Ashland will in all likelihood play the game. The cancelation with Allegheny resulted from a disagreement over the choice of officials and the terms of guarantee. It will be remembered by those who witnessed the game last year that Mayo, the Meadville College's referee, alternated with Coach Hoskins and then there was some talk of partiality in decisions. This year Allegheny made the demand that Mayo referee the entire game. Our management refused to make the concession but consented to secure any neutral party from Dickinson, State or Gettysburg. In this way matters stood until this week when a letter was received stating that their advisory committee had decided to call off the game. The game scheduled with Dickinson for Feb. 9th, has been postponed until Feb. 11th.

Alumni Banquets.

Preparations are now about complete for the banquet to be held at the Hotel Jermyn, Scranton, on Friday evening, Feb. 10, in honor of President Harris. Those taking an active part in the arrangements are meeting with much success and the affair promises to be attended by a large contingent of Bucknell graduates. The Committee in charge of the banquet consists of Willard M. Bunnell, '97, President; J. S. Wrightnour, '69, Secretary; Elkanah Hulley, Sr., '92; J. U. Wagner, '92; E. K. Thomas, '93; James R. Hughes, '94; D. E. Lewis, '96; P. L. Williams, '97; A. W. Geary, '98; J. E. Williams, '02; C. W. Tiffany, '03; and A. F. Dershimer, '03. The Orange and Blue has received an invitation and a personal letter from this committee requesting that a representative of the various classes in the University be present at the banquet and efforts are being made in that direction.

The Philadelphia Association of Bucknell graduates will hold their annual dinner some time during the coming month.

Theta Delta Tau Initation.

As is customary about this time in the Winter term, the pledglings of Theta Delta Tau, Sophomore Fraternity, were put through the usual stunts on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The costumes worn on these days excited considerable merriment on the hill and the dress parade on Market street was much enjoyed by a large portion of the town and college. The annual banquet was held on Wednesday evening at Lochiel Tavern out on the Pike. The evening was the coldest of the year and the party experienced considerable difficulty in reaching their destination on account of the heavy snow. The drifts became so deep during the night that a return home was impossible until Thursday. Those initiated were: Leach, August, Fassett, Baer, Andrews, Godshall and Lemmon all of 1907.

TROLLEY INCIDENT

Authoritative Statement Certified to by Attorneys.

The three students charged with disorderly conduct and assault and battery, on the trolley car from Milton on Friday evening the 20th inst., had a preliminary hearing on Thursday the 26th. The following facts developed at the hearing: the students were not guilty of disorderly conduct "according to the law of the state." The law makes disorderly conduct on a railway car to consist in "loud, boisterous and unseemly noise, or by using obscene or profane language," and the conductor of the motor car testified that none of the students had been guilty in any of these particulars. The charge rested on the fact that some of the students had been smoking, which was a violation of the rules of the company. When told to desist, some of them did so, but as others did not, the motorman stopped the car and came to eject the students. The students then ceased but the motorman nevertheless seized one of the students to put him off, and in so doing, tramped on the feet of another student on the opposite side of the car. The latter gave the motorman a push to get him off his feet and the motorman armed with his brass reverse lever struck at the student. This blow as the motorman testified, was not effective, because some person seized his arm. By this time the student had risen to his feet and dealt the motorman a blow which knocked him across the car. The students then left the car. The motorman also testified that he was kicked but could not say who did it. He also testified that no one had struck or made and move to strike until after he himself had tried to strike with his reverse lever and was hindered by some one seizing his arm.

The three accused students each denied upon oath that they kicked the motorman.

The third student had no part in the melee whatever.

(The above facts were given to us by one of the attorney's in the case; the statement was then prepared and submitted to the Hon. A. W. Johnson and Andrew A. Leiser, Jr., Esq., attorneys for the students, and the same is endorsed by them as being the exact facts drawn out at th chearing.—Ed.)

Gretzinger Goes to Inaugural.

Capt. W. C. Gretzinger, Quartermaster of the 12th regiment, has been selected as quartermaster of the provisional regiment of the Third Brigade to attend the inauguration of President Roosevelt, on March 4th. At the last division encampment of the state guard, the twelfth regiment took the highest honors for organization and knowledge of the manual of tactics. It was on the grounds of this excellence that Col. Clement made the appointment.

German Student Life.

(Extract from private letter.)

I have just come from my first University lecture. It was on "A New Idealism" by Professor Eucken. I am not prepared to say much concerning the Philosophy which I heard, but I would like to tell you some of my first impressions of a German University.

You would be surprised to see the leisurely way in which things go here. It is not necessary to matriculate or register until the end of the first month. In the time previous, you may attend any or all of the lectures, and decide upon those you wish to elect. Of course if you are taking a doctorate your choice is more or less limited. Jena's most famous man is the old Zoologist Haeckel. I should like to hear him, but I am told it is difficult for a woman to gain admission to his lectures. Each Professor is a law unto himself. If he does not want you in his classes, you cannot take his work.

Going through the narrow streets, past the old church, between overhanging houses, and under the old arched entrance at the back of the University building did not have much resemblance to rushing up College Hill at home, nor did the bright capped, be-ribboned, be-scarred, and be-caned students seem to have much in common with our slouch hatted, pipe-mouthed "College men."

But once inside the building, the conversation about the bulletin board, the open lecture room doors, the flourish of note books and pencils all gave the familar atmosphere.

You were in a University you were sure; you could almost have told it with your eyes shut.

The lecture rooms are small, not any too well lighted, poorly furnished with straight backed benches on which no American class would deign to sit. Some have a little more modern equipment, but as to hygenic conditions—nothing seems to be further from their minds. The ceilings are low and the windows are never opened, with the result that the air is enough to knock one down. If you are fortunate enough to get near a window and open it before the Professor comes in, the next German who enters will promptly shut it. They seem to consider fresh air poisonous.

You do not notice much confusion in the assembling of a class. When the last bell rings the rooms become still, then you hear a tap of feet which grows into a roar of applause as the Professor walks up the aisle and takes his seat. The same form of salute is used when he leaves the room at thec lose of the lecture.

The vereins here are much more aristocratic than the fraternities at home, and students as a whole, exceedingly supercilious. Catch a fellow of one verein speaking to a fellow with a cap of another color! Some of the caps are very pretty, particularly the red and blue, and the dark ones with bright bands. The men who have fought their duels and won their scars, wear also, bands of ribbon corresponding in colors to the cap, across their valiant breasts.

Faculty Reception.

Dean and Mrs. Thomas Edwards, and Miss Bush, Preceptress of the Seminary, have issued invitations to the members of the faculty to a reception given in their honor, Friday evening, February 3rd.

DEATH OF C. E. PROUT

Member of Class of 1905 Dies at Boston.

The friends and classmates of Clarence Eugene Prout, ex-'05, will regret to learn of his sudden death in Boston, January 26th. The deceased attended Bucknell during his Freshman and Sophomore years but left to take a more extended course in his intended profession at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, from which nated from the Bucknell School of Music in 1901 with the highest honors and last Fall entered the Boston Conservative of Music, from which institution he would have graduated the coming year. It was during the pursuit of his studies at this place that he was seized with the fatal illness. The death of Mrs. Prout, formerly Miss Mildred Haverstick, of the Seminary, occurred only last Fall and the demise of Prout coming so soon after that of his wife is a sad epoch in their lives that touches the hearts and sympathies of all. By his former classmates, Prout will be remembered as a young man full of possibilities and possessed of considerable talent in musical lines and his death at the very outset of his career is full of pathos. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Burial services were held this afternoon at the former home of the deceased in Northumberland.

College Day of Prayer.

In accordance with the custom of the colleges throughout the country, last Thursday was set apart as the Day of Prayer and appropriate exercises observed. No classes were held and the day was given up almost entirely to devotional services. Dr. A. S. Hobart, of Crozier Theological Seminary, addressed the students at the two principal meetings of the day, the one held in the Baptist church in the morning and the other in Bucknell Hall in the evening. Dr. Hobart was one of the speakers at our last Commencement and his second appearance before Bucknell undergradnates was even more appreciated than in June. His words were full of vigor and power and his sermons were among the strongest ever dellvered to the students. Special preparatory services were held in Bucknell Hall at eight o'clock, and in the afternoon a meeting, wholly given to testimony, was conducted. The attendance at all the services was large, a fact which shows that great interest is taken in religious work by the students.

Editorial

As the time for the election of a L'Agenda Board is near at hand and the factions are beginning to make up their tickets, a few words commentary to the subject might prove of value. At the outset it may be said that the writer is not incited to mention this subject from any political bias but in order that the underclass men may understand the sentiment of these who have been through the mill. In our first two years politics is a matter new to us and party prejudice and feeling are very strong hence one is apt to lose sight of worth as a necessary qualification for office. The history of past elections has been one of an overwhelming slide to one or the other faction. As we see it the point to be aimed at is that each caucus should make an effort to select men of responsibility and merit, especially for the positions of Editor-in-chief and Manager, and the elimination of "plum jobs". These positions, so gratuitously thrown about the class, succeed in gaining votes but as a rule miserably fail in securing a representative board. The L'Agenda is the book by which we create impressions in the outside world and it's compilation should be intrusted to worthy hands alone. The editor-ship and manager-ship of such a book are positions of much honor and the student body will except no excuse for the failure of either party in carrying out their duties. The manager should be alive and a person of business methods else your book will be a financial failure and as such the class may be called upon to make good the deficit. The editor MUST be a good man for in the end all the work devolves upon him. The board cannot as a rule be depended upon to do any other thing than take the annual trip to Ginter and Cook's. The best interests of the University are your best interests and at the coming election this thought should be held in mind. The Sophomore class has several good offices with which it can reward it's members and these should be given to men who can and will make the most of exceptional opportunities.

A rumor is going around among the students that the proposed minstrel performance has been given up. The reason assigned is the lack of interest in the practice meetings. If such a report be true the undergraduate body merits censure. We have the material and with little development it would equal that of former years. The ministrels, aside from the public exhibition, has a good effect among the fellows. At practices they learn to know each other and their songs put something of a real college spirit into their lives. Here is talent and opportunities yet the thing slides along. One man cannot be the entire chorus and ollo. Co-operation is what is needed and the fellows who have the ability should show a little interest or dramatics at Bucknell will soon become as notorious as the Glee Club.

In another column of this issue is a concise, reliable statement of the trolley car trouble. The article was not written at white heat and every utterance can be vouchsafed for as being only a reiteration of the testimony brought out at the recent hearing. We hope, that with this the first presentation of the real details, the good public will form sound, second judgment and not look at the incident through the eyes of a sensational public press, nor allow their opinion to be biased by an anonymous letter writer.

Be careful or the "thugs" will get you.

Consolation for the afflicted—Kipling, Roosevelt and other celebrities were once humble editors of their college papers.

Literary Societies.

THETA ALPHA.

The program for the meeting of Euepia Literary Society on Friday evening of last week was as follows:

Debate: Resolved, That the Inter-State Commerce Commission should be given power to fix a reasonable freight rate.

Affirmative: Raker, '07, Waruke, '08 negative: Burton, '08, Frey, '08.

The judges reported in favor of the negative.

The debate was followed by a very good exposition of "Why Japan Will Win," by Bradey, '08, and an equally interesting discussion of "The Value of Punctuality," by Whitney, '07.

A challenge from Theta Alpha Literary Society to an inter-society debate was received and accepted. Next week will occur the first preliminary for this debate, open to all underclassmen who are members of Euepia. The subject for the debate next week will be: Resolved, That immigration to the U. S. should be restricted to those who can read and write their own language.

Infirmary Inmates.

P. G. Hess, '05, has developed a mild case of typhoid fever and is under the care of a nurse in the college infirmary. It cannot be said with certainty where he contracted the disease as there was no outbreak in his home town during the Christmas vacation. As Hess traveled a great deal at that time the cause is traced to the impure water of some of the towns visited. His case is not a serious one so that with proper care he should recover soon.

Cure, '08, still continues to improve and at this date his ultimate recovery can almost be said to be an assured fact. The serious stage of the disease is over and as most of the abnormal conditions have left him he suffers none at all. The occupants of this house are not at all inconvenienced by the cold weather.

Koon, '08, who has been under quarantine for the past fourteen days has developed no symptoms of the malady and consequently was liberated yesterday. The other students under restrictions are now allowed to go down town. Several dogs owned by fellows on the hill have been frequenting the pest house and the college authorities have ordered that all such animals be shot.

Fraternity Receptions.

Phi Kappa Psi entertained their friends in town at a dance on Friday. Fifteen couples were present and the evening proved to be quite a success.

The members of Phi Gamma Delta recently gave a very informal reception and dance in honor of Miss Emily Crellin, the guest of Mrs. Fred Kurtz.

On Saturday a novel reception was given by the members of Sigma Chi. The hours were from 4 until 10, dinner being served in the rooms under direction of Mrs. Stannert. Seventeen couples enjoyed the evening at cards and dancing. Mrs. C. J. Wolfe, Mrs. W. O. Schaffer and Mrs. Mark Halfpenny were the patronesses.

Senior Committees.

President Goodman of the Senior class has appointed the standing committees for the year and work in the various departments will be started at once. The Senior sleigh ride will in all likelihood be scheduled this week.

Memorial: Lesher, chairman, McCain, Bostwick, Gardner, Ausherman, Miss Shorkley, Miss Conway and Miss Wolfe.

Amusement: Caruthers, chairman, Wood and Miss Stoner.

Norman E. Dole, '05, of Stanford University has been notified that his pole vault of 12 feet 1.32 inches is recognized as the world's record. The wooderful vault was made last April.

The north-eastern Alumni Association of Lafayette College will hold their annual banquet in Scranton on the same date as the Bucknell Association.

President George Edward Reed, of Dickinson college, on Monday announced that, by the will of the late Senator A. E. Patton, of Curwensville, the college will receive $10,000. He also said that this sum made $120,000 which the college has secured since the loss of Denny hall by fire last March. Mr. Patton was a trustee of the college and gave Dickinson the present gymnasium.

Senior Sleigh Ride.

The committee in charge of the sleigh ride has made arrangements for a supper at New Berlin. Thursday afternoon has been the date selected and all fellows will meet the sleighs at West College. Girls will be taken on at the Seminary.

Further details can be had by applying to Caruthers, '05.

ASHLAND DEFEATED

'Varsity Team Puts Up A Good Game.

The 'Varsity won the opening game the season played against Ashland A. C. on Saturday night by a score of 40 to 17. The Ashland contingent put up a good article of ball, and while hardly having a chance to win, they gave the Varsity a tough argument during the two twenty minute halves. The visitors were somewhat handicapped by having to play Y. M. C. A. rules but nevertheless they entered the game with a determination to win. Had it not been for the consistent work of Cheesman and Smith the score would have been much closer. Bucknell's work on the whole was good, and although there were a few mistakes in handling the ball the blunders can be accredited to the poor lights. The passing was first class and the shooting for goals time and again won the applause of the spectators. Cheesman showed wonderful form and succeeded in throwing eight baskets. Since he is not encumbered with the duties and responsibilities of captain he seems to have struck his true gait. Smith played a brilliant game and in the second half clearly outclassed his man, shooting five goals in ten minutes. Capt. Cockill was pitted against T. Horn, who was by far the best player of the visitors. Nevertheless he played a fine game and by his heady work aided materially in increasing the score. Grier's work at guard was excellent and from the exhibition he put up on Saturday he should have no trouble in holding the position for the season. He covers his man well and watches the ball closely. He is a sure man on goals from fouls and in this way added several points to the total. Lenhart, of the football team, is the other man in the lineup, and for a beginner he played a very steady game. He handles the ball well and his passing is accurate. Toward the end of the second half, Coach Hoskins took a number of the regular men out and replaced them with substitutes. These players put up a commendable article of the game and demonstrated that this year there will be plenty of available substitutes.

The best work of the visitors was done by T. Horn and Hamburger. Both are good men and play a clean, through game. To them much credit for the good showing of the Ashland team is due. The contest was free from any unnecessary roughness and the decisions of Referee Hoskins were accepted without a protest. Attendance was two hundred.

The following is the line-up:

Bucknell.	Ashland.
Cheesman, Grier,	forward. . Hamburger
Smith, Cockill,	forward . . . . Walaner
Cockill, Taggart,	center. . . . . T. Horn
Lenhart, Wagner,	guard . . . . . Blaker
Grier, Claypole,	guard. . . . . R. Horn

Goals from field: Cheesman, 8; Smith, 6; Grier, 2; Taggart, 2; Cockill, Hamburger, 4; T. Horn, R. Horn, Blaker, 2; Goals from fouls: Grier, 2; Blaker. Referee: Hoskins. Timers McCain and Caruthers.

Juniors Defeat Freshmen.

The Juniors defeated the Freshmen in the first game of the inter-class series, on Wednesday afternoon, by a score of 17 to 15. The two teams were so evenly matched that from the beginning to the end the result of the contest was in doubt. The game was rough, but few fouls were called. One was thrown by Lose and the other was awarded to the Juniors by the referee, for unnecessary pushing on the part of the Freshmen. The contest started with a rush, the Freshmen scoring two goals in the first two minutes of play. Both sides then settled down and played fast ball until the end of the first half when the score was 10 to 9 in favor of the underclassmen. After an intermission of ten minutes the both teams came on the floor with a determination to win. In this half there was decidedly more vim and a noticeable improvement in the passing. As the half progressed Baldwin scored two goals for the Freshmen, giving them a lead of five points. This advantage wns soon cut down by the Juniors and when the whistle of the referee was blown the score was tie. By mutual consent, of the two captians, it was agreed to continue the play until one side scored a goal from the field. Shortly after the resumption, Leighou, of the Juniors, threw a sensational basket ending the contest in favor of 1906. For the Freshmen Lenhart and Baldwin played a consistent game. The honors for the Juniors were carried off by Claypool and Goldsmith.

The following is the line-up:

Juniors.	Freshmen.
Comstock	.....forward.... Lenhart
Goldsmith	..... forward..... Lose
Leighou	.....center ..... Baldwin
Beaver, Shields,	.....guard..... Morris
Claypole	..... guard .....Innes

Goals form field: Goldsmith, 4; Claypole, 2; Beaver, 1; Leighou, 1; Baldwin, 4; Lenhart, 2; Lose, 1; Goals form fouls: Lose, 1. Referee, Hoskins. Timers, McCain and Caruthers.

Senior Sleigh Ride.

With the temperature ranging from zero to ten degrees below and in the face of a strong wind, the Seniors took advantage of their prerogative and held their annual sleigh ride on Thursday. The party, which numbered about forty, left the Seminary in two sleds at five o'clock, and drove to New Berlin where a chicken and waffle supper awaited them at the Binganman House. On the journey from the college, the first sleigh, which contained the majority of the girls, overturned in a snow drift but very fortunately no one was injured. Miss Hush, the chaperon, was in this sled. Shortly after reaching their destination supper was served and the remainder of the evening was spent in a very delightful manner. The sleighs arrived home at 2 a. m.

College Girls Reception.

On next Friday evening the annual reception of the College girls will be held in the Institute. The several committees in charge of Miss Martha Wolfe, '05, President of the organization, have been busy with the work of preparation for the past month and from the indications a delightful evening is in store for the fortunate. The invitations have not as yet been issued owing to the previous uncertainty of the date. The committee had placed their order in the hands of the engraver at the opening of the present term, but with the outbreak of varioloid in college, all definite plans were canceled. This delay is much regretted by the girls but efforts are being made to relieve the anxiety by Tuesday.

GIRLS DRAMATIC CLUB

"Marie Stuart" to be Produced by College Talent.

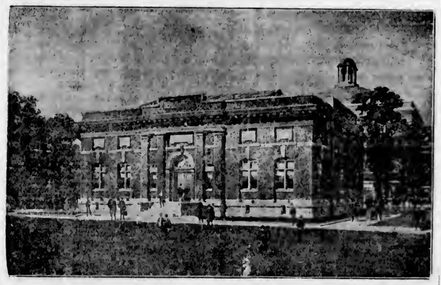
The members of the Girls Dramatic Club will soon issue invitations for their open meeting to be held in the Institute on the evening of St. Patricks Day, Feb. 17th. This event, to which the college men are invited, has been customary in past years and is now looked forward to with interest. The entertainment this season will be Schiller's version of Marie Stuart, a classical production of much merit. The play has not been presented in this country since Modjeska made her tour of the continent over fourteen years ago, but at that time it was a decided success. In England, where the work is still standard, the press and public in general are loud in its praise. The cast, which includes twenty-five people, has been busy with the lines for the past month and under the direction of Miss Edith Schillinger the play is now being staged. The characters of the entire cast have not as yet been made public. The leading parts, however, have been assigned to Miss Edith Kelly, who will assume the title role of "Marie Stuart," and to Miss Emma Nesbit, who will portray "Queen Elizabeth." The costuming this year will excell that of former productions and the general indications point toward a rendition that will far ecellpse those of the past.

Dickinson will play in Tustin Gymnasium on the coming Saturday night, instead of February 9th.

Chemical and Physical Society.

The fortnightly meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society was held last Thursday in the Labratory. Prof. Owens addressed the members on the topic, "Advances made in Science in 1904." He spoke in turn of the wonderful progress made during the year in electric transportation; in the steam turbine; in radio-activity and in the newly made discovery of the clover microbe, which is being cultivated and scattered throughout the country by the government. During the course of the lecture some of the scientific problems involved in the Russian-Japanese War were discussed. By means of interesting diagrams the speaker showed the stratagems employed in the fall of Port Arthur. Of the many advances made, which were not by any means new inventions but merely a progression over former ones, the great progress in the development of transportation and in the steam turbine is perhaps the most important. The matter that is creating so much interest in electric transportation is the demand for a greater speed. The arrangement of the American cities and the dissembling of the population has necessitated a radical change along this line. The elevated, the subway and the experiments in aerial navigation are the manifestations of an active effort to fill the demand. On water the cry for a higher rate of speed is being met by the introduction of the steam turbine, which promises to supplant the older form of generating power on both land and sea. The distinct advantages of the turbine consist in its economy and its simplicity, two main factors in insuring increased ease of operation and in lessening the liability of breakdowns.

After the formal lecture, the outline of the work for the winter term was discussed and some very interesting topics have been marked out.



CARNEGIE LIBRARY.

We publish the above cut in the interests of the alumni. The evironment, as depicted by the architect, is somewhat idealized but the main features of the building are true representations by the original. The structure is located one hundred feet to the rear of Commencement Hall with the frontage on a line parallel to that of the Main Building.

Informal Indoor Meet.

Coach Hoskins held an informal indoor meet on Saturday in order to ascertain what sort of track material entered with the Freshman class.

Several men showed up well in the contests. Irey gives promise of making a new record in the high jump. His time in the five lap race is only a one-fifth second short of the standard.

The results are as follows: Running High Jump, won by Irey, 5-3 1-4; second, Gardner, 5 ft; third, Innes, 4 10 1-2.

Five Lap Race, won by Irey, time 51 1-5 sec.; second, Sheean, time 53 4-5 sec.

Shot Put, 16 lb., Walters, 29 ft. 10½ in.

Lecture by Prof. Eijirs Takasugi.

Dr. Eijirs Takasugi, graduate of Boston Universit, and late Professor of English Literature in the Imperial College at Sapporo, Japan, will lecture on "Japan and Russia" in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening, Feb. 16th. Admission 25c. Dr. Takasugi is coming under the auspices of the college Y. M. C. A.

MARTS, '94, LEAVES S. J. I.

Resigns Principalship on Account of Ill Health.

Prof. Warren Marts, '94, has resigned as principal of South Jersey Institute, a position which he has held for the past three years. Continued ill health made this action necessary and his resignation is received with general expressions of regret.

The work at S. J. I. during his principalship has been remarkable. There has been an increase of 150 per cent. in the students and nearly 200 per cent. in the cash income. The first year there were 84 students, last year 211 and more today than last year at this time.

There has also been a marked increase in the scholarship, general discipline, social life and athletic standing of the school. Equipment and furnishings have been improved, including that of laboratory and class rooms.

General expenses in the line of teachers' salaries have been increased, the best of held being employed for all kinds of work.

Under his able management South Jersey has become one of the best prepratory schools in New Jersey and being under the control of a Bucknell man the interests of our own institution profited accordingly.

In regards to the future, Prof. Marts has no definite plans other than an extended trip through the south and west.

Faculty Reception.

The reception tendered to the members of the Faculty and Senior College girls, on Friday evening of last week, was one of the most pleasing social functions of the year. The Institute parlors, where the guests assembled, were most tastefully arranged for the occasion and the floral decorations of primrose and carnations added a brilliant background to the gathering. Almost the entire Faculty were present with their wives, and since that body now numbers over thirty, the rooms were well thronged. The guests were received by Dean and Mrs. Edwards and Miss Bush assisted by Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Gundy and Mrs. Katherine B. Larison. During the latter part of the evening a dinner was served in the Dining Hall, the tables being arranged so as to harmonize with the general scheme. Altogether the affair was most pleasant.

Freshmen Class Meeting.

The Freshmen had a meeting in Bucknell Hall, on Friday afternoon, and the details of the final organization of the class were acted upon. The revised constitution was adopted, the motto selected and the class flower chosen. "Rowing, not drifting," is to be the watchword and the flower is the mountain daisy. At this meeting the candidates for managership of the various teams announced themselves and the election that followed was full of excitement. Cole was choosen to manage the baseball team after a very close contest with Reese. The tally was 36 to 30. Carruthers was made manager of track athletics over Williams by a vote of 39 to 25.

The members of the class basketball team met immediately after the general meeting and unanimously elected Lose as captain.

Editorial

We need a local bulletin board in West College for the use of student notices. Since the accomodations of that building have become taxed a separate life has sprung up. Again, with the growth of the University, many of the courses are so scattered in the class rooms over the campus that a fellow seldom is required to go to the Main Building. It should not be for the use of the Faculty as confusion and uncertainty might arise if notices were to be posted on two boards. A board for personal notices would fill a much felt want and the residents of that building would no longer be forced to use the varnished wood-work and a mucilage bottle. The benefits derived would be far out of comparison with the insignificant cost.

The smallpox has been with us and since no new cases have been contracted, perhaps we can fittingly say that it is a thing of the past. This very fortunate outcome reveals some commendable facts. A man, actually pustulating with the virulent malady, has been in our midst, classes have assembled daily and yet there has been no spread of the disease. Those in charge deserve the highest praise for their prompt action in protecting the students and the conduct of the students is also worthy of credit. The outbreak of a disease, which usually creates a panic, was not attended by any confusion or excitement, in fact the stringent measures of the faculty created merriment. The men under restrictions accepted their position and in no wise jeopardised their friends. The customary activities went along without a hitch and all loyally lent their assistance in stamping out the cause of danger. Both the Faculty and the students are to be congratulated for the able manner in which they met emergencies that might have proven disastrous to our schorastic year. We may pat ourselves on the back.

The actions of the spectators at Friday night's basketball game are greatly to be commended. No lack of generosity was manifested by either students or others toward the opposing team and their good plays were as roundly applauded as those of our own boys. Not a hiss was heard during the entire game directed either toward a player or the referee. There were times last year when this form of showing disapproval was used to a deplorable extent and especially aimed at the official when he gave a decision not in accordance with the sentiment of the majority of onlookers. The reputation to be gained from such procedure is not enviable. The young boys who watch the games and who generally start hissing on very small pretexts should be effectually discouraged from the same and given to understood that if they do practice it they will not be allowed to witness the games in the future. A thousand times more should a student feel the baseness of setting them an example. No matter from what quarter hissing comes the students got the credit and sad to say there have been times when the credit was not altogether misplaced. We trust that the spirit shown in the first game of the season will continue throughout and that hissing and the like will be reserved only for such cowardly poltroons as commit assaults, aggravated assaults and riots upon the body of unsuspecting street car motor-men and conductors.

"Yellow Journalism" is one of the greatest impositions that is ever forced upon the public. Misrepresentation of fact, in order to prejudice public opinion, is little less than crime. In thinking of Journals of this class we usually bring to mind certain large dailies of the cities, but there is no necessity for going so far. It is frequently the case that the worst kind of "yellow journalism" is found in the publications of the provincial towns. An irresponsible editor of a paper of this kind is often guilty of greater coloring of facts than the newspapers of extended circulation. Where an act is of direct interest to a certain locality the editor of the small daily is at his best. He enlarges upon the event even as represented by one side; the public is aroused, and the people make demands far out of the ordinary course of justice. The American People are fair minded, but the papers go far in moulding their opinions. When the people have the opportunity of hearing butone side of an affair, there is the natural tendency to pass judgement before the other side is given. The readers of these sensational newspapers always know their editors in private life and therefore should judge their writings, especially in extreme ceases, by their ordinary daily conduct. Should the public hesitate a moment, before passing judgement, and consider the usual veracity ofthe yellow editors there would be less chance for the bigoted spirit.

The "thugs" are now before the bar of Justice yet the college still survives. Once more may the black vitreous ink pots of our beloved contemporaries rest in peace.

Burial of C. E. Prout.

The final obsequities over the body of the late C. E. Prout, '05, were held at the Haverstick home in Northumberland last Monday afternoon. A number of the college friends of the deceased and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, of which he was a member, attended in a body. The burial services were conducted according to the ritual of the fraternity. The floral tributes were numerous, one from the class of 1905 at the Boston Conservatory of Music and another from his fraternity brothers, being especially beautiful. Interment was made in the local cemetery.

F. & M. and Ursinus to Consolidate.

An article of recent publication made the statement that Franklin and Marshall and Ursinus Colleges may be merged into a single institution in the near future. Both colleges are under the control of the Reformed church and it is believed by the officials of this body that a single college, such as would be created by the merger, would be productive of far greater good than the two small colleges now accomplish in such close proximity to each other. The consolidation will not likely take place for a few years but the final proposition is to locate the united college at Lancaster, the present location of Franklin and Marshall. In that event the buildings now used by Ursinus college will be turned over to the Allentown College for Women.

Literary Societies.

EUPEIA.

Eupeia Literary Society held its regular meeting on Friday, Feb. 3rd, when occurred the first preliminary to the inter-society debate. The question for debate was, "Resolved, That immigration to the U. S. should be restricted to those who can read and write their own language." The following eight debaters were selected for the second preliminary which takes place next Friday: Osborne, '05, Burton, '08 Irey, '08, Whitney, '07, Steele, '05, Condiet, '08, Brodey, '08, and Saylor, '07.

The question for the second preliminary is: "Resolved, That U. S. senators should be elected by direct vote of the people." Of the eight speakers chosen to take part, four will be selected for the third preliminary.

THETA ALPHA.

On Friday evening, Feb. 10th, the first preliminary debate for the selection of the Society representatives in the coming inter-society contest will be held. The question to be discussed is: "Resolved, That the municipalities of the United States should own and operate plants for supplying light, water and surface transportation." Affirmative: Brockway, Boyer, Davis, Griffith, Hawk, Hilton, Higbee, Mattis, Noll, Przybiski, Riggs, Zugschwert, Loomis. Negative: Cober, Burnhart, Gobhart, Hinman, Hummer, Hayes, Manchester, McCall, Ratajiska, Sprout, Smith, Snyder.

The number of students at the University of Berlin, Germany, is higher now than at any time since its foundation in 1801. There are 7,503 matriculated students, of whom 331 belong to the theological course, 2,565 to the judicial, 3,414 to the philosophical, and 1,193 to the medical. One-sixth of those registered are foreigners.

The customary sleigh ride of the Fourth Form was taken on Thursday afternoon, to New Berlin. After an exciting start, the lower classmen attempting to prevent the trip, and an enjoyable ride, the party reached their destination at Hotel Bingaman. Here the host had prepared a feast which was duly taken care of. Divers oratorical flights by the embryo college men, and general good fellowship made the evening one of pleasure. The start for home was made at midnight and at 2 a. m. witnessed a safe return.

Royer, '05, was at his home in Huntingdon to attend the wedding of his sister.

R. W. Mulkie, '08, now a resident of Youngstown, Ohio, was visiting in town the past week.

Williamson, '05, is now teaching in the Lycoming County Normal. He will re-enter college in the Spring.

C. R. Smith, State, '06, and tackle on the 'varsity football team at that place, was stoping with Baldwin, '08.

C. A. Mulhauser, Secretary of the Cleveland Alumni Association of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, was a recent visitor of the college.

Winbigler, a special student at the college last year, is now in Los Angeles, Cal., preparing for a position in the experimental fruit department of that state.

Delta Theta Upsilon, one or the local fraternities, entertained in their Halls 1st Monday night. Music was furnished by five pieces of the Lewisburg orchestra. Dancing was the chief amusement and this together with the hospitality of the members and the decoration of the rooms made the reception a very dleightful one for their guests.

Glimpse of Spring Goods.

Dress Goods Specials.

Just the kind you want now at prices less than what you would have to pay at other times. If you are not already familiar with the values given in this department this is a chance to see how much money you can save.

About twenty different weaves and styles of wool dress stuffs, all this season's goods, are on sale at 50c yard, values up to 1.00 a yard.

About fifteen styles of 54- inch wool suiting, extra good values, are offered at 1.00 a yard, would be bargains at 1.25 and 1.50. Colorings in brown, black, red, blue and grey. Many stylish mixtures in the lot.

Our table of Dress goods Remnants are creating quite a stir and many suits have been made during our clearance that have given great satisfaction. Customers are delighted with their bargains. A few Shirtwaist Suit Patterns left at a great reduction.

Clearance Sale of Madras Shirt Waists.

The remaining line of Fall Madras Waists we have assorted into two prices and lot 1 we offer at 50c each and contains waists that had been worth 1.00 in all white, white with black figures, and white with blue and green dashes, nicely made with tucks and plaits.

Lot No. 2 contains waists that had been regularly from 1.50 to 2.50 and offered for this sale at 75c, well tailored and latest tucking effects, colorings in all white, white with black figures and a few dark shades sizes from 32 to 44.

At these prices they will only last a few days and would advise you to look them over at your earliest convenience to get your size. Every waist is of this Fall's style and mostly of the celebrated "Acorn" brand.

New Silk Waists.

As fashions have become more sensible the new waists are more tasteful. The distinguishing features of our Silk Waists are the great variety of effects, the soft and exquisite material and the beautiful colorings.

The fabrics are Taffetas, Peau-de-Cygnes, Peau-de-Soles and Crepe-de-Chines, colorings in black, white and new shades of brown, the new sleeves being quite a feature.

A few of our fall Silk waists in black, and one white, left to close out at a reduction. The 5.00 and 5.50 waists to close at 3.50 and 3.95.

New Spring Jackets and Suits.

Received a sprinkling of new spring Jackets in Light Coverts, in Black Broadclothes and Cheviots, all nicely tailored, and at popular price

The lady wishing a Spring Jacket should be an early comer to get the first choice of the lot, as garments bought later in the season do not have the material or workmanship that the first garments have—the demand for these Jackets will be greater later on and cloth will be scarcer so early choosing is advisable, to get better cloth and better tailoring.

The first consignment received this week of Fine Spring Suits. The tailoring surpasses anything that has ever been shown here-efore and at reasonable prices.

A complete line of the celebrated "Dix" Wrappers on display this week at 1.00 and 1.30, in blue, black and silver gray.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.
VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1905 No. 18

BANQUET A SUCCESS

Noteworthy Gathering of Bucknell Graduates at Scranton.

The Bucknell University alumni association of Northeastern Pennsylvania held its first banquet last evening at the Jermyn. The guest of honor was John Howard Harris, Ph. D., LL. D., president of Bucknell university.

The toastmaster was F. Bertolette, Esq., class of '72, of Mauch Chunk, who introduced Rev. J. S. Wrightour. His responded to the toast "Our guest of honor." He spoke of the time when Bucknell was not Bucknell and of the days when the honored guest was but a student himself. The classes were represented then but today they are represented by men of prominence all over the country. He told how Dr. Harris had made Bucknell what it is, so that now it ranks among the best colleges in the country, east or west.

President Harris responded to the toast "Bucknell University." He dwelt chiefly on the progress of Bucknell and the hopes he had of placing the university in such a position that the increasing number of students could be accommodated. Every year some advance has been made and he intends to keep it up. He expressed the wish that in a short time the faculty would number fifty and students one thousand. That the endowment fund would be one million dollars. To do this he said that the alumni must give every aid and help possible.

The toast, "Bucknell Alumni Association at the Bar" was responded to by Attorney F. H. Lewis, of Wilkes Barre, He spoke of the lawyers who are graduates, of the fame they have attained and the bright prospects for Bucknell graduates in this vocation in the future.

The toast, "In the Ministry." was responded to by Rev. D. E. Lewis of West Pittston. He spoke of the Bucknell ministerial graduates who have scattered to all parts of the world and of the fine work they have done and will do.

Prof. Hulley, principal of Keystone Academy, responded to the toast, "In the Teacher's Chair." He said the teachers of Bucknell have generally the same general characteristics. They are men and women who teach pupils and not books. They generally get the hang of things, cultivate the pupil and make a man of him. He also told how Dr. Harris had aided and founded the Keystone Academy. The teachers of Bucknell are an honor to their school, themselves and to the alumni.

The toast, "The Student Body," was responded to by H. D. Pease of the class of '06. He said the largest room in the world is for self improvement. He told of the work in the school and outside and recalled the days that have been spent there by the students and faculty.

Prof. Phillips of the Scranton public schools, who has received a degree from the school was present and made a short address. He spoke of the small colleges and of the work they were doing along the educational line. He said the small college is making the man today and the graduate of the small colleges are among the greatest men of the age. The time is coming when every town will be a small college town.

Mr. Phillips said he represented a college of eighteen thousand people, and it is the public school teachers, who are moulding the masses of the land and solving the problems of the country.

A short business meeting was held for the purpose of perfecting the organization and electing officers for the ensuing year. A constitution was adopted and the following officers elected: President, W. M. Bunnell; vice president, John U. Wagner; secretary, Dr. Wreightnour; treasurer, John E. Williams. An executive committee was appointed consisting of Messrs. Hughes, Hulley, Lewis and Dawson.

A committee composed of Messrs. Donnelly, Jessup and Belin, representing the Yale Alumni association, made short speeches and extended their best wishes and good cheer to Bucknell.

A letter was also received from the Lafayette association, wishing their sister organization luck in the beginning of their annual dinners.

L'Agenda Election of 1907.

The Class of 1907 held a meeting in Bucknell Hall, on Thursday afternoon, and elected the staff of editors and managers for the publication of their class annual. This election has been looked forward to for some time owing to the earnest struggle for the position of Editor-in-Chief. Both candidates made a close canvass of the members and neither man could be counted a winner until the final ballots were cast. Hulley defeated McCall by a tally of 39 to 34. No fight was made for the other offices and the following Board was decided upon:

Editor-in-Chief, Elkanah Hulley. Assistants, C. E. Brockway and Miss Sill; Manager, J. D. Strain; Assistant, J. L. Minor; Artist, C. R. Hoeckst; Assistant, M. P. Davis; Literary Committee, G. D. Riggs, H. L. Hall, Mary G. Stanton, P. C. Andrews, Frances E. Williams, Ruth C. Jones, E. H. Loomis, Irene E. Barton, C. A. Bernard, H. D. Reese, L. L. Rockwell; Associate Editors, G. A. Evans, C. D. Baer, A. M. Whitby, A. G. Hess, C. E. Long, H. G. Snavely, W. M. August.

Death of Caroline Kenyon, '75.

Miss Caroline Amelia Kenyon, Institute, '75, died at her home in Blakely on Saturday afternoon. She had apparently been in good health until a few days ago when she was seized with a severe cold which developed into pneumonia. All that medical skill could do for her was done but at last she succumbed to her illness. Miss Kenyon, who was born in Blakely, June 14, 1853, was a lady of sterling Christian character and was for many years a member of the Blakely Baptist church, being organist of the church and a Sunday school teacher at the time of her death. She graduated from the Blakely public schools in 1872 and was also a graduate of Bucknell Institute. She also took a musical course in Williamsport Conservatory of Music, and graduated with high honors from that institution. She held the position of supervising principal of the Blakely public schools for eighteen years and regretfully the directors accepted her resignation when she accepted the position of instructor in higher mathematics, chemistry and sciences at the School of the Lackawanna.

DICKINSON OUTCLASSED

Varsity Has an Easy Time With the Men From Carlisle.

An audience of four hundred people saw the opening college game of the season, on Saturday night, in which the Varsity defeated the representatives from Dickinson by a score of 46 to 11. The visitors were clearly outclassed and at no stage of the game was the result of the contest in doubt. For the first ten minutes Bucknell seemed to have an attack of stage fright and were unable to secure the ball, but with a series of quick, snappy passes, Grier broke the spell and threw a sensational goal after which the score increased rapidly. The half abounded in brilliant plays and the work of the centre Bucknell team was first class. Cheesman and Smith gave an especially sensational exhibition of goal throwing, each securing five baskets in as many minutes. Capt. Cockill was pitted against the most clever man of the opponents but both in the tossup and in passing he made circles all around him. Lenhart played a good game at guard and by consistent work prevented Dickinson from scoring on many occasions. The half ended Bucknell, 29, and Dickinson, 4. When the teams came on the floor for the second half, Taggart had been substituted for Lenhart, and the visitors had replaced Breneman and Briner by Smith and Ealy. With the presence of the fresh men the play became considerably rougher and it was necessary for the referee to call many fouls. Dickinson was given two points in this half for unnecessary pushing. The most sensational plays of the game were contributed in the last ten minutes of play. Rich threw a goal with his back to the basket and Cockill made one from the center of the floor. P. G. Smith kept up his good work and the byplay with his guard caused considerable merriment among the spectators. Near the end of the half, Lose and Wagner were put in the play and while lacking the usual Varsity dash they worked well and should be valuable men for next season. Taggart gave a good account of himself and threw a difficult goal. He is now the regular substitute. Ople and Grier gave the best exhibition of goal throwing form fouls that has ever been seen here. As a comment on the final score it might be said that Dickinson secured only four points from field.

The following is the line-up.

B. U.		DICKINSON.
Smith	forward	Breneman, Ealy
Cheesman, Wagner,	forward,	Ople
Cockill	center	Rich
Lenhart, Taggart,	guard,	Briner, Smith
Grier, Lose,	guard	Sadler

Goals from floor: Smith 9; Cheesman 7; Cockill 3; Grier 2; Taggart, Ealy, Rich. Goals from fouls: Ople 6; Grier 2.

Basketball with Lebanon Valley Friday evening, Feb. 17th, at 8 o'clock. Bonus 25 cents. Gillis' team.

Seniors Victorious.

The class of 1905 downed the Freshmen in a well played game of basketball on Wednesday afternoon by a score of 33 to 23. The Seniors, although handicapped by the absence of Cockill and Smith, played a brilliant up-hill game and by some clever work in the second half ran up a large score. The Freshmen received a point in each half for unnecessary roughness on the part of the Seniors but the contest as a whole was free from any questionable features. In the first half, with the exception of Baldwin, neither side seemed able to locate the basket to any extent, and although many tries for goals were made few resulted in scores. The half ended with a tally of 12 to 12 in favor of the underclassmen. In the second half both teams came on the floor with a changed line-up. Lesher was substituted for Taggart, the latter going to guard in the place of Marsh. The Freshmen substituted Hawk for Furgeson. The fast work of the Seniors in this half was too much for the first year men and the game became one sided, the only question of interest being the final result of the Seniors score. The best work for 1905 was done by Cheesman, Grier, and Lesher, and for 1908 Baldwin, Lose and Gibney.

The following is the line-up.

1905.		1908.
Cheesman	forward	Lenhart
Robbins	forward	Lose
Lesher, Taggart,	center	Baldwin
Grier	guard	Gibney
Taggart, Marsh,	"	Hawk, Furgeson

Goals from floor : Cheesman, 5; Grier, 4; Marsh; Lesher, 2; Robbins, 2; Lenhart, 2; Baldwin, 5; Furgeson, Hawk.

Fouls : Grier, 5; Lose, 3.

Indoor Meet.

Another indoor meet was held in Tustin Gymnasium on Saturday afternoon and Coach Hoskins is gratified with the results. The events were successful in bringing out some of the latent talent in college and the prospects for plenty of good track material for the coming season are very bright. Irey repeated his performance of last week and his record in the five lap race now equals the best college time. For a light man, Comstock did exceedingly well in the shot put. The results of the events are as follows: Running High Jump, scratch measurement, Lesher, 5-1½; Irey, 5-4; Comstock, 4-11½. Putting 16lb. Shot, Parsons, 31-6; Lesher, 32; Comstock, 31-3. Five Lap Race, Irey, 51 sec.; Comstock, 51 1-5; Davis, 52 2-5.

New Y. M. C. A. Officers.

At the recent meeting of the Y. M. C. A., ballots were cast for the officers of the ensuing year with the following result: President, Amos Barton; V. P., Linn Drake; Rec. Sec., John Strain; Cor. Sec., Wm. Elsesser; Treas., Wm. Hulley.

At the business session, which followed the election, it was decided to send several delegates to the general convention to be held at Johnstown, Feb. 16th to 19th. The organization voted to pay half the expense of any member of representatives not exceeding six.

The new officers will be installed at the opening of the spring term.

Rheinhold Stoltz, who has been a student at the Academy and College for the past six years, left Lewisburg this morning for South Dakota. It is his intention to occupy a pulpit in the southwestern part of that state.

COLLEGE GIRLS' RECEPTION

A Most Enjoyable Event Held in the Institute Parlor.

The reception tendered by the College Girls to their friends, on Friday evening, is one that will linger long in the social annals of Bucknell. Not only was it one of the most enjoyable events of the season, but it undoubtedly surpassed similar occasions of previous years and in so doing set a new standard for the future. In harmony of appointments, in decoration and in the general details of arrangement it eclipsed any reception of the past four years, and its recollection will form a pleasant memory in the lives of all present. The guests, which numbered over an hundred, were received in the large parlor by Dean Edwards, Mrs. Katherine B. Larison, Miss Bush and the committee of girls, who graciously accomplished the task of introduction and did much toward making the evening a success. The room, where the visitors first assembled, was entirely void of decorations but the new furnishings of green and white made a rich background that distinctly set off the many beautiful gowns of the girls. The hallway and stairs were arranged as cosy corners, and as the punch bowl was located nearby, the spot was very popular. The Chapel was a compliment to the artistic ability of the girls. The ordinarilly bare walls were covered with a mass of college pennants and warm draperies, and the red, mellow glow of the lights as it fell on the white evening dresses, here and there tinged with a bit of color, made an altogether pretty picture. Throughout the entire evening an orchestra, behind banks of palms, discoursed soft music with the effect of rendering harmonious the movements of the intermingling gathering. Shortly after ten o'clock a three course luncheon was served the guests, on tables generously decorated with carnations and smilax. The service was faultless and highly complimented on all sides. During the remainder of the evening the time was spent in solving a series of pictorial conundrums on the names of the college students. These were arranged on white placards displayed on a large curtain and were especially interesting being the original conceptions of the committee. All in all the reception was a source of pleasure, and lacking the usual stiffness and formality of similar occasions, it will be remembered as a complete social success. The various committees, in charge of Miss Martha Wolfe, deserve the highest praise for their excellent co-operation. The following is a list of the girls upon whom the work devolved:

Invitation Committee: Ruth Shorkley, chairman, Nellie Johnson, Mary Moll, Edith Lane, Mary Wendle, Aida Wheeler. Reception Committee: Nell Leaming, chairman, Florence Cobb, Ruth Lesher, Nell Thomas, Mary Bower, Carrie McCaskie, Ann Galbraith, Ruth Jones. Refreshment Committee: Blanch Stoner, chairman, Nellie Goddard, Dana Bower, Jessie McFarland, Florence Bacon, Mame McCready, Frances Williams. Decoration Committee: Leverda Burgart chairman, Ferne Braddock, Irene Barton, Grace, Meek, Sarah Furman, Sophia Bodler, Sarah Unger, Rebecca Shove.

Editorial

At the recent preliminaries for the Junior Debate, seven men participated and by an impartial committee of the Faculty, four men were selected to represent the class. Since this decision was rendered one of the debaters has been arbitrarily dropped and another substituted in his place. While we can appreciate the attendant circumstances and see the grounds for such an action, and while we realize that the party responsible had only the best interests of the college at heart, we are but expressing the prevalent opinion of the students when we say that this ruling has worked an injustice. The debate, according to the catalogue, is open to any Junior, irrespective of race, color or previous condition of servitude provided only that the man is capable and fulfills the few requirements. If the selection of the debaters is arbitrary and rests with the head of the department, why the mock formality of a committee of judges? Had we ourselves made the choice as it stands today, in the face of adverse comment on the part of the students, we would feel like sticking to our decision, yet an injustice is patent and will remain a dark spot on the history of the present debating regime.

The smallpox scare at Gettysburg resulted in a shaven headed student body and a good bath all around. At Bucknell the presence of the genuine article caused no rush in the tonsorial line and the disease abated before we were all privileged to enjoy the delights of a bichloride plunge. Let us join the Tack Hammer Union and in the future demand just and equitable treatment.

At the recent basketball game, on last Saturday, both teams complained of the poor lights in the gym. This defect could easily be remedied with little expense to the college. The University possesses an adequate electric plant and the extra power that would be consumed would not appreciably increase the cost of maintainence. As a remedy, the central arc light might be put into commission or or double lamps of high candle power inserted in the present sockets. Better lights mean faster playing, more accurate passing, in fact, a higher standard of team work and the spectators would be benefitted thereby almost as much as the contestants.

Alumni Banquets are good institutions and particularly beneficial to Bucknell are those of our own graduates. The dinner, in honor of our President last week, was the first of its kind in north-eastern Pennsylvania and it should produce good results. Such occasions renew and also strengthens the ties to the Alma Mater. They awaken a slumbering spirit in the hearts of the Grads and serve not only to recall the pleasant memories of the past days but directly bring about a vigorous enthusasm for the old college. Interest and enthusiasm make most anything go and when directed toward such a worthy end as the upbuilding of our institution the efforts that produce such feelings are to be commended.

The thanks of the student body of Bucknell are extended to the many Alumni members of the Northumberland County Bar for their hearty aid and support in the late trouble. It may have been because of the Mafia organization, but it worked more like loyalty to their Alma Mater.

We humbly apologise to all Irishmen for imputing, as we did last week, that St. Patricks Day was on February the seventeenth. The printer's devil at this office is an Orangeman and the error was undoubtedly made with malice aforethought.

Our worthy brothers of the "Mirror" have the proper idea. The next issue will be the work of the girls, hence we may look for a very interesting publication.

Lecture in Presbyterian Church.

The above is a cut of Dr. Takasugi who will lecture in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening of this week on the subject: "Japan and Russia." At the close of his lecture he will exhibit a hundred and fifty stereopticon views on Japan.

Dr. Takasugi is a late professor of English Literature in the Imperial college at Sapporo, Japan, and is well informed in matters pertaining to the great struggle now going on between Japan and Russia. Some of his pupils are now officers in the Japanese army.

The proceeds of the lecture are to go to the Bucknell Mission Fund. Admission twenty-five cents.

Scrubs to Play Mansfield Normal.

Manager Claypool, of the Scrub basketball team, has secured a game with Mansfield Normal, at Mansfield, for the coming Friday night. Reese Harris, '05, Professor of History, has charge of the basketball activities at the Normal and it was through him that the contest was scheduled.

Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary fraternity, is supposed to have been founded at William and Mary College by Thomas Jefferson.

The entire Sophomore class at State College was on a strike last week. The Professor of History, it is claimed, gave too long an examination and was arbitrary in his methods of marking and teaching. Pres. Atherton adjusted the trouble and the class is now back at work.

Among the Rhodes Scholars at Oxford there are twenty-three fraternity men, as follows: Delta Upsilon, 5; Beta Theta Pi, 3; Phi Delta Theta, 2; Kappa Alpha, 2; and one each from Sigma Nu, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Sigma, Chi Psi, Phi Nu Theta, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Alpha Delta Phi, Zeta Psi, Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Phi and Phi Gamma Delta. Eight are members of Phi Beta Kappa.

The Sophomores at Minnesota have decided that it is their place to see that cribbing is suppressed. They are going to appoint committees in each class who shall report to a general committee any cases of cribbing that may come to their knowledge. If the reported cases are proved by evidence, the general committee is to take what action it deems best for the good of the University. Faculty co-operation is being sought.—The Daily Student.

Second Assistant Postmaster General W. S. Shallenberger, who has just negotiated a postal arrangement with the postal authorities of Great Britain and France, which includes in transit and a parcels post arrangement between the three contracting countries, is a Pennsylvanian. He was a member of the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Congresses from the district now represented by Congressman Ernest F. Acheson. The parcels post arrangement contemplates the carrying of packages not exceeding four and a half pounds in weight between the United States and British or French ports at the rate of twelve cents per pound, the rate now in force between the United States and Germany. Mr. Shallenberger was a member of the class of 1862 and made an address at a recent Commencement here.

The authorities of Ursinus College deny the rumor that their institution is to be consolidated with F. & M. President Ebbert is looking eagerly forward to expansion in an independent line.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1905 No. 19

'VARSITY AGAIN VICTORIOUS

Lebanon Valley Defeated in a Fast Game.

In an unusually rough and poorly played game of basketball, the Varsity defeated the five from Lebanon Valley, on Friday night, by a score of 28 to 14. The contest however, was full of interest and sensational features and consequently brought forth more enthusiasm than any similar occasion this year. Bucknell was materially weakened by the absence of Cheesman from his regular position at forward and at times the ragged work was very noticeable. Grier was moved from guard to forward and Taggart, who held down the vacant position, put up a very consistent article of the game. In commenting upon the playing it seems to be the consensus of opinion that the home team showed poor form in guarding their men. Time and again the visitors secured the ball in Bucknell's territory and by slow passing gave their men an opportunity for rest. The team work of the visitors was a surprise to our men and by the spectators they were considerably underrated. On Friday night they put up the fastest game witnessed in the gymnasium this season.

Last year their team was weak but they have wonderfully improved under the coaching of Gillis. They were also greatly strengthened by the addition of Beggs, former captain of the Lehigh team. He played a hard game and much of the roughness of the evening was due to the eveness of the abilities of Cockill and himself. Maxwell also played a fine game and his guarding of Smith was one of the features. Soon after the game started, Grier threw a difficult goal and Smith and Cockill quickly followed with additional tallies. The visitors then secured two points from fouls and two more from a field goal by Oldman. The half ended 11 to 4. In the second half Lebanon Valley substituted Knauss for Oldman and as a result their playing showed improvement. In less than three minutes he threw two baskets and it was considerable time before Bucknell could break up their play. Smith, Lenhart and Cockill then got busy and landed several baskets in quick succession and when the half ended Bucknell had added another victory.

Mansfield Scores A Victory.

The reserve basketball team of the University was defeated by the strong aggregation of Mansfield Normal, on Friday evening by a score of 18 to 6. The Reserves were handicapped by lack of practice in team work, by partiality in decisions and by the large floor, and as a result put up a very mediocre exhibition. Their efforts, however, in the face of these difficulties were deserving of praise. The team work of the NNormal boys was excellent and their guarding fine. The playing of Claypole and Goldsmith was of a high standard and several times brought forth hearty rounds of applause. According to the reports of the game, the officials manifested some unfairness in their decisions, but owing to the large amount of fouling on both sides the offense is pardonable. The team was hospitably entertained after the contest.

Field goals: Haight 1, Kohler 3, Horton 2, Murry 1. Goals from fouls, Haight, Kohler 3, Claypool 5. Points allowed for pushing: Buskuil 1. Officials: Braun, Mansfield; Morris, Bucknell.

Sophomores Defeated.

The Juniors, by a most exciting finish, won the interclass basketball contest from the Sophomores on Monday afternoon by a score of 11 to 9. The Sophomores up until the last two minutes of play had the better of the argument, but with the score of 9 to 7 against them and only two minutes to play, the Juniors braced up and secured the two baskets which won the game. The contest was snappy and full of fast playing from beginning to end and the closeness of the score worked up more real interest than is usually manifested in the 'varsity games. During some stages the playing was very rough and, before this conduct was eliminated, it was necessary for the referee to award two points to the upperclassmen. McNinch and Leach were the star performers for 1907, and Goldsmith, Leighou and Claypole played the best game for 1906.

The table of results of the interclass contests played so far this season is as follows:

Team—	Won.	Lost.
1907	0	2

Lecture By N. C. Schaffer.

As has been customary in past years, Washington's birthday will be observed, in the college, with appropriate exercises. On Wednesday morning, at 8 o'clock, State Superintendent of Schools, Schaffer, will address the students, at a general meeting, in Bucknell Hall. His subject will be, "Three Great Orations." The speaker is well known in the educational worl and being in touch with the actual conditions of college life and in sympathy with collegiate training, his talk should prove well worth while.

Two Football Dates Secured.

Capt. C. D. Cooper, of the 1905 football eleven, made a flying trip south last week, and succeeded in closing arrangements with Georgetown for a game in the coming season. In a conference with Paul Dashiell, a date was agreed upon with Annapolis.

The contest with the Middies is scheduled for November 11th, and on November 17th the Washington team will be played on their own gridiron.

NEW CATALOGUE OUT

A Comprehensive Statement of the University's Work.

The catalogue of Bucknell University for the year 1904-5, just issued is a book of over two hundred pages, and gives a detailed account of the work of the institution. The number of students in all departments, omitting names repeated, is 721; in the College of Liberal Arts, 475. The number of Professors, Instructors and Lecturers is forty-nine. The Board of Trustees consists of twenty-three members, the name of one, Hon. Joseph C. Sibley, LL. D., M. C., appears for the first time.

Additions to the property consist in the Carnegie Library Building, now enclosed, the New College for Women, work on which has been begun, the enlargement of the Observatory by the addition of a class room, extensive improvements in the Chemical Laboratory, te fitting up of a large room for work in Optics, in te basement of te East Wing, and the installment of the electric lighting plant. The property of the Institution aggregates over a million dollars, of which $700,000 is productive.

Under the head of Courses of Study we note that a Course in Electrical Engineering, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering, will be opened for Freshmen with the beginning of the school year, September 21, 1905. The Sohomore studies of the Course will also be given next year, so that any one of the present Freshman class can enter upon the course next Fall.

The standard for graduation in the Classical, Philosophical and General Science Course has been fixed at 8 for the Freshman and Sophomore years, 8.5 for the Junior year, and 9 for the Senior year.

A feature of the catalogue, introduced for the first time, is a list of the Baccalaureate Thesis subjects of the class of 1904.

In the Institute and Academy new curricula are arranged providing for a large time for the study of Latin, Greek, Mathematics and English. The program is based upon the plan of four recitations a day of fifty-five minutes each. The total attendance in the Institute the present year 98, in the Academy 79, in the School of Music 155.

BASKETBALL.

Williamsport Y. M. C. A., Friday evening, Feb. 24.

Darthmouth College Monday evening, Feb. 27. Games called at 8 p. m. Admission 35 cents.

West College Association.

West College Association met Monday night, Feb. 6th, and elected residents and members. C. A. Krupp was elected secretary, Jos. Macro, treasurer, and the following committee were appointed: House committee, E. A. Morton, R. G. Bostwick, J. W. Green, W. W. Portser; Membership Committee, H. T. Stevenson, chairman; A. V. Wise, F. L. Yost.

Fraternities Entertain.

A notable success of the present social season was the reception tendered by Phi Gamma Delta to their friends in town, on Wednesday evening. The guests were received in the fraternity halls from seven until nine, when the entire party retired to the Baker House where banquet covers were laid for sixty. The tables were arranged in the shape of a large U and were tastefully decorated with royal purple. The details of the color scheme were in perfect harmony and neat menus were presented to each of the banqueters. A five course dinner, served in typical Baker style, interspersed with college songs and yells made the evening a very pleasant one.

The chaperons were: Professor and Mrs. E. M. Heim, Professor and Mrs. Bromley Smith, Professor and Mrs. F. G. Ballentine and Miss Emma L. Bush.

The members of Phi Kappa Psi celebrated the anniversary of the fifty-third year of their inception, as a national organization on Saturday evening. An informal "smoker" was held in the rooms in the Wolf Block at which were present the local alumni as well as the active chapter. English, '99, and Clement, '98, of Sunbury, and Senator-elect Fred Godcharles, of Milton, were among the guests.

Quarantine Raised.

John Cure, '08, was this morning released from quarantine. Just five weeks ago he developed symptoms of what later was pronounced variololid and since that time he has been confined in the town hospital under the care of a trained nurse. Last week the town and state authorities began the work of disinfection and every day both Cure and Drumheiser have been subjected to anticeptic treatment. The building was also thoroughly fumigated with formaldehyde. This morning both men were administered the usual precautionary measures after which they were liberated. Cure has departed for his home at Jermyn and Drumheiser will remain at Shamokin until all possible danger of infection is past.

Junior Ball a Certainty

After numerous discouragements and a cancellation as a result of the committee in charge of the Junthe outbreak of variololid in college, ior Prom has finally issued invitations and Lesgarted Friday, March 3rd, as the date of the function. The various committees have their work well in hand and the dance should be a great success. The programs will soon be ordered and special efforts are being made to secure the best product of the engraver. The music will be furnished by the Germania Orchestra, a favorable known organization from Lock Haven. Overture at eight thirty and dancing at nine. Domages three dollars per.

Indoor Meet.

Another indoor meet was held in the gymnasium on Saturday with the following results:

Running hig jump: Owens, 5-2¼; Marsh and Comstock, 5-2.

Shot put: Lenhart, 38-4; Marsh, 36-9; Hindman, 36-6.

Five lap race: Irey, 50 4-5 sec.; Comstock, 51 sec.

Ireys time beats any previous college record.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE

A Series of Good Contests For The Coming Season.

Manager Goodman has completed the baseball schedule and with this issue the "Orange and Blue" presents it to the public for the first time.

The list of games was ready for publication several weeks ago but on account of conflicts and an unusually large number of mid-week dates, the faculty held it up for supervision.

It will be noticed that of the number of colleges formerly played by the Varsity nine, that Lehigh, Lafayette and University of Pennsylvania, are not on the present schedule. Lehigh refused a date and Lafayette was unable to give a return game. Pennsylvania was to be played the opening game, but the revising committee canceled the date in order to retain some of the mid-week trips later in the year.

Athletic clubs have been dropped entirely with the exception of the Decoration Day contests, when either Mt. Carmel or Wilmington A. C. will be played. Harrisburg was compelled to refuse us the usual date on account of the Tri-State League. No games will be played with the Indians. The new colleges in the schedule are, Lebanon Valley, Johns Hopkins, and College of the City of New York. The last named college will be played during Commencement week and together with Bloomsburg, should make the series especially exciting.

Editorial

Some time last year the editorial columns of this paper, the attention the impropriety of smoking in the halls outside of the class rooms. The evil still continues to an increased degree. The rigors of winter weather do not furnish sufficient excuse for the young men to indulge their appetites for tobacco in places where young women are compelled to breathe the discarded fumes. If it is too cold to stand outside, a little self sacrifice would not be amiss and the courtesy shown to co-eds and faculty would have its own reward. We are all too selfish and here is an opportunity for some of us to display a little unselfishness which is a mark of every true gentleman.

A half dozen pipes or cigarettes soon changes the character of the atmosphere and rarely between classes can one walk otherwise than in a cloud. Moreover by going directly into class after the last "inhale" enough of the fumes is carried by the breath and clothing to be distinctly noticeable to others, and though many perhaps do not mind it yet those who do are not incapable of enumeration.

We know of no "fiends" who would invite a physical collapse by going for more than an hour without a smoke, and if there are such it requires but a few steps from the room door to some nearby dormitory where we feel sure they will not be denied a chance to take an injection to carry them through the next hour. It is for the great part a matter of habit and one that is easily broken. It is sometimes humorous to see a cigarette rolled in class by some occupant of a rear seat, who then "gets set" and at the word of dismissal dashes for the door with cigarette in one hand and match in the other and ere he is fairly out is enjoying the product like one who satisfies a drug appetite.

It has not been long since a professor was so annoyed by the smell of tobacco in his class room, which for some reason was somewhat stronger than usual that, thinking it was the fault of the pipes in use, he requested the young men to smoke clay pipes and break hem every day.

We have it from another of our professors that, at Chicago University, although one-third of the faculty smoked and the majority of the students smoked, no one was ever seen to smoke in any of the buildings in general use by students of both sexes. Surely the men of the West have not the advantage of better breeding.

That smoking in the halls goes on without objection may give to the minds of those who practice it the impression of an implied privilege and when some time it is prohibited it will seem like an interferrence with a prerogative gained through long performance.

This is not a discussion as to the merits or harm of smoking but merely an advancement of the fact that smoking has its place and that there are other places besides trolley-cars where it is a distinct impropriety.

St. Valentine's Day was fittingly observed by the members of the University Corporation. Registrar Gretzinger, on thei behalf, had his minions busy the entire day distributing the tender missives among the student body and all recipients were delighted.

In conception and design they were remarkable examples of the printer's craft and in execution they reflect much credit on the manipulator of the ivories of a Smith Premier. The subject matter was exceedingly touching and the Registrar, as a result, has had many informal callers. Please pay promptly.

A cluster of lights has been suspended from the center of the gymnasium. This is the consummation of a movement agitated at the beginning of the present season and the players as well as the spectators are duly gratified. The University has had this improvement in mind for some time but owing to the low capacity of the old wires an increased voltage was impracticable. For this prompt, considerate interest in our athletics welfare, and for the involved outlay of coin, we make our most humble salaam to the authorities.

We are the recipients of several letters dealing with college interests. The "Orange and Blue" is always very glad to publish such items but as a guarantee of good faith the writer is requested to append his signature. The names will not be used in publication.

Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis.

Next Tuesday evening, the 21st, the student body will have the opportunity of enjoying a great treat when Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis of Brooklyn will lecture in the Opera House under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Hillis, who is a writer, and a lecturer of national repute, is undoubtedly the strongest member on the present course and those who attend will be assured of a strong, pithy talk.

Declamation Contest.

The annual contests in declamation and oratory, for Freshman and Sophomores, are engaging he attention of the members of those classes. A larger number of the students than usual have decided to enter the lists, possibly because the weekly recitations have made many confident of ability to speak who were not before aware of their talents in this line. It has been advisable to confine the Sophomores to orations and to allow all Freshmen freedom of selection. A complete gradation is thus assured for the Juniors and Seniors are, as heretofore, confined to orations of their own production.

A preliminary contest for all the gentlemen of the Freshman class, who may appear, will be held in the hall of Theta Alpha on Thursday evening, the twenty-third, beginning at seven o'clock. The selection, by which all will be tested, is the oration of Patrick Henry, in which the class was drilled in the Fall term. On Monday evening the twenty-seventh the contesting gentlemen of the Sophomore class will meet in the same hall at 7 p. m., and deliver the same oration.

Delegates Return.

Bucknell's representatives at the annual state convention of the Y. M. C. A., held at Johnstown last week returned this afternoon and report a very pleasant session. Te meetings were addressed by men prominent in religious and educational circles and were attended by a large audience. A noteworthy feature of the convention was the banquet tendered to the delegates by the local association. College men from all of Pennsylvania' institutions were gathered around the board and at the close of the toasts gave their various yells. Our University was represented by a large contingent which included: Barton, '05, Pease, '06, Bartlett, '06, Waltz, '06, Hilton, '07, and Griffiths, '07.

Inter-Society Debate.

For the past three weeks the two literary societies have been directing their efforts toward the inter society debate. Of the large number of students trying for a place on the teams, the majority have been weeded out and the coming Friday evening will witness the finals.

Theta Alpha will listen to a discussion of the contract system of convict labor by Boyer, Snyder, Hummer and Sprout.

The questions before Enepia will be one concerning the legalization of railroad pooling. Condict, Steele, Bertin and Osborne are the contestants.

On Thursday morning chapel exercises were conducted by Rev. H. F. Dutton, '98. Rev. Dutton stopped at at Lewisburg on his way to Buffalo, N. Y., where he goes to assume the pastorate of the Cedar Street Baptist church, until recently in charge of Rev. George Whitman, D. D., class of '72.

Ralph Hess, '05, is at present traveling for the Williamsport Paper Co.

Rev. A. C. Algar, '00, has removed from Sunnyside to Hornerstown, N. J.

McCormick, '04, has been transferred from Steelton to the New York offices of the Pennsylvania Steel Co.

The Alumni Club of Williamsport, Prin. W. W. Keichner, President, is planning to hold a banquet to take place some time before April 1.

R. W. Rose, the holder of the world's record for the shot-put, is now in Ithaca, taking steps to enter Cornell University.

The class of 1895 is arranging to hold its 10th anniversary next Commencement. W. B. Sheddan, 5 Linden Lane, Princeton, N. J., is promulgating the affair.

An unusually large number of ladies attended the alumnae meeting in the Seminary parlors on Tuesday evening. After the program was completed, dainty refreshments were served.

Last Monday evening, Miss Schillinger entertained the Girls' Dramatic Club in the Institute parlors. The invitations read from six thirty until nine thirty, the whole time being most enjoyably spent in games suitable for St. Valentines Day. There were heart hunting games, arrow shooting and anagram playing. The most fortunate players received beautiful prizes of burnt wood and burnt leather, while the least fortunate were comforted with very pretty heart shaped valentines. After dainty refreshments were served and music and gossiping had been indulged in, the delighted guests said their farewells, expressing regret that St. Valentine makes is appearance but once a year.

Bucknell Defeats Her Old Rivals In An Exciting Contest.

The first of the two annual games of basketball between Bucknell and Williamsport Y. M. C. A., resulted in an overwhelming victory for the former, on Saturday night, in one of the best contests ever witnessed in Tustin Gymnasium. As was expected a large and representative college audience was in attendance and every seat, including the two hundred extra ones supplied for the occasion, was filled. The larger portion of the students occupied the bleachers down stairs and their cheering was of the best. The Varsity received the greater share of the applause but the good playing of the visitors was given due consideration, especially by the contingent of Milton rooters, who were zealous for a victory by the people from Bilitown.

Bucknell was primed for winning alone, and the efforts of the entire team were bent toward wiping out the two defeats of last season. The playing of the Varsity was better than any of its most ardent admirers could have hoped for, and at no time during the game did the Y. M. C. A. team get near the laurels. The five on the floor, Friday night, was the old Williamsport contingent with the exception of Speaker. Jackson, who took his place played a masterly game. His work at all stages was a feature. Bucknell presented two new faces in the lineup. Grier and Lenhart took the places formerly occupied by Johnson and Roberts. Grier was pitted against the famous Turner and played him to a standstill, while Lenhart was more than a match for his forward. The game started promptly at eight o'clock, and the pace set at the start was maintained throughout the entire forty minutes of play. Both teams were in the pink of condition and even though the Varsity had the advantage of practice in team work, the visitors have been identified with the league clubs all of the present season and had the advantage of good training.

Smith made the first goal of the evening and Jackson quickly followed with three baskets in rapid succession. Cheesman, Grier and Smith then scored for Bucknell, and Turner and Lutcher for the visitors. Cockill then took a hand and, amidst the wildest enthusiasm, shot three goals, one being the most difficult basket of the evening. A double foul was here called on Cockill and Jackson from which both sides scored. The half ended Bucknell 15 and Williamsport 11.

The second half was all Bucknell's. Cheesman scored in the first five seconds, and repeated the feat a minute later. Smith, by some of the cleverest work seen in the Gym, scored five baskets and cinched the game for Bucknell. Williamsport secured only three goals in this half. Turner, Jackson and Sinclair each adding their quota. During the contest there were twelve fouls called, only three resulted in an increase of the tally. Walhour, of Ashland, refereed the game and his work gave complete satisfaction to both isdes. He rendered his decisions quickly and without any partiality. The contest was a success socially and financially and it is to be hoped that the return game at Williamsport will be accompanied with as many pleasing features.

Seniors Win Another.

The Senior Class basketball team was again victorious, on Monday afternoon, when they downed the Sophomores in a most exciting and well played game by the score of 16 to 15. Owing to the prestige attached to the upperclassmen, they were picked by most of the spectators to win, but as a result of this over-confidence they were given a bad scare in the first half which was characterized by listless playing on the part of 1905. The best the Seniors were able to do in the first twenty minutes was a single field goal, while the Sophs piled up a total of seven points, one being awarded by the official. In the second half the situation looked pretty black for 1905 and had it not been for some desperate chances by Cockill, which resulted in scores, the game would have been a victory for the Sophs. Too much praise cannot be accredited to the team of 1907 for the plucky fight they put up, as their opponents were all Varsity players, Smith alone being out of the contest. Both teams were off on goal throwing and missed many chances to score from free throws. The game was a good one to witness as the playing was free from all objectional features which usually accompany inter-class contests. For the Sophomores M'Ninch, Wagner and Leach were the star performers.

The Reserve basketball team of the University went down to defeat before the Lock Haven Normal five, on Friday evening, by a score of 12 to 10. The game was clean and well played on both sides. The team work of the Reserves showed some improvement over that in the Mansfield game, although there was still too much long and wild passing. The decisions of the official were wholly impartial. The Reserves promise revenge for their defeat when the Normal boys come here to play the return game.

LECTURE BY DR. SCHAFFER

Instructive, Historical Talk Delivered by State Superintendent.

Dr. Nathan C. Schaffer, State Superintendent of Schools, delivered the annual address in Chapel, last Wednesday morning. It was the speaker's first appearance before the present undergraduates and his talk made quite a good impression. Dr. Schaffer is a man some six feet tall, of gray hair, and of an imposing bearing. His opening remarks were noticable by a slight German accent, but as he warmed to his theme all traces of this peculiarity were lost. The subject was "Three Great Orations." Dr. Schaffer first outlined the requisites of a truly great orator and found these to consist in: first, a subject which seriously engaged the minds of the thinking public; second, a good audience and impressive surroundings; third, a fluent speaker and lastly, in the enunciation of a great truth.

The orations which he placed in this category were delivered in Congress, in the month of March, 1850.

John C. Calhoun set forth the doctrine of State's Rights in concrete form, on March 4th, and in doing so gave utterance to doctrines that were followed by the entire Confederacy, even though the orator died a disappointed man.

On March 7th, Webster, before the same body forfeited his chances for the Presidency by declaring that "the Union is one and inseperable."

William H. Seward, four days later, in a great speech, concerning the admission of California, spoke of a law higher than the constitution. For this reference to economical and geographical principles that are now universally acknowledged, his political career was ruined. All of these men uttered a great truth which has been fulfilled in the present day.

Throughout his talk, Dr. Schaeffer scattered wit and anecdotes, making the hour entertaining as well as valuable.

Doings on Wednesday.

The "At Home" held in the Seminary, on the afternoon of Washington's birthday, was a very pleasant and enjoyable occasion. The Chapel and parlors were tastefully decorated with hangings of a college kind entirely symbolical of the holiday. The guests, including several members of the faculty, were received by the Senior college girls in cap and gown, who presented quite a dignified appearance. After the usual stunts, dainty refreshments, consisting of ices and cakes, were served. The attendance was larger than usual.

Last Course Entertainment

The final number in the Y. M. C. A., course has been announced by the committee to be, The Chicago Lady Entertainers, who will appear in the Opera House on Thursday evening, March 2nd. The company is composed of six persons of exceptional talent in their respective lines, and press clippings speak highly of their ability. The program will include interpretative readings, solos, duets and divers selections of a similar character. Tickets will be on sale at Baker's Drug Store.

Dartmouth this evening.

Dartmouth This Evening.

Dartmouth will play in Tustin Gymnasium this evening at eight o'clock. The New England visitors come to Bucknell, for the first time, with a well established reputation of being one of the champion teams of the Yankee section and the contest should prove close and exciting. Turner, of Williamsport, will referee. Dartmouth has been defeated in but three game out of twenty played this season, and these to Harvard, Williams and Cornell. The team has scored 440 points to 200 of their opponents. A review of the recent scores shows that McGrail and Capt. Rex, who held down the guard positions, are the dangerous men. This game will be the last chance to see the Varsity on the home floor.

Next Friday afternoon the Bucknell five will leave for Gettysburg, where that college will be contested, and on Saturday evening at Annville, Lebanon Valley will be given an opportunity to wipe out their recent defeat.

Senior Class Memorial.

Editor The Orange and Blue:—The choice of a class memorial to be presented to the University by the Seniors is a question of more or less interest to every member of the institution. The question is difficult, for involved in it are not only the aesthetic taste and the financial limits of the class, but also the appreciation of all Bucknellians and the harmony of the memorial with the artistic aspect of the grounds and buildings. It is expedient therefore that every member of the class carefully consider the matter and let their convictions be known. The Memorial Committee has been investigating for some time several propositions and they will thankfully receive any helpful suggestions from any source. It is hoped that, by the co-operation of every Senior, the class will very soon take definite action. 1905.

Freshman Prize Contestants.

Quite a number of Freshmen participated in the finals for entry into the declamation contest, and judging from the tenor of the speeches, the class possesses considerable oratorical talent. The selection, by which the test was made, was Patrick Henry's speech, and as such it gave considerable chance for the declaimer to display plenty of fire and enthusiasm. The judges were W. C. Gretzinger, Prof. W. C. Keough and Prof. L. W. Robey. From the contestants the following were selected: Williams, Duncan, Harris, Bromley, Haller and Schrum. The prize contest will be held April 14th.

Minstrel a Sure Go.

Rehersal work on the Minstrel for 1905 is progressing in a very encouraging manner. The chorus is an excellent one both in tone and volume and the musical numbers have a good swing and are full of life. The olio will contain several original sketches. Practices are being held twice a week and all college talent is taking an active part. At the last rehersal, the manager of the 1903 production stated that the present material is far superior to that of the past. It is the aim of the management to make public appearance sometime before March 24th. The outlook augers well for a pleasant entertainment. Proceeds for teh benefit of the Athletic Association.

THE 1906 L'AGENDA.

An Artistic Annual of Many Good Features.

The compilation of L'Agenda, the college annual, is about complete. Editor Powell '06, has been working on the subject matter for the past three months and two hundred pages of the book will go to press on the first of March. The annual of 1906 promises well to set a new standard in our college publications, especially in an artistic sense. Lose, Hoon and Beaver are drawing the department cuts and head-pieces and their productions, as a rule, are undoubtedly superior to any similar decorations in the former books. The total number of the zinc etchings will be twenty-eight and these together with one hundred and sixty half tones will embellish the pages. A special feature of the annual will be the pictures of the members of the faculty and a brief history of their scholastic honors and attainments. The Senior department has also been radically changed. Instead of being a rehash of the college catalogue the name of each member of the graduating class will be followed with a synopsis of his college honors. The grind section will again be called into use and will comprise quite a large portion of the literary section

The book will be dedicated to the Hon. John B. Cook, '73, of Denver, Colorado, Judge of the U. S. district court and for twenty-five years President of our general alumni association. The book will consist of three hundred and twenty-five pages and will be bound in a dark colored buckram with beveled edges and stamped with an artistic color design. L'Agenda will be on sale on the first day of May at the same old price.

Editorial

Did you go to the "At Home" last Wednesday? You ought to have gone if you did not. You could not have failed to enjoy yourself and the pains taken by the girls in your behalf certainly merited some sign of your appreciation, best manifested by your presence.

These social functions, given from time to time, are the only ones to which a general invitation is extended and too little value is generally placed upon them. They afford an opportunity for you to brighten up in the formalities that social practice expects of you, to learn to bear yourself with ease in gatherings of any magnitude, to be yourself under all conditions. This is a part of your education that you should not neglect for some day you may need it badly. If you should sometime be placed in a position where social functions are matters of the day rather than the month, and you are unaccustomed to them, life will have its drawbacks. More than this, the primary object of the "At Home" is for you to become acquainted with those of your fellow students whom you may have no other chance to know, and the co-eds at Bucknell are worth knowing in the superlative degree.

They have these gatherings for you, they make their preparations with you in mind and hope to see you there, and can you dissapoint them without a feeling of injustice. You have no idea how much effort those girls put forth for your entertainment; what a time they had to land a picture of George Washington, in honor of the day. The other decorations; the patriotic napkins and the little hatchets were all indicative of clever ideas, and remember, all for you.

If you were not there you missed some mighty good ices and cake, some snappy music, and some hand shakes and smiles that would have brightened you up and made you feel that the most of this world is not composed of yourself alone.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion of the upper-classmen, the faculty, and the friends of the institution in general that some measure should be taken to restrict the promiscuous posting of class procs on the busines houses and residences of the town. This matter has been laid before the Orange and Blue on many occasions but the evil has again been brought before the public eye since the recent trolley trouble.

During the past two years the material, which composes the make-up of the posters, has degenerated into coarse epithets, couched in abusive language and these have been stuck in the most prominent places with fish glue and coated with a shell of varnish. The good people of Lewisburg naturally object to this practice for the rival class is anything but careful in its manner of removing the slanders. Numerous residences and business houses today bear the marks of defacement and for no good reason. Class procs should by all means be posted for the practice is a pleasant tradition but flour paste and a little of the Golden Rule would result in less hard feeling.

Spring term is rapidly approaching and with the advent of the warm weather a traditional duty devolves upon the upper-classmen. Two years ago a list of rules was distributed among the students, one article of which forbid the Freshmen from sitting around the pillars in front of the Main College. Another clause was added last year which reserved the brown stone steps of 1904 for use of the Seniors and Juniors. This rule should, by all means, be enforced for student body traditions are very scarce at Bucknell. Their value rests, not in the arbitrary restraint, but in making the standing of an upperclassman mean something. The old and learned man in the world is treated with deference and respect must be paid him according to good usages of society. A college body is a democratic one with few rules, and the fellow fresh from prep is liable to abuse his freedom and cultivate an overbearing attitude that may cling to him in after life. If he learns his true place in college it will undoubtedly aid him in the years to come.

Cornell Banquet Rules.

At Cornell the following set or rules is prescribed for the freshman banquet:

Rule I. No underclass rivalry or strife of any kind, whether by moral persuasion or physical force, shall begin prior to 48 hours before the appointed hour of the banquet.

Rule II. No agents of any kind which would tend toward the temporary disfigurement or injury of either party shall be used. This shall include the use of weapons of any description, wires, chemical compounds of a harmful nature, etc.

Rule III. No underclassman captured by the opposing class shall be tied, handcuffed or have his personal liberty restricted by any physical forces for the purpose of public exhibition.

Rule IV. These rules shall be interpreted and applied by a committee appointed from the two upper classes by the presidents of the same.

Rule V. The intentional violation of these rules shall be considered hazing, and will render the offender liable to removal from the University.

The libraries at Yale contain 390,000 volumes this year, an increase of 20,000 over last year.

Work on Princeton Lake, a present of Andrew Carnegie, has begun. It will be over three miles in length, and its width will vary from 400 to 1000 feet. The work will take over a year to complete.

One half of one per cent. of the population of the United States is college bred. From this small number, 45 per cent. of senators, 36 per cent. of congressmen, 56 per cent. of vice presidents, 65 per cent. of speakers of the house of representatives, 83 per cent of supreme court justices and 70 per cent. of presidents have been chosen.

The trustees of Indiana State University, at Bloomington, Illinois, are up against a stiff proposition. Recent years have witnessed a large influx of Filipino students and their susceptibility to flirtation with the co-eds is alarming the good people of the state. A bill will be presented at the next legislature prohibiting intermarriage with Filipinos of more than one-eighth blood.

Three Baptist churches, one in this city, want the Rev. William T. Harris, '95, to accept their respective pastorates. Mr. Harris is editor of the Optimist, and a well known clergyman. The North Baptist Church, at Twenty-third and Oxford streets, has called Mr. Harris, and he is considering the advisability of accepting, provinding he shall be given an assistant.—Phila. Ledger.

The Athletics of the college are under the charge of Chas. E. Tenfel, A. B., a student of the Theological department. Mr. Teufel is the famous ex-Bucknell catcher. We have during the spring term, one of the best college baseball teams. Chester Weaver, the well known pitcher, has been a student of the college during the entire year. The basketball team under the coaching of Mr. Teufel has won thus far, four of the five games played.—Susquehanna.

A Chance For Law Students.

The American Law School Review offers a first prize of $50, second of $25, third of $15 and eleven others of $10 each for the best brief of the following case:

A large mastiff, owned by one Robert Fitzgibbons, while following his master along the street ran into the barn of the Michigan Avenue Express company, and while in the barn was attacked by a bull dog owned by the Express company.

Fitzgibbons entered the barn, and, with several of the employes of the Express company, tried in numerous ways to seperate the dogs, but was unable to do so. The battle was going against the mastiff, and Fitzgibbons, seeing that if the fight continued longer his dog would be killed, shot and killed the dog owned by the Express company.

The bulldog was a valuable animal with a pedigree, was used by the Express company as a watch dog, and was a great favorite with the employes of the company. He had been trained as a fighter, and while somewhat accustomed to attack and fight strange dogs that might come on the premises of the company, was not considered a vicious dog towards people.

Suit was brought by the Michigan Avenue Express company against Fitzgibbons for $150, the value of the bulldog, that being the amount the dog could have been sold for in open market.

All briefs should be sent to A. Mason, editor of the American Law School Review, West Publishing company, St. Paul, Minn., before the first of April 1905.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 6, 1905 No. 21

DARTMOUTH DEFEATED

Varsity Defeats the New Englanders in a Fast Game.

The Varsity basketball team demonstrated its ability to cope with the best college material in the country in defeating Darmouth, on Monday evening, by a score of 21 to 13. The game was the most important one on the schedule as the visitors had a record for defeating Princeton, Cornell and Yale. These facts made the home team eager to gain a victory over their Yankee opponents and, as a result, they played the game with a dash and spirit that could not be overcome.

The opening of the contest was delayed a few minutes by the protest of the visiting team against the hall furnished by Bucknell. Their claim was that the ball was not of the regulation weight but the referee found it to be up to the standard and did not grant their point. The game was clean throughout and the fouls called did not result from roughness but from other violations of the rules. Bucknell's team work was the best seen here this season, while that of Dartmouth was not far behind in excellence.

Two minutes after the play started, Grier, by a pretty shot, scored for the Varsity. Cockill, aided by the excellent passing of his team mates, then increased the score by four points. McGrail then scored for Dartmouth and this ended the goal throwing from floor for the first half. Grier threw five from fouls, and McGrail three, ending the half with a score of 11 to 5 in the home team's favor. In the second half Cheesman and Smith were the star performers each securing three goals from field. McGrail, Bankart, Russ and Grabenstein scored for their side in the last few minutes of play. The best exhibition of the evening was contributed by Capt. Cockill. While standing in the center of the floor he dodged his man and made a fast, accurate shot into the basket, a play which brought forth loud applause from all sides. Cheesman and Smith, although closely followed by their guards, played noteworthy games and often by clever passing secured free throws. Grier and Lenhart stuck to their men like leeches and allowed them few tries at the basket. McGrail played the best game for Dartmouth and his work was one of the features. Russ and Alling were also in the contest from start to finish.

At the close of the game some of the visitors complained of unfair treatment, but it can be said with no show of partiality that Referee Turner was at all times consistent in his decisions. He has been known to all Bucknellians for several years and his veracity has never been questioned so that any such remarks are entirely unfounded.

The following is the line-up.

BUCKNELL		DARTMOUTH
Smith	forward	Russ
Cheesman	forward	Bankart
Cockill	center	Grebenstein
Grier	guard	Alling
Lenhart	guard	McGrail

Goals from floor: Cheesman 3, Smith 3, Cockill 2, Grier, Russ, Bankart, Grebenstein, McGrail 2. From Foul: Grier 6, McGrail 3. Referee, Turner, of Williamsport. Timers: Elliott and Caruthers.

Varsity Team Home Again.

The Bucknell five returned home, Sunday morning, from a dissapointing trip to the southern section of the state. The team played a heady game at both places and while the score at Gettysburg was rather small yet the margin was sufficient to call it a clean victory. The result of the Lebanon Valley contest was a surprise to all, but when the conditions under which this game was played are known, the defeat has no sting. The Bucknell men were given a hearty reception and were royally entertained at both colleges and the games were well attended. At Gettysburg the cheering was exceptionally good.

BUCKNELL 19. GETTYSBURG 13.

The game at Gettysburg was played in the college gymnasium and was a fast contest. The floor is somewhat smaller than that of Tustin but the team soon adapted their passing to the distances. Smith did not accompany the team and his absence was felt. Taggart, who took his place played in admirable style, kept his forward from scoring and made a sensational goal himself. Grier was the star of the evening, securing four baskets. Sieber played the best game for Gettysburg, making eleven of the total number of points.

BUCKNELL 10. LEBANON 29.

At Annville the team was up against a combination of circumstances. A poor floor, two full-pledged professional players from Reading and an underclass referee were the propositions to be faced in the game. The gymnasium of the institution was consumed in the recent fire and the contest was played in the town hall. This building is equal in size to about four of the ordinary rooms in West College and the soft and well worn pine floor was bristling with splinters and nails. The goals were poorly arranged, one being on a temporary pole and the other affixed to the wall. Beggs and Bowler, the stars of Lebanon Valley, make no pretense of attending college but come up from the city whenever their services are needed. The official, a Mr. Dinkelspeiler, was a member of the 1907 class and while he endeavored to be fair in his decisions he nevertheless showed a lamentable knowledge of the rules of the game. Lenhart was entirely off color and his forward secured sixteen of Lebanon Valley's points. Grier played a consistent article of ball and succeeded in scoring six of our total of ten.

DEBATE WITH CORNELL

Contest to be Held at Lewisburg in April.

After a period of inactivity extending over the past six years, Bucknell has finally resumed her place in the inter-collegiate debating world. During the past month, Prof. Phillips, who has charge of that department, has been in communication with the representatives of Cornell and thro his efforts and the aid of Prof. Ralph Catterall, of that institution, a contest has been arranged for. Cornell was at first reluctant to accept the proposition owing to our established reputation in economic lines but the meeting is now a certainty. No definite date has as yet been decided upon but the debate will in all likelihood be held in Bucknell Hall in the latter part of April. Bucknell has the choice of the question and Cornell the option of sides. Names of the students who will represent the University have not been announced. G. R. Bliss, '03, is a member of the Cornell debating committee.

The last inter-collegiate debate in which Bucknell was a factor was held with Lehigh in the late nineties. Our college was victorious.

The University's New Building for Women

The new Cottage for women at Bucknell University, on which work has already begun, will be ready by the opening of the fall term, Sept. 25, 1905. It will be one hundred and twenty feet long, forty feet wide, and will rise three stories above the basement. The building will be built of pressed brick with brownstone trimmings, and will contain eighty-seven rooms.

Games the Coming Week.

Since the last issue of the Orange and Blue, Manager Bittenbender has concluded arrangements for a game of basketball with Gettysburg to be played in Tustin Gymnasium on March the 11th. Our previous contest for earlier in the term was canceled on account of varioloid and an open date in the schedules of both the college makes the home game a certainty. Gettysburg was defeated by the home team last week but the game was close and exciting and judging from the ability displayed at that time thecoming contest should be fast. This will be the last home game of the season.

The contest between the Seniors and Juniors has been postponed until Thursday evening, the ninth. This game will be the hardest fought and most spectacular exhibition in the series as considerable rivalry exists from underclass years. The teams will be composed of old players of Varsity ability.

Reserves 25 High School 11

The second team won a victory over the Williamsport High School on Saturday evening by a score of 25 to 11. It was the first game for the Reserves on the home floor and their playing was a marked improvement over that of the previous contests away from home. For only a short time in the first half did the Williamsport boys have any chance to win. They lacked the team work that characterized the playing of the Scrubs but nevertheless they put up a good article of the game. Steinhilper and Robbins played the best for the second team and their work was but little short of the Varsity standard. Lose, formerly of the High School, also played a fast game. Hartman excelled for the visitors, not only guarding his forward well but securing two goals for his team.

Lecture on Electrical Theory.

On the coming Thursday evening at 7.30 p. m., the Chemical and Physical Society will hold a meeting in the Physical Laboratory. The latest views concerning the constitution of matter, including the electrical theory, will be discussed by Prof. Owens. Since the new equipment of the building has been put in shape many practical experiments have been made possible and the coming lecture will be thoroughly illustrated. The scientific students will be cordially welcomed.

Euepia Debaters Chosen.

On Tuesday evening occurred the final debating trial for selection of speakers to represent Euepia in the annual inter-society contest with Theta Alpha. The judges, Professors Smith and Keough, selected the following speakers: Osborn, '08, and Bertin, '08. The question debated was: Resolved, That railroad pooling contracts should be legalized.

Affirmative: Condict, Bertin. Negative: Osborn, Steele.

JUNIOR PROM A SUCCESS

The Class Dance of 1906 the Greatest Social Event of the Year.

At just 2.30 a. m. on Saturday morning the most enjoyable social function of the year was brought to a close. The Junior Prom given by the Class of 1906, on Friday evening, was a brilliant success and the committee in charge is deserving of all the compliments that have been so generously bestowed. The Armory, in which the dance was held, was completely transformed. The decorative scheme was of blue and white and these colors were suspended from every nook. The walls were dotted with a mass of college and fraternity pennants whose bright colors blended with very artistic effect. In the eastern corner very pretty section was arranged for the patronesses and directly opposite generous decorations of tropical plants screened the musicians from view.

The Germania Orchestra of Lock Haven, consisting of ten pieces, furnished the music for the occasion and their playing was of the highest order. Their selections were gathered from the latest musical hits and these interspersed with the dreamy strains of some fine old waltzes made the tripping of the light fantastic a thing of pleasure. The program included thirty dances.

The costumes worn, were, in many instances, beautiful. The gowns of the ladies are indescribable by all save possibly themselves, and together with the conventional tails and white kids of the gentlemen made the gathering a gorgeous spectacle.

The overture was begun at eight-thirty and by nine the programs had been filled and the dancing commenced, the two-step and waltz alternating.

Throughout the entire evening dainty refreshments were served, and the change from a fixed time for lunch, proved a pleasing innovation. During intermission the couples spent the time in in social conversation which was rendered all the more enjoyable by the soft music of several harmonious overtures.

The second series of dances proved as delightful as the first and, when the last notes of the home waltz had died away, the dancers departed with much reluctance.

Over seventy couples attended, in which number were guests from all the surrounding towns as well as numerous graduates. Taken all in all the dance reflected much credit on the social and entertaining ability of the Junior Class and will linger long as a pleasing memory.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Andrew A. Leiser, Mrs. William C. Foster, Mrs. Nellie C. Marsh, Mrs. Joseph Nesbit, Mrs. C. J. Wolfe, Mrs. Wm. Leiser, Mrs. T. E. Halfpenny, Mrs. Thomas C. Thornton.

Cathode and X-Rays in Physics.

Recitation work in Physics will be suspended during the coming week in order that preparations may be made by Prof. Simpson for a demonstration of the Cathode Rays. The class will be busy with the preliminary study until Wednesday evening when an experimental demonstration and lecture will be delivered by the head of the department. Persons not members of the class can secure admittance by making arrangements with the Professor.

COETHE'S HOME

Instructive Letter from a Bucknell Woman in Germany.

The day was clear and cold and bracing. Arriving at Weimar at about ten, we went first to the Library, a building at one time used as a schloss, and given by Carl August to Goethe to turn into a library. It is arranged with an oval space surrounded by a gallery. In the centre is a long green felt covered table on which Goethe himself laid out the body of Schiller. The pillars supporting the gallery are lined with portraits of famous men and women of Goethe's time. Against the walls are books of all sizes and descriptions, and in all the niches and corners are busts of Goethe, Schiller and their friends. Some of these are very fine pieces of sculpture, and all help to give distinct impressions of the men themselves.

Looking down from the gallery one is impressed with the lighting; there is not a dark corner in the place. Considering that it was constructed from an old building, by a man who was not an architect but a poet, it is rather wonderful. In a room off the gallery are two curious old Spanish maps of America. The older one gives Mexico and the Gulf with a fair degree of accuracy; on the other I found the Susquehanna with its two branches. There is a still older map of Europe which showed even more curious proportions.

The rooms in which Goethe lived for a time are also shown, but are bare and almost devoid of furniture. In the tower there is a curious oak staircase carved by a prisoner. It seems he desired to prove that a certain tree, though hollow in the middle, was sound. So he carved the trunk in spiral lines and fitted the stairs into it. On reaching the foot, and after nearly breaking our necks and backs, we managed to look up the hollow and see the light at the top.

From the library we went to the Ducal Vault. The little chapel was filled with the faint odor of wilting flowers, from the wreaths presented to the little Grand-duchess. Directly at the foot of the stone staircase are the heavy oak coffins of Goethe and Schiller. They are exceedingly plain, bearing only the names on the foot. Perhaps the metal ones within are more elaborate. The old guide unlocks the boxes at the head of each and shows you the gold laurel wreath presented to Goethe, and the silver oak wreath given to Schiller. Both coffins are covered with withered garlands.

The crypt contains some old metal coffins of 16th century Grand Dukes, as well as the more recent ones. At one end is an archway on the far side of which lies the body of a Grand Duchess, who died a Catholic. The archway was built to separate her from the Protestants.

We next visited the Archive building in which manuscripts of many famous German authors are to be seen. The contrast between the fine, almost copper plate hand in which the young Goethe wrote the first part of Faust, and the vigorous, masterful chirography of the old man who completed the second part just before his death, is very striking when portions of the manuscript are seen side by side.

After dinner we went to the Museum to see some famous mural paintings, descriptive of the Odyssey, by Preller; and then to the Goethe Haus which has been converted into a museum. It would be impossible to describe all we saw here. The paintings attract most attention. In the reception room stands the small, quaint piano on which the twelve year old Mendelssohn once played. There is a curious bust-room with a deep blue wall against which the white plaster casts stand out in glaring relief. Opening from this is a tiny garden room where big black silhouettes, cut by Goethe's own hand, adorn the walls. Everywhere about the house one sees evidences of the great impression his Italian trip made upon the poet. But not until you have seen his collections do you gain any adequate idea of the many sidedness of this wonderful man. His collections of coins and old cameo rings are very valuable; then there are some old Greek bronzes, a fine set of majolica plates, some rare portraits and prints. He himself did some rather dainty little water color sketches. Up stairs are very complete collections of minerals, natural history specimens, and physical and electrical apparatus. None of these things have been gathered by an amateur, but rather by a specialist in the subject.

His study and bed room are most interesting. They are very simply furnished with plain oak desks, tables and chairs. The bed room is very tiny, containing only the bed with the long bell-handle above it, the great arm-chair in which the poet died; the little table on which the bottle of medicine, cup and spoon still stand, and the washstand.

As Patty said when we were leaving, "it is wonderful with how few and simple things this great man was content."

The Caliopean Entertains

The annual reception of the Caliopean Literary Society of Bucknell Academy on Friday evening proved to be one of the most enjoyable and successful events of the year. By the clever use of pennants, cushions and palms, the dining room took on the appearance of a bower of beauty. Two cozy-corners, representing "sports" and the "army," attracted much attention. The room was thronged with young people from the town and Seminary and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all. At eleven refreshments were served and the "lights were out" before the last guests had departed.

"Marie Stuart."

Invitations will soon be issued by the Girls' Dramatic Club for the production of "Marie Stuart," on Friday evening, Mar. 17th. The rehersal work of the play has aroused much interest and now that the characters have their parts memorized the girls have renewed their enthusiasm and an excellent redition is promised. Miss Edith Schillinger has entire charge of the staging and she has been untiring in her efforts to make the coming production the peer of any heretofore presented. The guests may well look forward to the coming meeting.

Fire in L'Agenda Room.

A suspicious odor of burning paper caused much anxiety among the residents of WestCollege last evening. A thorough search was made of the suites on the upper floors of the building and in the room occupied by Powell, Editor of L'Agenda, was found a charred mass of waste paper and the remains of several manuscripts. The floor and tables of this apartment were covered with material for the annual but the blaze fortunately died out before reaching the more voluminous and valuable of the productions. A cigar ash-fanned by the draft from the open window, was the probable cause.

Students at Washington

Company A of the Twelfth Regiment returned last evening from the inaugural exercises at Washington. Five students made the trip and report a pleasant time. On Friday afternoon two of this number were fortunate enough to obtain admittance to the presence of "Teddy" who gave them the glad hand. The University was represented by Capt. W. C. Gretzinger, '89, Lieutenant W. W. Fetzer, '03, Groff, '05, Luchsinger, Weber, Steel and Groff, Academy.

Jail For College Hazer.

A bill recently passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature makes hazing a crime. It declares that if any person or persons shall maliciously inflict on any person any grievious bodily harm by what is commonly known as hazing, either with or without any weapon or instrument, while attending or going to or coming from any of the common schools, colleges, universities or any other institution of learning within this commonwealth he, she or they shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

"Being convicted, he, she or they shall be sentenced to a fine not exceeding $500, or undergo an imprisonment of not more than six month or both."

GETTYSBURG DOWN AND OUT

Varsity Scores a Victory in the Last Home Game of the Season.

The Varsity basketball team closed a most successful season at home on Saturday night, with a well earned victory over the strong five from Gettysburg. The game, as was anticipated, was a fast and hard fought one throughout. Both teams played an exceptionally good article of ball, the Varsity having at all times, however, the better of the argument. The attendance was cut down somewhat by one or two other social events but the enthusiasm was as great as at any game this season.

The referee blew his whistle promptly at eight o'clock and Cockill scored a minute later soon to be followed by baskets cleverly placed by Smith and Cheesman. Gettysburg now began to brace up and Seiber got a line on the goal and shot a difficult score. Two fouls increased the visitors tally by as many points. Strohmeir, while lying on the floor, threw the ball in the air and it gracefully descended through the necessary circle. Smith, Cockill and Cheesman settled down to good team work and when the half ended the score stood 21 to 7 in favor of Bucknell.

During the intermission the Gettysburg team was given a lecture by Captain Seiber and the half that followed was marked by greatly improved playing. Smith and McClure roughed it up considerably but the visitor was outplayed as Smith succeeded in shooting two baskets after breaking away from his man. McClure played persistent game. The Varsity was able to score only ten points to Gettysburg's six. The playing of Seiber for the visitors was the best and had it not been for the close guarding of Grier he would have had several more points to his credit. Strohmeir put up a heady and consistent game. Taggart played guard on the Varsity in the first half and his work cannot be criticised. Lenhart, who replaced him, also played well. Grier played a nice game at guard and from his position shot a nice goal. Cockill, Smith and Cheesman played sensational games. Their work all year has been of the best and classes them as foremost men in their positions. Capt Turner, of Williamsport Y. M. C. A., again refereed and gave complete satisfaction. He is an ideal official and shows no partiality.

Line up:

Bucknell, 34.	Gettysburg, 13.
Cheesman . .	forward . . Seiber
Smith . . .	forward . . .Strohmeir
Cockill . . .	center . . . Leonard
Grier	guard . . . .Hill
Taggart, Leonard	guard .McClure

Goals from floor—Smith 6; Cheesman 5; Cockill 4; Grier; Strohmeir 2; Leonard, Seiber. Goals from fouls—Seiber 5; Grier 2. Referee, Turner, of Williamsport.

Sophomore Cotillion.

A class dance is being agitated among the Sophomores. Last year arrangements were completed for an underclass cotillion but the function was for some reason called off. It is reported that the Class of 1907 intends pushing the thing through and in all likelihood the dance will be held late in April.

Athletics the Coming Week.

This evening at eight the Seniors and Juniors clash in basketball. This game promises to be hotly contested not only on account of the class rivalry but because both teams are tie for the Hoskin's cup.

The Annual Indoor Athletic Meet will be held in Tustin on Wednesday evening. Entries are open for pole vault, high jump, shot put, obstacle race, three-legged race, potato race, club swinging, goal throwing, horse and buck work, tumbling, wrestling and bar work. The winners of the contests are to be given suitable medals and a good exhibition may be looked for. The proceeds are for the benefit of the relay carnival.

The Varsity plays the Williamsport Y. M. C. A., on their own floor on Thursday evening and it is desired that a large number of rooters accompany the team. Two years ago Bucknell won the series and last year the Lumber City team carried off the laurels.

This season the Varsity was victorious in the first game by a score of 32 to 13 and the result of the coming game will either make a tie of the contests of the last three years or Bucknell will emerge a complete victor.

The Freshman and Sophomore game will be played in the gymnasium on Saturday evening and as is usual quite a lot of spirit is being shown.

The classes are organizing under their marshal and the yelling will be one of the features.

Theta Delta Tau Dance.

The annual pan-hellenic dance of the Bow-wows was held in the Regimental Armory last Wednesday evening with the entire membership present. The music was furnished by the Lewisburg Imperial Orchestra and was satisfactory in every respect. The function was very informal and the various class and fraternity yells given in the second series of the program rendered the evening a very enjoyable one. During intermission the musicians of the organization rendered several selections in an able manner.

Williamsport Alumni to Banquet.

H. C. Fithian, '98, has been appointed by Prof. W. W. Ketchner to arrange for the final details of the Alumni Banquet to be held in Williamsport in the near future. No definite date has been fixed but in all probability it will be held on Mar. 24th. Efforts are being made to have a large contingent of the undergraduates present.

Senior Committees.

President Goodman off the Senior Class has appointed the following committees, the first name being that of the chairman:

Class Day—Henry, Scott, Ausherman, Weaver, Misses Burgart and Johnson.

Invitation—Bartol, Schelk, Portser, Misses Bower, Meek and McFarland.

W. W. Fetzer, '04, Alumni Marshall.

At a meeting of the Commencement Committee of the Alumni, Lieutenant W. W. Fetzer, '04, of Milton, was appointed marshall of the Alumni procession at Commencement. He will have as aides, H. C. Fithian, '98, Williamsport, and C. W. Clement, '98, Sunbury. Dr. W. C. Bartol was appointed a committee on songs.

THE DEBATE WITH CORNELL

The Representatives and Question Selected for the Contest.

Progress was made during the last week in the preliminary arrangements for the Cornell Congress and Bucknell Debate. First, the President in conjunction with Professors Helm, and Phillips selected the following debaters: Ausherman, Bostwick and Morton; second the following question was submitted to Cornell Congress: Resolved, That the Interstate Commerce Act should be amended so as to legalize pooling and rate agreements entered into by railroads. Third; the date was fixed approximately about May 5th. Bucknell is now awaiting for Cornell Congress to send her choice of sides.

Tri-Delta Entertained.

Mrs. Weber L. Gerhart was at home to the Delta Delta Delta girls and their friends on Friday afternoon, March 10. Mrs. Gerhart was assisted in receiving by Miss Bates and Miss Judd. The emblems and colors of the sorority held a prominent place in the tasteful arrangement of Mrs. Gerhart's pretty home. During the afternoon part of the Imperial orchestra furnished soft strains of music. An elaborate luncheon, with several surprising and unique features, was served after which dainty favors were distributed among the guests.

Seminary Minstrel.

It is reported that shortly after the production of "Marie Stuart," that the Girls' Dramatic Club intends organizing a blackface performance. The supply of talent at the Institute is exceptionally good this year and the staging of such an entertainment would be very novel. It is to be hoped that the movement will meet with success.

Prof. Simpson Addresses C. & P.

That gold, silver and the other precious elements will eventually be produced from lead, clay, and the most common materials is the theory now maintained by the most advanced physicists, as related by Prof. Simpson, who addressed a very large audience at the meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society, held last Thursday evening in the physical laboratory. This return to the view which the alchemists held many centuries ago is based on the well grounded theory, recently established, that the atom is not the least divisible form of matter, but that it is composed in every instance of hundreds and thousands of particles called electrors. The atoms of all the elements are made up of electors exactly similar in quality and structure; the difference in the properties of the many-varied elements being caused by a variance in the number of electrors in the atom of each.

X-Rays, Kathode-Rays, and Becquerel-Rays were exhibited under many different conditions to show that the electrors steaming from them had the power to turn wheels and yield to magnetic attraction; thus showing in a convincing manner that they consisted of matter and substance and not of mere disturbances in the ether as is maintained by the continental physicists. The professor showed in a very interesting manner the fluorescence produced upon numerous liquids and solids by light and the Kathode-Rays. At the close of the lecture all were given an opportunity to see how their hands and other belongings appeared under the X-Rays.

Theta Alpha.

The final meeting of Theta Alpha for the present term will be held on Friday evening, March 17th. The program will include parlimentary drill and extempore speeches. At this session officers will be elected for the ensuing term.

1907 — Comparison of Physical Measurements — 1908

Physical Director Hoskins has completed the examination of the members of the new class and presents the following facts and measurements. A comparison of the figures show that from a physical standpoint the class of 1908 is superior to the present Sophomores. Last year the tallest man was H. H. Adams, who measured 72.3 inches. Lenhart, '08, and Cure, '08, are 1.2 inches taller. The heaviest man of the new class is Lenhart, who weighs 196.7 pounds. Snavely, '07, tips the beam at 218 pounds. In the dip and pull-up the present class suffers from comparison both collectively and individually. Last year Lemmon had a record of 16 in both trials. Hayes, '08, has a record of 13 pull-ups and 10 dips.

The average weight is five pounds heavier; the average heigth two tenths taller and the average age six months older. In physical developement the new class is from five to eight per cent. better than 1907.

SENIOR SEMINARY RECEPTION

The Girls of the Institute Prove Charming Hostesses.

On Friday evening in gaily festooned rooms and amidst the most pleasant and cleverly appointed surroundings, the Senior Class of Bucknell Institute tendered the annual reception to their friends. From eight thirty until one o'clock the parlors and Chapel were thronged with the delighted guests and although formal the function was characterized by its freedom from the usual stiffness.

The reception committee, composed of Dean and Mrs. Edwards, Miss Bush and Misses Jeanette Wolfe, Margaret Stoughton, Julia Brown and Elizabeth Baker, received the friends of the class in the large parlor and accomplished the task of introduction with a grace and ease entirely in keeping with the general harmony of the occasion.

The color scheme of the evening was of red and green and pennants and bunting of this description were hung from every conceivable corner. The Chapel was generously draped with class colors and the two cosy corners, which were the unique features, were resplendent in a wealth of Indian cushions. The four walls were entirely hidden under soft coverings and the contrasting colors blended with true Bohemian effect. The balustrades from the first floor were wrapped in red and green bunting and the decorations of the hallway itself were tastefully conceived. Tropical plants of all descriptions were plentiful on every side and from behind an immense bank in the center of the Chapel the Imperial Orchestra discoursed appropriate music. Dainty refreshments, catered by Steinnart, were served in the Institute dining room shortly after ten. Instead of being seated at the usual tables the committee in charge had arranged for a pleasing innovation. The guests were seated about the room and the courses of the luncheon were graciously distributed by the girls of the Fourth Form.

From every standpoint was most delightful and the Class of 1905 can be complimented. The following are the names of the members of the various committees:

Invitation—Laura Sharp, Mary Halfpenny, Edna Downing, Sadie Wolverton.

Refreshment—Julia Brown, Elizabeth Baker, Dorothy Walls.

Decorations—Margaret Stoughton, Julia Brown, Laura Sharp, Anna Johnson.

Reception—Jeanette Wolfe, Margaret Stoughton, Julia Brown, Elizabeth Baker.

Delta Theta Upsilon Dance.

The local fraternity of Delta Theta Upsilon delightfully entertained the young ladies of the town on Saturday evening at cards and dancing. Colors of lavender and white were artistictly hung about the halls and in the most attractive corner a large punch bowl was the feature. The Imperial Orchestra furnished the music and played very creditable selections. Eighteen couples enjoyed the dancing Professor and Mrs. Llewellyn Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Kurtz were the chaperons.

A Legion of Dishonor will have its membership published in the next issue of the "Orange and Blue." All seniors who fail to pay their class dues by the coming Monday will be duly decorated and have their names published. Contributions to the good cause will be received by Tiffany, Phillips, Goodman and Miss Conway.

The newspapers have been lately filled with some wild stories of hazing abuses at certain colleges. Attempts are being made in some states to create laws making the practice a criminal offense. One conversant with the actual conditions of college life usually believes about one-third of these stories, but unfortunately the great majority of readers are led through these tales to believe that the Freshman's life is one continual struggle to keep life and limb.

A current magazine publishes a compilation of the worst cases and depicts the college man as being guilty of worse atrocities than a Sioux Indian ever dreamed of. It is granted that, in certain exceptional instances, hazing has been carried to uncalled for limits. But to represent the college man as a cruel barbarian, purposely endeavoring to injure a fellow student, is a rank injustice.

Certain colleges, notably Princeton, have drawn a distinction between hazing and horsing. Any indignation leading to bodily injury is classed as hazing and is punished by expulsion. Stunts leaning toward the ridiculous, although not encouraged, are either ignored or treated lightly. This is a most sensible plan and should receive wider adoption. There is no doubt that a certain amount of horsing is a good thing for the majority of Freshmen. The average student enters college with an enlarged idea of his own importance, and there is nothing that will bring him back to earth quicker than some fun with himself as the joke. Most upperclassmen will say that the horsing they received as Freshman helped more than anything else to correct their deficiencies in conduct.

In thumbing over the pages of the recent issues of our college catalogue the repetition of the word "Oratory" in its bold type would lead one to the conclusion that Bucknell was a regular forum where the tender youth might acquire the ability to sway vast multitudes after the manner of the honey-tongued orators of Homeric legend. The first three years in the collegiate career of the Class of 1905 did not bear out this assumption. The requirements of the course were a fiery oration delivered in a spread eagle fashion before a crowd of giggling class mates and the perfunctory "ex" was forthcoming. Classes were seldom held; little interest was aroused and the study instead of being of value was a positive, monotonous bore.

This year the Faculty made the subject a minor study necessary to the completion of the first years work and the underclassmen are now beginning to awaken from their seance. This action is commendable inasmuch as oratorical ability is not an attainment at which to be sneered. Interest in this department has been revived and the prize contests soon to to be held are going to be well worth hearing.

Bearing these new conditions and the limitations of the present cirriculum in mind would it not be well for the college to offer an elective course for the three older classes. Orations alone need not be the subject of study but such compositions as would make the student at home whether he poses as a toastman, a Fourth of July orator or a howling dervish of a political campaign. In this commercial age the star of the flowery speaker is in eclipse but the demand for enlightenment is being filled by a new class of orators. Demosthenes no longer harangues in the Areopagus but the average man is many times in his career called upon to discuss matters of just as much importance. A self-contained talker with a clear and easy delivery has an inestimable advantage over his confused and tongue-tied brother. The college man needs this ability for the world expects such talents. The lawyer must plead his clients case; the engineer must address his assembly; the preacher, with a good diction and forceful logic, must push his point to the hearts of his congregation, and the active man everywhere must daily address gatherings be they business, religious, political or what not.

The study of the master orations of the past is the proper step for the beginner but training in original productions for all occassions should be the step that completes the ascent. If this be taken in college the graduate enters a phase of active life with confidence where many a mortal is ill at ease. Such a course as would train the student both in the composition and successful delivery of his own productions and, in so far as possible, teach him to say the right thing at the right time in the right manner should by all means be offered.

The Grads

Dr. D. J. Hill, '74, the new Minister to the Netherlands, was transferred from his post of First Assistant Secretary of State in January, 1903, to be Minister to Switzerland, which place he now holds. The promotion increases his salary from $7500 to $10,000, and also places him at a more desirable capital. At The Hague he succeeds Stanford Newell, of Minnesota, who was appointed in June, 1903, and now retires to private life. The transfer of Doctor Hill is believed to be significant of an intended step toward arbitration as a permanent means of adjusting international differences. He is a college professor by habit of mind and also by occupation during most of his life. He was for several years Assistant Secretary of State under Judge Day and Mr. Hay and there demonstrated a grasp of diplomacy. It was his part while in the State Department to deal with the troubles that occurred during the Boxer outrages in China. He managed those affairs with consummate skill and complete success. Doctor Hill made a host of friends in Washington, and as professor of International Law in the Columbian University had a large and loyal following of students. His going to The Hague will, it is believed, have a salutary influence on the relations of the United States to the movement toward arbitration.—Phila. Ledger.

FRESHMEN WIN CONTEST

The Sophomores Lose A Fast and Hard Fought Game.

In the most exciting and closely contested game of basketball ever witnessed in Tustin Gymnasium in the past four years, the Class of 1908 was victorious over their rivals of the Class of 1907 by a score of 14 to 13. The uncertainty as to the result of the contest brought out all the enthusiasm of the spectators and each team received the finest kind of support. It was anybody's game up until the last ten seconds when the Freshmen succeeded in meshing the ball, thereby cinching the victory. Both teams played brilliantly, neither having the advantage and the final tally was so close that the triumph was very unsatisfying.

Lenhart's Varsity experience was a great help to the Freshmen and his two goals from the centre of the floor were well placed. Heinz, Wagner and Leach played the best for the Sophomores. In the first half the Freshmen played the better game but their antagonists hung so closely that there were few free throws. Lenhart made two long shots which resulted in tallies and Baldwin secured a difficult goal. Furgeson found the basket for two points, while Heinz was the only Sophomore who was able to make good. The half ended 10 to 3 in favor of 1908.

From the beginning to the end of the second twenty minutes, the playing was very rough. Heinz and Gibbney mixed things up for keeps and had to be warned several times by the referee. In this half the Sophs put up the superior game and by their fast offensive work began to pile up a good score on their opponents. McNinch got two goals, and Wagner and Leach each landed making the score 12 to 11. The Freshmen played desperately to prevent any further scoring and in so doing one of their number fouled. Amid breathless silence Leach took his stand in front of the basket and, by a pretty shot, tied the score. The members of 1907 went wild and rushed out on the floor, throwing their hats in the air and yelling like mad. A minute later Leach threw another foul and the Sophomores were now one point to the good. Their joy, however, was short lived for in a mix-up near the Sophomore goal, Furgeson broke away and made a sensational basket. It was now 1908's turn and they lifted their victorious team on their shoulders and bore them triumphantly about the floor. The Sophomores protested the goal saying that the ball hit the edge of the running track but their objection was not sustained by Referee Turner and the game ended 14 to 13 against them.

After the game a short lived scrap took place but the trouble was soon quelled and the Freshmen then celebrated with a parade through the town. A drum and clarionet furnished the music and the Class, an hundred strong, marched through all the streets. In the course of their march they liberally decorated the pavements of the town with their numerals in white paint.

Annual Indoor Meet.

The annual indoor meet was held in Tustin Gymnasium on Wednesday evening under the direction of Coach G. W. Hoskins. Although no records were broken, the performances were well up to the usual standard. Lesher equaled the indoor vaulting record and Steinhilper fell but one inch short of it. Lesher and Waltz in competition for the Gymnasium "H," gave commendable exhibitions on the bars, the horse and the buck. The decision of the judges gave the award to Lesher. Bartol gave a clever exhibition with the Indian clubs and also on the bars. Wrestling was introduced for the first time and each of the three events were well contested. The fifteen yard dash was a very spirited affair in which Comstock carried off the first honors in two and two-fifths seconds. The most amusing features were the potato and the obstacle race. The winners of the events are as follows: Pole vault, Lesher; Shot put, Lenhart, 37 feet; 15 yard dash, Comstock; Goal shooting, Winbigler; Potato race, Osborne; Obstacle race, Hawk; Wrestling, Sheppard got two throws on Evans; Hawk won over Morris, and Hayes won from Parry.

Game with Virginia.

The schedule of football dates for the coming season is rapidly being filled. There is but one open date and this will likely be taken before the end of the week. Recently Manager Kech closed negotiations with the University of Virginia for a game on October 21st, in Norfolk. Annapolis is to be contested on November 11th, and Georgetown in the following week so that the members of the team will have three southern trips. These games together with Princeton and Cornell and several more that are not yet ready for publication will make the series for 1905 the best in the history of the sport.

Instead of the annual contest with the Indians at Williamsport, a game will be played in Philadelphia with Villa Nova. The management hopes to secure low railroad rates for the events in order that the student body can accompany the team. The complete schedule will be published soon.

Seminary Minstrels.

Since the production of their annual play, the Girls' Dramatic Club has definitely decided to put on a blackface minstrels. The preliminary details have already been arranged and with the opening of the new term active work will begin. The performance will take place in the Seminary Chapel on May the fifth. An admission fee will be charged in order to liquidate a small debt of the organization. The entire list of the girls who will assay to take the parts of tams and bones has not been prepared, but three of the number will be Misses Burgess, Cobb and Finley. Miss Ferne Braddock will be the interlocutor.

Officers of Theta Alpha.

At the final meeting of Theta Alpha, held on last Friday evening, the following were elected for the third term: Eisenhauer, '05, President; Barton, '06, Vice President; Nell, '08, Secretary; Bailey, '06, Censor; Lesher, '05, Critic; Higby, '08, Treasurer; Knupp, '06, Curator.

MARY STUART

An Excellent Rendition by a Talented Cast.

After three months of diligent rehearsing the members of the Girls' Dramatic Club have given evidence, in a most able manner, of their ability to stage a serious, classical production and to stage it in such a commendable manner as to make all written expressions of praise seem feeble. Handicapped by the lack of a suitable stage and a total absence of scenic effect the members of the cast exhibited such rare talent as to center the attention of the two hundred guests upon the actors alone and the play became a clever bit of character work.

"Mary Stuart" was a brilliant success and both individually and collectively the players deserve the most generous compliments. However, going back of the performance on Friday evening, a large portion of the credit must be given to Miss Edith Schillinger. For two months she worked with a characteristic perseverence and diligence and it was only through her able coaching and management that the play made such an impression as it did. Her work cannot be too highly praised.

The plot had for its basis the historical incidents in the life of Queen Elizabeth and her enmity with Mary Stuart. The Court life with all its intricacies and the deep religious sentiment and jealousy of the rival queens made an admirable field for the composer and every phrase of human feeling was clearly depicted.

MISS EDITH HEDGES KELLY

The title role of Mary Stuart was remarkably well portrayed by Miss Edith Kelly. The part was a very heavy one and called for much native ability. In the expression of emotion and in the delineation of the feelings of the imprisoned queen Miss Kelly was at her best. One who is conversant with the details of English history would have been delighted with the character work. Miss Kelly lost her own personality in rendering the lines and to the audience she was none other than the haughty Catholic, yet withal a woman. The fact that in the final scene many of the listeners were moved to tears is as high a compliment as is possible to bestow.

The role of Queen Elizabeth was taken by Miss Emma Nesbit and her interpretation of the now arrogant, now penitent woman called for some clever acting. Miss Nesbit made an ideal queen and her bearing and dig-

Sophomore Cotillion Assured.

After repeated and unsuccessful attempts by former classes, the present Sophomores of the University have decided to undertake the responsibility of a class dance and set a precedent for the future. At a meeting on last Thursday it was unanimously voted to hold a Sophomore Cotillion. Plans were at once discussed for making the function a success and a criterion by which such future events shall be judged. President Cober has appointed the following committee: Baer, chairman; August, Andrews, Mattis, Wolfe, Lemmon, Davis, Leach, Evans, Winbigler, Baker, Heinz, Godshall, Leiberman, Zugschwert, Burrows, Hawk. The chairman of this committee has called a meeting for this evening at No. 15 West Wing.

Besides authorizing the Cotillion, the meeting considered "Class Finances." During the discussion Treasurer Snavely reported many of the class to be in arrears on the assessment. In order to lighten the burdens of the treasurer a committee, composed of Evans and Whitby, was appointed to assist in the collecting.

Alumni to Dine in Williamsport

The Bucknell Alumni Club of Williamsport has arranged to hold a banquet at the Park Hotel, that city, Friday evening March 24, at 8:30 o'clock. Invitations are being sent to all Alumni and former students within a radius of fifty miles of Williamsport. Any who are missed should arrange for plates by addressing C. F. Bidelspacher, 311 Pine Street, Williamsport. The Committee on arrangements consists of H. C. Fithian, '98, Chairman; L. R. Rentz, '99; C. F. Bidelspacher, '01 and Sylvester B. Dunlap, '03.

The President of the Williamsport Alumni Club is W. W. Kelchner, principal of the Williamsport High School.

Junior Exhibition in Oratory.

The members of the Junior Class who have been selected as contestants for the Registrar's Prize for excellence in oratory are as follows:—Pease, Rumsey, Goldsmith, Cole and Jones, Misses Lane, Bacon, Unger, Moll and Bodler. The basis of the selection was the merits of the Junior themes. The orations must be presented by April 19th and the public meeting will be held in Bucknell Hall on May 19th.

Basketball "Bs" Awarded

At a meeting of the advisory board on Saturday morning, seven men were awarded the basketball insignia. The board is composed of Professors Rockwood and Lindemann, Coach Hoskins, Cockill and Bittenbender. The men who are entitled to wear a "B" for the first time are Grier, Taggart, Lenhart and Manager Bittenbender. The committee also reviewed the past season and from a financial standpoint it was a pronounced success.

Seniors and Juniors This Evening.

After two cancellations and several wrangles over officials, the Senior and Junior classes will meet this evening and play the final game of the inter-class series. This statement is authorative and should either team fail to appear the game will be defaulted. Both managers have agreed to the contest and the spectators should be treated to a spirited event.

VARSITY WINS THE SERIES

Williamsport Defeated For the Second Time This Season.

The Varsity defeated the Williamsport five in the Armory of that place, on Thursday evening, by the close score of 14 to13. The game was the second of the season and, as Bucknell had won the previous contest, it was fast and interesting. Every seat in the building was occupied and the standing room section was packed. On one portion of the bleachers was a large contingent of Newberry enthusiasts who rooted in a typical college manner and kept up the Bucknell spirit.

At the end of the first half Bucknell led by a score of 10 to 7, goals having been thown by Smith, Cheesman and Grier, and for Williamsport by Lutcher, Jackson and a foul by Turner. The pace set in this half was fast with Bucknell showing a superior article of team work. Cockill threw a goal for Bucknell shortly after the second half began but the Williamsport players soon drew up on even terms and the race was now nip and tuck for ten minutes. Capt. Cockill, by some clever passing got the ball to Smith who eluded his guard and safely caged it, making the score of 11 to 12. From this point the contest was hard and rough and when Turner threw a foul the crowd went wild. The last ten minutes of play was exciting but the Y. M. C. A. was unable to locate the basket and the victory was Bucknell's.

The game was clean, the refereeing was fair and the treatment of the team was exceptionally good. The only disagreeable feature of the contest was a dispute between the timers but this was satisfactorily adjudicated by the Referee Hoagland.

For the college Smith played the sensational game, scoring eight of the fourteen points. Capt. Cockill put up a heady game and while guarded very closely his passing was of a high class. Taggart put up a commendable game at guard, his forward not securing a basket. Grier also played in fast style and he hung so closely to the home teams star that only two points were secured against him. For Williamsport, Turner and Speaker excelled, the former scoring three goals from fouls.

Bucknell is above all a healthy college; the catalogue tells you so, and the students all agree, yet it is mysterious how many varieties of aches and pains can develope in a week. On Tuesday morning the President is in his office and from nine fifteen until eleven the executive desk has the appearance of a box office window. Here and there about the room you see wild eyed individuals vainly endeavoring to hold up the walls while they consult the calendar and conjecture at the required excuse. Here, it may be said, exists the true literary department of the University for the original sketches that are presented to the President are, in the majority of instances, pleasing bit of fiction. The large, ruddy faced fellow was "sick," the man at his back had an "engagement" with the dentist, another was "called" home and still another was simply "indisposed." Yet Bucknell is noted for its healthy environment. Getting down to the ground—what is the sense of all these white lies? Outside of the Freshman Class the various individuals are usually well known to the professors and they can be depended upon to judge of the validity of a fellow's excuse. They know by a student's work whether he is absent for a good reason or not and they value that bit of pasteboard accordingly.

If the student ever hesitated a moment and thought of his established reputation, many pieces of choice chirography would go to the waste basket. As young men of twenty years experience we have enough confidence in our Ego to believe that we can detect the falsehood of a youth in the early teens. So much the more should a man of life long experience be able to see through our deceits. The man, who in a year writes a pile of excuse cards higher than the room, must be generous indeed to spare our feelings so many times.

Now the point aimed at is this: excuses should be granted and they should be granted to any student who subscribes his name to an ordinarily valid reason, but the man who asks for such should put a little of practical ethics behind the hand that pushes the pencil. If a fellow consents to this little violation of the Code of Honor then the mere mercenary and selfish reason should restrain him. Every time he presents an excuse to the head of a department the cause of his absense is unconsciously called to mind. If he be a little lax in his work even an honest cut is jotted down as one of the other forgeries and his reputation suffers in proportion.

Why not be honest; suffer the consequences of the unexcused absence and learn to appreciate the value of a recitation; then take a brace and attend cisses more regularly. The cutting habit is a sinuous one but its opposite is just as strong and far more profitable.

The arrival of the Spring term causes the Senior to wrinkle his forehead and wonder. The world begins to grow larger and he smaller and things look sort o' misty. For four years there has been no need to speculate as to the future. It was all planned out: when June came packed his trunk and in September he unpacked it in the same place and put in the time somehow until it was time to pack again. He knew when to expect the letter that contained his father's autograph on the right side of a dollar mark and he made out his schedule accordingly. But the time has come to make out a new time table. The three months that remain yell a jumping-off-place and when he alights it means hustle.

It is somewhat surprising to know how many Seniors there are who at present have a very hazy idea of what they are going to do in the course of a few months. One would think that a college course, preparatory to fitting one for life, would find every one with a pretty definite idea as to the future, but you won't have to talk to many Seniors to find one who will tell you he wishes he knew what he was going to do when college is over.

There are a great many who know the work they intend to follow but the how when and where have not been fixed. The prospective teachers have probably placed their names in two or three teacher's agencies and cannot tell whether the card they will draw will take them to East End or Pine Creek. The law students must decide if they will go to Law School or study in an office and with the rest of the world, including the State of Pennsylvania, trying to keep them from being lawyers they have no easy row to hoe. If the ministers will keep on the trail of the other members of '05 and take turns on one another they need looking no further for some time to come.

It is with no light heart that the Senior sees his day of graduation nearing. He has grown to love the place and when he leaves he leaves a second home and almost wonders how it will get along without him. He is thanking his stars now that there are three months left before he must buy his ticket for the place where he will unpack his trunk.

The Legion of Honor is now a full fledged organization. It will cost you fifty cents to resign. The charter members are Misses Bower, Burgart, Conway, Johnson, Stoner, Kelly, Thomas and Messrs. Caruthers, Elliott, Groff, Hainer, Hummel, McCain, Mackey, Phillips, Seibert, Sheppard, Smiley, Smith, Strimple and Vorse.

nity were beyond criticism. Her work ranks here as one of the most successful amateur actresses.

Lord Burleigh as played by Miss Ferne Braddock was an excellent character. The English lo d had the best interests of his country at heart and if called upon he would have murdered his Queen. E.e y line as spoken by Miss Braddock was full of meaning and her actions and expression were far more than could be expected. Miss Nellie Johnson as the Secretary of State and companion of Burleigh played her part with strength. The combat of emotions in the fourth act was a nice piece of work.

Marie Stein was in the part of Dudley, a lover of both the queens, and she brought out the fickleness of the courtier to perfection.

Miss Irene Barton, as the Earl of Shrewsbury, and Miss Florence Cobb, as Sir Paulet, were very clever and their acting was on a par with the high standard of the evening.

Miss Vera Duncan and Miss Carrie McCaskie as the nurse and attendant of Queen Mary did exceptionally well. Their faithfulness and emotion displayed shortly before the death of their mistress was full of pathos.

Miss Nellie Bowman had the character of the nephew of Sir Paulet. His devotion to the Catholic queen and his tragic end was clearly and forcibly presented. Miss Georgiana Stanton's portrayal of the character of Sir Melvil was praiseworthy. Miss Ida Maine made a very stalwart officer of the guard. Her work was very good.

During the intermission Dr. Averagnet and the Mandolin and Guitar Club rendered some very pretty selections and at the close a male quartet, accompanied by Miss Bottorf, sang some appropriate music.

Bucknell Graduates Wanted.

Impelled to action by a dearth of teachers in the elementary schools, the board of Public Education threw open the doors yesterday to qualified teachers from several universities. Together with other business the following resolution was adopted:

The Superintendent of Schools to certify that the applicant is qualified, upon which a trial certificate, good for one year from date, will be given to the holders of teachers' certificates from any other than the First School District of Pennsylvania (Philadelphia.) The same regulation to apply to graduates of the Universities of Pennsylvania, Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Bucknell, Lafayette and Dickinson.

In all cases the applicants receiving such certificates shall declare in writing their intention to take within one year the board's examination for principal's or assistant's certificates and submit a physican's certificate as to good health.

Commencement Rates.

For the 55th annual Commencement reduced railroad rates have been granted as follows:

Fare and one-third for the round trip from Trunk Line points in Penna., on card orders; tickets to be sold and good going June 16 to 21; returning to June 23, inclusive.

Also fare and one-third on certificates from Central Passenger points in Penna., west of Erie, Oil City and Pittsburg.

Card orders can be had from the Registrar after May 1st.

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Proceeds.

Treasurer Robbins of the Y. M. C. A., has received the report of chairman Holley, of the lecture bureau, and it shows that the association netted over $200 in the past entertainments. There were five numbers in the course.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 3, 1905 No. 14

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATE

Affirmative and Negative Represented by Three Men Each.

The arrangements for the debate with the Cornell Congress are about complete. The date agreed upon is Friday, April twenty-eighth, and the arguments will be delivered in Bucknell Hall. The question for debate is; Resolved that the Inter-state Commerce Act should be amended to legalize pooling and rate agreements among railroads. The Congress at their option chose the negative side. The team representing the Cornell Congress is composed of the following men:

George Leal Gunung, 1905, Waverly, New York.

John Kennedy, 1906, Buffalo, New York.

Horace Wadsworth, 1906, Penn Yan, New York.

Louis White Feiir, 1907, Rochester, New York, (alternate.)

Bucknell will be represented by:

Earl Austin Morton, 1905, Dravosburg, Pa.

Jeremiah Stamey Ausherman, 1905, Chambersburg, Pa.

Roy Grier Bostwick, 1905, Dubois, Pa.

The judges have not yet been finally agreed upon, Bucknell has received a list of men acceptable to the opposing team, consisting of ten or twelve men who live within a radius of approximately one hundred miles of Lewisburg. In a few days the choice will be made public.

It should be gratifying to us all to see that the interest in debating is about to be revived and the management desires that this movement have the sympathy and co-operation of the whole student body. Let as much interest be taken in this as in any other way by which we come in contact with men of other institutions. An admission will be charged to defray expenses.

Signs of Spring.

The forces of the Registrar have been at work during the last week removing the leaves from the campus and otherwise destroying the memory of winter. The base-ball diamond has been harrowed and rolled and will soon be in good shape for practice. Coach Hoskins is supervising improvements to the running track. A liberal amount of earth and cinders is being used to bring it to a higher state of efficiency than it has been heretofore. The damage to the paths caused by the snow and ice will soon be repaired and by the time the leaves are out the campus will once more be ready for the camera.

Dates Conflict.

It is rumored, though no official announcement has reached this paper that the Sophomores have set Good Friday as their date for the Cotillion. This is the date for the Minstrel and since many of those taking part therein would attend the dance if possible it would be well for the Cotillion to change to another date. It is practically impossible for the Minstrel date to be changed and since it would be an easy matter for the Cotillion to be held on another night let the management not make any further preparations with that date in mind. The Cotillion has been but recently decided upon while the Minstrel has been endeavoring to fix a date for a long time, not succeeding until March 25th.

Seniors Win Again.

Monday evening, March 20 the Seniors defeated the Juniors in a loosely played and rather uninteresting game. For the first ten minutes neither side scored and there seemed no object in the game other than to keep each other from getting the ball. Finally Grier managed to find the basket and from that time on the game was all in the hands of the Seniors save for an occasional supreme effort on the part of the Juniors. The Seniors never really had to warm up and the half closed 12 to 0. in their favor. The second half was almost a repetition of the first except that Goldsmith succeeded in getting away for two goals for the Juniors. Claypool had numerous opportunities to throw fouls but failed in all but one attempt, while Grier had his usual eye with him. The best work for the Seniors was done by Grier who in fact was the only one who played his usual game. Goldsmith accomplished most for the Juniors. Game ended 22 to 5 for the Seniors.

Griffiths Elected Captain.

At a banquet given by the Athletic Association of Harvard University in the Hotel Victoria at Boston, in honor of the Harvard basketball team, Ralph F. Griffiths ex-'05, Bucknell was unanimously elected captain for next year. Griffiths played center on his class team and forward on the Varsity and had the record of throwing the greatest number of goals of any man on the team. His class presented him with an eight inch silver stine on which was engraved the Harvard crest together with his name and class. Members of the Darthmouth team who played here said he was undoubtedly the best player Harvard had and one of the best with whom they had come in contact. Griffiths record at Bucknell was fine and though young, he understands the game thoroughly and is developing into one of the best college athletes. He is also a good track man, having run on the Bucknell relay.

Kappa Sigma Banqueted.

Saturday evening Mrs. William Foster entertained ladies from Milton and Lewisburg together with the Kappa Sigma fraternity, at the Baker House. The banquet was an elaborate one in every respect. Decorations in the colors of the fraternity were displayed to much advantage and the color effects were carried throughout the menu where ever possible. The license of the first day of April permitted the turning of a clever joke at the hands of the caterer. In one dish where the eye saw a plenty of delicious cream the tongue found only cotton, beneath the surface. The banquet was undoubtedly a splendid social fete, to be long remembered. It was given in honor of Miss Richmond and Miss Reed.

BASE BALL OUTLOOK

Thirty or More Candidates Report for Practice.

The weather of the past few days has been such as to permit candidates for the team to warm up on the Athletic field. About thirty men have reported to the call of Captain Cockill. There has been no regular practice as yet, the ground being too soggy, but lengthy batting practice has been held on the western end of the field every evening during the past week. The diamond will soon be in condition but will be slow on account of the new surface ground. On the whole the outlook is bright for a good team. The nucleus of the team is the in-field which will be the same as last year, with Cockill at first, Smith at second, Griminger at third, and Heinze shortstop. The most likely candidate for catcher is Portser, who will in all probability be the regular man for the position. He has previously caught in Varsity games. The other candidates for catcher are; D. J. Hawk, Thompson, Comstock and B. T. Harris. Parsons of last year's pitching staff has first place in the box. Sheehan has been showing a good arm and comes with a good pitching record, having done fine work at Patton and Greenville. August and Leach of last year's scrub can be counted upon to develop. August's record last year is especially encouraging. Howell has been manifesting wonderful speed, which if controlled would give him a show for the Varsity. Beside the veteran in-field players King, Fry and Howell can be counted on in necessity. The out-field positions are all vacant and must be filled with new men. Here will lie the team's greatest weakness owing to the difficulty of getting men who are strong at the bat, and good batters are necessary to a winning team. The most promising out-field candidates are; Fry, whose work on the scrub last year was up to the mark. King, Whittaker and Cooper. The candidates for pitcher will in the second event all try for right field.

MANAGER LYNN S. GOODMAN

Beginning with today there will be regular practice with the scrub every evening from three to five. Captain Cockill issues another call for any Freshmen who have played on their preparatory school teams, to report. You may not have a chance for the Varsity this year but you have four years to develop. Harry McCormick, of National League fame, and Captain Jaekel, '03, tossed a coin for a field position on the first trip in 1902.

The first game will be on the home grounds, on the fifteenth, with Susquehanna University. Susquehanna, with Teufel and Weaver of last year's Bucknell team and Strebeigh and Anderson of general reputation, has a strong team, so that the game will not be an easyone. The second game will be on the nineteenth, with U. S. Naval Academy, at Annapolis.

Bucknell will have no coach this season. It has been found that by having a coach for only a few weeks of the season no very good results are obtained. The coach himself gets into shape and that is about all. Until we can afford a coach for the whole season it is a useless expenditure. This year the veteran players, Cockill, Smith and Grimminger will instruct the new men.

New uniforms for the team have arrived, consisting of: Yale gray suits with navy blue lettering; Yale gray caps with navy blue peak; navy blue stockings with a two inch orange stripe; blue jerseys with a one and one-half inch orange stripe midway between the elbow and wrist; black belts. A full equipment of gloves and other paraphernalia has been purchased together with two dozen bats, picked by Dr. Aldinger, of Bloomsburg Normal.

The schedule for the scrubs is not yet arranged but a good line of games may be expected. W. Frank Caruthers was appointed captain and will probably play third base.

Seniors Champions.

The victory of the Seniors over the Juniors, Monday, March 20, closed the inter-class basketball series and gave the Seniors, who did not lose a game, the championship. It was to be expected that the Seniors would win the Cup, since their team is composed of five men who have all earned their "B" at basketball. Nevertheless no game was a complete runaway from start to finish and the closeness of some of the scores reflects greater credit upon the other teams. These games are the greatest exponents of class spirit manifested at Bucknell, and when nerved to the occasion the weaker teams put up wonderfully strong games. With the probable exception of the game between the Seniors and Juniors they were all lively and exciting to a finish, and the large audiences always enjoyed hall of a Varsity quality. Here are the scores.

Seniors, 22; Juniors, 5.
Seniors, 16; Sophomores, 15.
Seniors, 33; Freshmen, 23.
Juniors, 11; Sophomores, 9.
Juniors, 17; Freshman, 15.
Sophomores, 13; Freshmen, 14.

Seniors won three; Juniors won two lost one; Sophomores lost three; Freshmen won one, lost two.

Total number of points scored by each: Seniors, 71; Juniors, 33; Sophomores, 37; Freshmen 52.

Grier of the Seniors scored the greatest number of points, throwing eight field goals, which was equaled by Cheesman and Cockill, and also throwing nine goals from fouls, making a total of twenty-five points.

Freshmen Out

Any Freshman who has ever done any work on the track is urged to come out. There is a good show for every place. Coach Hoskins will give you a trial.

Minstrel practice tonight.

MINSTREL DATE FIXED

Friday, April Twenty-First, in the Opera House.

After much effort the Lewisburg Opera House has been secured for the production of the Minstrel. The management of the House has been unable to accomodate the Minstrel with an earlier date on account of interfering with its foreign shows, which are of such a nature as to demand special protection. It was at first thought that no date could be had before May first, but ultimately the above day in April has been agreed upon, arrangements being made on a commission basis. Practice continued during the greater part of last term and in the next few weeks great efforts will be put forth to guarantee as successful a Minstrel as it has been heretofore. The present talent is exceptional, the music is snappy and the specialties introduced will be varied and unique. The staff is as follows:

President—R. G. Bostwick.
Treasurer—Lynn S. Goodman.
Manager—R. D. Royer.
Stage Manager—J. F. Sheehan.
Pianist and Musical Director—G. W. Leach.
Interlocutor—E. A. Morton.

The Premiers are Griminger and Evans; the end men are; Cooper, Godshall, Hennessy, McCain, Caruthers and Royer. Those who will take part in the Olio are; Evans, Powell, Walters, Goodman, Hindman, Hoon, Griminger, andHennessy. Solos will be numerous and picked quartettes will vie with one another.

Proceeds for the benefit of the new athletic field.

Practice this evening at nine o'clock.

Class Memorial

The Senior committee on a class memorial have their plans about ready to submit to the class for approval. The chairman and members of the committee hav gone to a great deal of pains to arrange for a suitable memorial and it is highly probable that the class will hold an early meeting to adopt their suggestions. The general opinion has been in favor of gate posts at the main entrance, as a substantial and useful memorial and the committee's work has been relative to designs and bids for erecting the same.

Faculty Reception

Invitations have been issued to the Seniors to attend a reception, given by the Faculty, in the Institute Parlors, Friday evening of this week. Seniors look up your caps and gowns and practice looking dignified the remainder of the week.

There has been some discussion as to whether caps and gowns are the proper dress but that conclusions is drawn from general expression and it really seems most fitting. Occasions for wearing the Senior garb are few enough.

Freshman Delamation Contest.

Interest in the Freshman contest in declamation is steadily growing. The contest will be public this year. Good selections have been chosen and the contestants are working hard. It seems to be the aim of the department to make public speaking a public affair, much to the benefit of the speakers and also to the agitation of their nerves.

Editorial

With a change in the editorial staff the "Orange and Blue" greets the early spring with a feeling somewhat akin to nervousness. Last term saw the paper recover from a rather dangerous illness, but once recovered it gave no evidence of ever having been sick. From every quarter have come words of praise for the appearance of the sheet and quality of the material that speak highly for the ability of the retiring editor. We tremble lest a change of medicine may cause a relapse; but we will prescribe to the extent of our powers and you can ask no more. If we succeed in maintaining the present standard of the paper rejoice with us; if we fail in any way, grin and bear with us. In any event we reap our own reward and likewise suffer for our sins.

With the prospects Bucknell has for a winning base-ball team this year it is imperative that the student body take steps to give the team adequate support. For the last three years we have had good teams and yet have lost many games that we should have won. We do not hesitate to say that a portion of the reason was insufficient effort on the part of those on the hill-side to properly back the men on the diamond. Cheering probably does not avail as much in base-ball as in foot-ball but nevertheless it is the best way to show that the students are with the team, winning or losing. The cheering last fall was encouraging, but there can be much improvement.

In order to guarantee successful, organized cheering this spring it is first necessary that a cheer-leader be appointeed or elected in some manner. He should be a Junior who will return in the fall, when with this term's experience he will be all the better qualified for drilling the incoming Freshmen. He should be the choice of the students, to secure which it might be well for the president of the Athletic Association to call a mass meeting for that purpose, and at the same time arouse a little more interest and enthusiasm. It would do us all good to get together and try our lungs in anticipation of the coming victories of Captain Cocklll and his men.

There are a few requirements essential to a good leader. He ought to have a voice that is distinct; be able to start a song at the right pitch; be willing to keep his back to the players at perhaps the most interesting parts of the game; and above all to be at all the games on time. It is not necessary for the leader to make much noise himself if he gets the others to understand his motions and to be in harmony with them There is normally no need for more than one leader; when such occasion arises he can appoint assistants. The above requirements might be kept in mind in the selection of the new leader. In consideration of his services he should be given free passport to all games.

The fires of enthusiasm should never cause the "rooters" to leave the hill for the running track. That gives a preparatory school flavor to the occasion.

Following these suggestions good cheering may be expected at the first game of the season and continue throughout the same.

The inter-fraternity base-ball games of the last two years proved of so much general interest that arrangements should soon be made for a series this season. The benefits to be derived from such games are obvious. There are many lovers of base-ball who have no other opportunity to indulge in match games and the healthy rivalry generated makes these contests lively and interesting to spectators as well as players. A critic might object to calling some of them base-ball games but a sense of humor will enable him to forget that. The fun to be had is inexpensive so arrange your schedules as soon as possible.

A Prize for Best Athlete.

The crowning athletic event of the year will be held sometime in May. We learn that Prof. P. Bromley Smith who was the first athletic director of the University has offered a prize to the best all-round athlete in the college. Particulars of this interesting event will be given later. In the meantime those who desire to enter the contest are requested to confer with Professor Smith in order to learn theconditions.

Relay Races.

Pennsylvania's Relay Races on April 29 will again be the biggest and most important sports of the season. At present writing though the date for entries is still distant, there are over one hundred and fifty teams entered and there will be over two hundred when the starter's pistol sends off the first race on the last Saturday of April. Not only are the entries numerous but they are of the highest class. Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Chicago, Wisconsin, Michigan, Dartmouth, Bucknell, Lehigh, Lafayette, Dickinson, and in fact all the big colleges have sent in their entries or assurances of same. With such a gathering of athletic claus, some magnificent races will result. The college championships are already attracting the widest attention because of the fact that the very best teams in thecountry are represented and new world's records are expected in each event. The day will thus be interesting and exciting and as usual an enormous crowd will be on hand. Colleges can get blocks of seats at special rates upon application.

New White Lawn Shirtwaists
Buying them in large quantities and buying them early gives us the cream of the market. The trimmings on the waists bought early far surpass anything later in the season, as you get the best embroideries, insertion and dainty Val laces.
We start our White Lawn Waists for Spring and Summer as cheap as 50c, with tucked fronts and backs and a newfull sleeves.
The 85c kinds are finer lawn and trimmed with wide pleat of blind insertion down front and tucks on either side. Quality and trimmings surpasses any waist we have ever shown.
Another style at 85c having 3 rows of hemstitched insertion down front and made of fine sheer lawn.
At 1.00, 1.25, 1.39 and 1.50 are the finer values and cannot be excelled in material or trimmings. It is impossible to describe them in detail as the line is too large for description.
At 1.75, 1.95, 2.25, 2.50, 2.95. 3.50, 3.95 to 5.95 are the finest waists in this department and material of the finest lawn.
In Lingerie waists there is nothing more suitable than fine Lawn or Handkerchief Linen.
If you prefer something in China Silk our line is complete from 2.25 to 7.50 quality. Come and see our line. We take a delight in showing these new garments.
Linenette Waists from 1.25 up. Real Linen from 95c to 4.50. A big line of darker waists adapted for working purposes in Linen colored lawn, Madras and Gingham for 50c.
All the pretty little conceits that mark this season's newest models find expression in the above lots. You will see at a glance that such a large stock of shirt waists have never been offered before at the beginning of the season.

Curtains and Curtainettes For Spring
The time of the year is almost on hand when the house is to be cleaned and a new window or door drapery to be substituted for the old dusty one. We would suggest that you come to our up-to-date store and "wade" through our extensive line of this class of goods and we are sure of pleasing you in price and material.

EUEPIA WINS DEBATE

Freshman Debaters Handle Subject With Much Ability.

The annual inter-society debate between representatives of Euepia and Theta Alpha Literary Societies was held in Bucknell Hall, Saturday evening, April 8th.

Euepia was represented by W. H. Bertin, '08, and L. J. Osborn, '08; Theta Alpha, by J. B. Boyer, '08, and W. C. Sprout, '08.

The question for debate was: Resolved, that the Interstate Commerce Commission should be given powers of fixing a reasonable freight rate for railroads. On the part of the affirmative Euepia's representatives argued that: Present conditions are untenable and undefensible. Whether we shall have a supervising or a mandatory commission depends on social and economic conditions. By investing power in the Commission to fix rates would secure prompt legislation and prevent delay in decisions by the courts which in the past has impaired efficiency of the Commission; correct extortionate rates, discriminations, rebates and private car evils. On the part of the negative, Theta Alpha's representatives held: The granting of the power is unnecessary and impracticable. Also the granting is unconstitutional as shown by decisions of the Supreme Court of the U. S., being an abridgement of right of contract. Contrary to public policy, being dangerous to private capital. Commission is incapable of wielding the given power as shown by decisions of the courts. Against the spirit of our institutions. Business carried on more successfully by arbitration and agreement, rather than by tribunal. The grant would be a step toward socialism.

The judges, Professor Martin, Professor Phillips, and A. W. Johnson, Esq., decided in favor of the Euepian representatives.

The handling of the subject by all four men was praiseworthy. Osborn, especially, deserves mention for the clearness with which he presented his arguments and for his able delivery. The audience was large and well impressed with the ability of '08's debaters.

To Revise Basketball.

At a meeting of the Intercollegiate Basketball sAsociation, held at Columbia University on Saturday, April 1, it was decided to revise the rules with the purpose of putting the game more in the class of football and baseball as a college sport. At present the game is largely in the hands of the Y. M. C. A.'s, and it is proposed to take it out of their hands and adapt the rules more particularly to college playing. To carry this out a committee was appointed to call a convention of all men interested in basketball in the Eastern colleges. The convention will be held in Philadelphia, at the Houston club, at the time of the Intercollegiate track meet on May 26th and 27th.

R. F. Griffiths and W. O. Dapping, representing Harvard, were at the meeting and explained the conditions governing basketball playing at Harvard. The petition of Harvard for readmission to the league was granted.

Bucknell might find it advisable to send a representative to the meeting in Philadelphia.

Prize For Best Athlete.

Last week we announced that a prize would be offered to the best all-round athlete and that the particulars would be published later. We believe the object of the contest is to determine by a fair trial in a number of events who is the best man in the Field and Track work. The events are of such a nature that the merits of the candidates for the honor will be tried thoroughly. On account of the varied nature of the program it is well nigh impossible to pick the winner before the contest. The events are as follows: for speed, 100 yd. dash; for endurance, one mile run and one-half mile walk; for agility, high jump, broad jump and pole vault; for strength, 16 lb. hammer throw, 16 lb. shot put, and 56 lb. weight throw; for agility and speed, 120 yd. hurdles. Credit will be given not for first and second, but on a percentage basis according to the rules of the Amateur Athletic Association. For instance, a man might run the dash in 11 seconds, for which he would receive 700 points, while the nearest competitor might be only a foot behind, for which he would receive 695 points. The same system applies to distances and heights. Men who are strong in weights may have their scores equaled by light, quick men, while agility is offset by endurance. This being the case, the best man is unknown until the contest is concluded.

On account of the general nature of the contest, men must begin to train at once. A word to Coach Hoskins or to Prof. Smith will be sufficient to place one in line for the star event of the year.

The Memorial of 1905.

The memorial to be presented to the University by the Senior class and decided upon at its recent meeting will consist of two large brown stone pillars to be erected at the main entrance of the campus at the end of University avenue. The design and proportions of the pillars will be of marked plainness—not of the monumental plan. The entire surface, save that of the inscription, will be of rock face; while the dimensions, about four feet square by ten high, will present a massive and imposing appearance. The pillars will be placed at a goodly distance apart and at such points that the two sidewalks of the avenue on one side and the three paths on the other will artistically converge in a broad passageway between. Considering then their simplicity and material, the pillars will be in pleasing harmony with the natural and artistic appearance of the University and their location will afford an inviting entrance to the campus. They will be, we believe, a fitting and acceptable memorial to the institution.

Literary Society Program.

The program for Theta Alpha for April 14th, is:

Current Events—Knupp, '06.

Gladstone as a Christian—McCauley, '05.

Five Minutes Discussion on Parliamentary Rules—Lesher, '05.

Debate—Resolved, that the present rate of immigration into the United States is injurious to the country. Affirmative—Cober, '07, Snyder, '08. Negative—Smith, '07, Hummer, '08.

Question Box.

TRACK PROSPECTS

First of the Relay Trials Held on Saturday.

The outlook for a winning track team is not as encouraging as it has been for some years past. Only a few new men have reported and the whole squad numbers less than twenty. Having in view only the one meet with Dickinson the greatest effort will be directed toward developing a relay team that will stand a good show of bringing back the banner. Pearse and Thatcher, not having returned this year, Marsh and Gaskill are the only old relay men. Of the candidates for the vacant positions Davis, '07, and Frey, '08, are the most promising. Davis made good records in last year's meets and ought to clip off a few seconds this year. Frey has shown much ability in practice and, though never having run before, gives promise of being a very fast man. The first trial heats for the relay were run Saturday afternoon. Conditions were not favorable for making fast time on account of the softness of the track and the strong wind blowing. The best time made was 57 seconds which was even better than the coach expected.

The other men out are: Lesher, Denninger, Comstock, Care, Brinker, Baldwin, Osborn Whitney, Baker, Warnke and Luchsinger. The last six are new men and we can judge of their ability later on. Osborn ran at Peddie Institute and Luchsinger at Keystone Academy. Lesher will be used for the high hurdles and pole vault, Denninger for long distance, Comstock low hurdles and Care for high and broad jump. It is expected that Care will break the high jump record before the end of the season. Steinhilper, if he improves as he did last year will pole vault in the neighborhood of eleven feet. Besides these men Cocklll can be counted on in the low hurdles and Sheppard in the broad jump. Lenhart is the only man practicing with the weights. With last year's experience he ought to increase his distances considerably. We are badly in need of short distance men, for the hundred and two-twenty; also for both high and low hurdles and broad jump. There are many men in college who would make good runners if they would come out. Our meet with the Indians was lost last year through lack of men to take second places. Any man who thinks he can run at all and many who think they can't would only be doing their duty to the college by coming out and trying.

MGR. ROBERT F. SHEPPARD.

Following is the schedule, subject to change:

April 29.—U. of P. Relay races at Philadelphia.

May 20.—All Round Championship of the College.

May 27.—Meet with Dickinson College at Lewisburg.

May 26 and 27.—I. C. A. A. A. A. at Philadelphia.

June 10.—Interclass Meet.

Since there is only one inter-collegiate meet, greater interest should be taken in the All Round Championship and in the Interclass Meet. Let the class rivalry be greater than ever before. The Seniors will not stand as good a chance of winning as heretofore, and it looks as though the Freshmen will be able to put up a good fight. The honor attached to winning the prize for the best all round athlete ought to be an incentive for hard and careful training.

Those who are not in training can contribute something in a negative way towards securing a winning team by refraining from offering temptations to those who are in training, to interfere with the diet as prescribed by Coach Hoskins.

The track needs heavy rolling before it will be in shape to permit fast time. While it is still soft, baseball players and others should avoid walking or running upon it out of consideration for the time and work spent in trying to get it in good condition.

Senior Class Meeting.

A class meeting was held by the Seniors Wednesday afternoon and business was transacted with much dispatch. The L'Agenda debt was discussed but not assumed by the class. Upon report of Commencement invitation committee a style of invitation was adopted in up-to-date French script. The programs will be finer than anything heretofore. The report of the class memorial committee was adopted without alteration. The honor roll has been so reduced through resignation that it no longer merits publishing.

Bucknell Men Preferred.

The Lycoming County Normal is one school in which the teachers are all graduates of Bucknell. The staff, at present is made up of five teachers: Spotts, '01, Principal; Dunlap, '04, Assistant Principal; and Bidelspacher, '01, Wood and Williamson, '05, Assistants. It is quite reasonable that Bucknell should be given preference, since many of the students from this same institution receive their college education at Bucknell. This is a good field and Bucknell students and graduates should keep their eyes open to it.

Notice.

Copies of the 1905 L'Agenda can be obtained at the low price of one dollar. This book is one of the most valuable annuals from a historical point of view ever put out by any class at Bucknell. After they are all sold you will be sorry you did not buy one. It is the duty, moreover, of any Senior who has not already purchased one, to do so. The business manager of the "Orange and Blue" will be glad to sell you a copy; write or see him.

The individual cuts of the class of 1905, published in the L'Agenda are for sale. Also any of the other cuts that appeared in the same publication. See N. E. Henry.

FACULTY RECEPTION

Seniors and College Girls Received in the Institute Parlors.

From the hours of eight to eleven, Friday evening, the Institute parlors were the scene of as pleasant a gathering as has graced those parlors this season. The predominance of Seniors and Faculty lent a character that distinguished this from similar occasions. The carpets felt the tread of dignity and the walls as they sensed the brush of flowing gown assumed a graver demeanor till the very atmosphere breathed a stately serenity. But though heads were held high and shoulders were thrown back, radiant smiles and cordial handshakes blended in a harmony of ease that enveloped all. A majority of Seniors appeared in caps and gowns which offered a pleasing contrast to many pretty spring gowns of various colors, worn by the college girls.

The parlors were neatly screened and decorated for the evening and an ever-filled punch bowl tempted all who passed its way. A constant hum of voices and the swish of moving feet testified that every one endeavored to meet every one else if but to pass a word of greeting and exchange a smile. Refreshments of a substantial nature were served in the music room.

The receiving committee consisted of:: Professor and Mrs. Edwards, Dr. and Mrs. Groff, Professor and Mrs. Martin, and Judge and Mrs. McClure.

Freshman Declamation Contest.

For the first time in several years the Freshman contest in declamation will be held in public. On Friday evening, the 14th, at eight o'clock, the speakers selected from those who presented themselves at the preliminaries, will begin the struggle for honors in Bucknell Hall. We understand that music of a pleasing nature has been provided through the kindness of Dr. Aviragnet. Among other numbers the following will be given the contestants: Christmas Dance, by permission of 'The Ladies' Home Journal; The Song Bird of the Princess, a highly dramatic selection. Ingersoll's great oration on Happiness and Liberty; George Eliot's Flood on the Floss.

The Freshmen have in mind to outdo the Sophomores, whose contest will be held on the 22nd in the same hall. This being the case a warm exhibition may be expected.

Game With Susquehanna.

The first baseball game of the season will be held on the home grounds next Saturday with Susquehanna University. The opposing team is a strong one and a close game can be expected. Weaver and Teufel will be the battry for the visitors; Parsons and Portser for Bucknell. Game called at 2.30. Admission 25 cents.

Minstrel Progressing.

The Minstrel is practicing three nights a week but will need to work hard during the coming two weeks. The score of songs is much larger than in former years. Those who have "stunts" in the Ollo are practicing daily.

Editorial

Thus far this college year there has been a great increase in social activity over previous years. It is safe to say that never in our history has a single term witnessed so many dances, banquets and like functions, as last term saw, and the present term bids fair to be a close rival. There frequency has not contributed to lower their standard, but rather, if anything, the plane and scale upon which they are given has been raised. That the tendency to breadth of the social side of life is being manifested, is good in many ways. Narrowness of mind is disappearing and we are learning the value of fellowship in decrying exclusiveness, and incidentally selfishness. The character of the class of students has been undergoing a change. Habits and inclinations are different and the common consciousness must be differently interpreted. The change is a modernizing one and is resulting in greater mental breadth.

The growth of this phase of college life has not interfered to the detriment of the primary object of college, mental development, and is yet far from reaching such a limit. The graduating class has contributed as much in this respect as any other and still ranks first in scholarship.

Fraternities have been prime movers in social lines and to them a great share of the credit must be given if credit is due.

The time has come when a student at Bucknell has ample opportunity for an all round development, scholarly, athletically, and socially, and he who neglects any one has but himself to blame.

Not to presume to encroach on a custom which another college regards as distinctly its own, yet by giving Syracuse due credit for originality we think Bucknell would show its wisdom by instituting a custom similar to that which our sister college terms a college sing. Nothing would be better adapted to promoting college spirit and love for our Alma Mater than for students to collect on the campus for a short time at regular intervals and sing Bucknell songs. The vocal ability here is exceptional and we feel sure that many would enjoy a half hour or so spent in this manner some of the warm spring evenings. Who has not felt a thrill of ecstacy many a time by the melody wafted from the throats of a crowd of fellows as they come up the hill in the later hours of a starlight evening? Such are the things that lift one above the common things and those are the things we will long remember in connection with our college days, and oh, how sadly we will miss them.

The catalogue of Bucknell songs is not very extensive, but there is no reason why we might not add to it. Would that some lover of old B. U. could find it in his heart to offer a prize for an Alma Mater song, as a grduate of Dartmouth has done. May be the Muses will inspire some one of us to write a song that will be a tablet to his memory. Life is is not too short to make a place for song. Let's start such a custom as we have suggested.

There has lately been considerable discussion among the members of the Brown and White board of Lehigh University as to the advisibility of changing the name of the paper, upon the ground that it has a Prep. School sound. This idea never occurred to us with regard to the Orange and Blue, and even yet we hardly see the force of the argument. What special preparatory significance is embodied in such a name we fail to discover. Is it found in the simplicity thereof? The advocates of the change charge those who protest with putting more value on tradition than progressiveness and yet publish a two column editorial lamenting the lack of tradition at their institution. What's in a name for a paper that could live in spite of a name? Brown and White and Orange and Blue are good everyday names and even lend color to a sheet.

The annual Relay Races held on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, are not far off. The date has been fixed as April 29. Bucknell is going to be represented by a strong team this year, and it is up to the students to do all in their power to help the thing along. We are in faster company this year than last, and a winning team will have to be a good one. Surely, we can depend on Coach Hoskins to do his part and we know that Bucknell will be represented by the fastest men in college.

The students may think that there is no way in which they can help the relay team, but this is an altogether erroneous idea. They can do a great deal towards making the team a success. Let every man go down and watch the practice. Get interested! This team represents Bucknell at Philadelphia and how can we help but be interested in aything that concerns our college. This sounds like another plea for college spirit, but it is by these gentle reminders that the eyes of the student body are kept open to the things that concern them and to the interests that should receive their heartiest support. Sem Gossip

Nellie E. Johnson, '05, spent Sunday with Milton friends.

Alma M. Dietrich, of Madisonburg, Centre county, is a new student in the Institute.

Helen Overholt, who has spent most of last term in California, has re-entered the Seminary.

Miss Hayes and Mrs. Breaker, of Lynn, Mass., were guests of Miss Grace Slifer for dinner Tuesday night.

The Daughters of the American Revolution held their regular meeting in the Seminary parlors on Monday evening. The principle features of the program were Mr. Gretzinger's address on "The Pennsylvania German; His Place in Colonial History;" and vocal and instrumental solos by Misses Blackmere and Aiken. Later in the evening refreshment were served.

The Grads

Carrier, '04, and Gilbert, '04, spent Sunday in Lewisburg.

A. J. Irey, D. D., '79, will remove to Rochester, Pa., to assume charge of a pastorate.

Rev. D. E. Lewis, '96, of West Pittston, has accepted a call to the Erie Avenue Bptist church, Williamsport. He will assume charge the first Sunday in May.

Last week the "Orange and Blue" announced that Dr. George Shorkley would join the Zeigler relief expedition this summer. The fact is that Dr. Shorkley is now with the Zeigler expedition. His friend and schoolmate, Dr. M. F. Mount, '79, of Hot Springs, Col., will accompany the relief party next summer in search of the Zeigler polar expedition.

Every week, at Syracuse, the students on the campus, for a college sing dents gather together on the campus for a college sing. This is a splendid custom and a great promoter of college spirit.

Cornell will celebrate in May their annual Spring Day. This is a general holiday for every one. The parade will be very large this year and the performance at the Lyceum will be finer than ever.

Two hundred students of Missouri University stole a barn and took it several blocks. It was a big, two-story frame stable with a ton of hay in the loft. They began before midnight and continued until after five a. m., working in relays. Everything that obstructed the course of the barn, which was rolled on wheels, was removed. Trees were cut down and telephone and electric light wires removed.

MINSTREL THURSDAY NIGHT

A Chance to Help in Procuring a New Athletic Field.

Owing to the fact that the date previously set for the Minstrel falls on Good Friday, due to an oversight of the management in selecting the date, arrangements have been made to give the show one day in advance of the former schedule, so that it may interfere in no way with the proper celebration of a religious anniversary. Remember this is for the benefit of a new athletic field, of which we are badly in need, and here is where you have an opportunity to contribute, at the same time sure of an evening's entertainment full of all the life that a representative crowd of college fellows can put into it. Those who have attended previous Bucknell Minstrels know that they are well worth going to see and there is every reason to say that this will far surpass those given before. The chorus is larger than heretofore, the solos are more numerous and the Olio parts are more varied and original. The fun will be of a harmless order and though perchance you may be the subject of an endman's joke, don't mind a little thing like that or don't show it if you do.

Some of the special features will be: The great rooster solo by Grininger; parody solos by Evans, Hennessy and Royer; bass solos by Stewart and Parsons; (when the Chief descends to the lower regions you'll think you'r going to the bottom of the sea;) tenor solos by Hafner, Smithgall and Gardner. In the after part there will be an original sketch entitled "Miser Hoadley's Doc," by Baker and Evans; instrumental music, clogs, monologues, bum quartettes, and numerous other funny skits. The prices are popular, 50, 35 and 25 cents, so let nothing keep you from the longest laugh you have had for two years. Tickets on sale at Baker's drug store.

Sophomore Cotillion.

The date for the dance to be given by the Sophomores has been set for Friday, May 12th. Every effort will be made to put this dance on a par with the Junior Ball and the Senior Assembly. The Sophomores have selected an able chairman for the committee in Charles D. Baer, who has appointed these sub-committees: Invitation: August, Winbigler, Lieberman; Decoration: Lemmon, Leach, Godshall, Zugschwert, Davis; Music: Andrews, Heinze, Baker; Program: Wolfe, Hawk, Cober; Refreshment: Evans, Burrows, Mattis. The Imperial Orchestra of Lewisburg will furnish the music. The charge will be two dollars.

Sophomore Contest.

The annual contest of the Sophomore class will be held on Saturday evening, April 22, in Bucknell Hall. Like the Freshman contest the exercises of '07, will be public . In accordance with the policy of the department the gentlemen will be confined to orations, while the ladies will be allowed free range in their selections. The fast pace set by the Freshman class last Friday night has opened the eyes of the Sophomores to the high degree of excellence which is expected of them. A hotly contested exhibition is sure to follow.

Game with Virginia

The football committee held a meeting on Thursday afternoon in the Registrar's office. Those present were: Prof. J. M. Wolfe, Prof. B. F. Thomas, W. C. Gretzinger and Manager A. S. Kech. The object of the meeting was to hear the report of Mr. Gretzinger, who had a conference last week with W. A. Lambeth, concerning the Virginia-Bucknell football game to be played at Norfolk, Virginia, Oct. 21. Virginia made two propositions to Bucknell concerning the financial arrangements for the game. These propositions were considered by the Bucknell football committee at the above meeting and one of them was accepted.

The Indians and Virginia met last year at Norfolk and drew a large crowd. The game between Virginia and Bucknell will be played the week of the horse show next fall.

S. A. E. Dance.

Rarely, if ever, have lovers of the dance been subjects of a finer treat than the "fortunate ones" enjoyed, Friday evening, at the hands of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. In no respect could more have been done to satisfy every desire of the rhythmic heart. The walls of the Armory had faded away behind the skillful decorations, in the colors of the fraternity. One corner secluded by curtains draped from the ceiling was tastefully arranged for the patronesses. The middle entrance had been transformed into a cosy parlor lavish with rugs, and comfortably filled with inviding resting places. Above the dance floor the lights were dimmed by shades of purple and gold. Music was furnished by the Imperial Orchestra of Lewisburg which truly surpassed itself on this occasion. The programs were of purple leather with letters of gold. During the intermission elaborate refreshments were served. In the neighborhood of three o'clock the cabs had deposited the last of the thirty couples at their homes.

Academy Contest.

The Academy declamation contest for the David P. Leas prize was held in Bucknell Hall Saturday evening. Under the able direction of Miss Edith Shillinger, the contest proved lively and interesting. The honors are nip and tuck between E. J. Radcliffe and Max C. Wiant, both of whom were fine. The rostrum had been neatly arranged with rugs and ferns. The audience was of good size and enjoyed the contest thoroughly..

SUSQUEHANNA DEFEATED

First Game of the Season Close and Exciting.

The Varsity baseball team opened the season of 1905 Saturday afternoon with a well earned victory over the strong nine from Susquehanna University, the final score being 7 to 1. The cold weather brought only a small number to the game but they were treated to a clever article of ball playing.

Owing to an injury to Portser it was necessary to make a change in the line-up. Grininger was sent in to catch. Portser to the outfield, Fry was moved to first base and Capt. Cockill covered third. With so many changes in the make up of the team there were doubts as to whether a victory would be the outcome, since Susquehanna came with the intention of winning. With them were two former Bucknell stars, Teufel and Weaver, the former having played here for four years with an enviable record as a ball player. Weaver last year was the mainstay of the pitching department. Only six hits were secured off his delivery. Three of them were in the third inning, a two bagger and two singles, netting two runs which proved sufficient to win the game.

The out-field of the visitors played a strong game and Anderson was especially strong at the bat, getting a two-base and a three-base hit. The latter hit might have, with proper coaching, tied the score but the runner was held on third and the next man went out to Smith, who made a sensational catch ending the game.

For Bucknell, Parsons pitched a splendid game, having the visitors completely at his mercy. Grininger

"GINGER" TEUFEL,
Captain of Susquehanna University.

caught in a masterly way and deserves much credit since he went behind the bat without practice. The shifting of positions while not materially effecting the team's work, was noticeable. The old men: Smith, Portser, Heinze and Cockill all put up the game that was expected of them. The new men showed up well especially at the bat. Leach captured several difficult flies and Sheean showed that he possessed a good arm by a fine throw in the ninth inning cutting off the run that would have tied the score. Fry received a painful injury in preliminary practice but nevertheless played a good game. The game by innings was as follows.

First inning. Strebeigh and Weaver struck out. Teufel reached first on an error, but was caught at the plate trying to score on Anderson's two-base hit. No runs. Grininger filed to left. Smith sent a grounder to Weaver and was out at first. Cockill filed to left. No runs.

Second inning. Miller and Sunday out at first, Smith to Fry. Reilly first on an error. Benfer out to left. No runs. Portser filed to pitcher. Sheenan struck out. Heinze first on an error. Fry struck out. No runs.

Third inning. Cornelius out to right. Strebeigh to left. Weaver struck out. No runs. Leach doubled and Parsons singled, Grininger sacrificed, and Smith's single scored both men. Cockill and Portser filed to Weaver. Two runs.

Fourth inning. Teufel first on an error and stole second. Anderson and Sunday filed to Smith and Miller was thrown out at first. No runs. Sheean singled but was caught at second. Heinze first on an error. Fry and Leach filed out. No runs.

Fifth inning. Reilly and Cornelius out at first. Sheean struck out. runs. Parsons out at first. Grininger filed out. Smith tripped. Cockill out at first. No runs.

Sixth inning. Strebeigh, Weaver and Teufel filed out. No runs. Portser out at first. Sheean struck out. Heinze filed to right. No runs.

Seventh inning. Anderson sent a grounder to Smith. Miller made a safe hit but was doubled up on Sunday's grounder to Smith. No runs. Fry doubled to left. Leach filed out to Anderson and Fry was doubled up on Parson's fly to left field. No runs.

Eight inning. Reilly out at first. Benfer struck out. Cornelius fouled out to Grininger. No runs. Grininger out at first. Smith filed to right Cockill struck out. No runs.

Ninth inning. strebeigh filed out to left field. Weaver reached first on an error. Teufel filed out. Anderson tripled scoring Weaver. Miller sent one over second that was captured by Smith. One run.

REVIVAL IN DECLAMATION

The Freshmen Present an Interesting Contest.

For the first time in several years the Freshman prize-speaking contest was held in public, Friday evening, Bucknell Hall was filled to its capacity with students and people of Lewisburg. The expectations of the audience were more than fulfilled by the interesting program rendered. Much credit and praise is reflected upon Prof. Bromley Smith, under whose direction every number was admirably presented. The striking feature of the contest was that, although all contestants passed through the same hands in preparation, nothing so characterized every one as the mark of individuality. The registered vote of the audience upon the ability of the contestants corresponded with that of the judges.

Editorial

Every one possesses to a certain extent the power of imagination, and perhaps every one has spent some time in picturing Bucknell ten years hence. It makes us feel good to think of the time when we shall return to visit the scenes of our college days. And as we think of these things it is no unchanging picture that comes before our minds. We see an East College, we see a new and larger chapel, we see an enclosed athletic field, we see a gymnasium for women and can even imagine the Registrar wearing a somewhat satisfied smile as he marks down in the catalogue the number of students enrolled.

This is ten years hence. But these are not air castles, pictures of the impossible. Far from it. They are simply what one sees by looking ahead a few years. But do we need to look ahead? We are living in the present, in the time that our fathers dreamed of. Do you think that they ever pictured Bucknell as the Bucknell of today? Do you think that they ever imagined that the number of students would reach the 750 mark? Maybe they did. That gives us the ground to look for greater things in the future.

But let us not be unmindful of the present. The Bucknell of today is the Bucknell that we are to enjoy, that we are to honor. We are here with great possibilities and the thing to do is to take advantage of the opportunities as they present themselves. This seems to be the keynote of success along any line and this will be the keynote of our success. So, in the Bucknell of 1905 let us do our part to uphold the already high standard, athletically, socially, morally and intellectually.

H.

Last week in this column some mention was made with reference to Bucknell songs. Since then we have had our eyes opened to the fact that the list of songs is much larger than we had supposed. We were unaware, and no doubt there are many others who do not know, that a collection of Bucknell songs was ever published. The class of '97 published a book with some thirty or forty songs, the words and music of which were mostly written by Bucknell men and women. One of them entitled "Dear Bucknell," with words by S. S. Merriman, '86, is published in Hinds and Noble's "Songs of Eastern Colleges." Besides these songs there are numerous others that have never been published in book form. Sad to say these songs have been allowed to lie hidden from most of us, only known and appreciated by a few. The hope of those who wrote them has not been fulfilled and 'twere well if we could find some way to become familiar with them that they might live with us according to the intentions of those from whose pens they flowed. They ought to live and we ought to help them to live. In another column we print a Bucknell hymn, written but recently by Rev. T. M. Eastwood, '72. From time to time as we find space we will publish others that are new in hopes that you will be glad to see the proof that the love for our college is an undying one.

We notice numerous Freshmen on the campus who seem to have intentionally forgotten that the rule, prohibiting them from wearing anything but a skull cap, is still in force. This rule is the one above all others that should be complied with, and if the Sophomore vigilance committee is not altogether blind, they will get busy. None but fresh and presumptous Freshmen disregard this rule and they deserve any consequences they may bring upon themselves. The wearing of caps by Freshmen is not only a local law but universal with all American colleges of any note and we will not see it violated here. Watch out, somebody!

In view of the hard schedule the football team will have next fall, there should be a hearty response to Captain Cooper's call for spring practice. Most all colleges with good teams find it necessary to do some preliminary work before fall, and Bucknell can not allow any advantage to be gained over her which it is possible to defeat. Of course, practicing in the heat will be anything but pleasant, but that should not interfere with your assisting the Captain to develop a good team. So come out.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four begins during October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural sciences is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instructions. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

Prep Wins.

In a lively game the Academy defeated Milton High School Saturday, 13 to 10. The pitchers of both teams pitched good ball, Boyd striking out 7 men and Moyer 4. Foote of the Academy played a great game in the field. At the end of the second inning the score was a tie but from that time on the Academy was in the lead. The score:

RISE, BUCKNELL, RISE.

Tune: "Moscow," or "Rise Crowned with Light."

Rise, Bucknell, Rise, O Alma Mater, Rise,
Reared mid the lowly vales, seek now the skies.
Ascend the glorious hieghts where thou mayst see,
In distant days, thy mighty destiny.

Rise, Bucknell, Rise, from out the ashen past
There gleams thy golden oriflamme at last,
And down the ages it shall carried be,
By thy devoted, honored, progeny.

Rise, Bucknell, Rise, thy Star of Hope appears,
To guide thee upward through the bright'ning years;
Thy sons and daughters join one roundelay
And cheer and sing thy ever wid'ning sway.

Rise, Bucknell, Rise, when years shall come and go,
Thy sterling virtues men shall learn to know.
Thy name in Gold be writ across the sky,
Thy coming glory glow, but never die.

MIDDIES WIN 2 TO 1

Bucknell Loses Through Inability to Bunch Hits.

Bucknell's initial trip on Wednesday resulted in a reversal of the Susquehanna score. The loss was solely due to inability to bunch hits. The fielding of our boys was all that could be desired. Despite the radical change in the team's line-up, due to Porter's injured hand, Bucknell clearly outplayed the Middies. Parsons' pitching was superb, but the boys, although often connecting fairly with Needham's "hand-outs," couldn't drop them in a safe place. Bucknell's only run was scored in the ninth tuning when Capt. Cockill met the ball squarely for a long drive over center, the first home run made on the Annapolis diamond this season.

For the first three innings it was a one, two, three order for each side. Things looked prosperous in the fourth when Grimminger drew a base on balls and Smith advanced him to second on a very pretty sacrifice. But the next two men were retired at first leaving "Grim's" hopes to die on third. The Middies were retired on two strike-outs and a fly to Portser.

In the fifth, Bucknell died easily but not so the Middies. With one out, Theobold got a base on balls, after having had two strikes, and stole second. Stalls met the ball for two bags scoring Theobold. Thibault drew a base on balls and with two men on bases and one out it looked like all day; but Chief got busy with his curves and struck out the next. Needham went down on a hard liner to Smith retiring the side.

In the sixth Fry opened with a hard hit grounder which was too much for the short-stop to handle in time. The Middie's second was responsible for stopping the good work with two flies and an assist. The Midshipmen were retired in regular order, two strike-outs and an assist by Smith.

Bucknell's seventh at bat was unsuccessful, only one man reaching first, that on an error by the short stop. The Middies opened with a two-bagger by Goldthwaite who scored their second and last run on a single following.

With two out in the eighth, Parsons hit safely; "Grim" tried hard to put a ball through the third baseman but it stopped. The Midshipmen went down on an assist by Parsons and flies to Heinze and Portser.

In the ninth Smith's ill luck at the bat did not desert him although able to hit the ball hard on the nose, the hoodo worked and third got it. Cockill came up next, and as there had been nothing doing left handed, thought he'd try a right. The result was our only run. Portser went down on a fly to first. Leach hit safely but Gill retired the side on Sheehan's fly.

The score follows:

Y. M. C. A. Northfield Meeting.

The Y. M. C. A. will hold a special meeting Tuesday evening for the consideration of the students' conference of the eastern colleges to be held at Northfield, Mass., from June 30 to July 9. Representation at Northfield is of very vital importance to the christian life at Bucknell. It is hoped that the whole student body will actively join in the effort. Various phases of the subject will be discussed at the meeting. May there be a rousing turn-out.

Keystone Club Entertained.

The Keystone Club met in the [illegible] rooms occupied by Principal Thomas on Wednesday evening. After several hours spent at games and in social intercourse the club presented its compliments to Prof. and Mrs. Thomas and Miss Scull, of Golden Hill, happy because the friendship which exists between Keystone students had once more been renewed.

Theta Delta Upsilon Dance.

Delta Theta Upsilon gave a dance in their halls on Wednesday evening. Fifteen couples were present to enjoy the music furnished by the Imperial Orchestra. The halls were decorated in the colors of the fraternity, and this together with the punch bowl and light refreshments helped to make the event a success. At twelve o'clock the guests left the hall humming the tunes of the evening.

MINSTREL A SUCCESS

Between Five and Six Hundred People Turn Out.

An unusually large audience witnessed the production of the Bucknell Minstrel given in the Lewisburg Opera House on the night of April 20th. The auditorium and gallery were both well filled and the applause with which the efforts of the funny men were received well bespoke the pleasure of the listeners. The Seminary contingent was especially large which, may account in part for the steam the boys put on in their efforts to please.

At 8.20 Leach, '07, took charge at the piano, displacing the pianist of the Opera House orchestra and the curtain rose upon the chorus. Morton, '05, as interlocutor, introduced a new feature, being dressed as a court jester. This attire, with the brilliant suits of the end men, formed a contrast to the evening dress of the chorus. The music was chosen fittingly, being snappy and full of life; just the good old minstrel kind. All the soloists did well. The songs of Stewart and Parsons were exceptional for their excellence, while Hennessy, Grimminger, Evans, and Royer, handling lighter music, were popular with the audience. Parodies seemed especially in demand. Gordon and Grim, being the coons on the end, kept the people with them all the time.

The second part was as interesting. Hoon, with his cornet, repeated his success of former years. The only trouble was that he refused to gratify the people with an encore. All the other features were good. In an original sketch, "Miser Hoadley's Dough", Baker and Evans made a "hit" with the gallery. The "Bum Quartette" and the "Coontown Drum Corps" were about ready to call things square by the time the audience allowed them to retire. Though the management met with several disappointments through sickness, no one would have judged that any thing was lacking in the Olio.

Manager Royer deserves much praise for his perseverance. The difficulties in the way of the production this year were great but the success of the result must be gratifying to him. B. '05.

The following is the program:

Opening Chorus.

Interlocutor, E. A. Morton. Premiers, Grminger and Evans. Pianist, G. W. Leach.

FINALE.

Sophomore Contest.

The annual contest in oratory between members of the Sophomore class was held in Bucknell Hall, on Saturday evening, April 22. Before a large and enthusiastic audience these representatives of the class of 1907 battled in a friendly manner to uphold the honor of their class as well as for personal victory. That they succeeded was evidenced by the hearty manner in which each number was received.

To select the winners was well nigh impossible in a contest of so spirited a nature, yet the consensus of opinion was that too much credit can not be given to Gilbert Somers Perez, for the way in which he expressed the personality of his selection.

Twentieth Century Wins.

The first amateur baseball game of the season on the local grounds was played on saturday morning by teams representing the Twentieth Century and Cule boarding clubs. The score was decidedly one-sided until the sixth inning when the Cule club took a brace and brought in five runs. The final score was 12 to 8 in favor of Twentieth Century.

Bucknell vs. Villa Nova.
Saturday, April 29. Game called at 2.30. Admission 25 cents.

RELAY TEAM PICKED

Marsh, on the Team Four Years, Chosen Captain.

The final relay trials were run on Saturday in good time. The candidates picked have been practically sure of making the team for some time past but nevertheless did not spare themselves in efforts to bring the time down as low as possible in the preliminaries. The time on saturday averaged as good as last year with Marsh running over three seconds slower than he did last year. Gaskill is much faster this year and Irey will do much to keep up the pace of former years. Coach Hoskins is very confident that the team will be a winning one, so once more we have strong hopes of adding another trophy to our collection. Bucknell had her usual luck to draw the outside place while State gets near the pole, but heretofore that hasn't made much difference.

Charles S. Marsh, '05, was elected captain. His three year's experience has helped much in developing the new men and if we win this time to him will much of the credit be due.

The team is a representative one, having one regular man from each class; Marsh, '05, Gaskill, '06, Davis, '07, and Irey, '08, with Comstock, '06, as substitute.

Junior Exhibition.

The next event in the oratorical line will be the Junior Exhibition This contest differs from the Freshman and Sophomore struggles, in that the participants are supposed to deliver their own productions. In order to decide who shall speak we understand that the literary qualifications, determined during the first two years, are taken into consideration. By this method it sometimes happens that those whom the class believes to be its best speakers are not appointed because a weakness in literary work lowered their general average. And on the other hand inferior speakers may appar because of excellence in composition. Altho apparent injustice is sometimes done we believe that in the long run this method is probably the best. Certain it is, that many of the orations which are studied in the schools as models were delivered by third rate orators while many speakers of national importance are never heard of in later years. To decide the winner of the Junior Exhibition separate judgement will be made upon the literary merits and upon the delivery.

Editorial

The glorious days have come again, the days when it is a comfort just to feel you'r living and able to enjoy the sunshine and fresh air. Can any one even imagine a more perfect day than Easter Sunday was? Not a cloud to hide a bit of the celestial blue, not too warm nor yet too cool but just right in every way. Even the most harrowed mind could not help but cast aside his gloomy thoughts and share the spirit of nature sparkling and bubbling over with happiness. On the Hill the robins woke us in bursts of melody to their Creator, whose Son had made the same day, long ago, the brightest day of all. Here and there the earliest blossoms had burst forth to speak their praise with colors since they could not sound them with the warblings of the birds.

This is but the first of many such days to come and along with the birds and flowers you can help to make the world a happier place to live. Laugh with the world. Wake up and get the best out of life. Above all don't waste many hours. They are too expensive to lose. If you are weary with too close contact with books, ease up a little in that direction but find something else to take their place. If you are a Senior don't loaf all the time away because this is your last term for in the end you will find that it will be just so much harder to face the music out in the wide, wide world.

The Minstrel is now a thing of the past though its memory will long serve as one of the "looking backward" points to those who took part therein. Of half the fun and pleasure in student productions, the audience is never wise. The best part is enjoyed by the players themselves and that is one of the reasons why there should be more of a place given to dramatics at Bucknell.

It was originally the intention of the Athletic Field committee to give both a Minstrel and a play this year but this plan was only half carried out. Next year we are in hopes that the idea may be put in practice. The Minstrel by all means should become an annual event. It takes better with the public than a glee club, is easier to work up and there is far less danger of coming out at the wrong end financially. With a good manager we can see no reason why the Minstrel could not be given in other towns and become more popular than glee clubs which other colleges in this state send on annual trips. The main thing would be to get to work early next year and not let it drag until it is too late.

The fund for the athletic field is growing little by little and it really looks as though we might have the field in the course of a decade. The Minstrel realized $90.44, which added to that already in the treasury from last year, makes $220.65. This still is not in any way as rapid a growth as the fund should have and other plans should be devised to increase it. The Minstrel can not alone be depended upon to raise the amount necessary or none but our posterity will enjoy the benefit, and with the general knock on college athletics which fill the editorial columns of newspapers and magazines today, maybe by that time we will have no use for a field. The need at present is as great as it ever will be, so it's up to us to hurry.

Lately some of the younger generation having been enjoying baseball on the campus in front of Bucknell Hall. A miniature diamond is showing where grass ought to be, unnecessarily disfiguring the beauty of the campus. This has probably escaped the notice of the college authorities but should be stopped before the grass is entirely killed. There is plenty of room elsewhere.

The faculty of Illinois are planning to give the editor of the college daily four hours a week credit to the University.

Princeton and Chicago Universities are taking steps toward reorganization on the plan of Oxford and Cambridge. It is thought that by having a number of separate colleges under one management, the advantages of a small college will be combined with those of the great university.

Out of thirty colleg epresidents in the Middle West twenty-nine have condemned college athletics. They advise the abolition of football entirely. One of the complaints made is that athletics, as at present conducted, induces gambling. This was one of the counts made by President Harper of the University of Chicago.

A manuscript has been recently unearthed which solves at last the long vexing question of how our late lamented fellow citizen C. J. Caesar met his death. It seems that Calpurnia had been experimenting with a new style of gas ranges, and had spoiled the breakfast. Brutus, happening along at this time, proposed that they go down to the Senate lunch counter. On reaching this renowned eating house they ordered pancakes. Just as the cakes arrived, Caesar was called aside by Artimedorus. During his absence Brutus ate both cakes. Caesar, discovering this on his return, said with great displeasure, "Et two, brute." At which Brutus was so enraged that he grabbed another cake from the waiter, who had just returned, and hit Caesar over the head with it, and as Shakespeare grandly puts it:

That pancake, more heavy than a brickbat strong,
Quite vanquished him, and in his mantle muffling up his face,
There beside the table legs, which all the time ran maple syrup.
Great Caesar fell.
Oh, what a fall there was, my countrymen,
You know that Caesar weighed two hundren ten. —Ex.

THE BUCKNELL WAY.

George Whitman, D. D., Buffalo, N.Y.

Tune: "Jingle Bells."

Once there was a dude,
Who loved a pretty maid;
He struck an attitude,
And all his arts he played;
But lo! a Bucknell brave
To nuptial joys aspired,
To him her lovely hand she gave,
And the dudie he got "fired."

CHORUS.

Bucknell, here, Bucknell there!
Bucknell wins the day.
Every time and everywhere;
For that's the Bucknell way.

A politician proud
Ran up the hill of Fame;
He shouted long and loud,
And played his artful game;
But his little scheme fell through,
For a Bucknell boy was there,
Who hurled him headlong down into
A canyon of despair!

There was an orator,
With twenty-mule-team mouth,
Who sought forensic gore,
In regions north and south;
But a worthy Bucknell knight
This giant did defy;
With oratory's dynamite
He blew him up sky-high!

BUCKNELL LOSES RELAY

Irey Unable to Stand the Pace Set By Older Men.

For the first time in four years Bucknell failed to win the annual relay race at Franklin Field, finishing in last place. We have become so accustomed to a winning team that to lose badly is all the more shattering to the pride which we have become entitled to in former years. The disappointment is equally felt by the team but they undoubtedly did what they could at the time and no censure is directed towards them. Such things are liable to happen often when hopes are highest and may even prove beneficial in decrying over-confidence. Some blame may be attached to the direction of the order of running, especially in putting a green man last. We can not judge except from the words of those who saw the race and who say they are confident that we would have done much better had Marsh and Gaskill run last.

Davis ran first and for the first 340 yards kept up a fast pace but lost from that on, finishing a poor fifth. Marsh with such a bad start nevertheless got his long stride in working order and pulled up on the home stretch, finishing a close third. He made up fully twenty or twenty-five yards. Gaskill ran a magnificent quarter, surprising every one in showing the development he has made over last year. He pulled up five yards more and finished a second so close to first as hardly to be noticed. He ran so easy that it is the common opinion that had he had even more ground to make up, he could have done it. This left Irey in a good position to win if it were in him to do so. The hopes of the Bucknell onlookers were high as he started off with a long stride and judging from his work on the home track it looked as though we were bound to get a good place at the finish. Whether the company was too fast for him or he had an attack of fright from inexperience we can not say but on the home stretch he lost his powers and the bunch passed him leaving him to finish last in a very wobbly condition.

Virginia won the race, having been first in every quarter; State came in second and Dickinson third.

Fourth Year Class Soiree.

The portrayal of the characters of heroes and Godesses as described by Virgil in connection with the fall of ancient Troy was admirably executed by the members of the fourth year class in the Seminary, Saturday night. Under the direction of Miss Schillinger, the young ladies completely lost themselves in the characters they represented and acted with a grace and fire most creditable. The category of human emotions was drawn upon with potent effect; love, anger, despair, remorse and supplication all ran the gauntlet with expression equally intense, both of voice and gesture. The audience thoroughly enjoyed each one of the character paintings as interpreted from the Latin classic. The stage effects were good and evidenced considerable application on the part of all. No less interesting was the closing feature of the program, the Greek drill, in which the flowing Greek costumes of many colors together with fair faces and gracefully bending forms created pictures extremely pleasing to the vision.

After the curtain was drawn a reception was tendered the guests in the parlors.

Greek Drill

Never Planned to Remain.

Harry McCormick, who played outfield for the Giants in 1904 and then figured in the triangular deal that sent him to Pittsburg, writes as follows:

"Please correct the report that I have had any trouble with Pittsburg or Philadelphia. I quit baseball because I got a good job with the Pennsylvania Steel Co., and for no other reason. I never intended to stay in the game all my life, but was only waiting for a good chance to get into business."

When Dreyfuss sent "Mac" his contract for $2,000 he returned it with thanks. Nobody knew what had become of him until a friend visiting the steel works last November saw "Mac" hustling redhot pigiron, clad in overalls and black with sweaty grime. He handled a sledge and made so many base hits that the superintendent used to bring stockholders around just to let them get an appetite.

He is now traveling agent for the firm, with headquarters in New York, smokes the president's cigars and borrows matches from the auditor.—Chronicle-Telegraph.

BUCKNELL LOSES TWICE

Up in the Air in Two Successive Games.

Harrisburg A. C. won from Bucknell with a score of 11 to 1. According to the Harrisburg papers it was rather a game of rattles on the part of the collegians as Chief Parsons twirled in good form and allowed the locals but eight hits. He should have had a better record had his support been a little more to the good. Cockill seemed to have an arm on him that knew no controll and the way he threw wildly across the diamond gave Harrisburg several of their runs. During the first five innings Jerger allowed Bucknell only three hits and struck out five men. After he retired Davis went into the box and proved invincible until the ninth inning, when Grimminger opened with a hit to center field which was good for two bases. Smith went out on an infield hit but Cockill singled to right field and Grimminger crossed the plate with the first run scored against the Harrisburg team this season.

Summary:—Two base hits, Grimminger, McManhon, Dorman. Struck out, Parsons 5, Jerger 6, Davis 2. Base on balls, Parsons 5. Left on bases, Bucknell 3, Harrisburg 5. Stolen bases, Bonner, Hoffman, Broderick, Hamilton 2. First base on errors, Harrisburg 4. Missed grounders and fumbles, Heinze, Cockill. Wild throws, Heinze 2, Cockill 2. Time, 1.25. Umpire, Harris.

Bucknell's inability to hit the ball safely coupled with costly fielding errors was the main cause of their defeat on Saturday by Villa Nova. The visitors are classed among the best teams representing the smaller colleges and they played a brilliant game throughout.

The Varsity evidently had another of its off days altho the game was close and at times exciting until the seventh inning when four hits and a number of missplays netted five runs for Villa Nova. With two men out Sheehan replaced Parsons in the box and had the visitors guessing until the end.

Capt. Cockill's playing was a feature of the game. He had fourteen put-outs and his long drives regularly would have been good for home runs.

The visitors with but two exceptions fielded perfectly and their hits were clean and well placed.

The Varsity scored in the first on a single by Smith and Cockill's three-bagger. After that they were unable to get a man past second base. The visitors scored one run in the fourth inning on two singles and a long fly. They scored two runs in the fifth on two wild throws and a hit and another in the sixth on a home run hit into center field. Then came the fatal seventh inning. The first man up for Villa Nova hit for three bases and scored on an out at first. The next man sent a slow one to Smith and was safe at first. Then followed a series of hits and missplays that gave the visitors five runs. No runs were scored in the eighth and ninth leaving the score at the finish 9 to 1 in favor of Villa Nova.

The score is as follows:

Tribute to Bucknell Professor.

In the Harvard Studies in Classical Philology, Vol. XV, is an article on "Some Phases of the Cult of Nymphs" by Prof. Floyd G. Ballentine, Ph. D. The article covers forty pages and is an exhaustive discussion of the subject. As these studies represent the best Harvard can do in Classical Philology, and upon them she rests her claim to respect in the learned world, the publication of Prof. Ballentine's article is a high tribute to his scholarship.

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATE

First Event of the Kind in Six Years.

On Friday evening our University will re-enter an old field. Six years ago we had our last inter-collegiate debate in Bucknell Hall. In the meanwhile the nearest approach to inter-collegiate debating in our college has been letters, speeches, and essays, in which the students have asked with varying degrees of energy, why we are not in the college debating world. The coming debate is our answer.

Think of what this debate means. We are about to meet a worthy rival. Indeed the importance of this contest rests on the fact that we are going to face debaters from Cornell University. For Cornell has one of best debating systems in the country, and the Congress, whose representatives will debate on Friday evening, is the leading debating society at Cornell. Besides if all goes well, if we prove ourselves worthy of our opponents, we shall no doubt have an annual debate. This annual event is very desirable because of Cornell's position in the college world and because of her standing in debating.

The word to pass along is, everybody out. Come out to help defray the expenses. Come out to express your college spirit. Come out to help our men win. We want to win, but we want to do more. We may win if the other side is weak, we may win by chance; we want to win because of the superiority of the best work our representatives can do. Our debaters will do their best if the whole school, teachers and students, will show their interest by their presence.

Girls' Minstrel.

Next Saturday evening the most interesting spectacle of a girl's minstrel will take first place among the unusual happenings at Bucknell. Any information as to the character of the program has been assiduously withheld from the public. With much effort and secrecy we were able to ascertain some of the facts in connection therewith and will share such knowledge with all, not willing to be stingy about the matter.

Miss Braddock will take the chair of interlocutor and will interlocutorigate in the deaf and dumb language. The end "men" will be: Miss Cobb, Miss Conway, Miss Sharp, Miss Burgess, Miss Finley and others too numerous to mention. Most of the solos will be bass and barrytone. None of the jokes are more than eight years old and only three will be sprung on others than gentlemen students, one of which three will be on Miss Schillinger since none of the girls would stand for it on themselves. We have been unable to find out the names of any but two solos; one by Miss Finley, entitled "I Was Bred in Old Kaintuck", the other by Miss Burgess, called "My Old Kentucky Home" in nine flats.

The character of the Ollo is phantasmagorical in the extreme. There is an original sketch entitled "How We Fooled Pa", in half an act. There will be no monologues as it was found impossible to have only one speak at once. Numerous other features including a Bon Ton Burlesque and a trombone solo will be introduced. Don't fail to miss it.

Sem Gossip

Eighteen girls chaperoned by Miss Metcalf, had dinner at Mrs. Huth's on Wednsday night.

Among the girls who are home for Easter are: Nellie Johnson, Sadie Wolverton, Ursula Parmley, Margaret Love, Florence Bacon, Anna and Mary Galbraith.

Up-to-date Dietz lanterns, at each fire escape, have been added to the lighting facilities at the Seminary, thus giving the students the long desired night service.

On Friday evening a very good musical was given in the Seminary chapel under the direction of the School of Music. The program included a duet on two pianos, by Misses Bjehl and Wagner; piano solo by Misses Shamp, Frick, Wolfgang, Fritz, McCredy and Maurer; vocal solos by Julia Brown and Rachael Brookbank; and a violin solo by Carol Spratt.

Academy

J. T. Little was home over Sunday.

A. G. Rilenour has left the Academy.

The baseball team has been furnished new uniforms.

H. S. Brown has been placed on the staff of the "Orange and Blue."

The Academy suffered defeat at the hands of Union Seminary, Saturday. Boyd the regular pitch was not put into the game at first on account of a sore arm. Later he went into the box and pitched a good game in spite of his injury but was unable to overcome the start the opponents got from the substitute pitcher.

Alumni

Gilbert, '04, was in Lewisburg over Easter.

M. A. Carringer, '00, has formed a partnership with T. F. Ritchey at Tionesta for the practice of the law.

Frank Daniels, '04, was in town a few days ago. He will take the leading part in "Arizona" to be produced next week by local talent in the town where he is now teaching.

Rev. John Hague, '73, pastor of the English Baptist church of Lee Park, is building a mammouth dredge for getting coal from the bottom of the Susquehanna river. He is an expert mechanic and will devote the time aside from his church duties to dredging.

THE BUCKNELL WAY.

George Whitman, D. D., Buffalo, N.Y.

Tune: "Jingle Bells."

Once there was a dude,
Who loved a pretty maid;
He struck an attitude,
And all his arts he played;
But lo! a Bucknell brave
To nuptial joys aspired,
To him her lovely hand she gave,
And the dudie he got "fired."

CHORUS.
Bucknell, here, Bucknell there!
Bucknell wins the day.
Every time and everywhere;
For that's the Bucknell way.

A politician proud
Ran up the hill of Fame;
He shouted long and loud,
And played his artful game;
But his little scheme fell through,
For a Bucknell boy was there,
Who hurled him headlong down into
A canyon of despair!

There was an orator,
With twenty-mule-team mouth,
Who sought forensic gore,
In regions north and south;
But a worthy Bucknell knight
This giant did defy;
With oratory's dynamite
He blew him up sky-high!

BUCKNELL LOSES RELAY

Irey Unable to Stand the Pace Set By Older Men.

For the first time in four years Bucknell failed to win the annual relay race at Franklin Field, finishing in last place. We have become so accustomed to a winning team that to lose badly is all the more shattering to the pride which we have become entitled to in former years. The disappointment is equally felt by the team but they undoubtedly did what they could at the time and no censure is directed towards them. Such things are liable to happen often when hopes are highest and may even prove beneficial in decrying over-confidence. Some blame may be attached to the direction of the order of running, especially in putting a green man last. We can not judge except from the words of those who saw the race and who say they are confident that we would have done much better had Marsh and Gaskill run last.

Davis ran first and for the first 240 yards kept up a fast pace but lost from that on, finishing a poor fifth. Marsh with such a bad start nevertheless got his long stride in working order and pulled up on the home stretch, finishing a close third. He made up fully twenty or twenty-five yards. Gaskill ran a magnificent quarter, surprising every one in showing the development he has made over last year.He pulled up five yards more and finished a second so close to first as hardly to be noticed. He ran so easy that it is the common opinion that had he had even more ground to make up, he could have done it. This left Irey in a good position to win if it were in him to do so. The hopes of the Bucknell onlookers were high as he started off with a long stride and judging from his work on the home track it looked as though we were bound to get a good place at the finish. Whether the company was too fast for him or he had an attack of fright from inexperience we can not say but on the home stretch he lost his powers and the bunch passed him leaving him to finish last in a very wobbly condition.

Virginia won the race, having been first in every quarter; State came in second and Dickinson third.

Fourth Year Class Soiree.

The portrayal of the characters of heroes and Godesses as described by Virgil in connection with the fall of ancient Troy was admirably executed by the members of the fourth year class in the Seminary, Saturday night. Under the direction of Miss Schillinger, the young ladies completely lost themselves in the characters they represented and acted with a grace and fire most creditable. The category of human emotions was drawn upon with potent effect; love, anger, despair, remorse and supplication all ran the gauntlet with expression equally intense, both of voice and gesture. The audience thoroughly enjoyed each one of the character paintings as interpreted from the Latin classic. The stage effects were good and evidenced considerable application on the part of all. No less interesting was the closing feature of the program, the Greek drill, in which the flowing Greek costumes of many colors together with fair faces and graceefully bending forms created pictures extremely pleasing to the vision.

After the curtain was drawn a reception was tendered the guests in the parlors.

Never Planned to Remain.

Harry McCormick, who played outfield for the Giants in 1904 and then figured in the triangular deal that sent him to Pittsburg, writes as follows:

"Please correct the report that I have had any trouble with Pittsburg or Philadelphia. I quit baseball because I got a good job with the Pennsylvania Steel Co., and for no other reason. I never intended to stay in the game all my life, but was only waiting for a good chance to get into business."

When Dreyfuss sent "Mac" his contract for $2,000 he returned it with thanks. Nobody knew what had become of him until a friend visiting the steel works last November saw "Mac" hustling redhot pigiron, clad in overalls and black with sweaty grime. He handled a sledge and made so many base hits that the superintendent used to bring stockholders around just to let them get an appetite.

He is now traveling agent for the firm, with headquarters in New York, smokes the president's cigars and borrows matches from the auditor.—Chronicle-Telegraph.

BUCKNELL LOSES TWICE

Up in the Air in Two Successive Games.

Harrisburg A. C. won from Bucknell with a score of 11 to 1. According to the Harrisburg papers it was rather a game of rattles on the part of the collegians as Chief Parsons twirled in good form and allowed the locals but eight hits. He should have had a better record had his support been a little more to the good. Cockill seemed to have an arm on him that knew no controll and the way he threw wildly across the diamond gave Harrisburg several of their runs. During the first five innings Jerger allowed Bucknell only three hits and struck out five men. After he retired Davis went into the box and proved invincible until the ninth inning, when Grimminger opened with a hit to center field which was good for two bases. Smith went out on an infield hit but Cockill singled to right field and Grimminger crossed the plate with the first run scored against the Harrisburg team this season.

Bucknell's inability to hit the ball safely coupled with costly fielding errors was the main cause of their defeat on Saturday by Villa Nova. The visitors are classed among the best teams representing the smaller colleges and they played a brilliant game throughout.

The Varsity evidently had another of its off days altho the game was close and at times exciting until the seventh inning when four hits and a number of missplays netted five runs for Villa Nova. With two men out Sheehan replaced Parsons in the box and had the visitors guessing until the end.

Capt. Cockill's playing was a feature of the game. He had fourteen put-outs and his long drives regularly would have been good for home runs.

The visitors with but two exceptions fielded perfectly and their hits were clean and well placed.

The Varsity scored in the first on a single by Smith and Cockill's three-bagger. After that they were unable to get a man past second base. The visitors scored one run in the fourth inning on two singles and a long fly. They scored two runs in the fifth on two wild throws and a hit and another in the sixth on a home run hit into center field. Then came the fatal seventh inning. The first man up for Villa Nova hit for three bases and scored on an out at first. The next man sent a slow one to Smith and was safe at first. Then followed a series of hits and missplays that gave the visitors five runs. No runs were scored in the eighth and ninth leaving the score at the finish 9 to 1 in favor of Villa Nova.

Editorial

In order to encourage new men to participate in athletic sports, contests for novices will be held in May. For this occasion the term novice is defined to mean a student who has not been in competition in field and track events since coming to Bucknell. It is absolutely necessary to find out who can do something, who have possibilities, if we are to keep with the procession. Very few students know that we have but one sprinter who can make speed enough to compete with other colleges. Only one man in the whole college can put the shot 35 feet, a mediocre performance now a days. We have no hammer thrower. Not a distance man has been here this season, altho there are men who will probably do well when a contest brings out their powers. So far no man has jumped a hurdle.

The object of the novice contest is to get some sport for itself. The prevalent idea that athletics exist to beat some outside college is a damper to true sport, because the weaker students leave the field to the few superior athletes. Again, the physical benefits ought to be considered. No man ought to allow his body to deteriorate when he has the privilege of developing it under the direction of an excellent coach, if the coach is here and has duties to perform, why not elect courses under him? His salary is paid by our tuition fees, therefore we ought to make use of his talents.

With training men will be found who can make the struggle for the class trophy the most interesting contest of the year. With a full field there is a possibility for any class. It is the seconds and thirds that count in close contests of teams. These second and third men must come from the novices who will in time become the first men of subsequent years. Candidates will as usual report to the coach.

It is about time to revive the old question of a fee of five dollars to be paid at the beginning of the college year, which is to entitle a student to a ticket that will admit him to all the games played on the home grounds. We used the phrase "It is about time to revive," but this hardly conveys the desired impression. Rather had we said "It is about time to decide upon some definite line of action by which each student will be taxed the above fee when he shall enter college next year."

Last year about this time the minds of the students were turned to this very proposition. The question was discussed, favored and, it seems almost reasonable to add, forgotten. Such an important step should not be treated lightly, for it bears directly upon athletics at Bucknell. This method is in vogue in other colleges and the same advantages would be felt here.

For the sake of bringing the proposition clearly before the minds of every one we will state the advantages, altho it should hardly be necessary. In the first place this five dollar assessment would place the Athletic Association on a firm financial basis. It would save the expense of having tickets printed for each game, since each man would have his own season ticket. Again, it would do away with voluntary subscriptions. The strongest argument for the adoption of this plan is that it would insure a full representation of the student body at every game. The last statement deserves a bit of explanation. That there are some in the college who do not attend many of the games we are sorry to have to confess. The class most to be censured is composed of those who, though pretending not to be interested in athletics, sit in their rooms and watch the games from their windows. It is these two classes that the five dollar levy would bring first to the benches on the Hill, and that is what Bucknell needs to win games,—a full representation of the student body. The cheering then will be more effective and the players more encouraged.

We have seen some of the advantages of the plan. The next and most important thing is to see that the five dollar levy is decided upon, so that it may take effect at the beginning of next year. In this step every one can help, by his support, and such support is essential to the adoption of the proposition.

Its almost time Capt. Cockill and his men learn to keep their heads during a game.

Academy

Little was home over Sunday.

Prof. Robey spent Sunday at his home in Baltimor.e

Ridenour spent several days with us the latter part of the week.

Boyd sprained his ankle during practice on Friday evening and is now going around on crutches. As he is the only pitcher in the Academy, it places the team in sore straits.

The meeting of the Caleopean Literary Society on Friday evening was very interesting. The debate to decide who should go to Bloomsburg, resulted in McLaughlin and Nybery being chosen. The question was, Resolved that strikes are harmful to the laboring classes.

Phi Gamma Delta Dance.

Tuesday evening last Phi Gamma Delta gave a very pleasant informal dance in the Lewisburg Armory. Much pains had been spent on decorating to relieve the hall of its bareness and to make it comfortable for the guests. Wherever available place was found the purple and white of the fraternity together with college penants, caught the eye. About thirty couples were present. A punch bowl did service throughout the evening and refreshments were served during the intermission. Music was furnished by the Imperial Orchestra.

Pennsylvania State College has been victorious in its first six baseball games.

Hereafter students at Northwestern, who make the glee club will receive college credit for their work.

Oberlin College has now an assistant president whose business is to look entirely after the money raising necessary for the institution.

A remarkable fact in the history of Dartmouth College football is that of the thirty-eight games played during the past four years she has lost but four.

Work has begun on the new stadium at Syracuse. The new athletic field will in most respects resemble Franklin Field and will have a seating capacity of over 15,000.

According to a time honored custom on the first Monday in March, Princeton Seniors threw aside their dignity and appeared on the campus rolling hoops and spinning tops. The Juniors reserved the exclusive right to play marbles, and owing to the unfavorable condition of the ground, every available place was hotly contested. The Freshmen were not allowed to watch the sport.

BUCKNELL O!
Tune: A Tavern in the Town.
Mary Bartol Theiss

There is a college of renown, of renown,
The pride of good old Bucknell town, Bucknell town,
Fame wings her praises everywhere
For none with her can quite compare.

CHORUS.
She's a college enterprising,—
Expectations realizing
As she keeps serenly rising
To the top, tip top
Hurrah, the orange and the blue, the orange, blue,—
Hurrah, they dazzle every view, every view,—
We will hold them high
Till a wond'ring world shall know
That we belong to Bucknell O!

From high Olympus old and grey, old and grey,
Those pristine gods have moved away, moved away;
With "Grace" and "Nymph', they sought afar
Diviner shades; so here they are. Chorus:

She has the "plant," she has the men, has the men,—
She has the money; and again, and again,
She's out to raise a "million more;"
When once she gets it, up she'll soar. Chorus:

This Store Stands For Quality--- That's Our First Consideration

There are a great many persons who, in looking for low prices, lose sight of quality, but we guard your interest here—quality is the one thing this store stands for, and that's why it's a safe hopping place. Every item represent eaonable merchandise and whether its the expensive or inexpensive sorts, the sterling worth is there just the same. Everything is just what we advertisei t to be. Eastertide has come and gone, but the rush and bustle still continues. No dull days here. No reason why there should be, as new goods are arriving daily, and our prices talk. Come.
SEIDEL & SPANGLER.

Spring Jackets

We have decided to reduce high-priced Jackets, as the big demand for Jackets worth from $5.00 to $10.00 has caused the better ones to move slower. We herefore mark down the higher priced ones and give the customer better value for their money. We are taking a number of $12.00 and $13.50 Jackets and marking them $10.00. Some exceptional values in the $4.39, $5.000 to $7.50 kinds.

We received a lot of light Jackets, material of Rain Cloth, very nobby and beautiful styles, which we will sell at popular prices. These Jackets are just the weight for the lady that does not want a garment as heavy as a Covert Cloth.

Clearance Sale of Tailor-made Suits

While it seems early to advertise Tailored Suits, yet the separate Waists, Shirtwaist Suits and Jackets are taking their place to a certain extent and so have decided to put the knife into them and close them out at a price. Not that these suits are out of style as they are the newest, up-to-date and correct styles and material, but on account of so many different styles of costumes toking their place.

In the sale of the above Tailored suits you can certainly secure an unusual bargain. It is useless to quote prices, and only ask you to come and see the styles, material and tailoring. This sale, which we inaugurate this week, should be a noteworthy event, and is bound to be of supreme interest to every woman who likes to wear the finest tailored suits.

A Sale of Silks

The staple as well as the fancy sorts. It has come to be a generally accepted fact that we carry the finest assoremint of Silks in town. This week exceptional values can be secured at a small cost. By buying them in large quantities we are able to offer them at saving prices. By visiting our store this week you will notice one of the largest Silk sales going on taht we ever ahd.

Another lot of those special values at 39c received this week that are worth 50c a yard. A lot of Foulards and Fancy T affetas, beautiful colors, at 50c, worth75c.

A fine of Fancy Taffetas and Foulards worth $1.00, sale price 75c.

DICKINSON DEFEATED

In a One Sided Game the Visitors Lose 11 to 3.

Bucknell players got together on Saturday and put up the kind of game they are capable of at any time and by taking advantage of the poor work of Dickinson made a big score. Parsons, though having a bad pair of eyes pitched a fine game, having eleven strike outs in eight innings. Leach pitched equally well in the ninth, striking out every man. Grimminger's work behind the bat was noteworthy. Sheehan held down second base in splendid style, having four assists and a put out. Bucknell batted well securing fourteen hits off Hall. Cockill rounded out the good work of his men with a pretty home run.

Wolf met the first ball pitched for a single; stole second but in a try for another was thrown out by Grimminger. "Chief retired the side by striking out the next two up. Grimminger started the matinee for the home team with a single; stole second. Smith went out on a fly to center. Cockill hit safely advancing Grim to third Parsons hit safe scoring Grimminger and Cockill. Davis retired the side on Portser's grounder.

Second inning. Neither side scored, Parsons retiring Dickinson with three strike outs.

Third inning. For the visitors, Daniels hit safely and was advanced to second by Lengle's sacrifice. Went to third on a wild pitch. Hall went down on an assist to Heinze but Davis scored, netting the visitors their first run. Parsons retired the side with an assist to Cockill. For Bucknell, Grim again hit safely. Smith sacrificed. Cockill hit a hard liner to Davis who doubled up Jimmie on second retiring the side.

Fourth inning. Nothing doing for the visitors they going down on assists to Cockill by Smith and Sheehan, and a strike out. With one out, Portser hit safely but was thrown out in an attempt to steal. Sheehan landed for a single and stole second. Leach hit safely scoring Sheehan; took second on a throw home and went home on Wolfs' overthrow to second.

Fifth inning. Long hit safely to right field. Crutchley was hit by the pitcher. Daniels hit a hard grounder to Heinze who passed the ball to Sheehan on second. Sheehan threw true to Cockill doubling them up. Crutchley went to third but died there, next batter striking out. Bucknell went down in their turn on flies to first, third and center.

Sixth inning. The visitors made two runs this inning on a hit by Hall who advanced to second on a wild throw, went to third on a hard grounder which Pickles" got in a mix-up. James drew a base on balls. Long hit safely scoring Hall and Simpson. Bucknell got another in this inning. With one out, Parsons reached first on an error, Portser was hit by pitcher. Sheehan drove out a very pretty two-bagger over the track scoring Parsons.

Seventh inning. Dickinson was retired by Parsons on two strike outs and an assist to Cockill. For Bucknell, with two out Cockill got four wide. Parsons hit safely. Portser again was hit by pitcher filling the bases. Sheehan hit to Crutchley but the ball got away and Cockill and Parsons scored.

Eighth inning. Simpson and Long went down on assists to Cockill by Sheehan. Crutchley struck out retiring the side. Four runs were piled up by the Bucknell boys in this inning. Heinze gave it a ride for two bases. Grimminger again got a single scoring Heinze. Smith was in the way of the ball and got first. Cockill came in for his accustomed long drive with a hard hit grounder away from everybody good for a home run scoring Grimminger, Smith and himself.

Ninth inning. Parsons was relieved in this inning by Leach who retired the visitors with three strike outs, Howell went to right and Fry moved over to center.

The score:

Senior Class Play.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the annual class play of Commencement week recently decided upon the production and has selected the cast of characters. The play this year will be a farcical comedy entitled "The Freshman." It is a bright and humorous piece of work and the parts are very clever. There are nine characters in the cast and these are so well balanced as to give each member an excellent opportunity for individual work. The members of the cast are: R. D. Royer, R.L. Belford, D. R. McCain, J. B. Smiley, B. W. Scott, E. A. Morton, Miss Edith Kelley, Miss Ferne Braddock and Miss Cottie Albright.

Miss Edith Schillinger who coached the play of 1904 has been secured to take charge of the staging and rehersals will begin this week.

Sophomore Dance.

The Sophomore Hop committee request that all those attending the dance be at the Armory promptly at 8:15 Friday evening, in order that it may not be prolonged into the "wee' hours of the morning. Dancing will begin promptly at 8:30.

CORNELL WINS DEBATE

Negative Side Given the Decision by a Close Margin.

Between two and three hundred people turned out to hear the first inter-collegiate debate held at Bucknell in six years. The audience just about filled Bucknell Hall. At eight o'clock the Mandolin and Guitar Club under the direction of Prof. Avinguet, struck up a lively march and the debaters took their places on the platform. The question for debate was, Resolved that the Inter-State Commerce Act should be amended to legalize pooling and rate agreements among railroads. Without going into an extensive analysis of the arguments presented the affirmative supported by Bucknell sought to prove that under the present provisions of the act, discriminations exist, that competition leads to discrimination and that legalized pooling would have a corrective tendency by removing the cause for discriminations. On the other hand the negatives, while admitting that discriminations exist, endeavored to show that legalizing pooling would not correct the evil, and according to the decision rendered seemed to have succeeded in establishing their arguments.

However it would be hard to find any marked line of superiority of one set of debaters over the other. The visitors were perhaps more polished in their delivery, evincing more practice in debating than our boys have had. But when it came to reasoning they had no advantage. We do not hesitate to say that Bucknell had the best men she has to represent her, and all accredited themselves nobly. Ausherman has exceptional ability to cover a great deal of ground. Morton is perhaps the most eloquent of the three while Bostwick shows his greatest ability in rebuttal. His rebuttal on saturday evening impressed many as the best feature of the whole debate. Genung undoubtedly did the most for the Congress. He has had a great deal of experience and his peroration was fine. Gillett and Kennedy are both clever speakers, the preference lying with Gillett.

Each speaker was given ten minutes for his first speech and five in rebuttal.

The decision was not unanimous and the judge in rendering it said, although he had heard many debates on similar subjects, he had never heard a better one.

The Cornell debaters said afterwards that they had not expected to find such strong opponents by far and felt, before the decision was rendered that they had lost.

Whatever disappointment may be felt at the defeat, the merits of each side were so evenly balanced that no one can but feel that Bucknell's representatives are worthy opponents for any team.

After the debate a very pretty solo was sung by Miss Anna Johnson of the Seminary and the Mandolin and Guitar Club completed the program.

The presidig officer of the debate was Judge McClure. The judges were L. S. Sprague, D. D., of Wyoming Seminary, J. P. Welsh, Ph. D., of Bloomsburg Normal and U. U. Champion, Esq., of Williamsport. Time keepers—L. W. Fehr, Cornell and A. M. Weaver, Bucknell.

From the Hall the Cornell debaters were escorted to the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity halls where they were tendered a reception, some fifty students, representative of the college being present. A punch bowl, light refreshments together whh singing and instrumental music served to entertain the visitors who expressed themselves as heartily pleased with their treatment.

Football Schedule.

Manager Keck is to be congratulated upon the excellent schedule he has secured for next fall. Six games are played with some of the best teams among the colleges and if Bucknell can make a good showing with such opponents she will have much reason to be proud. T e manager is endeavoring to arrange for a good game on the home grounds on the open date.

Music for Bucknell Commencement.

It is announced that the celebrated Pottsville Band, formerly the Third Brigade Band, Lieut. Frederick Gerhard, leader, has been engaged for the 55th Annual Commencement of Bucknell University, June 19th to 21st inclusive. The usual twilight concerts will be given. The Pottsville band furnished the music at Bucknell's Commencement of 1898, and made a great hit at that time.

It is also announced that Dr. R. P. Johnston, of New York City, will deliver the address on Tuesday afternoon of Commencement week.

Senior Vacation.

Any member of the senior class who has attained a standing of not less than 9 in any subject, up to June 6th, may be examined in such subject on any day thereafter as may be arranged by the Professor, and be excused from his class for the rest of the term.

SUCCESSFUL MINSTREL

Girls' Dramatic Club Heap Honors Upon Themselves.

As many people as the Seminary Chapel could comfortably accomodate enjoyed the Minstrel, given by the Girls' Dramatic Club, Saturday night. Without any word painting, the Minstrel was fine. For girls entering a new field the success of the undertaking, assured to them by all, was even beyond expectations and no greater tribute will stand to their credit than the memory of those who were there.

A wave of approval swept the room when the curtain was drawn aside, revealing the chorus in evening dress and the end men in black-face and black and white silks. Miss Braddock, as interlocutor wore the dress of a colonial dame and filled the chair in a splendid manner. The choruses were well selected and sung in a good minstrel style. All the soloists deserve praise. The songs of Miss Burgess, Miss Nesbit, Miss Cobb, Miss Farley and Miss Braddock were especially popular with the audience. The end men performed their "stunts" and handeled their jokes in a skillful way and were very generous to the college boys. Chansing their suits in the second part to bright colors added to their fantastic appearance.

The program was varied in the extreme and every number deserves mention. The Trio and the Sextette took well. Miss Finley as the Model College Girl captivated everybody while Miss Burgess as Angeline showed remarkable dancing talent.

When the chorus sang Swanee River the stage effect was very pretty and the succeeding chorus which was the finale sent everyone away pleased and fully satisfied as to girls' ability to talk and act the darky with success.

Accompanist, Miss Bottorf.
Interlocutor, Miss Braddock.
End Men—Misses Cobb, Stanton, Burgess, Finley, Hare, Sharp, Johnson and Conway.

Editorial

The interest which the inter-collegiate debate aroused is certainly gratifying. Too much credit cannot be given to those who were instrumental in reviving the art, which has so long been dead at Bucknell, and in making such a good start in this line which means as much to the institution as any other inter-collegiate relations. Now that a beginning has been made, it were a shame not to do everything that can be done to give debating its proper place and put it on the plane other colleges have assigned to it. One of the handicaps our team had to contend against in the Cornell debate was lack of practice. It could easily be seen that the Cornell men were accustomed to debating and as a matter of fact it is a business with them. They are put through a regular course from the time they enter college until they leave, being promoted from a lower to a higher society as they have ability. That against such training Bucknell's men could put up such a strong fight is a compliment to the individual debaters' ability but it will be unfair to future teams if we send them against such strong opponents and do not furnish better means for equipment than we do at present.

In one way it is better that we lost this debate, losing as we did by no means easily, since there is more likilihood that it will mean a debate at Cornell next year and if such becomes an annual event there will be the incentive to give the attention and time to training necessary to an equality. In that light our debaters were a sacrifice, but we do not consider them as such for we believe that our men won the debate; that the question was one which has a popular and unpopular side and all other things being equal the decision will hang to some extent on the character of the judges, upon the attitude they have on all economic questions. We think, and our belief is but the reflection of opinions expressed generally and by some men as capable of judging as any, that we only lost the decision. Altho only an opinion we feel free in giving it as popular sentiment for the benefit of the debaters who themselves need not feel defeat.

A squib at the bottom of the editorial column last week, to the effect that the Varsity was given to losing their heads as substantiated in two successive games, was not received with hearty favor by some of the players. We expected that and had that been all we would not take time to rehearse the topic. But an alumnus, a former Varsity player, took very strong exception to the same in a letter which came to our hands a few days ago. He asks if this paper will ever learn to support athletics and says that such a statement with regard to the team does not look well in exchanges and will give other colleges a bad impression of Bucknell. For such a breach of duty this paper and its editorial writer are charged with a state of over ripeness and decay. There may be truth in what is said but on the whole we think the alumnus has put his criticism a little too strongly, not being in a position to be familiar with the conditions that may perhaps have justified stronger language in reference to the team than that used.

The "Orange and Blue" is and always has been a supporter of athletics. It would have no reason not to be. Readers will seldom find that the players, either collectively or individually, do not get full credit where they deserve it and more than that inexcusable faults are often painted over as whitely as possible. It's easy to write up a victory but not so easy some defeats. It is too much to say that this paper does not support athletics merely because of a few lines of censure which the dont-care spirit manifested in the Villa Nova game seemed to deserve. It doesn't pay, for the good of the team, to slather on the honey all the time and it is not our policy to do so. If Bucknell lost a game because the players got rattled and tossed the ball here and there like school boys are we expected in reporting the same to our alumni to give some other reasons. If so, we will fall short of our expectations.

Even were we entirely wrong in saying what we did, still we hope that an occasional mistake will not be sufficient to counter balance all the merits of the paper.

In a close and errorless game the Freshman Yankees met defeat at the hands of Mifflinburg on Saturday 37 to 11. The score might have been smaller had not Mifflinburg scored twenty runs in one inning.

The Varsity takes a trip this week, playing Seton Hall College at South Orange on Tuesday and Fordham College at Fordham on Wednesday. Lebanon Valley College on the home grounds next Saturday.

In an exciting game the Scrubs defeated the Susquehanna Reserves on Saturday by a score of 9 to 5. Cheesman pitched a good game for the Scrubs, allowing but four hits and striking out seven men. Two base hits, Brockway, Caruthers and Cooper. Three base hit, McCain.

Shipp, the famous Bucknell tackle, further distinguished himself last week by administering a sound thrashing to two Steelton councilmen on a street car between Harrisburg and Steelton. The councilmen were returning home in high spirits and it is said used language not suiting the presence of ladies. Shipp remonstrated with them but to no effect and he moved to another seat. The councilmen followed him and one assaulted him whereupon Billy began to pass them from one end of the car to another. One took refuge under a seat but the other of larger build had to face the music. The councilmen did not know Shipp altho he is working in Steelton.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 15, 1905 No. 30

BUCKNELL WINS TWICE

Fordham Victory One of the Greatest in Years.

Bucknell was successful in winning two out of three games played last week. Seton Hall won out in the last inning thro clean hits and thro no fault in Bucknell's fielding. The Fordham game was a great one Every man contributed to the well earned victory. Lebanon Valley was entirely outclassed. Bucknell was especially strong at the bat getting long hits, including two home runs by Parsons and Leach. Following are the games in their order.

SETON HALL

First inning Smith hit safely and Cockill advanced him to second. Portser connected for a single scoring them both. Seton Hall scored a run in this inning on three errors and a sacrifice.

Neither side scored in the next three innings. The work of Heinze Leach and Parsons in the second, however, deserves special mention. Heinze retired first man on a brilliant stop and throw to Cockill of a hard hit grounder within a foot of second base. Leach gathered in a long drive between center and right. Parsons saved a hit by stopping a hard liner which made him cut rings in the air, throwing the runner out at first.

Fifth inning. Grimminger drove one to right which Meehan dropped. Cockill reached first, Parsons singled scoring Grimminger. Seton Hall also secured a run on a single and a lucky three bagger, the ball striking a stone and bounding high over Portser's head.

Sixth inning. Bucknell went out on three assists by Stafford. Seton Hall scored two runs on three hits and an error.

In the seventh and eighth Bucknell secured four more on a double by Smith and four errors. Burns for Seton Hall connected for a homer, making the score 7 to 5 in favor of Bucknell.

In the ninth inning Smith hit safety but was doubled on Cockill's hit to short. Parsons hit for two bags scored on Portser's single making Bucknell's total eight runs. It looked though the game was won. Parson's struck out the first up. But a lucky combination of a base on balls and hits netted them four runs making the score 9 - 8.

FORDHAM.

With Bucknell to bat Grimminger and Smith fouled out, Cockill got a pretty hit; Parsons hit one square on the nose and it looked good but Oliver pulled it in after a hard chase. Fordham went down on two assists to Cockill by Sheehan and a brilliant running catch by Fry.

In the second with one out, Sheehan drew four, but was doubled up on second by Raftis after a pretty catch of Leach's foul. For Fordham, Robertson reached first on an error; was caught napping by Leach, started for second and was thrown out by Cockill to Sheehan. Shean secured a hit but the next two went out on flies to Grimminger and Fry.

Bucknell went out in order in the third. Fordham secured two getting a man on second and on on third. Grim and Smith caught the man on third a little too far off retiring him. Heinze pulled in Raftis' liner and doubled the runner to Smith retiring the side. The work was fast and full of spirit. This was the only time a Fordham player reached third.

In the fourth Bucknell earned the only score of the game. Smith had his eye on the ball and dropped a pretty single to center, Cockill was out on a foul. Parsons hit safely advancing Smith to second. Portser hit a hard one to second getting safely to first but Shean retired Parsons at second. Smith moved to third. Sheehan got next for a pretty hit to right and Smith scored. Leach hit a foul fly to left which H. Hartman pulled in after a long run retiring the side. Fordham in her turn at the stick could not get them past the infield and were thrown out to Cockill by Smith, Sheehan and Leach.

Neither side reached first in the fifth. Fordham was retired by another fly to Fry, one to Parsons and an assist to Cockill by Smith.

Smith filed out to left in the sixth, Cockill again met the ball squarely for two bags this time but could not get any farther, the next two striking out. Oliver, the first up for Fordham, could hit nothing but air. McCarthy secured the last of their four scattered singles but died there. Capt. Cockill retiring the next two on a foul fly and an assist by Smith.

With one out in the seventh, Leach hit safely and took second on a passed ball. Fry hit to shortstop and Leach started for third. Fry was safe but Leach was caught between bases. Heinze connected but could not get it past Shean who retired Fry.

From the Fordham bleachers, the rooting had been consistent up to this time but now they seemed to realize that their chances of scoring were getting less every minute. The wild continuous whooping of the spectators almost drowned the yells of the Fordham college boys. Every one was on his feet to the end. When Tommy gave McLane the first man up a base on balls you could not hear yourself think. McLean stole second. Robertson struck out. Portser retired Shean on a pretty catch. The

DICKINSON WINS MEET

With Marsh not Running, Bucknell Looses in Close Contest.

The annual Dual meet between Dickinson and Bucknell, on Friday afternoon, was won by the former who scored 58 1-2 points to Bucknell's 45 1-2.

According to the agreement signed by the two colleges in 1900, only three men from each college were permitted to participate in any one event. Each side had twelve men in the whole contest. Each event counted eight points in the final score, five points for a first and three for a second place.

Nearly all the events were hotly contested making the meet the closest one that has been held on Bucknell's track for some years. Not until almost the end was either side a sure winner. Before the last two events were run Bucknell still had a chance to win, needing two firsts and a second, but failing to get first place in the 220 decided the meet for Dickinson. Bucknell took but four firsts in the quarter, high jump, shot put and hammer throw. Robinson was the star performer for Dickinson capturing three firsts. Lenhart, of Bucknell, won both weight contests, breaking the shot put record by eight inches. The former record, held by Gillis, was 39 feet 1 inch. Brown and Morls, of Dickinson, were in great form for the pole vault and both cleared the bar at 10 feet and 6 inches. Steinhilper, of Bucknell, came very nearly tieing them but failed by a hair's breadth.

The 100 and 220 were run almost alike, Robinson getting first and Irey a close second in each. Irey ran a good quarter and had no difficulty to win. The low hurdles required three preliminary heats before the final. Cockill displayed some genuine spirit. He left his seat on the hillside, donned a track suit and without any training ran a hard race, beating his man and securing a place in the final heat. Whitney made a garrison finish in 2 mile. Baer had been forced to drop out and Whitney, the spectators thought, was merely running for second place. On the last lap the Dickinson man had a start of seventy-five yards. The boys on the hillside gave Whitney a yell to keep up his spirits and to the surprise of every one he began to pick up on his man and sprinting on the home stretch, spurred on by frantic cheering, almost succeeded in overtaking the Dickinson man. Had he but started to pick up his man earlier the probability is that he would have won the race. However, no greater exhibition of grit has been displayed on the track for some time.

In the hammer throw Lenhart came within four inches of the record of 125 ft. 6 in.

Capt. Marsh is suffering from a strained ligament and was unable to run. Otherwise it is hardly probable that Bucknell would have lost.

Senior Class Meeting.

The Seniors held a class meeting this morning in Theta Alpha. It was decided to square the L'Agenda debt from class memorial funds. Class picture was discussed. Norman E. Henry was elected captain of the 1905 track team for the inter-class meet. Chairman of the invitation committee made a report and the meeting adjourned. Every member of the class who has not yet paid his memorial dues is urged to do so immediately. The committee wants the money.

SOPHOMORE HOP A SUCCESS

Sixty Couples Swarm to the Armory Friday Evening.

After many attempts at giving a Sophomore dance by classes of former years, 1907 at last succeeded and Friday night set a precedent that following classes must imitate or fall short of the name for "push" that the present Sophomore class now holds. The complete success of the dance certainly authorizes this as an annual event.

Some fifty or sixty couples were in line when the Imperial orchestra struck up a grand march and programs left the dealers hands in a hurry. The programs were very neat and in the class colors, red with blue lettering and blue pencils and cord. The list of twenty-four dances and four extras contained the cream of all that the Imperial orchestra has found took best with the dancers at former dances this season together with some equally good new ones. The orchestra showed its usual obliging spirit and never failed to respond to encores, often two and three times.

This time we will omit the usual fancy decoration and punch-bowl "spiel" since all are familiar with it by this time, but they were there and there good. Though the evening was a little warm the dancers minded it but little and the cooling air outside refreshed them as they promenaded between dances. Refreshments served during the intermission by members of the Freshman class consisted of sandwitches, olives, chicken salad and coffee. Cigars and cigarettes were accessible to the gentlemen. The orchestra played during part of intermission. When they took time out, in various quarters voices of both sexes blended in the popular airs. The Sophomores found opportunity to give their yell.

The committee and its chairman are to be congratulated for the way in which the dance was conducted and for putting it on a plane with the Junior.

The patronesses were:

Mrs. Robert F. Halfpenny, Mrs. William Leiser, Mrs. Harold M. McClure, Mrs. Andrew A. Leiser, Mrs. Thomas C. Thornton, Mrs. Joseph C. Neslit, Mrs. William A Forster and Mrs. Charles J. Wolfe.

Bucknell Team's Narrow Escape.

The train that was wrecked near Harrisburg last week which resulted so terribly, some twenty people being killed and a much larger number injured, was the train Bucknell's baseball team was to have taken on their way home from their eastern trip. By the greatest good fortune their connecting train at Philadelphia was a minute or two late and the official at the gate refused to allow the men to go thro but made them wait for the second section. Portser was already thro the gate but was called back.

The knowledge that our men were probably on the wrecked train caused a great deal of anxiety before it was found out the team had been on the following train. The appalling accounts of the accident augment the feeling of relief that our boys were so lucky.

Editorial

It has happened sometimes that different teams around the University, not Varsity teams, have been advertized simply as Bucknell teams and their scores have appeared in the newspapers without showing that they were not Varsity teams. When such a thing happened, as it did again in Sunday's Press, that was bad. In these cases mere carelessness on the part of our own or "foxiness" on the part of the foreign manager, was responsible for the sin.

Then you will remember that a basketball team composed of students, Varsity material among them, flourished for a time in the coal regions under cover of the name of Bucknell. When that happened that was worse. The proper authorities nipped that in the bud before much damage was done. Now we are coming to the worst and it is a very big worst.

If you had been in Watsontown one day not long ago you might have seen cars advertizing the "Bucknell Quartette" with which every one is familiar. (?) Whether you saw them or not it is true that a small crowd of students picked each other up and gave an entertainment (?) in Watsontown before some two hundred people palming themselves off as the genuine Bucknell article. The results have been disasterous. Prof. Aviragnet has already received two or three communications stating, "If that's the kind of musical talent you turn out at Bucknell I am considering sending my daughter elsewhere."

These students should be made to understand that the name of Bucknell is not to be pinned on to any old thing and that in using that name for a drawing card without consulting the musical authorities they are guilty of a wrong upon the College, not to mention the people of Watsontown who went to hear music. They said it hurt.

We hope we shall hear of no more such mistakes. If this sort of thing isn't given a good jolt at the start we shall have all kinds of menageries running around over the country most painfully advertizing Bucknell.

Last week in athletics was very encouraging. Winning two out of three baseball games and making the meet with Dickinson a close one with out the aid of Captain Marsh gives us about all that is coming to us. Every one knew the team could play ball and that they proved. The Fordham game gives us a greater boost than anything has for a long time. Fordham beat Yale, won from Amherst whom it took Princeton 18 innings to beat and also defeated State College by a big score. Leach has demonstrated his ability to pitch fine ball so that now we have the satisfaction of knowing that we have two A No. 1 men in the box, and can trust a game to either with equal hopes of winning.

Next Friday we play the Cuban Giants who can play with the best. They are always up to funny "stunts" so you can bet they will make the game an interesting one outside of the ball playing. No one will regret the money spent to see the game and it is to be hoped we will have a good crowd out for once this season. It isn't going to rain, according to the goose-bone prophet. The management was extremely discouraged by the small crowd at the Lebanon Valley game and really should not have lost money if students had supported as they ought. Now though the next game is not on saturday, make up your mind right now to go. Don't spend the quarter for strawberry short cake and soda but see that the Athletic Association gets it.

Bucknell Wins Twice.

third man was thrown out to Capt. Cockill by Smith leaving McLean on second. And still they yelled.

In the eighth Grim again was out on a foul fly, Smith hit safely but was doubled at second on Cockill's out.

H. Hartman drew a base on balls but was caught by Grimminger in a try for second. Heinze took the throw but was run into by Hartman, unintentionally spiked and laid out. However, he pluckily held onto the ball and shortly got back on his feet. Sheehan gathered in Oliver's short fly and Gargan stepped in front of a third strike and was out.

Bucknell in the ninth dropped in order, Parsons hitting to third, Portser to second and Sheehan to short. Capt. Cockill's men took the field for the last inning. The Fordhamites were hard losers; every one was working to win. Raftis drew a base on balls. The crowd went wild; but Leach and Cockill were too fast for him catching him playing off by two feet. Murray hit nothing but air and Grim had the ball. McLane hit to Smith but "Dip's" sore arm sent the ball wild and he was safe. Robertson hit to Leach who threw him out to Cockill and Bucknell had won.

A Stir in Tailor-Made Suits

Prices avergaing a third to a half the regular. This offer cannot fail to be magnetic. It is the best ever given inready-to-wear Suits. The time has come when the knife is put into them and many styles are just cut in half, others from 40 to 50 per cent. less. The tailoring and other details of the Suits cannot be fully described here, but any lady interested would do well to look them over, whether they buy or not. The materials and colorings conform to the latest fashion. The clearance on these Suits will be quickly effected, because the prices asked are about one-half of the regular prices. For instance, the 25.00 Suits will be 12.50. The 18.00 Suits 9.00 and so on. Every year just about this time we "round up" our stock of Tailor-made Suits and put prices on them to make them movequickly. They're even worth buying and storing away until fall, for then you will not be able to get them at any where near such low prices. No old-fashioned goods in the lot. You know our qualities, so come early and pick out the Suit you want and the price will be from 40 to 1000 per cent. less than formerly. To quote such prices as these for the beginningof May—well we never didit before and it will be a long time coming again. It would be different ifit was June.

Fine Silks, Laces and Trimming Braid

Another consignment of elegant Silk Shirtwaist Suit Patterns receiyed this week, which gives us the record of being thelargest Silk Store in town. Those beautiful 39c styles are giving good satisfaction and make a handsome suit. Many of the 69c styles are marked down to 50c this week, which makes them unusual bargains, as they have width as well as quality. Some of these exquisite 1.00 kinds are reduced to 75c and any lady interested should make an early choice while the selection is at its best.

But the 89c and 1.000 styles are simply elegant tho quality the very best and the finest colorings and designs. None like these ever shown before.

New patterns in fine Cream Laces for sleeve trimming, at 25, 35, 45, 50, 75c to 1.50 a yd. Insertions t omatch.

An extensive line of Cream and Black All-overs, beautiful patterns, from 35, 50 75c, 1.00, 1.50, 1.75 to 3.95.

Elegant Lace Collars, at 50, 75, 11.00, 1.25, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50 to 4.95.
Persian Bands from 25c to 1.25. Persian Appliques from 29c to 2.500.
Black Lace Insertions from 35 to 75c. Fancies from 5 to 15c.
Black Silk Appaligue from 15c to 3.50. White from 25c to 2.50.
White Linen Arabian Insertion for shirtwaists, 50 and 75c.

Women's Neckwear—Choice Bargains

You know the beauty and intrinsic worth of the beautiful Collar and Cuff sets, Fancy Turnovers, elegant stocks and fancy collars. Almost "bread and butter" staples in the realm of these Neck fineries. The Hemstitching and embroidery and fancy Chiffon and button trimming on many of them is hand work. They come in hundreds of different styles and shapes and can safely say we have about 100 different styles at 25c and equally as many at 50c. Cannot describe all the new trimming effects. You must see them to learn their elegance.

TWO MERITED VICTORIES

Bucknell Downs Cuban Giants and Bloomsburg with Ease.

The Varsity scored their third consecutive shut out, Friday afternoon, when they met and defeated the Cuba Giants by a score of 7 to 0.

The visitors are considered to be the champion colored team of the world. They have defeated Bucknell on every other occasion but on Friday they were simply outclassed and did not have a chance to win.

Both teams played gilt edge ball and sensational plays were common. Leach and Cockill distinguished themselves both in field and at bat. Parsons pitched a masterly game and held the heavy hitters down at all stages. The batting practice that the team indulges in every afternoon caused a great improvement in the batting Friday. Every man got one or more hits and only two struck out.

Sheehan led off with a two-bagger over the railroad and scored on Satterfield's error of Parson's infield hit. Leach hit for two bases and scored on Portser's drive to the same place. A run was scored in the sixth on two singles. Bucknell clinched the game in the eighth, after two men were out. Grimminger, Fry, Heinze and Sheehan singled in succession scoring two runs. The best the visitors could do, was to get one man to second base on a hit by the pitcher followed by a sacrifice.

BLOOMSBURG.

It was cold and a strong wind was blowing across the field. Bucknell took the field. Neither side scored in the first. Weimer was out on a pretty assist to Capt. Cockill by Smith, Leach a little wild, giving two men bases on balls. Titman struck out, Brooke hit to Smith but the ball got away and he was safe, filling the bases. Heinze made a nice stop of Seal's grounder retiring the side to Cockill. Bucknell's first two up struck out. Cockill drove a pretty one to left for two bags but the side was retired on a strike out.

In the second Bloom was retired on two assists by Leach and one by Sheehan to Cockill. Bucknell scored their first runs in this inning. Leach walked. Portser was hit by the pitcher Grimminger reached first on a hit to Titman who retired Portser to Stone, Leach reaching third. Grimminger stole second. Fry popped a fly to Long. With two out, Heinze hit a pretty single to left scoring Leach and Grimmminger. The ball was fumbled by Seal and Heinze took third Brooke retired the side on Sheehan's fly to right.

With two out in the third, Schmaltz hit for three bags to left and Titman followed with one to right scoring Schmaltz. Brooke struck out. Bucknell scored one in third. Smith hit safely. Cockill hit to short who threw the ball wild to first scoring Smith. Cockill reaching third. Parsons struck out. Leach went out to right. Portser struck out.

The fourth inning netted Bloomsburg their second and last run. Seal hit to Smith who threw him out to first. Stone drew a base and stole second. Durlin struck out. Long hit safely scoring Stone. Weimer went down on an assist by Smith to Cockill. Bucknell could not score. With one out Fry was hit on the arm. Heinze hit to pitcher who threw Fry out at second. Weimer got under Sheehan's fly to center retiring the side. Score 3 to 2.

With Bucknell at bat in the fifth sixth and seventh there were plenty of hits but no one could reach the plate. Smith and Cockill both hit safely in the fifth. In the sixth Grimminger secured a pretty single. Fry followed suit and Heinze rolled a pretty sacrifice along the line sending Grimminger to third. He tried to score on Sheehan's grounder to Aldinger but was thrown out at the plate. In the seventh Cockill opened with a double but could get no farther Bloomsburg reached first only once in fifth, sixth, seventh. Dropping in the fifth on assists by Leach, Sheehan and Heinze; sixth on assists by Leach and Sheehan to Cockill and a strike out. In the seventh, Durlin hit to Sheehan who threw him out to Cockill. Long drew a base on balls, was caught too far off first by Leach to Cockill and thrown out by the latter to Heinze at second. Weimer popped a fly to Leach.

Bucknell assured a victory in the eighth by pounding out three runs, Grimminger opened with a two base hit over center field. Fry was hit on the head and laid out for a minute but soon got back on his feet. Heinze again rolled a pretty bunt along third base line which Long fumbled; filling the bases. Sheehan hit a grounder to Titman who threw him out at first, Grimminger crossing the plate. Parson's running for Fry taking too much lead off third and was caught. Smith stepped up with Heinze on second and drove out his third hit between center and right for three bases scoring Heinze. Capt. Cockill came up for his fifth time to bat and made his fourth hit scoring Smith. For Bloommsburg's eighth Aldinger drew a base on balls, Schmaltz hit to Smith who retired Aldinger at second to Sheehan. Schmaltz attempted to steal but was caught by Grimminger to Sheehan. Heinze handled Titman's grounder in clever style throwing him out to Cockill. In the ninth Brooke struck out. Seal hit to Leach and was out to Cockill. Stone hit safely to right. Smith ended game by throwing Stone out to Sheehan on Durlin's grounder.

The features of the game were the batting of Cockill and Smith, the work of the Bucknell infield and of ADDRESS TO Y. M. C. A.

By Professor Elkanah Hulley, of Keystone Academy.

The annual address to the Y. M. C. A. was delivered in the Baptist church Sunday morning by Prof. Elkanah Hulley of Keystone Academy.

His subject was the supreme commandment of Jesus.—"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy mind, with all thy soul and with all thy strength." Drawing a parallel from the words of Archimides, who after discovering the principle of the lever said, "if I but had a standing place I could move the world, "he applied the principle to the desire of men today to move the world and said that he who would move the world must find a standing place. The solution is Jesus with God as the fulcrum and divine love as the lever.

Love to God and love to man are supreme, fundamental and indispensable. All law, government, social life and institutions must rest upon this principle. He who moves the world must use this principle in applying himself to the mighty enterprise.

Love emmbraces the idea of service. It is hard to distinguish just where the heart leaves off and the mind begins and where the soul fits in Every part of man must be brought into service and laid under heavy tribute to God. The service of the heart is the starting point of a complete, correct and intelligent service. THE HEART CONTROLLS, IS THE PIVOTAL POINT OF ALL SERVICE AND THE MAINSPRING OF ALL ACTION. No man can serve God acceptably until he has made a complete surrender of the heart.

Next is the service of the mind which demands both the development of the intellect to the highest degree of excellence and a like development of special endowments. A GREAT DEAL OF INJURY IN THE WORLD HAS BEEN DONE BY IGNORANT GOOD MEN. GOD AND MANKIND DEMAND OUR BEST. When the mind is trained it must be consecrated to the service of God. Schools are full of students who use their mental powers for very little good for Him who gave them. THEY APPROPRIATE FOR THEIR OWN USE THAT WHICH WAS GIVEN IN TRUST.

The soul service refers to the life principle,—to animation, vitality and energy. There can be zeal without knowledge and knowledge without zeal. God expects a warm, enthusiastic service and not a cold intellectual one.

By strength is meant the physical powers. Some cannot endure long physical service and we say sometimes they cannot help it, but eight out of ten can help it if they would. THERE SHOULD BE A TRAINING TABLE FOR CHRISTIANS AS WELL AS FOR ATHLETES.

The connection was drawn between the supreme command of Christ and the task of moving the world. When any mass is shifted the moving spirit must stand clear of the mass. No man can stand on a mass of matter and by his lever move it. A man to move the world for God must stand clear of all worldly entanglements and be guided by the principle of Him who gave the world its first impulse toward God. HE WHO PLAYS THE POLICY MAN WILL MEASURE HIS EXACT FAILURE BY THOSE MEANS IN THE SIGHT OF GOD. Many men who do a small act of charity and many of those who perform the same on a grand scale think they are moving the world for God but "I fear that when they appear at judgement they will hear the sentence, "Depart from me, ye have worked iniquity, I never knew ye."

The sermon closed with several incidents from the lives of men and women as illustrative of what the Lord expects in a service that will move the world in the right direction.

Senior Souvenir Program.

The Senior souvenir programs will be ready for delivery about June 3rd. They will be bound in white kid leather, with lettering and university seal in gold stamped upon the cover with wax edge effect and will contain fourteen pages of cuts and printed matter. The program this year will contain in all nine cuts,—four more than last year. Besides campus views and half tones reproduced from photographs of scenic beauty about Lewisburg, the program will contain the authorized program for commencement week and will form a beautiful souvenir for friends who cannot attend commencement.

While the programs this year have involved greater expense than previous years, the price will remain the same,—twenty-five cents, provided the order for the same is placed with the committee at once. Only a limited number will be ordered; all programs will be sold for thirty cents a piece commencement week. Hand name and number desired to any of the following: N. E. Henry, A. M. Weaver, W. S. Gilmore, J. S. Ausherman, Misses Burgart and Johnson.

Elocutionary Recital.

Before a large audience of invited guests this year's class gave a Finishing Recital in Elocution in the Seminary Chapel on Saturday evening. The graduates, Misses Lucy Wolfe and Irene Barton, each rendered two selection, evincing remarkable control of voice and gesture. The numbers were serious in tone and called for a thorough knowledge of the art. The closing selection was a costume pantomine in which Miss Finley assisted the graduates. The lines were read by Miss Edith Schillinger, accompanied on the piano by Miss Aiken.

After the recital an informal reception was held in the parlors and each of the girls was heartily congratulated upon her work.

The program:

Rhyme of Duchess May--Lucy Wolfe
The Spanish Gypsey—Irene Barton.
Jack, the Fisherman—Lucy Wolfe.
Perdita—Irene Barton.
The Lotus-Eaters—Misses Barton, Wolfe and Finley.

Philadelphia Alumnae Meets.

The Bucknell Alumnae Club of Philadelphia held its annual meeting on Thursday, May 18th, at Mt. Holly, New Jersey, where it was entertained by Mrs. Sutter and Mrs. Howells. The chairman of the scholarship committee reported that the scholarship given by the alumnae club had been awarded to a pupil from Girls' High School of Philadelphia.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Leedham; vice presidents, Mrs. O'Harra; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lynch; treasurer, Mrs. Cobb.

JUNIOR EXHIBITION

Ten Members of 1906 Score Many Points in Oratory.

The annual Junior Exhibition of Oratory given in Bucknell Hall on Friday evening was a glowing success, both for the students who participated and for those who trained them. The results shown, fully justified the careful toil and patience that were bestowed upon the productions for several weeks previous to the event. Scholarly thought and masterly delivery were the keynote of the performance.

Shortly after eight o'clock the speakers, ten in number, ushered by several sophomores, advanced to the front of the hall to the accompaniment of a pretty march. The platform, which was but plainly decorated, was attractively set off by several large bunches of carnations carried by the ladies, who sat to the left. After the cessation of the music, the speakers stepped to the front of the platform in rapid succession, interrupted only by several very pleasing musical selections, which were well received by those present.

The hall was crowded with an appreciative as well as critical audience whom the speakers faced with the utmost ease and self-possession. Deliberation in speech and earnestness in manner characterized the speakers throughout. The words, which were clearly audible at the rear of the room, were accompanied in every instance by graceful gestures. Especially striking were the climactic conclusions.

Much credit is due the instructor who had the training of the students in charge, as the splendid results of this training were manifested by all the speakers in their calm bearing, graceful gestures, clear enunciation, and impressive climaxes.

Pi Beta Phi Picnic.

On Saturday, the active chapter of Pi Beta Phi, its guest, Miss Jackson, and six of its alumnae enjoyed the annual Blue Hill picnic. The ride was unusually pretty owing to the clear atmosphere of Saturday, and seemed only too short for the jolly crowd. After a day filled with pleasure, it was with regret that the girls turned homeward, just in time to catch last glimpses of the sun set on the river.

Editorial

Leaving out of consideration the orations of Commencement speakers, the Junior Exhibition was the last of these public contests from which we can gather what progress is being made in that line of work. The interest taken in all these contests this year is sufficient evidence that something is being made out of these courses in oratory, which in latter years have been so lamentably weak. Every thing could not be accomplished in one year but another year ought to do wonders. Some of the greatest chances for improvement are shown in a criticism of the Junior Exhibition.

The principle faults were caused by lack of training in former years. Sufficient attention has not been given to the composition of orations, with a result that essays were delivered instead of orations. Courses in narration and exposition have been given but no course which teaches how to write an oration has been available. We understand that such a course will be given next year which, if its object is attained, will do much to elevate the standard of oratory.

Some criticism was made one day last week in the class in Journalism upon the use of some college expressions, generally placed in the catalogue of slang, noticed in the editorial columns of the "Orange and Blue." On the whole there is justice in such a criticism and from a literary point of view it would be much better if such expressions were entirely excluded from the paper. There are some expressions however which reach the point better, in the eyes of students, when clothed in that garb than in any other. They seem to have a meaning which is hard to substitute by any other combination of words. Our exchanges likewise appreciate that fact and none of them keep their editorials entirely free from college slang. Even the daily newspapers, especially those which are most popular with the general public, are guilty of the same literary offence; so that the blame may be, for a great part, placed to the demands of the readers and not to the desires of the writers.

'Tis sad but true that once more we are compelled to use this column to censure some who, enveloped in an atmosphere of self interest, have blindly cast aside the love they have for Bucknell and should now be in an attitude of humble apology. The fact that this paper circulates outside of Lewisburg forbids us to be as specific as we should like to be; but we think that all, whom we wish to understand us, will, when we say that we are very sorry some of the upper classmen so far forgot their class loyalty as to identify themselves with the under classmen on Saturday. Ye certainly are not lovers of truth and honesty who can do that sort of thing. It is neither fair to Bucknell norto any other party concerned and some one would have ample justification to feel that we are not on the side of pure and untainted sport. We have inquired sufficiently among the students to find that they do not uphold in any way such acts and, correspondingly as those who were guilty of the same have fallen in the estimation of the general student body, so has one man who had the interest of the college so much at heart that he refused to be an accessory, risen.

Our hats are off to Steinhilper.

By calling attention to the merits of the small college Andrew Carnegie has done his fellow-citizens an even greater service than starting a program of small college endowments. The small colleges do need money—not too much money, or they will become tainted with the diseases that threaten the usefulness of the big institutions. But, more than money, they need the support of the great mass of well-to-do Americans whose sons and daughters have the future of the nation.

A college education is in itself a dangerous enough temptation to the average youth, with all youth's tendency to exaggerate the importance of things academic and to disparage the importance of things practical. If, while getting the education, the youth gets also social snobbishness, he or she goes forth the worse for college and a force for evil. And it is in some of our big colleges, especially in the East, that the spirit of social and educational snobbishness has become so strong as to make sensible parents hesitate to send their sons to school there.

The public school and the small college are together undoubtedly the best educators today. The public school boy or girl who graduates from the small college has the best chance.

Grand Display of New Parasols.

The season for Ladies' and Children's parasols is now at its height and our showing in this line is simply immense. The larger cities are all talking Parasols and predict this a great Parasol season. The most correct styles in handles and materials find their expression in the elegant creations assembled here.

It would be well for any intending purchaser to see our present stock in its present grand completeness.

Black, Tan, and White kinds, with two or three fine Chiffon ruffles, for 2.50 and 3.50.

White Silk, with three large hemstitched Chiffon ruffles and three tucks, for 5.00.

White Silk, with four large Chiffon ruffles, at 3.95. Pongee Silk, lined with green, very nobby, at 3.50. Plain brown, white, garnet, green, blue, and gray, with hemstitched border, for 2.50. Cheaper ones for 1.50 and 1.25.

Plain colored Silk parasols with wide different colored hemstitched borders for 1.75 and 2.00.

Fine Shepherd's checks in brown and white, black and white and blue and white for 2.00, very stylish and new.

White Silk ,with beautiful Persian borders, for 1.95 and 2.25.
Persian Silk, with White hemstitched borders, for 1.50.

An elegant line of plain colors in silk with hemstitched borders in the cheapest grades at 75, 1.00, and 1.25. Mercerized at 65c.

We have not forgotten the children and littel tots and bought a fine assortment of styles and colors in light blue, red and white silk, some fancy figured, some hemstitched, others with fancy pinked borders and silk briar stitching, at 75, 1.00, 1.25, and 1.50. Cheaper ones, with two and three ruffles, for 25 and 50c.

Our Parasols have the latest handles and best frames.

The "May" Under Muslin Sale.

It starts this week, and will be without doubt the greatest Muslin Underwear sale we have ever held.

Our garments are perfect in shape, generous in proportion and made of the best material and trimmings. "Wonderfully cheap" is the expression on all sides. Some of them are just pictures of lace and fluffiness. The largest stock received this week in the history of the store, and such an assortment of styles was never shown before.

Your grandmother would have looked with scorn on a woman who did not make her owner her children's underwear, but if your grandmother could only see the heaps and heaps of white beauties on our counters she would throw her needles and thread out of the window and forever forswear the making of under mus-lin.

The daintiest underwear at "lowest prices" says I tall.

BUCKNELL WINS AND LOSES

Team Gets Poor Reception at Dickinson.

Bucknell lost to Gettysburg on Friday mainly through inability to hit Kauffman. A drizzling rain continued throughout the whole afternoon making the ball hard to handle.

Bucknell started the game with singles by Smith and Cockill, Smith attempting to take third ran over the bag and was caught. Parsons doubled scoring Cockill.

A second run was made in the fourth. Co ckill walked, was advanced to third on Leach's single and scored on the catcher's poor throw to catch Leach stealing second. In the sixth Bucknell's last run was scored when Parsons hit a hard line drive to right which bounced over the fence good for a homer.

Gettysburg secured one run in the fifth and two in the sixth

The trouble began in the seventh. The balls were wet and leaden. Lantz fired out to seventh. Thomas hit to left and attempted to take second. Portser threw true to Sheehan and the runner was out by a yard,—But the umpire was looking somewhere else and had to decide the point somehow. The man was safe. Poffenberger hit an easy grounder to Sheehan but it passed on giving him third and scoring Thomas. Parsons couldn't handle the wet ball and two walked filling the bases. Leach was called in to relieve him. The first pitch went wild and Poffenberger scored. The next two however he struck out retiring the side. The side was retired in the last on a strike out, a fair and a foul fly to Grimminger.

The score.

DICKINSON.

On Saturday at Carlisle Bucknell met and defeated Dickinson college and their umpire. The attitude of the team and rooters was not worthy of a prep. school. It was nothing but attempted robbery from beginning to end especially the latter half. The honor of college men in baseball seemed to have been entirely forgotten by the Dickinson players. Ill ten by the Dickinson players. It was a disgrace to college athletics to allow such an incompetent umpire to officiate, and especially to insist on his retention after decisions which were plainly evident to everyone to have been positively "rotten." Space, and the fact that the word "umpire" would have to be used in every other line will not permit us to give a detailed account of the game. It was a batting matinee off Spencer and earned runs for Bucknell and a clean gift of most all Dickinson scored.

Bucknell scored her first run in the third on a hit by Smith and two errors. Two more crossed the plate in the fifth on a base on balls to Leach and doubles by Portser and Grimminger.

Dickinson secured four unearned runs in the fifth on a base on balls, a sacrifice, an error and a two bagger scoring one run. Wolf hit to Cockill who attempted to catch the man at home. Had the previous play been perfect, the side could have been retired at first by Cockill. Davis hit for three bags scoring three more. Next two struck out.

In the fifth with two out, Daniels drew a base and stole second. On an attempt for third, Grimminger threw to Smith who was receiving the throw when Daniels pushed him out of the way with his hands and went home. Umpire allowed the score. Bucknell stopped play, but could gain no concession the umpire granting the runner did it but "didn't mean to." Dickinson would not allow another umpire. Bucknell again took the field and side retired on a strike out.

Two more were secured by Bucknell in the sixth on a single by Heinze a three baggerby Smith and Capt. Cockill's single. With two out in the seventh Grimminger walked. Fry singled, Heinze made his third hit outn gled, Heinze made his third hit out of four times up for two bases. Sheehan followed with a three bagger, netting three runs. In the eighth. Cockill singled and stole second. Parsons was out on a fly to left and Cock ill advanced to third. Leach hit safely and stole second, scoring Cockill and came home on Portser's infield hit on which he was called out at first. In the ninth Fry secured his third hit out of four times up and stole second and scored on Sheehan's single.

Up to the ninth, Dickinson had secured but three hits off Leach's delivery. Spencer was now presented by the umpire with three bases for hitting a foul to right. Wolf hit safely. Davis was presented with four miscalled balls and Lininger was getting the same thing. Capt. Cockill thinking a change would benefit the umpire put in Parsons but it didn't matter; two more walked. Then he went in himself and tossed them over to make them hit. Two hit to infield. One walked, one was hit by an easy one. Score five. Spencer and Wolf got anxious and struck out ending the game.

JUNIORS ELECT PRESIDENT

LeRoy W. Hoon the Choice of 1906 For Senior President.

At a class meeting of the Junior class, last Thursday Leroy W. Hoon, Monongahela, Pa., was elected Senior class president for 1906. To this office attaches the greatest honor which Bucknell men can confer upon one of their number andalways speaks for the popularity of its recipient and testifies to the esteem in which he is held. The president elect preparet at Monongahela High School and since entering Bucknell has always been active in every phase of college life. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and of the Phi Delta Sigma upper class fraternity; also of the Theta Delta Tau and Alpha Kappa Alpha. He is a member of the Physical and Chemical society and has been identified with the Minstrel and other musical organizations. His ability as a cornetist is widely known. For the last two years he has played on his class football team and will be a candidate for the Varsity next year. Pursuing the Scientific course, he aims ultimately to take up magazine illustrating. This year's L'Agenda is indebted to him for a large share of its illustrations and for its cover design.

The "Orange and Blue" congratulates him for the honor of which he is most deserving.

To the Editor of "Orange and Blue."

Your Orange and Blue of the 15th inst. contained an article of uncalled for ridicule and shameful abuse of a number of your honorable and faithful students, who so charitably came to Watsontown to give an entertainment in order to help a poor and struggling church along.

All this shameful abuse was heaped upon them by a class, evidently, who style themselves the "genuine article," simply because the committee of our church who had the advertising matter to handle, had by an oversight printed on the bills an entertainment given by the "students of Bucknell" for which act the students who gave the entertainment are not at fault in the least, but as soon as they saw the form of the bills they sent in protests demanding that portion of the bills removed, however the protests came too late as the bills had already been distributed.

All the aforesaid slander of your faithful students could have been avoided had that offensive class of students used some manly judgment and investigated first, then placed the blame where it belonged.

Furthermore your editorial mentions several letters being received by the college from certain persons of this town reflecting upon the ability of the institution. We believe in our candid minds were these letters investigated, it would be found that they were written by some unprincipled persons, who perhaps were influenced to such a low act by some of your offensive students, and perhaps never were present at the entertainment. If the editor or those in possession will kindly furnish us with the names of letters if they have any we will be better able to tell.

But on the other hand, we can all commendingly say to your noble institution, the students who gave the entertainment came here neither placarding themselves as the "genuine article" nor representing swelled heads, but only "amateurs," all performing their parts well before an audience of between two and three hundred, all feeling satisfied and well compensated for their attendance. And since, we have been requested to have them give another entertainment. Now for the sake of the truth, the institution, and fellow students, kindly make this statement of facts as prominent as you did that which was evidently based upon a misrepresentation.

Yours truly,
E. MORITZ,
Chairman of Committee.

Addition to Library.

On Tuesday last the library received for the Hon. Rufus K. Polk collection, from Mrs. Rufus K. Polk, of Danville, Pa., 172 volumes of Government Documents bound in half morocco. These include the reports of the second session of the 56th Congress. This makes the third installment received for this collection, numbering now about 800. These books are very valuable as references in political science courses. Mrs. Polk is a relative of Mrs. Riemer, wife of Prof. Riemer, and has shown very great interest in Bucknell. She is now in Germany.

This year's annual will be here and on sale next week, the best book ever issued at Bucknell. See that you have your money ready when the manager calls. $1.50.

Editorial

During the last week it was announced in several of the classes that the Senior examination will be held on June 7th. With this perfunctory performance, so to speak, the routine college work of the present Senior class will end. In this way the College faculty bids farewell to the class of 1905; in a substantial way, too, for after that eventful June 7th, Senior class attendance will be scant, and the pensive campus will be seen dotted with groups made happy by the pleasant retrospect of their college days, teeming with life-like incident and startled by the prospect of their oncoming, uncertain future. The faculty does well to thus say goodbye. But what about the student body? Those of us here who have experienced the pleasant last days of an out going class, must confess, that so far as the student body is concerned, there has been no collective expression of a last good-bye. We would not advocate the erection of a monument to the memory of 1905 (however much she may deserve it,) but we do believe that if we should get together some morning at 8:15, even if we had to cut a class, and in the form of college and class yells, give vent to three or four good rousing God-speeds, the Senior's heart would dilate with kindly appreciation, and would long remember this sincere adieu. '06

To those who are interested in college athletics it will be well worth while to read the first article in the June number of McClure's magazine, by Henry Beach Needham. He explains the methods employed by the larger universities to secure winning teams and though we are all aware of the truth that commercialism exists to a greater or lesser extent in these institutions yet when we see in black and white how far the evil has been carried we blush for the good name of college athletics. Concrete examples from Yale, Princeton and Penn are given in detail to show how under the cover of "inducements" men are bought with cold cash to represent these colleges; men who without any resourses are enabled to live in greatest luxury. Instances are offered to show how elegibility rules are avoided and how incompetent men are passed through their entrance examinations solely by avoirdupois. These universities whose corrupt practices have been so openly set forth are silent now; there is nothing to be said. No one of them has to share their shame alone from which they can draw some consolation. Bucknell has all the more reason to be proud that no such charge of commercialism can be brought against her this year.

From the account of the Dickinson game it appears that Bucknell did not receive the best of treatment at the hands of their opponents. We won any way so as far as that goes the efforts of the umpire to appropriate the game were unsuccessful. We are sorry. We thought Dickinson liked us. We do not believe Bucknell would have treated anybody so badly. It hardly sounds like courtesy to refuse a change of umpires upon a reasonable request, but instead to compel acquiescence by refusing the guaranty. Well, we say again we are sorry. We were taken by surprise.

Although the sentiment of the critical editorial of the previous issue in regard to loyalty and untainted sport is worthy of commendation, and without denying the mistakes of the engagement, it is but fair to state that Wyoming Seminary asked for a meet with Freshmen, Scrubs or even with some varsity men—in fact anything they could get. Their coach was informed of the promiscuous bunch and filed no objections and with the above understanding the aggregation was formed. '05.

We have printed the letter received last week from Watsontown in another column realizing that there are always two sides to a question. Take the letter for what it is worth and if you believe we were unjust in our criticism do not attribute it to any desire on our part to "knock" on any particular class of students. Of such we have been charged. We wish to be fair to all. It is not our place to b partisan.

BUCKNELL SONG.
Tune "Good bye My Blue Bell"
R. J. HOIMES, '92.

Out of the past's gray shadow
Marcheth a silent host,
Noiselessly moving onward
Then it is once more lost;
Hark to the Spirit Echo
Those phantom voices fling,
Bucknell thy sons are calling,
Thy praises still they sing.
Chorus:
Hail all Hail Bucknell Orange and Blue
Out rolls the chorus from brave hearts and true
Thy friends we welcome thy foes we'll quell
And with the last breath cheer for thee Bucknell.

Once more a host is marching
Firm in its onward tread,
Bucknell the living present
Joins with the living dead;
From mountain dale and prairie,
From lifes unnumbered ways,
Turnrth thy faithful children
Hither to sing thy praise.
Chorus:

Yonder the dim lit future—
What of the years to be?
Say will those coming legions
Bucknell be true to thee?
Hark to the joyous murmer
Swelling from time's new morn,
Ever the same fond answer
From gath'ring ages borne.
Chorus:

Sues For His Salary.

Ralph O. Hall, of Sunbury, Pa., several days ago entered suit against Eugene Craver, professor of Greek and Latin in Dickinson College, who was manager of the baseball team last year, to recover $217 for salary due Hall as pitcher.

Hall, at a hearing Saturday ,stated that Craver, under a contract, was to pay his board and college expenses for his services to the team, which he failed to do.

After hearing considerable evidence the Justice reserved his decision until Wednesday.

This case is similar in many ways to the instances cited by Henry Beach Needham in the June number of McClure's Magazine in his article on "Professionalism Among College Athletes."

Senior Class Memorial.

The brownstone material for the Senior Class Memorial has arrived and is now on the campns. Work will be begun at once and the erection of the memorial will be pushed as speedily as possible. The response to the assessment on the part of the class has been exceedingly gratifying to the Memorial Finance Committee. The payment of dues by those who are still in arrears will be much appreciated. We want all the money by June 1. VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 5, 1905 No. 33

TWO GOOD GAMES

Varsity Loses to Wilmington, Gets Revenge on Gettysburg.

The Varsity journeyed to Wilmington on Decoration Day and came near taking a fall out of the Tri State aspirants of that place.

The game was one of the best of the season and really should have gone to Bucknell.

Parsons was on the rubber and not only pitched good ball but got two of the three hits secured by his side.

Two games were to have been played but the afternoon game was called off on account of rain.

Meyers who pitched for Wilmington gave only three hits, two more than were secured by Coatsville last Friday, off his delivery.

Bucknell scored her only run in the first luning. Sheehan led off with a single, stole second and scored on Parson's single. After that only five men got to first base.

Neither of Wilmington's runs were earned. In the seventh, an error, a sacrifice hit and a single tied the score and in the ninth after two were down an error and two singles scored the winning run.

GETTYSBURG

The Varsity got revenge for the defeat at Gettysburg by turning the tables on Saturday and winning by a score of 6 to 3.

Kauffman who let Bucknell down with five hits at Gettysburg was soundly trounced. Nine hits were made off his delivery.

The visitors were a strong aggregation and the victory reflects credit to Bucknell.

The contest was a hard hitting one throughout and many drives which ordinarily would have gone for safe hits were captured by the finest kind of fielding.

Leach pitched another of his good games and was ably supported.

The work of Smith at third base was a revelation to those who had never seen him in that position. Cockill a first had fourteen put outs with out a trip up.

Kauffman fielded his position in fine style, having 7 assists on hard hit balls.

Van Zant at first for the visitors also had a remarkable record of 18 put outs.

Bucknell started the scoring in their half of the first. Cockill drove a single past second and scored on a terrific home run drive by Parsons. Another run was tallied in the third, on an error, a stolen base and a wild pitch and again in the 4th a single and a two base hit scored a run.

The visitors got in a run on a homer which lit among the crowd in center field. They came near tying the scoreint ch 6th. Sieber reached first for the third time, a sacrifice put him on 2nd, and a muffed fly put a man on 2nd and one on third. Both men scored on an error but the next man struck out.

Bucknell added two in the 7th on two singles and a three bagger.

Near to Drowning.

On Decoration day about ten o'clock in the morning four students, Smiley, Bliss, Andrews and Bolton were overturned in a canoe and one of them, Andrews, narrowly escaped drowning. Paddling too near the dam the current caught them and drew them rapidly, broadside towards the whirlpool waters below the dam. Just as they reached the edge of the dam Smiley jumped, overturning the canoe with the other three. Bliss and Smiley being good swimmers immediately struck out for shore calling for help as they swam. Bolton kept his head and grasping the canoe as it went over the dam pushed it to where Andrews, who was doing his best to keep up, could seize it. Though no tragedy resulted from the accident yet the boys received a good scare and, this making the second of such experiences, will probably cause the dam in that vicinity to be given a wide berth. The danger is not great for good swimmers but exceedingly so for those who are not.

Married.

On Thursday, June 15th, Christine Grace Robertson to Alfred Hayes, Junior, '95, at Kalamazoo, Michigan.

On May 27th, Louise Warriner to Dr. Samuel Calvin Smith, '01, at Montrose, Pa. At home after July 1st, 904 Pine Street, Philadelphia.

L'AGENDA OUT

Copies Can Be Secured Thursday at Registrar's Office.

The 1906 L'Agenda will be on sale at the Registrar's office on Thursday. A proof copy of the same has been examined and the "Orange and Blue" can give it a recommendation of the best. It is without a doubt a fine book and should become a part of the personal property of every student at Bucknell. The value of a college annual will increase more and more as the years go by and will be the best instrument to revive the happy memories of one's college days. The faces of associates of student days together with a cronicle of the incidents occurring in connection with them will furnish food for many happy recollections in after years; and then will one realize, superlatively, that his investment has realized a gain with interest a hundred fold.

The book this year stands for a fourth of your course; don't make the mistake of forgetting to buy one. It is worth the price. Bound in buckram of the very best quality it will stand years of handling without showing it in the least. The cover design (a feature which no other of our annuals has possessed) is in mosaic style and the work of Leroy Hoon, '06. On the surface the book presents a neat and substantial appearance. Within the cover are the real merits of the book which in truth are many. All told there are 295 pages less than 30 of which are advertisements. 40 pages are devoted ta literary work, the bulk of which is in humorous vein. There is no padding whatever but every page is representative of things as they are. Care has been taken to avoid blank spaces with good success and the pages contain all that they will conveniently hold.

From a printers point of view the work of the publishers has been thorough. Every cut shows up strongly, the pages are well balanced and the register perfect. Brass ruling throughout at the top of the page and neat tail pieces add much to the solid appearance.

There are 165 half tones and twenty-one zinc etchings. The illustrations are by H. J. Lose, Leroy W. Hoon and E. A. Beaver and are of an order superior to that of most college annuals. The half tone frontispiece by Lose will bear the gaze of a critic and the same can be said of many of those of the others. Half tone cuts of several distinguished alumni make the book valuable to graduates.

Much of that which has appeared in former L'Agendas of a superfluous nature has been discarded and many new features have taken their place. One good feature will be noticed in that the fraternity cuts are directly opposite to the members names. Another feature of special interest to the Seniors is a record of their achievements up to date.

The whole book has been carried very nearly up to the present which makes it all the more desirable now. We feel sure you will agree from the way the book is put together that the efforts of the Editor-in-chief to give you the best have been successful and that your reception of the same will in a measure recompense him for his time and earnest work.

Within fifty of the number to be published have been ordered so be on hand early if you have not yet ordered one. A dollar and a half looks little beside the book.

"The Verdant Freshmen."

Rehersal work on the Senior class play is progressing with renewed interest. The members of the cast have been working diligently for the past three weeks and the parts are now committed. The production is a bright and clean little sketch free from all objectionable features and is amusing from the start to the fall of the curtain.

Since starting rehersals the lines have been changed and one of the parts rewritten and merged into another character. The cast is composed of R. L. Belford, R. D. Royer, Demos Siebert, D. R. McCain, J. B. Smiley, E. A. Morton, Misses Ferne Braddock and Edith Kelly and 'Fritz."

As usual the place of performance will be the Opera House and curtains will raise at 8:15 in the morning. The price of admission has not as yet been fixed but in all probability will be the same as last year. Tickets will be on sale at Baker's Dispensary on the previous Saturday.

Games This Week.

The Varsity plays two good games this week, both away from home. On Wednesday Bucknell has another chance at Princeton. This game, probably more than any other, we are in hopes of winning and think we have a good show to do so. We have never been successful in defeating Princeton in any thing altho we came within a hair of doing so in Basket ball three years ago. Princeton's team this year is weaker than it has been for some years and now is our opportunity to earn a bonfire. State succeeded in beating her which makes us all the more anxious to do the same. Villannova has beaten us once this year and of course we want to get back at them, so that in both these games we have a lot at stake. The hopes of every student are with the team.

Many Honors.

Last Friday Jefferson College conferred the degree of Doctor of Medicine upon Samuel Calvin Smith, 1901. He was awarded the prize for best essay on a subject pertaining to the practice of medicine, honorable mention in a contest for the prize in pediatrics, prize for the best examination in genito-urinary surgery, and a prize for the best essay on a subject pertaining to laryngology and rhinology. He was also placed on the list as resident physician to the hospital. This is a great record.

SENIOR CELEBRATION

Thursday 1905 Will Frolic and Frisk in Merry Mood.

On Thursday morning all Seniors will assemble at Chapel before eight o'clock. After services the class will form on both sides of the walk leading up the Hill, young ladies on one side and young men on the other, allowing the other classes to pass in review. If feeling for it, as it is entirely probable the Senior men will procede to scrap both under classes and any one else who happens to be in the near distance except, of course, the feminine sex. After having worked off a little energy in this way, perhaps before, they will procede to their tomb stones where appropriate addresses will be delivered by the famous orators of 1905:—Demosthenes Seibert, Baron Lesher, William Jennings Bostwick, Jeremiah Ezediel Ammerman and Earl Stoltz Morton. The capstones will then be removed from the right hand monument and fitting emblems of the present therein inserted, among which will be: a 1906 L'Agenda; the whole edition of the 1905 L'Agenda, less the few already disposed of; a receipt of the class debt; all money now in the treasury; copies of the weekly and monthly publications; a dead cat from the laboratory; a silver dollar of this year's date, to be donated by one of the girls; all Blackstone lecture note books; a Bible, if one can be found; and any thing else there is room for. Following these rites pleasant games of leap frog, pussy wants a corner and blind man's bluff will pass the time for an hour. Then, after every member of the class has scratched his initials on the tomb stones, marching in lockstep led by "Hen" and "Red" the procession will march up the Hill to the 1904 steps where all will find seats, tell riddles and crack funny jokes under the direction of Donald Rockafeller. The class yell will be given 1905 times straight running and in addition all the faculty will each get three. The class will then burn the wooden steps in front of West College together with a dummy of an ugly man whom 1905 doesn't like. "Dip" will light the match. In a body the class will then adjourn to the Baker House where a banquet will be provided by former managers of the Orange and Blue.

Unless notified previously this program will be followed in the order mentioned.

Enthusiasm Committee—Norman Henry, chairman, Clarence Fry, E. Roy Gardner, John Smiley, Roy Bostwick, Robert Mackey, J. E. Ausherman, Ruth Shorkley and Claire Conway.

Alumni Banquet.

The Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia recently held a banquet at the University Club in that city. The secretary was directed to send a letter to Mr. Andrew Carnegie expressing the club's appreciation of the interest he has shown to colleges in general and to Bucknell University in particular.

The Necrology report was presented by Dr. A. R. Gardner and Rev. C. A. Walker.

WALLACE McLAUGHLIN

Editorial

As the school year draws near to its close a very popular question gains unusual vogue. "Are you going to stay over Commencement?" There may be reasons, some, good ones, too, why certain of the undergraduates should leave our classic confines before the beautiful ending of our year of pleasure and work. However, there are other reasons why every undergraduate should plan his time so as to enjoy the Commencement program fraught with real good and lively incident. Our Alumni are told that our school is rapidly growing. How disappointing it must be for an Alumnu to come back and out of our large student body observe only a few of the several classes scattered over the campus and in the respective halls without any demonstration whatever. True Commencement time is for the graduate; but it is for the undergraduate as well. "Stay" fellows and make your presence felt both in numbers and in enthusiastic class and college spirit, thus attesting to the statement that Bucknell is on the move.

What wise heads those Seniors have. Now that their memorial pillars are erected they have a lien on the most used passageway to the campus. They are in a position to defy you to forget them, without inconveniencing your self. Their stony sentinels make them "monarchs of all they survey" and they say to you, "Please walk this way," (without the please). When the Freshman comes to college they will say to him, "Follow in our path," and when the Senior leaves they'll say, "Saw your face last." Oh they have you any way you take it, coming or going, the first thing in the morning and the last at night, you can't ignore them, they were too wise for you. Still no one complains. Why should they? It's immaterial who points out the way if it's the right one. St. Peter and Beelzebub are guardians of gateways, why shouldn't 1905 be as well?

As you look around the campus and see the different methods used by former classes to preserve their numerals you can in a measure trace the development of the institution by it's class memorials. Once they were satisfied with a small stone or plate inconspicuously inserted in the brick walls of the old college building. Then for a long time it was enough to place a small head rest near some tree. But in the last few years the rapid increase in the size of the graduating classes makes it possible to leave a practical and useful tribute to themselves. The memorials of 1904 and 1905 compare favorably with those of other colleges of greater numbers and if progress like that indicated still continues we will live to see classes give dormitories and endow scholarships as they are doing in some of the large universities this year. Long live the Seniors and longer their memory.

That all our friends may participate in the rejoicing at the Seminary, we take advantage of the columns of this bureau of information to announce to all whom it may concern that the Senior girls of the class of nineteen hundred and five have attained the goal of their ambition—the much coveted Senior privileges.

Only after due "consideration" extending over an infinitesimal period of time, and complete submission on the part of the young ladies to the powers that be, has this boon been granted.

The undergraduates are more than enthusiastic over the great good fortune, feeling that now the Seminary has at last become the proud possessor of that for which it has long felt the need—a "precedent."

Now is the time when we, especially the Seniors, begin to figure how much more money we will need to get through the year and, when here and there we find a bill we had almos forgotten or let wait awhile, the size of the check that we will expect in the mail takes on enormous proportions, especially in the eyes of the one on the other end. We say to ourselves, "If I had only watched a little closer and not been such a fool I'd have been on my feet and had a good pocketbook for Commencement." But so it goes and always will no doubt. We are too ready to mortgage the future for the present. However if you have never allowed yourself to "get in the hole" take the advice of a Senior and don't.

COLLEGE DUDS

A new firm in Bill town has new goods—just started keeping shop—bought some of the finest, nobbiest made goods and they should appeal to all young men.

We are after your trade with a line of Suits that is exceptionally fine. The nobby broad shoulder effect, peg top pants, etc. By the way the coats are cut longer this year.

Come to Bill town at our expense—that is if you purchase fifteen dollars worth.

Harvard won in the annual debate with Yale.

State College has its Commencement next week.

It is sought to raise the professors salaries at Yale.

A new competitive fellowship in English literature was recently established at Princeton University.

A student at West Virginia University was seriously injured on Decoration Day resulting from the firing of a salute from an old canon.

Ben Jonson's play, "Every Man in His Humor," was recently produced with much success by the English Club of Leland Stanford.

The Latin students at Columbia University have formed a society whose purpose is to cultivate the use of the Latin language in conversation.

A new rule has been established at Cornell to the effect that no man shall be allowed more than fourteen day's leave of absence for athletic purposes during the year.

With a view to making football a more open game, a radical change has been made in the rules by the Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee. The forward pass is to be used next year.

Announcement.

The Commencement Souvenir programs, handsomely bound in white leather and replete with half tone cuts, will be ready for delivery Tuesday or Wednesday of this week. The committee have completed their canvass of all departments and will deliver programs promptly. Kindly have money ready. All orders will be filled first, only a limited number have been secured for general sale. Place your order with the committee at once. Price 25 cents if ordered or purchased through committee. A limiter at Evans' Book Store.

Committee: N. E. Henry, A. M. Weaver, W. S. Gilmore, B. W. Scott, J. S. Ausherman; Misses Burgart and Johnson.

The beautiful half tone frontispiece in the commencement souvenir program this year was reproduced from an original photographic view along Buffalo Creek taken recently by Prof. Davis. The picture has elicited much praise among photographic critics and enhances the artistic value of the program.

Class Elections.

Both Sophomore and Freshman class elections were held Thursday afternoon. In a close election William N. Raker, Trout Run, Pa., was honored with the presidency of '07. The other officers are: William D. Hinman, Montgomery, vice President; Mary S. Weddle, West Newton, Secretary; Alfred M. Whitly, Pittsburg, Treasurer; Lula E. Kline, Winfield, Poet.

The choice for President of the Freshman class was unanimous for Robert M. Steele, Brockwayville; vice President, Holmes A. Frank, Montandon; Secretary, Blanche I. Sutphin, Hightstown, N. J.; Treasurer, Wallace J. Snyder, Elmhurst; Poet, Dana M. Bower, Elkhart, Ind.; Historian, Benjamin T. Harris, Taylor.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. IX. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 12, 1905 No. 34

WON ONE OUT OF THREE

Princeton and Villa Nova Win by Small Scores.

Princeton was victorious over Bucknell on Wednesday in her last contest before the final Yale game with a score of 5 to 1. The weather was cold and rainy which prevented the game from being as good as it might have been. With the exception of one inning Bucknell played a good game. In the bad inning Princeton secured three runs which should not have been scored if errors had not been in order. D. Doyle pitched for the Tigers and was in fine order, giving but four hits and striking out eleven men. The Tigers got one man home in the fourth and fifth and then clinched the matter by adding three more in the sixth. Bucknell made her one run in the ninth when Leach got a base on balls and Portser scored him with a three bagger.

VILLA NOVA.

The game at Villa Nova was a good one and though Bucknell had twice as many hits as her opponents she was unable to win. Only one run was tallied by Bucknell, that on a hit by Fry who was scored by Portser. Villa Nova succeeded in scoring three times. Leach pitched for Bucknell and was in fine trim. Heinze was not in the game. His place was taken by Captain Cockill who filled the position in good style. Parsons played first.

Three times during the game Bucknell was retired with three men on bases. The feature of the game was the batting of Smith who got four hits out of four times at the bat. The block score is lacking owing to the fact that the score book failed to take the trip.

MILTON.

The Varsity baseball team was the attraction at the dedication of Milton's new ball park on Saturday afternoon and defeated Milton 6 to 1. Most of the game was played in a drizzling rain and good baseball was out of the question. Both teams played as good as could be expected but Milton's newly organized team was no match for Bucknell's seasoned aggregation.

Parsons pitched for the Varsity and, after a run had been scored by the first man up in the first inning, Milton had no chance to score. But five hits were made off Parson's delivery. Smith again played a fine game and covered an amazing lot of ground. For Milton Jackson at third base and Farbaugh at first made good impressions.

1905 leaves a prominent representative to Bucknell in the person of Charles David Cooper, who will return for a post graduate course and incidentally captain next year's football eleven. Cooper hails from Adamstown among the dutch and since coming to Bucknell has by his perpetual good nature made himself popular among all undergraduates. He came to this institution in his Sophomore year having attended Lafayette for one year previous. His career as a football player has been a good one and Bucknell is lucky to retain him for another year. Guard has been his regular position for three years and in all probability he will keep the same in the coming season. He tips the scales above two hundred pounds.

"Happy" is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. He tells us that the prospects for a good team next Fall are exceedingly bright but the schedule is a heavy one and the men will have to work hard. The "Orange and Blue" wishes him all the success in the world both with his football season and with anything else he undertakes.

DR. WHITMAN HERE

Delivered Three Lectures on Thursday and Friday.

Once more as the years pass Dr. Whitman, of Philadelphia, has been with us. On Thursday and Friday of the past week he delivered three lectures on Practical Ethics the subjects of which were "Finding One's Self," "Using One's Self," "Losing One's Self." All who heard Dr. Whitman were much impressed both with the truth of his words and with the personality of the lecturer himself. Following are some extracts from lectures which indicate some what of their character: "Have you beaten a man out of sight; then find you are worse off, he better? The life ever set out to serve yourself only to find success a failure? Have you ever of Jacob furnishes an excellent example. In this parallel the interesting question arose as to who of Isaac's family was the least bad. Esau knew that he was conniving with his father to steal back that which he had sold and hence needs no pity. Rebecca blinded with love advised her son to decieve her husband. As for Isaac, a man that must satiate his appetite for food and drink before he can pray deserves no pity. The most lenient criticism of Jacob possible is that he was influenced by the atmosphere of the home. To succeed is to get what you want. Jacob got what he wanted but his success was failure because he had not found God. Later his failures were success because he knew God.

It is not the place that you occupy but the use that you make of yourself that constitutes greatness. A generous man will be generous with little. Meanness and narrowness can be gotten rid of, not by changing surroundings but by changing yourself. Are you railing against fate? Have you found yourself? If not, do not rail. Go to the brook and find God. Go forth not asking a change in circumstances but a change in self. Stop insisting that life is too narrow. If you but look there is the golden ladder for you. Not self will but self surrender is the secret of power. God is in the church, in the sky, in the class room. Surrender yourself to God; for self surrender means power.

Senior Party.

Thursday evening the Senior girls gave a party in the Institute parlors to all members of the Senior class. With the exception of about fifty the whole class was present and passed the evening in games mostly of a romping nature. No effort was lost to develop the lungs and the hours slid by in a lively manner. The guests were treated to strawberries and ice cream in plenty and to a man enjoyed the party thoroughly.

Notice

All souvenir programs reserved to fill the orders of the Senior class will be sold unless same are lifted before Thursday.

"The Verdant Freshman." Tuesday morning, June 20th, at 8 o'clock. Lewisburg Opera House. Prices 75, 50 and 35 cents. Tickets at Baker's, Saturday.

Senior Assembly Canceled.

Owing to disagreements between the members of the committee in charge of the 25th Annual Assembly and the resignation of one of the number all arrangements for the dance have been cancelled. For sometime past the feeling has been broadcast that the dance was to be conducted for mercenary ends alone and that sentiment has become so general that the two remaining members of the committee have deemed it wise to drop all preparations and at the present time the probability of the yearly function is uncertain. Chairman Cooper it is understood, will make efforts during the coming week, to interest several of the local alumni and if successful the Assembly will remain a feature of our social calendar.

Lecture in Journalism.

Before the class in Journalism this morning Harry C. Fithian, '98, a prominent attorney of Williamsport, delivered a lecture the subject of which was "What a newspaper may and what it may not print." He gave principally in a clear and concise manner the principles governing libelous actions. From the constitution, statutes, common law and court decisions he set forth the rules as derived therefrom which distinguish between what constitutes ground for libel and what does not. Illustrating the same with numerous examples. The entire class attended the lecture, those not Seniors taking notes for a report tomorrow. Owing to the short time allotted a considerable portion of the latter part of the lecture was only given in brief.

Academy Wins Debate.

The Academy defeated Bloomsburg Normal in the debate on the appended question Saturday night at Bloomsburg. The debate was spirited and hotly contested throughout both sides exhibiting a skill unusual for preparatory school boys. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the negative on the basis of superiority of delivery, arrangement and argument. The victory is all the more creditable in as much as the opposing team had won six debates straight from the Academy.

Question,—Resolved that strikes are more harmful than beneficial to laboring classes.

Fourth Form Reception.

The Senior reception given by Prof. and Mrs. Thomas Friday evening was a decided success. About twenty- five couples were in attendance and judging from the peals of laughter and happy faces every one spent a most enjoyable evening. Splendid music was furnished by the Lewisburg orchestra.

At ten o'clock the guests repaired to the two offices which had been turned into dining rooms and refreshments were served.

Not until the warning of the electric lights did leave taking occur.

Meeting of Phi Delta Sigma.

There will be a meeting of Phi Delta Sigma tomorrow night in the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity halls at 6.30. Important business to be transacted so every member be sure to be on hand promptly. Every one bring his dagger for there is murder in the air.

Grave yard assembly after midnight. Bring candles.

JUNIORS WIN MEET

In Close Contest '06 Wins by Five Points.

The inter class meet on Saturday was a remarkably close one. The Juniors won with 42 1-2 points; Sophomores got 37 1-2; Freshmen 37; Seniors 26. Two college records were broken; Lenhart succeeded in putting the shot 40 ft. 7 in. breaking his own record. Cure broke the high jump record, formerly held by Charley Pearse, by a quarter of an inch in a splendid jump of 5 ft. 9 in.

Some events were closely contested and exciting but the time in general was slow. Irey ran a good quarter and 220 dash and Gaskill ran a great half mile, keeping a faster pace throughout than he has ever done previously. Unluckily his time was not caught. McCain ran good in the high hurdles but fell near the end and lost his place. The two mile was run in numerous groups and was easy for Denninger. Bartol came in strong at the finish about five minutes late but getting fourth place. No serious injuries although Hennessy finlishing a good 220 fell at the tape and lost considerable amount of surface from arm and shoulder. Rain made the latter part of the meet somewhat disagreeable and long drawn out.

EVENTS

100 yd. dash, Irey first, Benn, second, Hennessy third, Sheppard fourth. Time 11 seconds.

120 yd. hurdles, Lesher, first, Manly, second, Whitney, third, Hayes, fourth. Time 17 3-4 seconds.

Mile run, Gaskill, first, Rockwell, second, Kerschner, third, Barnard, fourth. Time 5 min. 16 sec.

220 yd. dash, Irey, first, Baer, second, Brinker, third, Shields, fourth. Time 53 3-4 sec.

220 yd. hurdles, Comstock, first, Lesher, second, Rockwell, third, Ferguson, fourth. Time 28 1-4 sec.

Two mile run, Denninger, first, Whitney, second, Warnke, third, Bartol, fourth. Time 11 min. 44 sec.

220 yd. dash, Baer, first, Benn, second, Hennessy, third, Smithgall, fourth. Time 23 sec.

Half mile run, Gaskill, first, Pease, second, Shields, third, Hinman fourth.

Editorial

With this issue the journalistic duties of the present staff of the "Orange and Blue" are at an end. We say duties of the staff but to our sorrow we found that no duties were ever assumed by the majority of the staff. In fact staffs are not of much account and from saddest experience on both the weekly and monthly publications (and from what we have been told the Junior annual is not to be excepted) we warn future editors of any of these not to base any false hopes on the assistance to be derived from a staff, especially the editorial department thereof. The editor is very grateful for the help of the athletic writers and of the Seminary and Academy assistants, also for the use of the names of the rest at the head of this column which have some value in occupying space, although in truth another "add" might have performed the same service.

Whether the "Orange and Blue" has maintained its former standard this term is a matter of doubt to us. We are perhaps more aware of its failings than any one else but at the beginning we said we would do our best, so there you are. The experience has been of value and we are only sorry it will not continue.

There has been no definite understanding as to who will be the staff next year but rest assured the paper will find somebody who can competently carry on the same and maintain it as the representative organ of the college as it has always been. To whomever assumes control both of the litraery and business ends we extend best wishes for success. It is understood that next year both business manager and editor will receive a money compensation which will make the positions all the more desirable.

Wishing all the readers a happy summer and the Seniors success in life the "Orange and Blue" adjourns to shady nooks for a three month's rest.

He is here. We caught a glimpse of him yesterday sauntering along Market street with the same old walk, the same old grin and the same old pipe. In fact we detected that almost forgotten aroma of that particular brand before we even set eyes on him. He is back to live over a few of those days that slid by so quickly to breathe some of the air that spells Bucknell and to talk over old times with lots more just like him who are expected to fall off every train that hails the Burg for the next week.

Some of you do not know him. Hard luck for you. However you like him because he likes Bucknell enough to come back and stay for Commencement. You see when he was here there wasn't much going on of any account that he didn't figure in. Maybe he was captain of some Varsity team or perhaps he was an honor man, he might have been a class president or on the Senior class play, he may have eaten his meals at the Baker House or been one of the few who did not have a scholarship, why he might have even been (say it in a whisper) editor of the "Orange and Blue." Therefore Freshmen, Caps off to ye old Grad.

The adoption by the Athletic Association of the scheme by which upon payment of $5 a student will be entitled to a season ticket to all games is a good thing. The success of the scheme now depends upon the students in the way in which they respond by purchasing these tickets next year. It is not compulsory that a student buy a ticket but it is the duty of every one who has the proper spirit to do so. Those who are accustomed to attend the games regularly will gain by this plan and unless the students as a whole join in the movement there is a possibility that the Association will lose somewhat. If the $5 plan meets with general favor it will be the best thing that could happen to put the Association on a sure basis and at the beginning of next year it will be able to tell just where it stands and form its plans for the year accordingly. So fellows help the good thing along and the first thing you do when you return next year pay your $5 and make the Freshmen do likewise.

We wish to announce the approaching marriage of Dr. L. M. Goodman, '01, of Williamsport, to Miss Mary G. Zehner, of Landsford, Pa., Wednesday, June 14. Dr. Goodman was graduated from Jefferson in 1901 and is now practicing with Dr. Donaldson, in Williamsport.

Academy

The members of the fourth year class received a pleasant surprise last week in the nature of an announcement that all examinations would be over Monday 12th.

The Academy team closed the season Saturday, playing the Commencement game at Union Seminary, New Berlin. Although the game was lost no team could call it their own until the ninth with two men out. Score, 4 to 3.

Thoughtful little Willie Frazer
Carved his name with father's razor;
Father, unaware of trouble,
Used the blade to shave his stubble.
Father cut himself severely,
Which pleased little Willie dearly—
"I have fixed my father's razor
So it cuts" said Willie Frazzer

Mamie often wondered why
Acids trouble alkali—
Mamie, in a manner placid,
Fed the cat boracic acid,
Whereupon the cat grew frantic,
Executing many an antic.
"Ah!" cried Mamie, overjoyed,
"Pussy is an alkaloid!"

Arthur with a lighted taper
Touched the fire to grandpa's paper.
Grandpa leaped a foot or higher,
Dropped the sheet, shouted "Fire!"
Arthur, wrapped in contemplation,
Viewed the scene of conflagration.
"This," he said, "confirms my notion Heat creates both light and motion."

Wee, experimental Nina
Dropped her mother's Dresden china
From a seventh-story casement,
Smashing, crashing to the basement.
Nina, somewhat apprehensive,
Said, "this china is expensive,
Yet it proves by demonstration
Newton's law of gravitation."
—Wallace Irwin, in "Saturday Evening Post."
